

Dr. Popcke Heads Social Sciences

Professor Erwin E. Popcke, Ph.D., a graduate of Wagner College in New York City, is one of the new members of our Faculty.

Mr. Popcke won a scholarship and was Valedictorian of his class at Wagner College, where he pursued a classical course studying Language, History and Social Science. He graduated in 1923. In the fall of the same year he began his graduate work in History and Economics at Columbia University, where he studied for one school year. In June of 1924 Prof. Popcke went to Europe where he traveled about until September at which time he entered the

Dana "Vikings" Lose To York "Panthers"

A husky and fierce band of York "Panthers," passed, ran and clawed themselves to an impressive win over the Dana "Viking's" in a football game played at York Friday, Oct. 3. The final outcome resulted in a York victory by the overwhelming score, 39-6.

Before game time it was obviously evident that Dana was meeting a team which was fifteen pounds heavier per man. The lighter "Viking's" possessed the spirit of Caesar, who came, saw, and conquered, but the scarlet and white avalanche was only capable of accomplishing the first two of Cæsar's attributes, come and see.

The game started off fast and both teams relied on line plays entirely. The ball was in play in the center of the field the greater part of the first period with neither team able to gain much ground. Many punts were tried, and Alton "Rock" Curtis, Dana's right end, gave a fine exhibition in his punting duel with Greene of York. The first quarter ended a scoreless tie.

During the second quarter both teams began their aerial attacks with both teams making large gains. Late in this period several York passes brought the ball to Dana's ten yard line where Greene passed to Gallant for the first touchdown. The period ended shortly after with York leading 6-0. Dana had been battling the Panthers on even terms and the touchdown resulted from some inserted strategy of Coach McCandless, when he replaced Baser for Jose.

During the third quarter York be-

Luther League Opens With Inspiring Talk

The first Luther League meeting of the new school year was held Wednesday evening, October 8. Elmer Anderson, president of the organization, had charge of the meeting. After an opening hymn had been sung, Elmer Anderson read a portion of the 8th chapter of Paul's Epistle to the Romans and led in prayer. Following the singing of the next hymn, Henry Hanson spoke on the topic, "Freedom through Christ."

Mr. Hanson chose his text from the 8th chapter of John and based his discussion largely on the one verse, "If, therefore, the Son shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." The speaker in introducing the principle elements of his talk spoke briefly concerning the discord between man and God which had been brought into existence through man's disobedience to the command of God in the garden of Eden. Sin at that time entered into the life of man and has continued to hold him in both bondage and darkness. Sin also conceals the love of Christ and God for man. The speaker put this point clearly by saying, "It is sin that hides the true values in Christ and God." Sin, furthered and fostered by Satan makes the attractions of the world exceedingly beautiful and appealing. But the same agency does not show man that he who follows and continues to live in sin and its bondage, without accepting Christ, will not be among those who will sing praise to the glory of God in eternity.

The speaker after clearly indicating the sinful state of man and its recognition by means of the law, pointed out that the only way to reach a higher life and freedom from the bondage of sin is to accept Christ as a personal Savior. At this point Mr. Hanson made the following important statement, "We need Christ first of all as our Savior before He can become our example." The discussion closed with the speaker's appeal to permit Christ to enter the life of the individual and thus live victorious lives, because Christ wants everyone to live a victorious life through Him.

Special music for the meeting was provided by Emil Pedersen who sang a solo.

Old Picnic Grounds Offers Usual Thrills

In spite of the threatening storm clouds Saturday, October 4, the Student Body Picnic, held at the picnic grounds west of town was greatly enjoyed by most of the students and quite a number of faculty members and their families. Some of them, feeling the need of exercise, hiked over the hills and through the fields, while others took the opportunities offered to ride.

When all had arrived, the boys organized for a baseball game while the girls spent the time playing volleyball. Later, the boys and girls joined in playing various outdoor games. At four-thirty a short but inspiring meeting was held in the open, which consisted of the singing of hymns and a talk by Prof. J. P. Nielsen.

Meanwhile, the "eats" committee were busy. A fire had been kindled and a big pot of boiling coffee was

Miss Rude Named Dean Of Women

The new Dean of Women, Miss Ida Rude, comes to Dana from Brookings, South Dakota. Miss Rude very capably fills the position as head of the Biological department.

In 1923, Prof. Rude earned her B.S. degree from the South Dakota State College. In continuing her studies, Miss Rude took post-graduate work at the University of Chicago, Illinois. She received her M.A. degree from the South Dakota State college in 1928.

For two years Miss Rude taught Biology at Bethany College, Lindsburg, Kansas, and last year she was head of the Biological Department at Adrian College in Michigan.

During the past few years, Prof. Rude has been doing private research work, aside from her regular school work, in Histological Technique thru the South Dakota State College.

The Dana women especially welcome their new dean. The girls as well as others, look forward to many pleasant and helpful contacts with her. It is certainly to be hoped that every means of cooperation will be extended to Miss Rude in her position as dean of women.

Blair Participates In Messiah Chorus

Last Thursday night the old reliable choir bus was ready to take us to the "Messiah" rehearsal at the Blair High School Auditorium. Although the rain clouds were coming closer, about thirty of the Dana students and our music Director Prof. Malmin were ready to go. Armed in raincoats, we were the first to appear on the scene, and so "copped" the opportunity of meeting Prof. Logan before anyone else appeared. We spent some useful "study hours" trying to sing do, re, mi, in many different versions, but we all agree that it was time well spent. There was something of a thrill in singing in a large group under the direction of Prof. Logan.

Prof. Logan comes from Omaha and is head of the Conservatory of Music there. Each year he directs the presentation of the "Messiah" in that city. About eight hundred voices of the chorus are furnished by Omaha, while the remaining one thousand or more are from neighboring cities. This year Blair has been given the opportunity to be represented in this oratorio. Only seven-

Alpha Sigma Phi Initiates Members

The Alpha chapter of the National Forensic Honor Society, Alpha Sigma Phi held their annual initiation Wednesday, September 24, at 8:00 P. M. in the Reception Room at the Men's Dormitory.

The activities of the evening opened with the formal initiation of fourteen students who are enrolled in the argumentation and debate class, and who are preparing themselves for participation in interscholastic forensics.

Following the initiation exercises a program was given. The first speaker, Harold Larsen, spoke on the first word of the society's motto, "Alpha" signifying truth. Alpha is often thought of as a beginning, Mr. Larsen said. The candidates were now entering into the beginning of their forensic activities. In these activities truth must be their goal. They must speak not so much to win, as to present the true facts of the question to their audiences and their opponents.

The second word of the society's motto, "Sigma," signifying wisdom, was befittingly enlarged upon by the revered Dr. C. X. Hansen. The speaker called attention to the scriptural statement that wisdom is better than rubies. Wisdom embodies the use of knowledge in grappling with problems. Its use in debate lay in the application of truths to the problem under discussion.

Dr. Popcke, the new debate coach, gave a fiery talk that well represented his subject, "Phi" or eloquence. The truths, searched out and wisely applied, needed to be embodied in appropriate language. Eloquence is that which persuades, convinces, and moves to action.

A brief history of the organization was given by former coach Prof. Erland Nelson, who told of how about five years ago, six ardent debaters laid the foundation of the Alpha Sigma Phi. Since then the Society had grown until it now had become national in scope and importance.

After a reading of the constitution of the Alpha Sigma Phi National Forensic Honor Society by Othelia Nielsen, the new candidates were formally received into the Alpha chapter as associate members. They were heartily congratulated by the old members.

After informal discussion, the delightful evening was concluded with the enjoyment of dainty refreshments served by some of the older members.

Students Cast Votes For S. B. Vacancies

The Student Body held their fall election October 6 in order to fill all the vacancies left by students, who did not return this fall. The polls were open from 12:00 till 4:00, Monday, at which time the students cast their votes. There was a great deal of interest displayed by the students concerning the election, which showed that true spirit of Danians was not lacking.

The candidates for the various offices were chosen by a committee after very much deliberation and consideration of who would represent the student body to best advantage.

There was only one office to fill in the Student Council. Harold Dan-

Dana Favored By Noted Musicians

A number of Blair citizens, and Faculty members and students of Dana College were present to enjoy the first number of the Lyceum Course given at the College Auditorium, October 4th. Madame Lhevinne, one of the most popular violinists of to-day, accompanied by her husband at the piano, and their eight year old son "Laddy," a boy prodigy, gave a most wonderful entertainment.

As an introduction Madame Lhevinne made a few remarks concerning the violins she used. The one violin had been made in Cremona, Italy in 1675. The other had also been made in Cremona, Italy. This latter was the instrument on which Mozart played when he was a boy.

Madame Lhevinne played the best of music from the early centuries up to the present time. Before each number she told the story of the particular selection she was going to play. This made the numbers all the more enjoyable.

"Laddy" rendered several piano compositions. Among those played were sonatas by Mozart. During this time "Laddy" was dressed as Mozart when he played before the King of England. We remember from music history that Mozart was a piano prodigy. Laddy has the similitude of him both in playing and in appearance. When Laddy played his other selections he was dressed as a little California boy.

Prof. C. A. Stub Returns To Dana

Prof. C. A. Stub, formerly a professor at Dana, has returned again as professor of mathematics. Prof. Stub received his high school education at Elk Horn, Iowa. In 1907-'08, while a young man, he enjoyed a trip to Denmark which gave him the opportunity of attending a Folk High School for one term.

Upon his return to America he found he wanted more education in order to enter the teaching profession. He registered in the University of Minnesota and in 1921 received his B.A. degree.

Mr. Stub accepted a position in Des Moines, Iowa, at Grand View College. He taught five years there and also two years in the Elk Horn High School.

This is not Prof. Stub's first experience at Dana. He taught here in 1923. Last year Prof. Stub took up

ALUMNI

THE CLASS OF 1930

The members of the Senior Class of 1930 have been scattered to various places and at various distances. Following is, in brief, the Senior Class in its present activities.

Arnold H. Anderson is pastor of our church at Geneva, Minnesota.

Marinus Hagedorn is serving the congregations at Scranton, Coon Rapids, and Witchita, Iowa.

Ravnkilde Møller is serving our church in Salmonhurst, Canada, in the absence of Rev. Nommesen.

Harold Jorgensen, pastor of our church at Underwood, Iowa, has paid several visits to Dana since the opening of school in September.

Valdemar Jorgensen, the class president, has taken up the pastoral work in Cordova, Nebraska.

Scriver Kloth who is pastor of our church in Shelby, Iowa, was at the Dana campus recently.

Johannes Larsen, most distant of all, is Traveling Secretary of the Danish Mission Society in Denmark.

Edna Bondo is teaching at the Coulter Grade School, Coulter, Iowa.

Lucille Hansen is teaching fifth and sixth grades at Diller, Nebraska.

Elna Hofgaard is teaching at our mission in Oaks, Oklahoma.

Elsie Jensen is teaching near Cody, Wyoming.

Esther Jensen is teaching in a branch of our Mission School at Oaks.

Bernice Brown is employed as stenographer by the Western Printing Company at Racine, Wisconsin.

Dagny Nielsen is doing stenographic work for her uncle, Lawyer Debel, at Albert Lea, Minnesota.

Dagmar Olsen who is employed as an assistant in the Post Office at Herman, Nebraska, was on the campus recently.

Milton Anderson is teaching a grade school near Blair, Nebraska.

A. Emil Pedersen, Miss Jean Larsen, Ben Engskov, Johan Petersen, and George Robertson are back at Dana to continue their studies.

STUDENT OPINION

SHOULD DANA HAVE A LOCAL STUDENT VOLUNTEER GROUP?

Since there may be some who do not know what the Student Volunteer Union is, it is proper to offer an explanation before the question at hand is answered. The Student Volunteer Union has for its aim to awaken in students an interest for Foreign Mission work, and to help those who are thinking about going to the Mission fields to come to a more definite decision. While the Union does not send missionaries out nor help with financial support, thousands of members have gone to the Foreign fields. Through the work of the Student Volunteer Union, students are able to get acquainted with conditions in the various places. The Union is in constant touch with the Foreign fields, and is able to supply educational material through the help of returned missionaries, and thus it has on hand first hand information. It is interdenominational in so far that it studies the missionary problems of each denomination.

Since our church is interested in Foreign Mission work, it seems to me that a Student Volunteer Group on our own campus would be an ideal thing. Some object to the idea because we have too many organizations now, but I wonder if that is sufficient reason to keep this movement out. We have within our doors one Mission Society, but it studies the problems mostly from our own view point. Would we not be benefited greatly by studying the problems of other church bodies also?

To become a member of the Union does not require any fee; but it does involve a pledge to the effect that if God permits then the signer of the pledge will go to the Foreign Mission fields. In other words one comes face to face with the question of going out, and then it urges one on. It helps one to find the right place. It helps one to find out whether or not God wants him to go.

gan a march down the field and scored their second touchdown with another long forward pass. The "Vikings" came right back and uncorked a baffling aerial attack which finally saw "Rock" Curtiss go over for Dana's only score. The "Panthers" weight began to tell and they had soon crossed for another score. Shortly before the close of the third quarter Gallant again took a pass and raced 18 yards for a touchdown. The score at the end of the third quarter showed York in the lead by a 25-6 score.

Both teams put up a furious battle in the last quarter, but superiority of York's drives soon drove over two more touchdowns to give York a 39-6 lead.

The game was clean and hard fought, Dana losing to a better team, as the score reveals ty-five were present at this first rehearsal, but the number is expected to be doubled if everybody will lend his support. This Blair group will present the "Messiah" here sometime in the early part of December, and some of our students are already working on solo parts. We ought to make this a success, since our Prof. Malmin has directed the "Messiah" himself a number of times.

The final climax will be the joint presentation in Omaha, a week preceding Christmas. Over two thousand voices will be included in the chorus, and Blair's "little flock" will also be seen, and, we hope, heard among the vast numbers of others there.

In closing I wish to quote from a pamphlet called: "Christian Service Abroad", the following: "Thousands have found that to be a member of a great international and interdenominational fellowship of students planning to enter missionary service is a rich and stimulating experience."

University of Berlin to study History, Anthropology and Ethnology. During the time spent here he wrote a book on German folklore. Late in 1925 he received his Doctor of Philosophy degree. On his return to the United States he became a member of the teaching staff of Lutheran Academy, of which his father, Rev. Dr. Wm. Popcke, is the principal. Here he taught History and Economics and later Latin, Greek and German. After a short time he was made head of the German Language and Literature Department. Here his time was spent until this fall when he came to our college in an effort to get away from the industrialism of the city.

Not only did he attend to his duties as a teacher at Lutheran Academy but he occupied himself during his spare moments to a great advantage. Lectures were prepared and given by him on Church History at the Lutheran Teacher's Conferences held in New York during the summers of 1929 and 1930. He was elected lay preacher in the Lutheran church. This position he held for three years preaching in different churches in New York City. Much time was put on the study of the development of the music-drama and the works of Richard Wagner. He was a Baritone soloist in Zion Lutheran Church of New York for four years. Sociology, being a very interesting study was not forgotten during this time. Prof. Popcke worked with the Bureau of Charities of New York so as to do much valuable sociological research work.

Dana College should feel very proud of this new member of our faculty. I am sure that all who have the privilege of being in some of his classes realize that Dana is very fortunate in obtaining a man of this calibre as a teacher.

DANNEBROG HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The first meeting of the Dannebrog literary society was held Friday, October 10, at 7 o'clock in the evening. It is indeed encouraging to see that so many of our students are interested, and take part in, our Danish programs.

The meeting started with two songs by the audience, "Kald mig ad de unge" and "Moders Navn," after which Mr. Chris Bertelsen spoke on the subject, "Aarstiderne." Mr. Bertelsen stressed especially spring and autumn, giving us a vivid picture of both and accompanying his illustrations with short well fitting poems. Though it is autumn, he said, it is spring for Dannebrog, and it is up to each one of us to sow and work also in this respect, so that the aims of the society may be attained, and we may receive worthy fruits from the audience showed that the speech this activity. The hearty response of had found way to the hearts of all the listeners.

Next Miss Ruth Johnson favored us with a vocal solo, "Nu Tak for alt," and then our comical phase of the program was presented. Mr. P. Hauge and E. Johansen amused the audience immensely by their presentation of the dialog, "Pater Joseph". Mr. Hauge played the part of the penitent and confessing criminal, Mr. Johansen took the role of Pater Joseph—how well they carried out the plot must be seen—and heard—to be appreciated.

Another treat—though very different—awaited us. Prof. Malmin, our new choir director, played a selection on his French horn, "Vuggesangen," by Hartmann. Mrs. Malmin accompanied at the piano.

The meeting ended with two other songs after which a short business meeting was held. Mr. Aage Nommesen was elected president, Chris Bertelsen, vice-president, Miss Ninna Schultz, secretary, and Johan Petersen, treasurer.

CAMPUS DOINGS

All the pianos in the administration building and dormitories are being tuned these last few days much to our present discomfort and future enjoyment.

Dr. Hansen's classes have begun their observation in the city schools. Thirty-six hours are required of all members of the methods class in order to acquaint them with teaching theory in actual practice. The Rural Methods class observed in the McCarthy school one forenoon. The practice teaching classes are teaching sub-freshman grammar.

Mrs. Mildred Curtis visited with Professor and Mrs. Malmin on October 8. Mrs. Malmin and Mrs. Curtis were school chums and were graduated from Drake University in Des Moines together.

Edna Hansen, who has been ill for some time, returned to school this week and has resumed her work.

Freida Geil of Graettinger, Iowa, has been ill with chronic appendicitis all week. She is now improving and will probably be able to go to classes next week.

Rev. C. E. Nielsen of Luverne, North Dakota, was here for the Seminary opening and visited friends on the campus.

A number of visitors were here September 28: George Hansen, Mrs. Thomas Jensen and Miss Marie Bundgaard of Northfield; Mrs. Harold Nielsen of Moorhead; Mrs. John Madsen, O. J. Madsen, Gladys Madsen, Wilma Dristy, and Marguerite Nielsen of Davey, Nebraska.

Miss Jennie Gronholm, of Omaha, and Elmer Stone, of Lindsay, Nebraska, were at Dana Sunday, October 5.

N. P. Olsen's and little Richard, of West Branch, visited Ruth Olsen October 2.

Bertha Andersen is visiting at her home in Elk Horn this week-end; Bertha Hall and Myrtle Hanson are going to Fremont on Sunday to visit relatives, and Erma Madsen and Edna Hansen are driving with Cornelius Hansen to Shelby Sunday.

Friday the 3rd, over 40 young people from Atlantic, Iowa, visited at Dana, together with their pastor, Rev. Siersbeck, and Rev. Hensel, German Lutheran pastor of Atlantic. They arrived on the campus in the forenoon, visited classes and buildings all day, and left for home late in the afternoon. We are very glad they came and hope they enjoyed their visit. We very much appreciate having visitors go away better informed and better boosters than when they came. We hope many others will follow their example.

George Robertson and Bob Larsen spent Sunday in Audubon and "Doc" James drove with them to his home in Elk Horn.

A PLEA

At the last annual meeting of the Alumni Association, it was decided to get as many alumni on the mailing list as possible. The purpose of this was to increase the interest for and the vitality of the association. This can be done only through the cooperation of the various alumni. Through the Hermes we wish to do as much in this line as possible. Therefore an appeal is extended to all our readers to help. If any of the readers can and are willing to send names and present addresses of any graduate of Dana College and Trinity Seminary, it would help greatly in the work of making the mailing list complete. Send all information regarding any graduate to the Alumni Association, c/o Dana College, Blair, Nebraska.

Dear pa and ma:

At last we got here. It was a long drive but terribly interesting. First when we were a long way from home we got a flat. When we got the patches on and the tire on and just ready to pump it up then the pump wouldn't give any air. That is the way it always goes, when we want to use it, then it ain't any good, and when we don't care then it is alright. We at last got a little air in it. It took a long time too. What do you think happened next? Because it took so long to fix it then we drove faster and then we run out of gas. It was just four miles from a little burg that we passed through and it was eight to the next one. We didn't know what to do. Then Jimmy thought of going over to a place about a mile away and I had to stay by the car. When he got over to the place a big dog was standing by the gate and he didn't think there was anybody home. When he come back then I went to a place and there I got a half gallon.

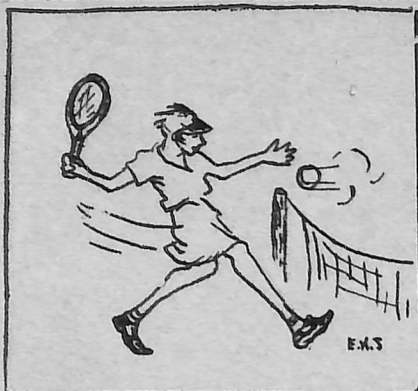

We got to Blair right after dinner about two o'clock. There were many here then, but we were not the last ones. We didn't know what to do next and then we got a room for me. I wanted to live on the fourth floor, but I heard some one ask some one else how he liked the scorpions this year. I didn't know what he meant and I asked and he said that there were scorpions on that floor. I don't know what they are but I changed my mind to live on third floor. I guess the scorpions will do some harm because one day all the rooms up there were turned over and nobody knows who done it, but I think these scorpions whatever it is must have.

I don't have it all put to order in my room yet because I want to see what the style is first. I sure wish you were here ma to help me sweep and fix the bed. I just can't get used to it. Do you think it is alright to ask my roommate if he will? I think he will because he is very good.

And then we had to register. My! we waited a long time, but there were many to talk to so the time went. But it took a long time, and I am not very glad about the way it turned out. They said that I had to take history and I don't like to read that old stuff. I thought I could take anything I wanted but I guess not, and of course the first day I was here I didn't like to make any fuss.

I forgot to ask if I could play football, but now I have started so I guess I better keep on. I sure hope I can make the team. We played one game already. They were called the A. B. C. of Omaha. I don't know what it stands for but I don't think they know very much.

Say, ma won't you please send me that new necktie you gave me. I wanted to save it for Christmas but

THE DANA CO-ED

Already five weeks of school have passed—for those who have returned for another term it has been a glorious experience in meeting old friends again—the first week was mostly a round of hand-shakes. How-do-you-do; glad to see you back, how are you, etc.

However, the second and third weeks have offered the more serious problem of trying to cram about eight hours of study into the three hours between 7:30-10:30. To those who are beginning their first year, the whole affair has been rather confusing. After being introduced to Olsons, Jensens, Hansens, Andersens and Petersens until the head fairly swims, one is about to give up in despair. However one soon finds out that there are other names that go with these, as "Tiny", "Inky", "Uppie", "Bill", "Bob", "Wes", etc., and that if one is at loss for a particular name, there is always the rather reliable name of "Nuts" which seems to be a common occurrence around here.

On Saturday morning some of the fair co-eds, who had decided to sacrifice their breakfast and remain in bed, were startled by hearing a man's voice. Who could it be? Soon they heard a noise which sounded very much as though a key were being turned. Were they to be locked in their rooms and given bread and water for not arising as they should have? Visions of starvation haunted the fair maidens. However the mystery was soon solved for it was only "Schmaaltz" turning on the heat in the rooms where as yet there were no roomers. It was with a welcome sigh of relief that they heard his retreating footsteps so they could again resume their slumbers.

I would like to have it now and I really ought to have the new socks too.

Yes, I really like it here. We get lots to eat. I sure am glad I don't have to do chores every morning. But it gets tiresome here to study all the time and there are so many boys and girls to talk to.

I guess I have to stop now the lights are to go out at half past eleven.

Write soon.

Your son,

Dave.

P.S.—I will soon let you know when to send me some money.

"Do you prefer blondes or brunettes?" was the question put bravely forth to several young lads. Some of the modest ones blushed and assumed a "you're-getting-personal" air. But some did not seek escape but instead they faced the vital issue and gave their answers. And what a variety. Here you are.

Blondes, here are some of your boosters: Inky, of course, without hesitation and with decision answered, "Blonde." 'Twas all so natural for him. Jens fell in line with Inky. Can it be some mysterious Goldy Locks at Audubon? Pete Danielson said defiantly, "I'm a gentleman!" Ah! how dramatic it was!

Jamison, Doc, Bud, and Rock really like blondes, too, although the question was rather startling and really required a little deep thinking.

But, brunettes, what a flock of admirers for you. Smoky Anderson with downcast eyes, confided his preference for the dark haired maids. Now Knut really didn't want to say but it was unnecessary, too, because his answer would be inevitably 100 per cent for the brunette. Bud was uncertain at first but after many different answers, a decision was arrived at in favor of brunettes. Van, Schmaaltz, and Paul favor the darkies, too.

Some were very undecided which it should be. Aage says it all depends on what is underneath the hair. Alvin Peterson had not figured out the color of her hair yet. Dick Nelson looked admiringly up as he spoke serenely, "Tiny." Johannes Peterson likes the red ones but probably he doesn't know that red haired maids are generally hot tempered. Beware, John! Dick Krogh looked very disgusted when he answered, "Neither." When anyone speaks with such force it behooves us to think that probably some blonde or brunette has crossed his path making him so hard-hearted.

Simy Simonson couldn't figure it out either but he thinks it depends upon the looks.
