

Many New Members Added To Faculty

Meet our new Faculty members. All eight of them, seven in the college and one in the Seminary. Some of the faces possibly the reader will recognize. Others will not be recognized, for their pictures and their names appear for the first time in "The Hermes", the messenger from Dana.

We have every reason to believe that, tho now appearing for the first time, the readers of "Hermes" will read with pleasure, contributions from each of them from time to time.

The student body naturally looks forward to many pleasant and helpful contacts with each professor. This will be accomplished in a number of ways as the individual student meets the instructor either in direct conversation or as it happens in the class room. It is certainly to be hoped that the association will be creditable to the teacher, the student, and to our college.

The East, the South, the North, and the Central States have each contributed towards this new Faculty. Prof. Bartley, who prescribes for bringing about changes in students matriculated in commerce, and directs the interests of the Commercial Department, comes from Nebraska University. Prof. Malmin and Mrs. Malmin both from Drake University, will no doubt contribute valuable aid in stimulating and furthering the musical education of Dana's students. Prof. Stub, whose face is familiar to a number of "Hermes" readers, comes from Minnesota. The culture of Scandinavia and especially Denmark will be presented by him. From Wisconsin comes Mr. Thomsen, whose work lies chiefly in giving to

Football Candidates Rounding Into Form

With 24 huskies responding to Coach "Tex" Jones's call for men, Dana has again turned to her football activities. Clad in scarlet and white, cleated shoes and with a determination to do or die, the candidates are rapidly rounding into form. The usual football kinks and bruises are gradually beginning to disappear. Intense scrimmages have already been held and it appears that Dana's squad is going to enjoy a very successful season on the gridiron.

Heading the list of candidates are four letter men. Husky "Wes" Andersen will again thrust forth his 190 pounds of beef and brawn at the fullback post. Phillip "Hap" Magnussen, and "Bill" Larsen, reliable tackles will again hold their respective positions and appear to be as much trouble for opponents as they have in the past. "Net" Johnson will be available for backfield duties. He will be remembered for his illusive tactics and deadly tackling and has already shown promise of being Coach Jones's best ball totter. Paul Bondo, fleet back appears ready for another good year. With these letter men available Coach Jones intends to form the nucleus of his machine.

Other candidates who appear certain of making places are: "Al" Jensen, giant tackle and former Blair High School star; Severin Sorensen, former "Viking" star, who will hold down his old position at guard.

Dr. Hansen Writes Hints To Freshmen

Dr. C. X. Hansen, instructor of Education at Dana College, has written a pamphlet, "Hints to College Freshmen". This was recently distributed to the students of Dana College. The pamphlet contains valuable information concerning the best methods of study, how to make the best use of time, and encourages religion in college, social activities, and the development of talents.

Dr. Hansen's main purpose in writing this pamphlet was that of being particularly helpful to Freshmen. Although this advice could be given orally, he felt that there is a need of concrete expression. When these hints are written they can always be referred to.

This advice should be accepted and observed, not only by Freshmen, but by all students, for by observation of these helpful things we students will be able to gain more from our years at college.

NOTED MUSICIANS ON LYCEUM NUMBER

The first number of the lyceum course of this year offers an unusual opportunity to both the students of the college and the citizens of Blair in the presentation of Mme. Estelle Lhevinne, violinist, and boy prodigy at the Dana College Auditorium on Saturday evening, October 4, at 8 p. m. These two artists have played in the main centers of the nation and have gained national reputation. Madam Lhevinne is one of the most popular concert violinists of to-day. Musical critics speak highly of her work. She is said to be "The most fascinating violinist in the world—plays straight into the heart" (New York Times).

Madam Lhevinne plays only the finest and best music. Before each number she tells the story of that particular selection. This adds variety and interest to the program. It also enables children to more easily understand the meaning of the music played. During her performance, she will be accompanied by her husband, a distinguished pianist.

Children especially will be highly pleased with the appearance of her eight-year-old son, "Laddy," a boy prodigy at the piano. He will play a series of piano selections. At this time he will be dressed like the boy Mozart, the famous infant prodigy in the history of music, whom he greatly resembles both in ability and in appearance.

Prof. and Mrs. Malmin Head Music Dept.

Professor Gunnar J. Malmin, a graduate of Luther College at Decorah, Iowa, has taken over the duties in the music department at Dana.

Mr. Malmin attended St. Olaf's College at Northfield, Minn., 1924-25. There he studied under the supervision of Dr. Melius Christiansen, and was a member of the St. Olaf's Choir. Two years later Mr. Malmin took post graduate work at Northwestern University, studying sacred music.

In 1923 Prof. Malmin was awarded the American Scandinavian Foundation fellowship and spent fourteen months in research work for the Carnegie Institute, in the Scandinavian countries.

The last two years Mr. Malmin has been Director of music at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, where he conducted the Drake Band and Glee Club.

Prof. Malmin conducted the Grand View Lutheran Church Choir, Des Moines, for two years while at Drake.

Mr. Malmin has published several books of music. He had charge in the publishing the new hymn book, "Hymns for Church and School," written for the Norwegian Lutheran Church, and "Songs and Anthems for Children's Voices." He also has published several articles in the

Mr. Cleveland "Tex" Jones

Mr. Cleveland "Tex" Jones, pictured above, a graduate of the West Texas State Teachers' College of Canyon, Texas, is Dana's new Director of Athletics.

Coach Jones has an enviable record on both the gridiron and the basket ball court. He played quarterback on the football team for four years, and forward on the basketball team, which were conference champions for three consecutive years.

Besides being an all-around athlete, Coach Jones has also officiated at many football and basket-ball games.

This year's turnout for the Dana Viking squad has been the largest in Dana's history. We all look forward to the best team which has ever represented Dana on the gridiron.

The first game of the season with the American Business College of Omaha, showed the splendid results of Coach Jones' well-drilled team, with a victory after only two weeks of practice. It is evident that Dana will have a versatile attack, employing a clever aerial game as well as a powerful plunging backfield.

We all wish Mr. Jones success in his new line of work.

Professor Gunnar J. Malmin

Opening Exercises Well Attended

One of the things which goes to make a stranger feel at home when in a strange place, is that he is given a hearty welcome and together with that there is a real handclasp. Although it is impossible to reach out a hand for a handclasp at the opening exercises, the hearty welcome was extended by way of speeches by representatives of various groups.

The first welcome address was by Mr. O'Hanlon of Blair. He represented the mayor of Blair. Wishing the students and faculty much success during the year, he said that success was gotten through much work.

Rev. Theo. M. Hansen, a new member on the School Board, spoke in behalf of the Board and bade the students and faculty a hearty welcome, and assured them of cooperation. He expressed his wish for a blessed school year.

Dean J. P. Nielsen, representing the Seminary Faculty, spoke of the different views of life which young folks and their parents have. The young folks see the "if" in life, while the older folks see more of the conclusion.

Rev. J. C. Romer, a member of the School Board, emphasized what the previous speakers had said.

Rev. H. Nielsen, the local pastor, extended a welcome to Blair, and heartily invited the students and faculty to make the local church their church-home.

President Erland Nelson extended a hearty welcome to all and expressed his hope of cooperation, not only of the faculty members and of students, but also a mutual cooperation between faculty and students.

Even though the opening exercises took place on the evening before the classes started, the meeting was well attended. There were many visitors present. There is no doubt but that all felt quite well at home after the meeting.

MANY STUDENTS SHOW INTEREST IN MUSIC

Due to the increase in the enrollment this year, and since many students have shown an interest in choir work, it has been decided to have a larger choir. To date, fifty have tried out, but the final result will not be made until after the arrival of the seminary students.

According to expectations a more

Missionary Thompson Lectures At Dana

Rev. Alfred Thompson, missionary in Sudan, spoke in the college chapel Friday evening at 8 o'clock. In his interesting talk he not only explained the conditions in regard to climate and people out on the mission field but also brought a living message to us from the Word of God.

Sudan is located in Africa, south of the Sahara Desert and a few degrees north of the equator. It is, therefore, a very trying climate for the missionaries and the country is the home of many diseases and fevers. A very large percentage of the missionaries have died on that field in the very beginning of their activity. Their places have been filled again by others, and the Spirit of God has led those men on to the salvation of souls even in dark Africa.

As an example of the hardship, Rev. Thompson told an incident about a Norwegian missionary who took sick and died. His wife sent a message to a missionary in another district asking him to come and conduct the funeral. On account of the climate they usually bury the body on the same day in which death had taken place. This young widow, however, waited two days, but help did not come, therefore, she had to make the coffin, preach the funeral sermon, and bury her own husband. God gave her strength to do that and to continue her work as a missionary. Hardships do not matter if we have peace in our souls and are where God wants us to be in His service.

The people are not civilized according to our standards but have a civilization of their own. It is, for instance, much more safe for a woman to travel among them and in their company than it would be for

"Vikings" Trample A. B. C. In Opener

During ideal football weather and before a crowd of colorful spectators, a band of husky "Vikings" scored an impressive 39-0 victory over American Business College of Omaha, Saturday.

Presenting a powerful and versatile offense and an impregnable defense, the "Vikings" of Dana, clad in scarlet and white, moved on to greater gridiron glories. The win was doubly significant in that it gave Dana her first victory, a record-breaking one, and demonstrated as well that Coach "Tex" Jones' eleven is to be recognized in Nebraska College's football circles. With this win safely tucked under their belt the "Vikings" are pointing for the York game, a week hence.

The opening whistle found "Captain" Wes Andersen kicking off to A. B. C. Bengen, A. B. C. halfback, grabbed the ball on his eight yard line and advanced it four yards. On the first play a bad pass from center was fumbled by Condon, and when the smoke had cleared away, Dana was in possession of the ball. The "Vikings" wasted no time in getting started and on their first play fullback "Wes" Andersen made a beautiful run behind perfect interference to register the game's first touchdown. The point after touchdown failed giving Dana a 6-0 lead. Dana again kicked off to A. B. C. where Vansa caught the ball on his twenty-yard line and return-

MANNERS AND CHARACTER

In the opening chapter of a book on etiquette we read: "Manners are the unconscious expression of character . . . . As the straw shows which way the wind blows, so these seemingly trifles proclaim character in a way not to be misunderstood." Manners have sometimes been called "minor morals" but many a great man has placed as great a value on them as that of morals. "He gentil is," said Chaucer, "who doth gentil deeds." Sir Philip Sydney, noted as an ideal gentleman, says, "High thoughts are seated in a heart of courtesy." Thus do not under-rate polish. A diamond in the rough possesses value, but a diamond after the cutter's tool has brought out its smoothness and beauty has far greater value. College should be a cutter's tool bringing out the fineness and beauty of one's character. The class-room offers a beginning place. Here things arise to test the basic principles of good manners—truthfulness, honesty, and kindness. Here our real character is given a severe test. Here every day arises innumerable occasions for courtesy—to the instructor and to fellow students. Here we learn to be considerate of others. Here we learn poise and ease of manner. Here we acquire such desirable habits as industry, punctuality, perseverance, and honesty. Here we learn that the true spirit in a school is that each contribute to the highest good to all. The dining hall also affords an excellent chance to a student to practice good manners. Remember you will be judged by your table manners. It is surprising how much is almost unconsciously inferred regarding people who do not know how to use properly and gracefully the three table articles. The person who follows the conventional rules of table etiquette can heartily say with Robert Burns:

Some hae meat and canna eat,
 And some would eat that want it;
 But we hae meat and we can eat,
 Sae let the Lord be thankit.

The public judges us largely from our behavior on the streets and on the campus, and we should therefore be exceedingly careful not to cause unfavorable criticism for we alone are not judged, but also Dana, when our street manners fall below the standard.

Manners make themselves every day and at times when we are least aware of it. Like a sprig that grows into an unchangeable tree, so do manners grow into an unchangeable testimony of our character. College life affords an excellent opportunity for developing the qualities of a gentleman or a lady. Are you, Dana students, going to make the most of it?—A. R. J.

HOW THE FACULTY SPENT VACATION

President Nelson had a very busy summer. He studied at the University of Nebraska and received his Master's Degree and was admitted to Phi Delta Kappa, a national honorary society. His week-ends were spent in his duties as president of Dana.

Dr. C. X. Hansen spent most of his time in the study of books on the Orient. He also wrote an interesting pamphlet, "Hints to College Freshmen."

Dr. Popcke lectured in New York for a period of six weeks on the subject "Church and Modern History." He spent the remainder of his time in preparation for his new position at Dana.

Miss Caroline Johnson passed the summer months at her home in Blair except for visits to friends residing in Nebraska.

Mr. Jones was busily engaged in work at Canyon, Texas.

Mr. Bartley worked at the Citizens State Bank at Lincoln.

Mr. Stub studied at the University of Minnesota where he worked toward a Master's Degree.

Miss Jensen spent the summer months in Blair.

Prof. and Mrs. G. Malmin attended the annual synodical convention held at Cedar Falls, Iowa, after which they went to St. Paul, Minnesota, to visit relatives. The study of music occupied the remainder of their time.

Mr. Thomson attended the University of Wisconsin where he worked toward his Master's Degree.

Miss Rude passed the summer at Brookings, South Dakota.

Prof. C. B. Larsen, together with his family, went to Brush, Colorado.

The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

It is quite a common idea among Christians, and especially among those who have recently given their lives to Christ either through confirmation or conversion, that they must do something for their Savior. That is truly in harmony with the Bible. Even the people who are not Christians watch to see if the Christians are really doing something or not. Especially, are they interested in finding out if the Christians are really living entirely as they should. They surely have a right to do so, but whoever says that he does not want to be a Christian because some Christians make mistakes, or because they do not live according to their ideas of Christianity, forget that his ideas are full of faults and are nearly useless.

Before a person can work for any firm or another individual he must get into connection either with whomever he wishes to work for or a representative. And before he can begin his duty he must be told where to work and what he is to do. In other words he must receive information. He must receive the necessary equipment. He must be ministered unto.

Here is perhaps one reason why so many fail or seem to fail. They have not gotten the required information, or equipment. And that is what the Son of man wants to do. That is what He came for "to minister." He will give each one the necessary things, not all at once but according as they are needed. The carpenter apprentice is not given all the tools the first day. Maybe all he needs then is a hammer and a saw. As time goes on he learns the use of a square, a plane, and how to take care of them.

So it is in the Kingdom of God. The Lord does not hand over everything at once. The novice must learn to use the different tools. He learns by doing. "Experience is the best teacher," not only in the mechanical world, but also the spiritual. The apprentice must turn to his master often. He must be told often, and sometimes very often. Then the question is whether the master or teacher knows what he is doing when he demonstrates. Whether or not he knows how to inform the pupil of the art of using his tools properly, becomes an important question for the scholar. The success of the learner depends largely upon his willingness to receive and make use of instruction.

In the Kingdom of God there is no doubt about the Master. He knows what He is to do and how. It depends upon the person who is to receive. Here is perhaps the best reason for failure in a Christian's life, viz., that he will not receive. He relies upon himself. Perhaps he is afraid to ask God for help and yet that is what Christ said He has come for, "to minister," to help him along. He ministered unto those with whom He associated. Those who wanted help got it.

The important question for you and me is: "Am I willing to receive of Him, will I let Him minister unto me?" Christ is willing to minister to us. Therefore, let us be willing to receive, and then in whatever we undertake to do, by His grace we shall succeed.

CHAPEL NOTES

During the first week of school, the church board held its meeting. Some of the members were given an opportunity to speak at the chapel devotions. Rev. E. R. Andersen of Racine spoke one morning, reminding us of our opportunities and our work. In part he said that no matter what vocation one prepares himself for, he needs God's grace to make a success of his work, and God's grace is sufficient for us, if we are willing to accept it.

Rev. Jorgensen, president of the Danish Lutheran Church, spoke briefly one morning, reminding us of our loyalty to church and school.

Colossae was an important town in the time of Paul. Paul was in prison in Rome when he wrote to the Colossians. He was an apostle, a special messenger of Christ. Every vocation should be a call from God. God has equipped each one of us. Paul greeted the Colossians with grace and peace from God, grace to cover sin and peace to give them ease of mind.

Philosophy speaks of God as the Absolute, and Science speaks of Him as the First Cause, but the New Testament speaks of God as our Father.

On the twelfth of September it was forty-five years ago since this college was begun. It was founded for the purpose of making Christian leaders. Let us keep the ideal before us. Let us make the school's ideals our ideals.

One sin in our age is artificiality. We put on garments and faces to make ourselves be something which we are not. That is being artificial. In his conflict in life, the prodigal son had come to the conclusion that he was a sinner. The most important question is that of being and not doing. There is a certain amount of guilt which arises before us when we meet the problem of being.

Paul thanks God for the three essentials to personality which the Colossians had, viz., Faith, Love, and Hope. We are eternal personalities and as such we must have faith. Faith is a mutual relationship of trust.

MISSIONARY THOMPSON LECTURES AT DANA

her in our country. They are a very interesting people to talk with. They can tell what season of the year the different insects appear, whether a tree is a male or a female, where it is best to dig a well, and where there is rocky underground. They are also very skilled in primitive medical art and are able to make use of plants and leaves for medicine. Although they can neither read nor write they are civilized in their own way.

When these people become Christians they are very sincere Christians with a child-like faith and enthusiasm for the kingdom of God. They are willing to work and to offer for the kingdom of God as they are fervent in their prayer-life. God has richly blessed the work which has been done. Many of these people have left their spirit worship with its fear and emptiness, and have entered into a life in communion with God in all its fullness and joy. But it is time now to bring the gospel of peace to them. Not only are they asking for missionaries from several villages, but if the Mohammedan will come down from the North and lead them into their religion with all its darkness and immorality.

The missionaries are filled with enthusiasm for the work, but there is a continual need for new missionaries; and the work can not progress unless we at home are working with them, with our prayers and our support. It is very necessary that we wherever we are, are wholly with Christ, that we are saved under the blood. If you are with Christ, then be faithful to your calling in whatever vocation in life God has placed you, be a worker in His kingdom that it may prosper. Help to bring the light from God out to those who are yet in darkness.

STUDENTS MANAGE CO-OP. STATION

College Co-operative Oil Co. is the name of Dana's first business adventure. Mr. Skov Nielsen and President Erland Nelson, noting the lack of chances for employment for Dana students, purchased the business and equipment of the oil station located across the highway from the college campus. Their motive was to furnish Dana students with a chance for employment. The service station is managed and operated by a group of nine students who work in two hour shifts. Ray Mortensen, Will Larsen, Bob Larsen, Severin Sorensen, Emmanuel Jacobsen, George Robertson, Peter Hauge, Harold Danielson and Erwin Bondo, manager, fill the roster of employees.

The co-operative principle comes in because the employees share in the profits up to a certain amount per hour. The other share goes to the Dana College Endowment together with all above the highest rate allowed the employees.

The men are dressed in classy salt and pepper gray suits with "College Co-op Oil; Facing Dana Campus" in large scarlet letters on the back. Scarlet caps lettered in white are also worn.

October twenty-fifth has been set aside as the grand opening date. Plans for a gala day are going forward. Collegiate service with a smile is the by-word. When in Blair, stop at the College Co-op. Oil Company and try collegiate service.

MANY STUDENTS SHOW INTEREST IN MUSIC

Several anthems have already been chosen for the tour and practices begun, so that the work is well under way.

Prof. Malmin is not only interested (Concluded, third column)

FOOTBALL CANDIDATES ROUNDING INTO FORM

"Coach "Tex" Jones has expressed himself as being well pleased with the turnout, and promises Dana followers a fast and clever ball toting machine. His predictions are a winning season for the scarlet and white avalanche.

The probable first team lineup will be as follows: Curtis, Johnson, ends; Larsen, "Al" Jensen, tackles; "Tordy" Christensen, Severin Sorensen, guards; "Bob" Larsen, center; Nelson, quarterback; Bondo, Johnson, halfbacks; W. Andersen, fullback.

Dana plays its first game Saturday, September 27 against American Business College at Omaha. Let's all get behind the team and Coach Jones with the true "Viking" spirit and start the season off with a bang!

NOTED MUSICIANS ON LYCEUM NUMBER

(Continued from page 1) To enable everyone to hear these famous musicians play, the admission has been set at 25 cents for grade children, 50 cents for high school students, and $1 for adults. Everyone is cordially invited to come and enjoy this wonderful entertainment with us.

FACULTY RECEPTION

The annual faculty reception was held Friday evening the 19th. All the students were given an opportunity to formally meet the faculty. After the reception, talks and musical numbers were rendered by members of the faculty and some of the students.

President Nelson gave an introductory speech in which he spoke of the high standing of the faculty and the importance of making full use of Dana. Dr. C. X. Hansen told us about values in education. Rev. Jersild spoke of the service that the teachers have to render. The talks were inspirational and interesting. Professor Bartley rendered two vocal solos. Miss Mary Moore rendered a flute solo. Miss Dorthy Baxter, the winner of the Tri-state radio prize, a trip to Europe, sang an Italian song.

After the much enjoyed program, ice cream and wafers were served. Everyone reported an enjoyable evening.

in a select group, but in the student body as a whole; therefore he has planned a study body chorus. This is carried out at our chapel services, where all the hymns are sung in parts.

Besides the choir we have an orchestra which has met for its first practice. It is hoped that we may have what is known as a "Chamber Orchestra". Every member in the orchestra will possibly be in duets and trios, which will furnish music for some of the special occasions. In addition to the orchestra we also hope to have a small band.

FACULTY WELCOMED BY LOCAL CHURCH

It was indeed good to feel the good will and welcome which the congregation of the First Lutheran Church in Blair extended to the president of our synod, Rev. N. C. Carlsen, the faculty of Dana College and Trinity Seminary and their families, and to the student body.

The congregation received its guests in the beautifully decorated basement of the church, Sunday evening, Sept. 14th. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all. The first hour was a social one with informal introduction of the new faculty members and their families and a welcome back to the older ones. In the meantime, the tables had been set, and everybody was asked to partake of luncheon. With Rev. H. Nielsen as toastmaster, a program was rendered at the tables. Several welcome speeches and responses were given, and a general feeling of pleasure and happiness prevailed over the evening.

The students, who had come from the many different congregations throughout our synod, felt that in spite of all the new things that they should meet, they would all feel at home in the Blair congregation. Here they found something of the same spirit that prevailed in their own congregation, and here they heard the God of their home inviting them to partake of His blessings through the church. They are thankful to all those who were ready to receive them with kind words of welcome. They wish to say, as did Rev. N. C. Carlsen in his response, that they come not only as those that are glad to receive of the blessings, but they come also with the wish in their hearts that they may in some measure render service, and thereby help to glorify the name of God.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

It has been announced by Dr. Popcke, of the Public Speaking Department, that an Oratorical Contest will be held late in October which will be open to all Dana students. A gold medal will be awarded to the winner of the contest. The subject has not been decided upon as yet but will soon be announced after publication of Hermes.

It is the purpose of the contest to help to further the art of good speech and general eloquence and at the same time provide adequate research experience for the contestants.

All students interested should interview Dr. Popcke at once.

PROF. AND MRS. MALMIN HEAD MUSIC DEPARTMENT

(Continued from page 1) "Studies and Records," the official publication of the Norwegian American Historical Society and edited "America in the Forties," a series of letters written by Munck Raeder in 1847 and 48 telling of the condition among Scandinavians in America at that time.

Dr. Melius Christiansen, director of the famous St. Olaf Choir, referring to "Songs and Hymns for Children's Voices," writes: "Mr. Malmin has made very attractive arrangements and we are thankful to him for this collection and look to him for more of this kind."

Dr. Adolf, professor of Hymnology at Augustana Theological Seminary writes: "One marvels at the delightful richness and variety of harmony."

Mr. Malmin will soon begin work with a committee on a new Sunday School hymn book for our United Danish Lutheran Church.

Mrs. G. Malmin also comes to Dana as a well known artist. She will instruct in piano and violin. Mrs. Malmin is a graduate of Drake University receiving her degree of B. S. and membership in Phi Kappa

LOCAL NEWS

A number of the students went to Shelby, Iowa, Sunday the 14th to attend the mission meetings being held in the Lutheran Trinity Church where Rev. Scriver Kloth is pastor. Rev. Kloth graduated from the seminary here last spring. The students left here early Sunday morning in the Dana choir bus and returned late in the evening.

Miss Edna Hansen, who has been attending school, was operated for appendicitis Tuesday the 16th. As far as we have heard, she is doing nicely and we are anxious for her to recover so that she can be with us again.

Mr. and Mrs. Marius Hanson have been visiting at the college. Mrs. Hanson is a sister of Bertha Hall. They left Tuesday morning for their home in Montana.

Miss Myra Hansen was suddenly called home last week because of the death of her grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Petersen were in Audubon the 19th to attend the funeral of one of their friends.

Millard Petersen, Richard Petersen, Joe Kjoller and Arthur Simonsen, former students of Dana, were visitors at the College Friday. Millard Petersen is attending the Medical School of the University of Nebraska in Omaha. Richard Petersen and Joe Kjoller are attending Nebraska University at Lincoln. Arthur Simonsen is going to Midland College at Fremont.

Mr. Petersen and several of the students were busy last Saturday erecting a flag pole on the tower of the Administration building. The flag was hoisted Sunday morning.

PROMISING CANDIDATES REGISTER FOR DEBATE

Dr. Popcke, the new coach of debate, is giving daily training in argumentation to the new candidates.

Five years past Dana has had few candidates for debate, but this year many have showed their desire to become proficient in debate. The new candidates are: Mariam Rosenblatt, Jean Larsen, Clarence Jensen, Alvin Carlsen, Ingward Olsen, Wesley Andersen, Harvey Kuhr, Ben Engskow, Earl Simonsen, William Larsen, Alfred C. Jensen, Alfred R. Jensen, and Raymond Mortensen. Several of these new candidates have had one year or more of high school debating. Besides the new candidates four of the former debaters are planning to join the debating squad when the practical work begins. With these new candidates together with the members of last year's team, Dana is looking forward to an active and successful year. Dana has made a name for herself in inter-collegiate debate in the few years in which she has been a member of Nebraska Inter-collegiate Debate Conference, and this year with new and enlarged force, "let us make the top or bust".

The project launched a couple of years ago, of publishing a book on the national Phi Kappa Delta question, has received consideration this year also. The two publications, "The Jury System" and "Shall the Nations Disarm" have met with great success. Many colleges and high schools throughout the United States have purchased these books. Orders for the last mentioned publication have already come in from high schools in Nebraska and other states. Plans are under way for publishing a similar book on the Phi Kappa Delta question as soon as the question is released by the national organization.

Mrs. Malmin during her course of study at Drake, was outstanding in musical activities. She has taken an active part in many musical recitals and radio programs.

ed it twelve yards before being stopped. On three plays A. B. C. failed to make their yardage line where "Dick" Nelson returned the ball five yards before being downed. The next play was one of the most spectacular ever offered a Dana cheering section. "Wes" Andersen taking the ball from center ran fifty-five yards behind perfect intefereence to net Dana another touchdown. It was two touchdowns in two plays, a record seldom equalled on gridirons anywhere. The touchdown gave Dana a 12-0 lead as point after touchdown failed. The "Vikings" scored their third touchdown shortly before the close of the first period, when "Pal" Bondo made two neat runs of twelve and nine yards respectively. The extra point tallied this time as a result of a perfect place kick, which sailed squarely through the "uprights." "Net" Johnson furnished his "booting toe" for this play. As the quarter ended Dana was enjoying a 19-0 lead.

The second quarter was a repetition of the first. It was evident that Dana's attack would bury their opponents under by a top-heavy score. In this period "Wes" Andersen and Paul "Pal" Bondo again made themselves felt. Each scored a touchdown on neat runs. Several clever passes were completed for large gains. When the whistle sounded, ending hostilities for the first half Coach Jones' men were riding a 33-0 score.

When the struggle was renewed in the second half it was evident that Coach Jones had "schooled" his pupils into playing a safe defensive battle. The third quarter was void of any spectacular playing, and was the sole period in which the "Vikings" did not tally. Most of the "shock troopers" were inserted in this quarter and gave Coach "Tex" Jones a chance to see his respose under fire. All performed capably, especially "Jug" Jamison, who reeled off some nice runs from his half-back post. When the whistle ended the third quarter Dana was in possession of the ball on A. B. C.'s 25-yard line. The score remained Dana 33 - A. B. C. 0.

The final period found both teams putting up a hard struggle. Through some fine work by Dana's line the A. B. C. ball carriers were repulsed time and again. "Net" Johnson supplied the cheering section with a few thrills by his spectacular running, which finally carried him over for Dana's final score. The final whistle found the "Vikings" victors by a 39-0 score.

It would be hard to point out any one star on either team. The "Vikings" linemen proved stalwarts with their stone wall defense and "pile-drivers" on offense. The backfield men displayed clever ability in handling the ball, and bid to be more than a "tea party" for their opponents. The A. B. C. eleven proved to be fighters, but presented both weak offensive and defensive ability.

ACTIVITIES RESUMED AT DANA

New and old students have now resumed their studies at Dana. Many students enrolled on registration day. Each sought his special advisor and registration was carried on in a very systematic manner. Our enrollment has increased 75% over last year.

Blair has many of its young citizens continuing their education at Dana. Various other states are well represented on the campus.

Our campus has been greatly beautified during the summer. The administration building has been painted and a flag pole placed on the tower. A lily pond has been built and shrubbery planted. There are about twenty gold-fish in the pond and students study them with great interest.

The seminary opens September 29, which will add more students to our enrollment. When the winter semester opens in November a great many other young people are expected in our midst.

MANY NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO FACULTY

his students a clearer conception of the meaning of energy and matter as expressed through physics and chemistry, and in addition has also the privilege of teaching the young men ideals of conduct. Miss Rude shares with Mr. Thomsen the same duties with respect to the young women. She has as her particular field to teach biology. Miss Rude also comes from Minnesota. The East contributes Prof. Popcke who explains the intricacies of the social structure of Human Society and History, and Prof. Jersild, son of the late Rev. Thos. Jersild, who the past two years has studied at Mt. Airy. His work in the college consists in developing an appreciation of the beauty of the language used by Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle. The South contributes Prof. Jones, mentor of sports and director of Physical Training.

Thus in very brief statements have the new members of Dana 1930-31 Faculty been presented to its readers. "The Hermes" will take pleasure in securing from these members contributions each from their particular fields and "The Hermes" readers may look forward with delight to the reading of these.

JUST SOME GOSSIP

When you hear Tiny speaking forever about Ole Peg back home please don't think he is being disrespectful to a certain party. Oh no, cuz Peg happens to be Tiny's pet Ford.

Mr. Ripley, originator of that famous "Believe it or Not" cartoon, recently made known the fact that a certain woman could say eight words per second. Methinks, the Honorable Mr. Ripley has yet to meet Mr. Bayard Hopewell who is able to break this remarkable record.

Dana may be the setting for a few family quarrels this year since there are so many brother-brother, brother-sister, cousin-cousin combinations. But referees are plentiful and they will donate their services providing the matches do not exceed eight rounds. Let this be a warning unto you.

We hope Freddie Christopherson will not be afflicted with heart trouble. No, not that kind that involves some female but, instead, the more serious type that is caused by too much speed as a waiter.

HOW THEY INSPIRE—

1. Tiny Petersen inspires Doc James to endure eating spinach so he can grow big too.

2. Marie Larson, with her smile, inspires any hard-up student to work 2½ hours, washing dishes, to buy some Pepsodent.

3. Nena and Benny inspires Earl Simonsen to join the army of "Sweethearts on Parade".

4. "Eloise" inspires every cop onward to the enforcement of the "15 miles per hours" speed law.

5. Coach C. C. Jones inspires the members of the fairer sex to perfect attendance in gym classes.

6. Erv Bondo inspires any person to write a book entitled "Do Filling Stations Pay."

7. Edith Petrussen must have inspired that famous inventor of "Mid-get Golf" to contribute his worthy ambitions to the American nation.

8. Dorothy Baxter inspires Freddie Christopherson to attempt bravely that art of warbling.

9. That eighth hole at King's Miniature golf course inspires Rock Curtis to say naughty words.

10. Schmaaltz would inspire any girl to paint towers if she could lose eighteen pounds.

where he attended the annual meeting of the Eben-Ezer Mercy Institute. They also made a short trip to the mountains.

Prof. J. P. Nielsen and his wife spent a very active summer. They attended the district meeting and Young People's Convention held in North Dakota after which they went to California where Prof. Nielsen gave Bible lectures. Following this he conducted Bible studies at the Okoboji Bible School and at Luck, Wisconsin.

Miss Falk remained at her home in Geneseo, Illinois, except for a visit to Niagara Falls and other points of interest in the East.

Rev. Jersild who recently resigned a charge in Philadelphia to accept a professorship in the Trinity Seminary spent the summer visiting and establishing his residence in Blair.
