

Students Signify Church Preference

A survey was recently conducted to determine the religious affiliations of the students now attending Dana. The survey revealed that about two-thirds of our students are Lutheran, with the Methodist faith running second on the campus.

The complete figures follow: Lutheran, 65 per cent; Methodist, 15 per cent; Presbyterian, six per cent; Congregational, three per cent; Catholic, three per cent; and all others, eight per cent.

Debate Class to Be Formed Soon

Because of the several requests of students interested in forensics, there will be a class in debate here this year. The course was not included in the regular curriculum at the start of the year, but the interest shown since that time has warranted the organization of a class.

The question which has been released for the intercollegiate contests this year is: "Resolved that Congress should have power to fix the minimum and maximum wages for industry."

Students who wish to participate in this activity, and who have not already signed up for the course, may obtain additional information from Carl Wildrick.

Omaha to Stage Musical Treats

Within the next three weeks two great musical attractions are to be presented at the Omaha Municipal Auditorium.

On October 29 Mercado's Tipica Mexican Orchestra, a large company of outstanding musicians of concert, opera and radio fame, is scheduled to appear under the auspices of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. This group presents the romance of Mexico in melody. Reserved seats at $1.65 and $1.10 may be obtained from the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

Beginning on November 11 the San Carlo Opera Company will present a four-day series of five well-known operas. Many of our students have enjoyed the singing of this talented company, as it has been almost an annual attraction of the Omaha music season.

The operas to be presented are: Verdi's "Aida", Donizetti's "Lucia Di Lammermoor", Puccini's "La Boheme", Offenbach's "The Tales of Hoffman", and Wagner's "Tannhauser."

This is the 27th annual tour of this famous group, and during the winter season nearly every principal city in the United States and Canada will be visited. The company numbers over 100 artists.

Those desiring to attend this concert may obtain tickets from the World Publishing Company in Omaha.

Famous Speakers To Be in Omaha October 22 to 25

NATIONAL PREACHING MISSION LEADERS TO TALK IN 25 AMERICAN CITIES

In the interest of awakening the Christian people of our land more than 30 of the nation's foremost Christian leaders are scheduled to speak in 25 American cities this fall. This movement is known as the National Preaching Mission.

Omaha is one of the cities to be visited. Meetings will be held there from October 22 to 25, inclusive. Four great mass meetings are to be held in the municipal auditorium, with many smaller meetings at various times for young people, pastors, women, etc.

Among the speakers on the Omaha program are: E. Stanley Jones, world famous evangelist and author; George A. Buttrick, New York pastor and Yale lecturer on the Lyman Beecher Foundation; George W. Truett, president of the Baptist World Alliance; Merton S. Rice, lecturer, author and preacher; and Albert W. Beaven, president of the Colgate-Rochester Divinity School.

It rarely happens that one program contains as many celebrated names as does this one; and it is believed that many of our students will avail themselves of this opportunity to hear these world famous speakers. Full details of the Mission will be found in the Omaha newspapers.

Luther Leaguers Elect Officers

Edward Hansen was elected president of the Luther League for the next three-month period, at the election held after the regular meeting on Sept. 30. The other officers are: Aster Neve, vice-president; Leona Johansen, secretary; and Evelyn Hofling, treasurer.

Erhardt Nielsen spoke on laying foundations of Christian faith upon which to build our lives. Religion should be a practical useful thing, and a life with Jesus Christ as the cornerstone can be a beautiful example of a towering temple, as Mr. Nielsen pointed out.

Carl Wildrick read scripture and led in prayer. A vocal solo called "Strength of the Hills" was sung by Evelyn Coulter.

Gilbert Jensen spoke at the Luther League meeting held on October 7 in the college chapel. He brought an inspiring message, discussing the fact that we are spiritual babes who need to exercise our spiritual faculties in order to obtain the best and fullest use of them.

The Scripture lesson was read by Aster Neve. Herluf Christiansen sang a beautiful arrangement of the Lord's Prayer.

Oxford Dictionary Is Ready for Use

Within a short time the Oxford English Dictionary, presented by the Class of 1936, will be ready for student use. It was recently returned from the Danish-Lutheran Publishing House where the words "Donated by the Class of 1936" were printed in gold on the cover of each volume.

Dana College is fortunate to have one of the few such editions in Nebraska. The dictionary is comprised of twelve large volumes that include every word in the English language. It is a very exhaustive work, the result of forty-four years of effort by the authors. For example, the word, or letter, "a" needs over three pages to explain its various meanings.

When shelves now under construction are completed, the dictionary will be placed at the disposal of the student body.

Officers Elected By History Club

The History Club, one of the most active campus organizations, has named the following as officers for this year: Eric Christensen, president; Marie Mikkelsen, vice-president; Lillian Larsen, secretary; Marvin Nygaard, treasurer; and Stanley Larsen, librarian.

Tentative plans have been made to present a program and a play before the holidays.

Appetites Haunt Kitchen Workers

"These students certainly eat a lot!" exclaimed one indignant little waitress.

Of course they do, but did you ever stop to realize how much food is actually consumed in the dining hall in one month? Here are some figures from the month of September which may enlighten you: 1,060 loaves of bread, 360 pounds of butter, 192 gallons of milk, 20 quarters of beef, 350 pounds of pork, 4 sacks of flour, 480 boxes of breakfast food, and 600 pounds of sugar.

College Farm is Scene of Activity

With the newly-acquired dairy herd on the college farm now furnishing the college kitchen its milk supply, Dana college officials are realizing the first step in their plan to lower food costs by producing, rather than purchasing, farm products. Four cows from the college herd of ten, are now furnishing all the milk needed, and it is hoped that cream and butter can also be furnished within a short period of time. The 4-H club heifer which won first prize at the 1936 Nebraska State Fair in the club division, and placed third in the open class, has been purchased by the college. All but two of the cows are purebred and regis-

Home-coming Plans are Fast Nearing Completion

Coming Events

- Oct. 24—Home-coming.
- Oct. 24—Concordia, here.
- Oct. 30—York, there.
- Nov. 2—Next Issue Hermes.

Orchestra Holds Weekly Practices

The squeaks and toots which emanate from the chapel late every Wednesday afternoon may be charged to the orchestra which holds its practice periods at that time.

The following students are now engaged in the activity: Inga Nielsen, violin; James Olsen, violin; Stanley Bach, clarinet; Evelyn Coulter, saxophone; Emil Wahling, baritone; Peter Christensen, violin; Wendell Johnson, violin; Mary Helen Langley, trumpet; Sven Bach, French horn; and Herluf Christensen, bass tuba.

No plans have been made for public appearances or concerts. At present the purpose of the club is merely to gain orchestral ability through practice.

Lutheran Front To be Organized

"Fronts" are the order of the day—a "Lutheran Front", massing the more than 80,000,000 members of this great historical Protestant communion behind a very definite evangelical program for world betterment, will take vigorous form within the next four years.

At least that is what the Executive Committee of the Lutheran World Convention, in session in New York City for a week since September 29, decided on the closing day of its annual conference, held for the first time in America.

Headquarters for this new program of the Lutheran World Convention will be established in Berlin. This decision was reached because of the present head of the organization is the Rt. Rev. August Marahrens, Lutheran Bishop of Hanover and president of the Council of the Lutheran Church in Germany.

Among the specific tasks to be carried out are the gathering of an encyclopedic file of information concerning all Lutheran churches in the world, and the building up of an international Lutheran pulpit and lecture exchange. In regard to general movements of unity, it was decided that the Lutheran Church, until it had become a thoroughly coordinated unit in itself, was in no position to consider unity in its wider phases.

GREATEST REUNION ANTICIPATED AS DATES ARE CHANGED TO FALL

Plans are nearly completed for what is hoped to be the greatest home-coming celebration ever held at Dana. The date is October 24 in consequence of a change of time from spring to fall. Former students and friends will be glad to return to Dana for this one day and refresh old memories and meet old and new friends.

Football will be the main feature of the afternoon. Concordia College comes to Dana College for the annual grid contest between the two schools. This game always attracts attention and we are certain to see clean, hard playing. Concordia College always has a strong team and Dana is out to win. Plans are being made for a special pre-game meeting under the supervision of our pep leaders, Eleanor Poppe and Clarence Jensen. We expect real enthusiasm at the Blair athletic field at 2 o'clock next Saturday afternoon.

In the evening at 6:30 o'clock a banquet will be held in the specially decorated dining hall. Prof. Paul C. Nyholm has been selected as toastmaster for the occasion. The principal speaker of the evening will be Rev. F. C. M. Hansen of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and formerly of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Other speakers include Mr. Skov Nielsen representing the school board, Dr. J. P. Nielsen representing the seminary, Dr. C. X. Hansen speaking for the college, Mr. Arne Voetmann of Omaha, Nebraska, representing the alumni and Ethan Svendsen representing the student body. Musical numbers include a piano solo by Marjorie Boyer, numbers by a men's quartette and several specialties which the committee at present withhold as surprises.

All in all there will be a genuine spirit of festivity at Dana College on the hill west of Blair. Banquet tickets are sold at 60 cents each (50 cents for faculty members and students). Send your reservation and remittance immediately to the Home-coming Committee, Dana College, Blair, Nebraska.

Library Receives Book Collection

The Dana College library has been enriched some two hundred volumes by the donation of the Reverend Stinus Loft, a former faculty member. Reverend Loft has been accumulating his library for many years, but when it grew too large to be moved easily, he decided to give most of the books to the college.

The collection ranges from botany, zoology, chemistry and other sciences to standard fiction works. The books will be available to all students as soon as the necessary shelves are provided.

FALLING PLASTER

Mottoes for students: "I want what I want when I want it,"—Alice Traum; "Live and let live,"—Evelyn Hofling; "Eat, drink and be merry,"—B. DeLaurant. . . which reminds us, Berny thinks that "empty feeling" comes from eating the holes in doughnuts. . . Marjorie Selz has been "prettifying up" for table lately. . . What dorm boy has a 20-foot bandage on a quarter-inch scratch as insurance against a bed dumping. . . and now Ruth M. is fluttered about Boe. . . Is economy the rule in the Bachelors' Club? "Lizzie" thinks so after that 15c show. . . our vote for the campus Beau Brummel rests between Sven Bach and Harold Qualsett; there, now, we have started something! . . . packages with typewritten, white and blue labels—"Come and see my new dress!"—"Oh! Kid, isn't it just too darling for words!"—Too bad the girls have such a small store of descriptive adjectives. For instance, when they spy a mouse, all they can say is: "E-e-e, Help!". . . only five couples in the garden the other evening. Well, the cold weather is beginning to set in. The following is our choice for "poem of the week!":

Stricken

I never thought
That eyes could come
As blue as yours;
They struck me dumb.
No lovely form
Could be benumb
As yours; it dazed
And struck me dumb.
What word would do
For you, in sum?
I pondered and
It struck me: "Dumb!"

—Brock Milton

L.S.A.A. Outlines Plans For Year

Learning to live—was the underlying question with which the delegates grappled at the National Conference of the Lutheran Students' Association of America, which was held at Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, this fall. As a result of this interest and the apparent need for such a study, it was voted that the Association use this theme for its program during the coming year. In its expanded form the topic assumes the full title, "Learning to Live—with God, with ourselves and with others."

It is hoped that the year's concentration will enable Lutheran students in America to face life with a solid faith and an understanding of the world about them from a Christian point of view.

What the country needs is dirtier fingernails and cleaner minds.
—Will Rogers.

Lutheran Radio Week to Be Held

Sponsored by the Synodical Radio Committee at St. Louis, Mo., there will be a National Lutheran Radio Week from October 25 to 31, the purpose being to promote more Lutheran broadcasts throughout the nation. During the week mentioned, which the committee calls 'Reformation Week', and considers the psychological time for the launching of a more extensive radio campaign, the committee suggest the arrangement of Lutheran broadcasts in every locality where a radio station is available.

Several important broadcasts have already been arranged. WLW of Cincinnati will have a midnight program. On station WJZ of New York Lutheran pastors will have the morning devotions during Radio Week. The Lutheran Hour, with Dr. Walter A. Maier at the microphone, will again be on the air. Many other local broadcasts have been arranged. Consult the daily newspapers for programs and exact time of broadcasts.

When a true genius appears in the world, you may know him by this sign, that the dunces are all in confederacy against him.
—Jonathan Swift.

At no period in history have young people had the privilege of speaking for themselves so much as they have now. That privilege demands much straight thinking before action.

What you say is incomplete until it has been measured by what you do. The best people in the world are those whose sayings and actions fit rightly together

Name Your Choice For the Presidency

Believing that a presidential straw vote would be of interest on our campus, we are inserting the following blank on which you may indicate your choice.

The results of this poll will be published in the next issue of the Hermes.

My choice for the presidency of the United States is:

Mark with X

- ROOSEVELT .....
- LANDON .....
- LEMKE .....
- .....

Please place your ballots in the Hermes box or hand them to the editor. Please sign your name to the ballot. The names of voters will not be published.

MOLECULAR MEDITATIONS

By ATOM

Molecules, Professor Thomson tells us, are infinitely small objects. Yet despite their size they are very important. As our Mr. Hartwig would say, "Catch?"

The average freshman entering school in a strange place where he knows "nary a soul" is quite alert and conscientious of those around him with whom he will associate for the remainder of the year. The boys discuss the girls and vice-versa. One of the things which will quickly change the opinion of the other fellow is his manner. "Eddie Ket" is quite important on any campus, especially in the dining hall. Some fellows get more "kick" out of making smart cracks about those who so patiently wait on them. Sufficient to say, there'll come a day.

Of course the general idea is always to serve the girls first. The napkins are for use to wipe (not scrub) the mouth and fingers. Students in anatomy on chemistry should not obtain their specimens at the table, nor carry them away in their napkins for further diagnosis. The "boarding house reach" is quite unnecessary as the Dana dining hall is a part of the college. And as to the use of the knife, it shouldn't be a gang plank to the plate. The way some people use a knife makes me at times incensed. You'd think it was a lamp-post for them to lean against! Or a crowbar! !

That DeLaurent fellow is photographing and selling pictures again this year, and has asked for advice from this department to increase his sale. This department is quite sure, Mr. DeLaurent, that your sale would greatly increase if you would offer pictures of the arbor or the bus for "Memory Books." Nuff said.

The first normal school in the United States was established in 1837 in Lexington, Mass., by colleagues of Horace Munn.

College Farm is Scene of Activity

tered Holsteins. The herd has been purchased on the basis of former high butterfat records by the individual animal or its ancestors.

The chicken flock, which originally numbered 1200, has been reduced by the sale of the cockerels to 550, and will soon be further reduced by culling to about 450 pullets, the maximum number that can be well-cared for by our present equipment. Fourteen hogs are being fed at the farm and will be slaughtered later for use in the college kitchen.

The farm land itself has been divided into fields in such a way that contour farming can be carried on. The work of surveying and fencing these fields was done by the C.C.C. men from the Blair camp without any labor cost to the college. Under this plan the more level land will be used for cultivated crops and the rough land will be seeded to alfalfa and pasture. In addition to the surveying and fencing which they have done, the CCC men have also filled the gullies on the farm and seeded them to rye. This work makes it possible to farm the relatively rough college farm with a minimum loss of soil due to erosion.

The painting which has been done, the work on the fields, fences and gullies, the now nearly completed waterworks system, and the livestock which is being cared for at the college farm in a scientific manner—all are tending to beautify the farm and to turn it into an efficient source of farm products.

STILL WANTED

Three writers to work in the news, organizations and alumni departments, respectively. What art of persuasion must the editor employ in order to get these positions filled. 'Tis said that opportunity knocks but once, but this is a case of "Knock! Knock!" Lets go!

Clubs Hampered By Indifference

The shortage of club and organization news in this issue of the Hermes gives mute evidence to the indifference which seems to prevail on the campus regarding many of the traditional extra-curricular activities.

This may be accounted for by the fact that the bulk of the student body, being freshmen, are unacquainted with these various activities. It is, therefore, strictly the charge of the upper classmen to see that interest is revived.

It would be well, however, not to disturb some of the societies which now lie at the point of death, for with the exception of the embalming process, they have had all of the aspects of the grave for some time. Nevertheless, there are other activities which most certainly merit a revival. Now is the time to act!

Vikings Toppled By Quakers, 7-0

Adynamic and unskillful blocking in the Dana line contributed much towards the upset when the Vikings were defeated, 7-0, by Central College of Central City, Nebraska, last Thursday afternoon. A capable backfield on offense, though inexperienced in defensive tactics, was hampered in displaying its possibilities by the slovenly attack of the hole-makers.

Hope ran high in the opening minutes of combat when Dana, by running gains of several yards each, left the ball on the 10-yard line. A fumble and two more plays put the ball on the six-inch line. The fourth down, of no gain, throttled the Vikings' best scoring possibility of the game. Central immediately kicked a short punt to the 17-yard line.

In the second quarter the Central Quakers worked the ball into scoring territory. A good defensive stand held them for three counts. An unsuccessful try for field goal gave the ball to Dana on the 20-yard line. Shortly before the intermission, Thomas of Central grabbed a long pass in open field and raced for the only touchdown of the game. The try for extra point was successful.

An apparently revived Viking eleven started the second half with long gains only to be turned back by the stubborn Quakers. A punting duel followed, Dana, however, gaining the decision in the number of first downs made. Then Central again made connection with a pass which was run to the 10-yard line. In the four downs they carried the ball to the one-foot line where the Vikings displayed their potential power by erecting the proverbial stone wall in front of the goal stripe. In two successful plays, Dana passed their way out of the danger zone, only to have the third pass intercepted by the Quakers. With two minutes left to play, reserves were sent in, who were able to keep the Friends from scoring until the final whistle.

Plan on spending October 24-25 at Dana.

Student 'Experts' Pick Grid Scores

Howard Mickelsen of Farmington, Minnesota was the best "guesser" in the first Olson "Pick the Winner" contest. His prize was a delicious malted milk. The second award, a Hershey bar, went to Leland Hansen.

Each week Coach Olson posts a list of coming college football games. The students, who are all eligible, are to pick the winner of each game and hand their slips to him. After checking, the results are posted.

An excellent array of prizes was offered for the last contest. First prize was a pheasant dinner, second, a malted milk, third, half a malted milk, and fourth, the other half.

Last season the contest was carried out with gratifying results; much interest and enthusiasm was aroused over this national sport.

Vikings Trampled By W. U. Eagles

The moth-eaten Statue-of-Liberty play resulted in the first six points of a 34-0 victory for the Western Union Eagles in Dana's third defeat of the season at Le Mars, Iowa, on October 9. Despite the fact that the 34-0 score was the largest tallied against them this season, the Vikings evidenced great improvement over previous performances.

In the opening period the Danes matched the Eagle kick-off with a return punt to the forty-yard line in their own territory. On the first play Kissenger snatched the ball from the passer on a fake aerial play and ran the distance for the first of the two touchdowns in the first half. Null kicked the point. The remainder of the first quarter was characterized by punt exchanges, penalties for off sides, and short gains by both teams.

Midway in the second quarter Petersen made a lengthy gain for the Viking's first chain-mover of the game. On the next down a fumble gave the ball to the Unionites who marched to the goal with a series of line plays. Null, full back, carried the ball over as well as kicked the point. Dana received, but the half ended just as Dyhberg, left half, completed a pass from right half Jensen.

An intercepted Dana pass, which was carried to their ten-yard line, led to the first scoring in the second half. An end run backed the Danians to their own one-yard line. Hope revived when the next Eagle play was smeared for a three-yard loss. But Null voided all optimism with a four-yard run over the goal. When Western Union kicked to the two-yard line, a somewhat abbreviated return boot to Dana's eleven-yard line put the Eagles again in threatening position. The Danes dug in and after holdig the opponents for four downs, they kicked to their own twenty-yard marker. Null terminated another group of running gains with the fourth score.

Jones scored the final touchdown for the Unionites after they had taken advantage of an intercepted pass on their opponent's ground.

Four quarters of this type of play exhibited by the Dana boys in the fourth period would have put smaller numbers in the total score. Dyhberg started the good work by hooking a lengthy pass and plowing for a small extra gain. Jensen with an eight-yard run; Petersen, an eighteen space sprint; and Jensen, coming way again for eight yards, left the ball on the ten-yard stripe. However, a fumble recovered by Western Union spoiled their last chance of scoring. Of the Vikings' four first downs, three were made in this part of the game.

GRIDIRON GLEANINGS

Resign yourself to famous names in sports. A few weeks ago it was James Fenimore Cooper at Marquette. Now Benjamin Franklin, at the University of Detroit, is working at tackle.

During the last seven years of Big Ten competition, Purdue has won 28 games, lost eight, and tied two for a percentage of .777.

When football men at the University of Mississippi go around "boo-ing," it's not to razz. They voted Bing Crosby as their favorite radio star not long ago.
