

Dana Enrollment Climbs To High Level Under New Plan

Large Freshman Class Proves Popularity Of Unique Plan; Registration To September 13 Reaches Total of 126.

Dana College has opened its 48th year with a record attendance of 126 students.

At the present time eleven states, Canada, and Japan are represented. The states and number of representatives are: Nebraska, sixty-two; Iowa, thirty; Wisconsin, eleven; Montana, four; Minnesota, three; Canada, one; Colorado, two; Japan, one; Illinois, one; North Dakota, two; Wyoming, one; and Kansas, two.

Six students who are yet to come are: from Canada, one; Michigan, two; California, two; and South Dakota, one.

Stanley Bach traveled over 5,000 miles from Kumamoto, Japan, to attend college here. He is the son of Danish Lutheran missionaries in Japan, and was born in New Zealand. He has spent most of his life in Japan.

President Nelson states that in spite of the fact that more students have been unemployed this summer than ever before and the depression has been more severe, the College has the largest enrollment it has had for the past few years, which shows that the new plan under which Dana College is operating has appealed to the public.

This new plan is opposite of the trend taken by most colleges that, students who derive the best benefit directly should bear the biggest expense.

President Nelson states that a school is of no value if there are no students there. If high entrance requirements or money prevent the coming of new students, then the school is worthless.

President Nelson also states that no year has looked brighter than this coming year and that the school is represented by an unusually fine student body.

This year there are sixty-two Freshmen, twenty-six Sophomores, thirteen Juniors, and eleven Seniors.

The Winter Semester will open November 13th, and the president plans on a large enrollment at that time. The Seminary will open on September 26th.

Before the school year is over the President expects over 175 students to be enrolled in the school.

Mission Society To Meet September 27

On the last Wednesday of every month the Foreign Mission Society takes the place of the Luther League meeting. Unlike the Luther League, the Foreign Mission Society includes members outside of Dana College. The president of the society, Pres. J. P. Nielsen, wishes to announce that a program will be given at the first meeting, and the society will continue to meet on the regular schedule. At the annual meeting last February, Victor Magnussen and Harold Larsen were elected auditors. It was decided that the funds for the year would be divided so as to give one-third to the Cherokee Indian Mission and two-thirds to the Japan Mission. Let us all join ourselves to this good cause, and have a really successful year.

Debate Data Goes To Federal Agency

Following is a letter recently received from the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D. C., requesting a copy of last year's debate handbook, "Shall War Debts Be Cancelled?"

August 17, 1933.

Dana College,
The Librarian,
Blair, Nebraska.

Dear Sir:

You will confer a favor by kindly presenting the Commission with a copy of the following recent publication:

Shall war debts be cancelled? A debate handbook, compiled by the Dana Debate Squad, 1932-33, under the auspices of Alpha Chapter, Alpha Sigma Phi, 1933. 67 pages.

The enclosed mailing frank may be used without postage in sending the publication.

Very respectfully,

T. A. GILLIS,

Acting Secretary.

This is but one of the hundreds of letters which come from governmental, social, and educational institutions requesting debate material compiled by our debaters. Such an evidence of interest should testify to the thoroughness with which Dana debate squads cover their questions.

This year's class in argumentation and debate is already hard at work in preliminary skirmishes and it is expected that several of the veteran debaters will join the newcomers when the squad swings into intercollegiate competition.

Dana To Continue Radio Broadcasts

Although not definitely decided, radio broadcasts will probably be conducted on the same schedule as last year, the programs being presented on Tuesday nights every two weeks.

This year Prof. G. J. Malmin expects more material and more talent to work with, thus making a higher grade program than those of previous years.

These programs serve as a medium to acquaint the public with Dana College and produce excellent training in that field. These programs (Continued on Page 3)

Seminary Opens On September 26

Trinity Theological Seminary will open September 26th, opening exercises to be held on the evening of the 26th. All students are invited to attend.

Eight students are enrolled in the Seminary this year, three Freshmen, three Middlers, and two Seniors.

The teaching staff will remain the same this year as in previous years with President J. P. Nielsen, Rev. Hans C. Jersild, and Dr. C. B. Larsen.

A Cappella Choir Begins Rehearsals

Benefitting by the substantial increase in college enrollment this year, the A Cappella Choir has embarked upon its rehearsals with the membership exceeding last year's total by nearly a score of voices. Director G. J. Malmin has expressed himself as being highly enthusiastic over the early practice turnouts. It is expected that several more voices will be added within the next few weeks.

Jean Larsen, Viola Hansen, Alvin Carlsen, and Vic Magnussen are among the veterans who are back along with eighteen members of last year's choir. Besides this substantial number of experienced singers, many excellent voices are being discovered amongst the new material.

While no plans for next spring have been released as yet, Prof. Malmin has announced that the choir will present one of the famous oratorios during the Christmas season. Handel's Messiah, Mendel- (Continued on Page 3)

Many Attend Luther League First Meeting

Group Hears Clifford Madsen In Initial Program Of Year.

The first Luther League meeting of the year was held Wednesday, Sept. 13th, in the College Chapel. Following the singing of the opening hymn, "Worship the King," Herbert Harboe read Scripture and led in prayer. Following the hymn "Young People's Savior," Emil Wahlberg offered a piano solo.

Clifford Madsen gave an enlightening talk on the topic, "The Quiet Hour." The text chosen was from the 10th chapter of Luke. In relating the incident where Jesus told Martha that what Mary had could not be taken away from her, Mr. Madsen added a comparison by placing the college student in the same position. A college student, though he may retain but little of his learning after leaving school, should be equipped to live a better life, provided he has attended the right school and been subject to a high type of environment.

Here we find that we must know Christ and not merely know about Him. We find that much of our ability to live and succeed is gained through the "quiet hours." Moses prepared himself in solitude for his great mission. David, the most perfect king, came to know God while tending flocks. Elijah, who had faith enough to prove God, spent much time in preparation, alone with God. How much greater is our need for the strength, understanding, and consolation which only God can give.

After Mr. Madsen's talk, the meeting was closed with the singing of "Jesus, Life and Way to Heaven," and the Lord's Prayer. Anker Jensen, Vice-President, presided in the absence of President Wesley Andersen.

Rudolph Knudsen, Mary Jensen, and Lee Andersen, who compose the program committee for September and October, have announced a business meeting for October 1st.

GEORGE H. HARTWIG

Simultaneously with the drastic reductions in student expenses, Dana College has strengthened its English department by the election of George H. Hartwig, candidate for the Ph.D. degree at Harvard. Professor Hartwig received his B.A. degree from Leland Stanford University, and his Master's degree from Harvard.

Professor Hartwig's experience includes six years as professor of English at Lenoir-Rhyne College, North Carolina; seven years in a similar capacity at St. Olaf College, Minnesota; and five years in the Department of English at Wittenberg College, Ohio. He is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and of the American Association of University Professors. In addition to his regular teaching, he has been associated with the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. extension work.

Professor Hartwig is peculiarly qualified to teach at Dana College, which is a Lutheran Denominational College, since he is also a graduate of Wagner College and Lutheran Theological Seminary of Philadelphia, and has spent six years in ac- (Continued on Page 3)

Heads Predict Good Year As College Opens

President Nelson And Others Are Speakers At Formal Opening.

Formal opening exercises for the school year of 1933-34 were held in the college chapel Monday evening, September 4th, before a capacity audience.

The program was featured by short messages of welcome delivered by President Erland Nelson representing the college, President J. P. Nielsen representing the Seminary, Mr. Philip O'Hanlon representing the City of Blair, Rev. James N. Lund of the First Lutheran Church of Blair, and H. Skov Nielsen of the Board of Directors of Dana College.

Greetings and good wishes for a successful school year were brought from the Wisconsin District by the Rev. Fred C. M. Hansen of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

History Club To Present Program

The executive council of the History Club met Thursday evening to discuss tentative plans for a program to be given in the latter part of November. The club hopes to be able to obtain a professor from the History Department of the University of Nebraska as speaker.

The club will meet in the near future to decide definitely on plans for the winter. The officers for the 1933-34 season are:

President—Dolliver Thogerson.
Vice-Pres.—Rudolph Knudsen.
Secretary—Marion Peterson.
Librarian—Alfred Petersen.

Faculty Reception Is First Social Event Of The Year

Students Greeted And Entertained Evening Of Sept. 8.

In a response for the student body, Byron Langenfeld said that during the first part of the school year there undoubtedly are many who are genuinely homesick. He expressed the belief, though, that they not only will find themselves heartened by such earnest expressions of welcome as those tendered by the faculty, but also by fellowships they can seek out from day to day in their various activities. Next summer will find many of the same students "homesick" for Dana, he said.

Dean Thomsen was another speaker on the program, and addressed to the students this pertinent question: "Nine months from this date will be June 8th, and I am wondering if, when that time comes, and you look back upon the results of your year's work, you will be satisfied?" The school year still lies ahead to do with as we wish, he said, and he urged every student to strive diligently toward greater spiritual and intellectual development.

Following a few closing words of welcome by Miss Wind, all joined in singing the Dana song, "Alma Mater."

Refreshments were then served.

SELECTING THE STAFF

This year the Hermes inaugurates a new policy. Heretofore, the entire staff has been selected by popular vote. Last spring, however, it was suggested that the election method be abolished, because of its tendency toward favoritism. Accordingly, it was decided that only the editor-in-chief, the assistant editor, and the business manager and his assistant be elected by the student body, while the remainder of the staff be picked by the editor-in-chief and the business manager. Along with this change of policy comes the danger that only close friends might be chosen by those who are empowered to do the selecting. In speaking for the business manager, let me say that his staff is composed almost entirely of Hermes veterans who have proved themselves capable and reliable in the past. Concerning the writing staff, I would like to say that I have considered only actual ability and experience in making selections for the various positions.

We are happy to present the new staff and their initial efforts with the hope that no ill feeling will result over the selections which have been made. Naturally, there are a number of good writers in our midst with whom we are not as yet well acquainted. May we urge that those of you who like newspaper work, and would like to contribute to the Hermes, get in touch with us at once. The fact that we have overlooked you does not mean we do not want you. The staff still contains vacancies, and we can make room for all who have ability along journalistic lines.

We also need the cooperation of the remainder of the student body. The Hermes is your publication, advertising your school and its activities. Your criticisms and suggestions, made in a cooperative spirit, will enrich the Hermes and make the work easier for those actively connected with its publication. The staff is powerless if forced to work alone. We are counting on your needed help.

Falling Plaster

Greetings and Felicitations! Now that the harvest is in, perhaps we can take up where we left off and continue this potion of laugh-proof literature How about it?
* * *

First in the order of matters at hand is our greatly increased enrollment. Nearly seventy freshmen have fastened their signatures on the dotted line thus far and still they pour in on trains, in cars, on bicycles, a horse, a foot, or what have you on Track 6 someone must be staging a "go-to-college" week somewhere, or something . . .
* * *

The Dormitories are bulging and it appears as though the next move will have to be the establishment of a pup-tent colony on the front lawn Move that picture up about three months and you'll have something that resembles Valley Forge.

Bye the bye, speaking of Valley Forge, George Washington's ragged band of soldiers looked like Hart, Schafner and Marx ads compared to Coach Olson's football squad, which, owing to their unusually large number and a temporary shortage of equipment, is covorting on the practice field in everything from coveralls to Aunt Hannah's house dress.

Now let's step over to the Dining Hall where the Mob Scene from Chaos is staged three times a day. To judge from the crowd one would imagine that Uncle George and Aunt

Fanny had dropped in with the family However, everybody manages to get their three squares, although Chef Truax has to push the "vittles" through so fast that the pork roast still has a squeal when it gets to the table. . . .

Amongst the early season Dormitory events was a clothes auction held the other Thursday evening. For the benefit of the innocent and unsuspecting folk, let us hasten to explain that a clothes auction is that function which promotes the sale of various articles of worthless, worn-out, and moth-eaten clothing to the biggest bidder no matter how low the highest bid might be, the purchaser usually gets the short end of the deal while the seller murmurs, under his breath, "Thank goodness, I got rid of that rag."

Leading the activities outside of the regular curriculum this year will probably be the ever-popular out-and-in-door sport of "courting the co-eds." Already the line at the door of Ye Ladies' Dormitory reminds us of the newspaper pictures we see of men returning to work after a long layoff If the boys are open to suggestions, I would like to advance the idea of building a row of bleachers near the door for those who do not wish to join the sardines in the hall

And now we call upon the next speaker. . . .

THE TRUTH ABOVE ALL TRUTHS

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free" (John 8: 32).

If these were the only words we had of our Savior's teachings, they would demonstrate divine mission to us. It was Christ's aim to teach superstitious man that there is a truth above all truths and that truth, "Ye shall know."

Christ does not force us to accept His teaching but when we know that truth, we have a responsibility to God. We cannot glide along, pushing our responsibility aside. We must meet our God.

If we know God, He shall make us free. Man often walks about, thinking himself to be unbound; but he may be a slave to a sinful habit. He may be a slave to his passions or he may not be able to control his expenditures.

Fear enslaves man to such an extent that he even takes his own life. In a lesser degree, man is often a-frail of the world's laugh or of losing popularity in his select group. Business does not always pay the best if carried on in a Christian manner. Man is a slave to fear.

We need a Savior to set us free. He is able to give us that help in our lives. We need more men like John the Baptist, who was beheaded because he believed and witnessed for Christ. Stephen was stoned to death. Paul had many trials because he spoke for Jesus.

Students, do you have that freedom? Are you a slave of the world, of some habit, or of fear? We are beginning a new school year to seek for truth. Do not forget that truth above all truths. Seek Christian friends that they may help you to be free. It is easy to glide, not realizing that you have a responsibility. We are here to help each other. Let us all gain that freedom through Christ, the Savior of the world.

A L U M N I

Dr. Juul Nielsen, who has been superintendent of the State Hospital at Norfolk, Nebr., for the past two years, has been chosen by the board of control to fill the position as superintendent of the state hospital at Hastings, Nebr. This transfer marks a distinct advancement in the career of Dr. Nielsen. We are happy to own him as a Dana Alumnus.

Ruth Johnsen, '32, has returned to our Indian mission at Oaks, Okla., where she is employed as music supervisor in the grade school.

Robert Larsen, '33, is principal of our school at Oaks, Okla. He is also coach of athletics and instructor in English and biology.

Alfred R. Jensen, '33, is also employed at our school at Oaks. In addition to teaching history and Latin, he holds the position as librarian and coach of debate.

Erhardt Nielsen, '32, is principal of the Bono Rural High School near Blair.

Frances Mortensen, '31, has secured a position as teacher in the Blackbird school near Lyons, Nebr.

Louise Christensen, '29, returned again this fall to her rural school near Lyons, Nebr.

B. Marie Hansen, '29, is employed as music supervisor in the high school of Homer, Nebr.

Rev. Elmer Andersen, '32, was in Blair on business this week.

Philip Magnussen, '30, is teaching in the Longwillow rural school near Audubon, Iowa.

Dana Football Squad Prepares For Opening Game

Grid Prospects Bright As Twelve Veterans Return

Several Newcomers Offer Real Competition to Lettermen As Midland Game Nears

With the opening game less than three weeks off and with this year's schedule being the toughest in years, the Vikings, twenty-seven strong, have responded to Coach Olson's call. Included in this number are eleven letter men from last year's undefeated team and several very promising new men.

Letter men back are M. Jensen, captain and driving rod of last year's team; Nommesen, a guard; Sides, who was a tackle last year but who in all probability will see action at end this season; George, a reserve lineman; Thogersen, a capable guard; Hurd, regular back of last season; L. Hancock first string end of last season and who may see service in the backfield this year; C. Vig, the reliable pivot man; and R. Christensen, a reserve guard from last season's squad; and M. Pedersen, a reserve back.

The positions left wide open by graduations are both tackles. However, a very capable tackle in the person of Breitbarth, 186-lb. tackle from Bancroft, Nebr., has appeared and he should very capably fill one of these holes. Fast and aggressive, he comes to Dana with an excellent high school record behind him and should respond to Coach Olson's teachings. For the other tackle the most promising candidates seem to be S. Larsen and George. Larsen, a newcomer, has yet to be heard from. George was a reserve on last year's team and appears to be ready to put up quite a battle for the position.

The guard positions should be well taken care of. Thogersen, 155 lb. guard and a regular from last year, will be back to bolster up his side of the line. A small man, he more than makes up for this by his effective work both on offense and defense. He is the type of veteran that would grace anyone's squad. Nommesen at the other guard seems considerably improved over last year and he will be closely pressed by Thorngren and R. Christensen who reported late but who should make a strong bid for the varsity this year.

The center of the line will be well-manned with C. Vig back for another season. A good ball-snapper and a bear on defense is Vig and he is capable of stopping many a plan aimed at the center of the line. His 168 lbs. leads the way for offensive center smashes.

End prospects are fair. Sidas, a tackle on last year's squad has been shifted to end and he looks good enough to fit the bill. Sidas is fast, a good blocker and is adept at snagging passes. E. Andersen has moved up from last year to take the regular end position so far and is making quite a bid to retain it. Should L. Hancock fail to make the trade in the backfield, he will no doubt be seen back at his old post-end.

The backfield should give a good account of itself with M. Jensen, 201 lb. fullback, ready to rip the enemy line to pieces and Hurd, regular from last season. Hurd is very good in open field running and as a safety man. The passing combination of Hurd and Jensen should click for good results as well. D. Petersen, reserve back of last season is again back but will be hard pressed by Brody and Hay for the other position in the backfield. Brody, first year man, looks good. Hay was injured during the early practice rounds and has as yet to be fully looked over.

This year's squad will probably not pack as much beef as last years but it should, nevertheless, give a good account of itself. A victory over Midland in the first game would be quite a bit to expect from this team but plenty can happen between now and the kickoff. One thing is certain—the team will be in excellent condition and should the contest prove to be a gruelling one, condition may turn the tide. Chalk talks, signal drills, tackling, and other fundamentals have been the order of most workouts so far with active scrimmage booked for next week. The lineup which looks like the one to survive the cut at the present time is as follows:

- L. E.—J. Sides.
- R. E.—E. Andersen.
- L. T.—S. Larsen; George.
- R. T.—Breitbarth.
- L. G.—Thogersen.
- R. G.—Nommesen, Thorngren, R.

Christensen.

- C. —C. Vig.
- F. B.—M. Jensen.
- L. H.—Hurd.
- R. H.—L. Hancock.
- Q. B.—D. Pedersen, Brody, Hay.

This lineup is tentative to say the least and includes quite a little change from last year's lineup. With quite a scramble for positions, several new names may be written in before the opening game.

Forty gridders answered Coach Lawrence's first call at Midland on Sept. 11th. Several lettermen have returned, and Dana is due for plenty of activity when they meet the Warriors at Fremont in the season opener on September 29th.

By way of another advance tip, we would suggest that you keep your eye on the Dana—Creston game scheduled for October 28th at home. Both teams are gunning for each other as a result of last year's bitter gridiron struggle and this season's encounter promises to be a hair-raiser.

It is expected that the W.A.A. will enjoy a prosperous year in '33—'34 if we are to judge by the overflowing condition of the girls' dormitory. How about a four or six team girls'

While we are discussing the future, why not begin to think about next spring's athletic possibilities. With as large a student body as we have this year there is an excellent opportunity of our participating in intercollegiate track, tennis, baseball, golf, and softball. Let's talk it up.

Women's Phys Ed Director Named

Heading the women's athletic department at Dana this year is Miss Agatha Madsen of Cedar Falls, Iowa. She is a graduate of Iowa State Teachers' College, where she took an active part in women's athletics. She was a member of the Women's Athletic Association, and the Honorary Physical Education Association at that institution.

Aside from her position in the physical education department, Miss Madsen is also instructor of French.
