

Flight Instruction Begins at Airfield Ten Students Enroll for Entire Course; Four Others Take Ground Course

During the past two weeks, flying has become a reality to those enrolled in the aviation course at Dana. Actual instruction in flying began on Wednesday, September 25, at the hangar four miles northeast of the college. The students have been "up in the air" every day since, under the excellent tutoring of Mr. Bert Justice, flight instructor.

This course in aeronautics at Dana includes more than merely learning to fly a plane. Three times a week the class gathers in the mathematics room under the instruction of Prof. Walter Lyche, who has consented to take charge of the class. This "ground school" course gives the students the fundamentals of flying, the main topics being, Theory of Flight and Aircraft, Civil Air Regulations, Navigation, and Meteorology. Other subjects, such as History of Flight, Parachutes, and Instruments are also touched upon during the course. The class meets on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings from 7 o'clock until 9 o'clock. Judging from the time put in one may rightly assume that the course is very comprehensive and requires time and effort on the part of each student.

There are fourteen students enrolled in the course. Of these fourteen, ten are from Dana. Those enrolled in the course are as follows, the first ten taking both flying instruction and ground school, while the others are taking the ground course and acting as alternates for those who are flying: Joe Andersen, Eldon Farrrens, Harold Hughes, Kenneth Tabbersen, Leonard Nielsen, Alfred TanCreti, Nelson Boe, Glen Morrow, Lee Hancock, Rodney Hansen, Doris Lang, Lois Lynge, Mrs. Justice and Otis Gregersen.

Choral Groups Elect Officers for Year

In a recent business meeting of the choir, the following officers were elected for the coming year: Paul Neve, president; Helen Rebecca Anderson, secretary; Alvin Rueter, treasurer; and Rhoda Hansen, librarian.

Following is a list of the present choir members: Helen Anderson, Leonard Andersen, Bernice Bensen, Robert Berthelsen, Lois Carlsen, Robert Christensen, Cliff Claar, Marjorie Coyle, Muriel Ditlevson, Fridan Fischer, Allan Hansen, Maynard Hansen, Rhoda Hansen, Rodney Hansen, Gwendolyn Hopkins, Ramelia Hallock, Chester Jensen, Martha Jensen, Irene Jensen, Johanne Jensen, Cloyd Kitt, Ramona Lackey, Ezra Larsen, Jean Larsen, Lois Lynge, Florence Mortensen, Nellie Mortensen, Arlene Nelson, Alton Neve, Paul Neve, Elaine Neve, Arnold Nielsen, Beulah Nielsen, Lela Nielsen, Marie Nielsen, Norman Nielsen, Helen Ninegar, Lyle Paulsen, Virginia Pedersen, Doris Petersen, Lucy Anne Poucher, Rose Rasmussen, Alvin Rueter, Roma Sandvold, James Sommers, Edward Sorensen, Harold

Andersen Elected League President

Mr. Leonard Andersen was elected president of the Dana Luther League at a meeting of that group on Wednesday evening, October 2. Other officers elected were: Donald Hansen, vice-president; Lela Nielsen, secretary; and Paul Petersen, treasurer. Helen Rebecca Andersen was elected campus correspondent for the LSAA.

Two speakers brought to the assembly a picture of the LSAA and its aim. Emery Petersen and Maynard Hansen who attended the Ashram this summer spoke on two phases of this organization. Mr. Petersen chose to speak mainly on its history and why interest should be shown in it. Mr. Hansen spoke on the spiritual phase of the Ashram, bringing forth the experiences which appealed to him most. Both speakers gave the Luther Leaguers the assurance that this movement was something in which they could take pride and give hearty support. The devotions of the evening were led by Donald Hansen.

Library Receives Valuable Gifts

Through the generosity of Miss Eloise Morris, of Blair, who attended Dana from 1934 to 1937, and the Blair Public Library, a number of valuable books and sets have been added to the shelves of the college library this fall.

The gift from Miss Morris included the following books: Bliss Perry, Heart of Emerson's Journal; Hanna Larsen, Knut Hamsum; Olaf Norlie, History of the Norwegian People in America; Andre Siegfried, America Comes of Age; and Andre Maurois, Disraeli.

In addition to a large number of individual volumes, the Blair Public Library presented a six volume set of the Works of Charles Dickens, thirty volumes of Nations of the World, complete set of Washington Irving's works, and a fourteen volume set of The Real America in Romance.

Students Pay Their Respects to King Christian X

Students gathered in the chapel Thursday, September 26, to pay tribute to King Christian X of Denmark and Iceland. The day marked his seventieth birthday. Rev. Paul Nyholm spoke briefly on the life of the beloved monarch. Adding to the festive atmosphere were a Danish and an American flag placed in front of the chapel.

Miss Irene Jensen, accompanied by the Violin Ensemble, sang Lille Prinsesse, a song written

Twelve States and Canada Represented

Twelve states and two Canadian provinces are represented at Dana this year. Last year there were eleven states and one province, the two new ones being Vermont and Alberta with one student each. Others with students here are California, Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Brunswick, South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

The five top-ranking states in attendance hold the same places they did last year. Nebraska again heads the list with 59 students, the same number as last year. Iowa is in second place with 28 students, four more than

Robert Berthelsen D.C.D.C. President

This year's second meeting of the Dana College Dramatics Club, organized by students last February, was held on Tuesday evening, September 24. At that time Bob Berthelsen of Chicago, Illinois, was named president; Ed Feer, Blair, Nebraska, vice-president; and Martha Jensen, freshman of Luck, Wisconsin, secretary-treasurer. Nelson F. Preus, English instructor, was elected faculty advisor, and Edward Hansen, Harlan, Iowa, was asked to return as director.

Wartburg Host to Faculty Conference

Dana faculty members were prominent at the Sixth Annual Conference of Lutheran College Faculties, entitled, "The Contribution of Christian Education to Human Freedom," held at Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa, September 27-29.

Dr. S. M. Thomsen presented a paper entitled, "What Should be Included in the First Year of College Chemistry?," and Mr. P. V. Hansen discussed "Cost Accounting" in a paper given in the Financial Officers' section. Mr. Walter Lyche, chairman of the mathematics group, although he was not able to be present,

Dana L.S.A. Meets Sunday at Midland

Thirty members of the Dana College Luther League, local LSA organization, have accepted the invitation from the Midland Lutheran Students Association, to gather on their campus Sunday afternoon, October 6. Purpose of the gathering is to bring the two groups into closer fellowship.

Means of transportation to the Midland campus will be the Dana bus and two cars, leaving here at 1:30 o'clock. Plans for the event include the showing of motion pictures taken at the fifth L.S.A. Ashram held at Estes Park, Colorado, August 26 to September 1. Later in the day refreshments will be served and opportunity given to become acquainted with the members of the Midland group.

Rev. C. Clifford Madsen of Kansas City Will Speak at Banquet Saturday Evening

Plans for this year's Homecoming Celebration are nearing completion and the committee announces that from all indications it looks as if this year's meeting will be the biggest and best yet.

The fireworks will get under way when the Vikings meet Central College on Friday evening, October 25, at the Blair High School field. This should be a close game, Dana on top, of course, as Central is an old rival and won last year's game, 2-0. On Saturday afternoon the social phase of the program will start with the "Family Circle" program in the college auditorium. This promises to be a very interesting and entertaining program, but the details cannot be divulged as yet. On Saturday evening at 6:30 the Homecoming Banquet will climax all of the activities. Rev. C. Clifford Madsen of Kansas City, Kansas, will be the guest speaker. He is president of the Alumni Association and will have an inspiring message for all. The Male Chorus, which made its debut at last year's banquet, will again favor students and guests with some of their typical harmony.

To aid in putting across Homecoming this year, committee members are enlisting the services of each student to aid them in every way possible and are also enlisting the aid of all alumni and friends of Dana College and Trinity Seminary by asking them to set aside the dates October 25 to 27.

Leonard Andersen is in charge of ticket sales and reservations, and should be contacted as early as possible.

STATION W9NDR GOES ON AIR FROM DANA

Dr. S. M. Thomsen has received an amateur radio operator and station license from the Federal Communications Commission at Washington, D.C. He completed the application examinations last spring, but has just received permission to transmit signals in any of the amateur bands using the call letters W9NDR. He has been building a transmitter this summer, and plans to begin talking with other amateurs soon.

SHALL WE PRESERVE DANISH CULTURE?

"Denmark, the oldest kingdom in the world, is also one of the wisest and happiest. In a Europe seething with hatred and riven by distress she blooms in contentment and cheerful industry . . . She can serve as a candle, shining like a good deed in a world far naughtier than it should be." So writes Agnes Rothery in Denmark, Kingdom of Reason.

The brilliance of this candle has faded to a great degree and must depend upon other sources if it is to continue to shine in a war-darkened world. One of the most logical of these sources is our own Dana College. Danish culture has won for itself the admiration of the world, but it would seem that we, who are for the most part of Danish background, have little regard for our heritage. America is what she is today because of the contributions made by her adopted sons. As young Americans we should be happy to do our part in perpetuating the culture of our forbears in this nation.

More should be done on our campus to interest students in the great masterpieces of Danish literature. The Nordic Reading Circle and the Dannebrog Literary Society are no longer in existence. Very little emphasis is placed on Danish art, unless the presence of Thorvaldsen's plaques, Morning and Evening, in our chapel is considered sufficiently emphatic.

Unless Dana steps forward and accepts the challenge to preserve on these shores Danish ideals and attainments, both in the arts as well as in the field of everyday existence, she will lose one of her major reasons for existence. There are other Lutheran colleges that offer the same courses as Dana and place just as much emphasis on the Christian life. Dana's distinction lies in her Danish background.

Plans are being made for the organization of a chapter of the Scandinavian American Foundation on this campus if student interest warrants the move. This group would take the place of the inactive Nordic Reading Circle and Dannebrog Literary Society and would be an ideal means of reviving interest in and preserving Danish culture at our college. Not only that, but the members of such an organization would benefit in a personal way, for it is true that "you must know your roots and your soil if you would understand your own self."

Candid Campus Chatter

A chunky miss, who wishes to be known this year as Sue Ptoo Nutts, braced herself on her haunches in mule-like fashion and stubbornly said "No!" when asked to again take her pen in hand and release a little of that mouth-to-mouth gossip of the girls in the "hen-house." This year, she told us, she would devote her entire attention to her books, her girls' gym classes, her doxology playing at mealtime, her cart job with the kitchen crew, her hand flapping, her kittenish giggle and her under table kicking. The HERMES deeply regrets this great loss of its feminine Walter Winchell, for no longer will the boys read of the deep secrets and "going-ons" in the Girls' Dorm.

With this then we wish Miss Nutts goodbye, good luck, and a hearty thanks for the choice bits of gossip she has served these last two years. We'll miss it, you can be sure.

Since Miss Nutts said no, someone had to substitute until a new feminine Winchell could be hired, so an attempt will now be made at some random chattering. Before continuing it might be well to remind you of our inexperience in this field so excuse all abnormalities if they can be called such. We fully realize the difficulty of attaining that particularly fine quality of literary writing that was so characteristic of Miss Nutts' efforts in journalism, but we'll try to do our humble best.

. . . Casual observation reveals the unfortunate fact that certain freshman girls, now pursuing certain ideals in the higher realms of education, believe their pursuit to be more concentrated by studying on, by, and around the unshaded log in the quadrangle in the intense light of high noon. . . An after-thought strongly suggests their pursuits to be in quite a different direction, than pursuit of knowledge. . . Freshmen in general, needed no primary instruction in mechanics of the most devious of courses—campus lab.

By the way, we already note evidences of "split ups" between freshman couples. . . In this connection, congratulations and the best of luck are in order for two of our staid old bachelors of last year who've at last been rewarded for their long diligent search. Our critical eye approves the choicest of "Robin" Repsholdt and Ernie Hansen—hi, Ruth and Dotie. . . From an old source we learned that Ramelia's "Ah-my-oh" is not a little cadet, but guess what, a second lieutenant! Some big shot, eh, Ramelia? . . . We wondered what they ate at the exclusive party last Sunday night because the Christensen Romeos were for some days frequent hosts to "Nursie". . . Perhaps if they had had connections with the Carlsen apple supply such as Toody (Egad! Thorvald) and Harold Sorensen have, they would've survived their attack. . . Lee Daggett began his practice teaching course by teaching Thorslev's vivacious red-head how to kick shins. . . Do you know that aviatrix Doris Lang, when cleaning the reception room, sits in a chair while dusting surrounding articles? For social connections and otherwise, she claims it is the most practical way of dusting. . . Hear ye, girls! Dana's old bachelor, now Casanova deluxe, has been cast-

WORDS OF LIFE

The other evening I was feeling rather discouraged and was making a tour of the dorm to find some cheering friend. On my journey I found these words, "God Is Faithful." It struck me with the same force as a slap on the cheek. Here I was wanting to complain. I, with my trivial troubles. I, a small, almost insignificant, being. What about God with all of his responsibilities, and yet He has time to remember me and be faithful to me. He has time to help me. Did not Jesus say, "Come unto me, ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest?" God has the means to help me and to satisfy my needs. All I have to do is to have faith in Him.

But men as a whole seem to be a faithless lot. We have no time to wait for God to work. We use our material means to try to satisfy our wants. We become independent of God. We convince ourselves that our minds and bodies are all we need to be self-sufficient. But God is faithful and when we reach that point He throws a monkey-wrench into the works. He lets us down occasionally so that we do not forget Him completely. "Oh, ye of little faith," why can you not remember God and depend upon Him?

Rejoice for God is faithful. He will step in and comfort you when you ask Him. God does not forget even if we do. He will protect you from the troubles of the world; though He may let you have a taste of them He acts as a buffer, and when you have had enough it is God who gives you the peace you desire and need. Hurry back to God and enjoy His love. God is faithful, O ye people of little faith. Draw nigh unto Him and receive His many blessings.

ing about for some days for possible feminine connections. See Tabby for interviews. Who can tell, you might be the lucky one! . . . We notice that Al Hansen's newly acquired 1920 Model-T, "The Spirit of Elk Horn," has been suffering from "flat-tire-itis" of late. . . And now it is our hope that this scattered chatter has satisfied your gossip appetite for this time. Improvement might be possible if you write your choice bit down, put it in an envelope and give to Bansen, who'll with all confidence relay it to this outlet. This outlet will consider its merit and will promise, if accepted, an easy handling of it by the censor, if there be such a person this year. Hoping to be hale and hearty for the next edition we remain—

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT THE DANA NIGHT

The Lutheran Brotherhood of the First Lutheran Church witnessed a record attendance at the Dana program which they sponsored and held at the church parlors Thursday evening, September 26.

Mr. N. T. Lund acted as chairman of the program in the place of Philip Magnussen, manager of the Danish Lutheran Publishing House and president of the Brotherhood, who was away on business.

Mr. Lund, in his genial way, kept the program running smoothly, introducing Dr. J. P. Nielsen as the main speaker. The church choir sang two anthems and the Dana String Ensemble, composed of Arthur Tingley, Doris Lang, Irene Jensen and Arnold Nilesen, played three numbers, two Bach chorals and "Vienna, City of My Dreams." After the program light refreshments were served.

especially for the wedding of Crown Prince Frederik and Crown Princess Ingrid. Those who had the privilege of being on the Dana Campus at the time of their Highnesses' visit, will recall the beautiful melody. The Violin Ensemble also played Danmark's Haab, a beautiful Danish melody. Then the student body all joined in singing the Danish National Anthem, "Der er et Yndigt Land." Many were impressed to hear it sung with so much spirit by American young people.

Chapel Gleanings

Self-criticism is not enough; it is necessary that self be crucified—crucified on the cross of godly sorrow which must lead to the denial of ourselves.

There are various types of selves. There is one that is grossly debauched and profane, one that is hidden under a cultured veneer, one that has a plating of sanctimoniousness, and there is a dead self, the sort acceptable to God. That self has died a hard death, but it is a death that brings joy—"Joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth."

A foreign missionary was talking to his heathen friends, and he noticed that one of his listeners was particularly interested. But strangely, this person was not present at the next meeting. When asked at another time why he had not attended the previous meeting, the heathen replied that, since he had not been able to do all that had been told him the first time, he had been not yet prepared for any more so soon.

PRESIDENT ADDRESSES THE LUTHER LEAGUE

President Siersbeck spoke at the first Luther League meeting of the year, held Wednesday evening, September 25, on the topic, "If Jesus Had Not Come." There was a very fine turnout among the students for the initial gathering.

"People will not believe in God," President Siersbeck stated, "because we say the Bible tells us so. Rather consider the question," he went on, "If Jesus had not come, then what? If Christ be not risen, our preaching is in vain."

formerly. Wisconsin with 18 students, shows an increase of six. Minnesota has 12 in comparison with last year's nine. Maine, with 10 representatives, has almost doubled its former number of 6.

South Dakota tied with Maine for fifth place in 1939, but its number has remained static. Montana's number jumped from two to five, California's from two to four, and Illinois' from two to three. Colorado and New Brunswick, with two students each, doubled last year's representation, while Michigan again has but one student here.

Hebron Defeats Vikings, 13-6

A hard-fighting band of Dana Vikings encountered a disastrous third quarter in their game with Hebron Thursday, October 3, and emerged on the short end of a 13 to 6 score.

Coach Olson's lads displayed plenty of power both offensively and defensively until midway in the third quarter, when the Knights passing offense started to "click."

With the ball resting in mid-field, Hebron heaved a pass that was partially intercepted and knocked down by two Dana men, only to have the ball glance from their arms, directly into the hands of a Hebron receiver who had clear sailing to the goal line. He was overtaken and brought down in a beautiful tackle by Eldon Farrens, but the offensive march of the Knights seemed to be unbreakable, when a few plays later, aided by a Dana penalty, they swept around the left end of the Viking line for the initial touchdown.

Finding that the Red and White team was, for the moment, unable to fathom their passing offense, the home team took advantage of the fact, and tossed a short pass into the end zone for the point after touchdown.

Later in the third quarter, the Knights again marched toward the Dana goal tossing passes when their running attack failed to function, and, early in the last period, scored again. The try for point was unsuccessful, and the Vikings chose to receive on the following kickoff.

After making a nice return of the kick, Coach Olson's men really turned on the pressure, and displayed a running attack characteristic of the team's real ability. On straight power plays, the Vikings advanced the ball to the Hebron four yard line where Paul Petersen plunged across for a touchdown. Bob Jensen's try for point was wide, and the remainder of the game was a seesaw battle in mid-field which found Hebron trying to "freeze" the ball.

As a whole the game was both interesting and exciting to watch. Observers were heard to comment much about the performance of the Dana line and to remark about the capable running attack of the Viking's back-field.

Both teams emerged from the game without a player being seriously injured, but the warm afternoon rays of "Old Sol" seemed to tire both squads considerably.

HINTS TO THE GIRLS ON FOOTBALL GAMES

By Ray Hallock

Listen, my children, and you shall hear

Of this and that on football gear.

A girl going to a football game must have that rugged-and-ready-for-anything look, but yet she must not appear sloppy. She must be dressed warmly, but not look "bundled up." The best clothes for a football game are a dark wool skirt, a flannel shirt, (bright red at Dana) and probably the jacket to her ski suit, Suede "beanies" are back this year with simply huge feathers which poke from any desired angle. Warning—keep them out of your date's eye! Oh yes, and don't forget your mittens.

Then there is that problem of keeping beautiful in spite of wind, rain, and dust. Your scribbler has failed to find any solution for this problem except to keep her mouth shut when all her carefully placed curls droop dejectedly. Act as if that's what is expected of them and nine times out of ten the boy-friend won't notice. Read "Ten Easy Lessons on the Fundamentals of Football"; watch the captain or your favorite player when he smashes through for that touchdown. Be able to rave about it intelligently, or, if you can't remember, get that big, strong man to explain it. He probably will anyhow.

If you are one of those girls who must beat in someone's ears at a game, I suggest you try out for cheer leader. I know your school needs you and you wouldn't miss a game for anything. If your team's losing, keep yelling as if there had just been a 90 yard dash. Can't never tell what will happen with that blond half-back (Plugge) in there.

If your ideal plays the game, take along a couple of your friends who secretly—but won't admit it feel the same way about him as you do. The only difference is that you got to school the day before they did. Well, they'll sigh over his achievements with you, gripe when he should have made that tackle but missed, and practically weep when he gets his nose rubbed into the dirt. If your steady warms the bench most of the game, remember that he is eating his heart out for a chance to play. The rules only allow eleven men on the field, so don't think he's just a bench-warmer. Remember he's been down on that dust field every night, toughening up the regulars for the game.

Listen, you gals who have a man to show your activity ticket

Ten Lettermen Form Viking Team Nucleus

Led by Captain Paul Petersen of Portland, Maine, ten lettermen of last year's football squad face a new season. Although the Vikings lost their first game to Hebron College, they are due to come through with a number of victories this season. A quick survey of the 1940 squad shows that there are eight major letter winners and two minor lettermen of last year. They are as follows:

MAJOR LETTERMEN:

Paul Petersen—fullback and captain. Carries the ball on line plunges. Hard blocker and sure tackler.

Leonard Andersen—left end and four year man. Plays a crashing end game. Consistent blocker and tackler.

Ethan Svendsen—right tackle and three year veteran. Rugged on offense; aggressive on defense.

Sheridan Svendsen—right guard and a one year veteran. Leads interference around end and off-tackle.

Milton Petersen—center on offense and guard on defense. When he backs up the line, his rangy form is in on all the tackles.

Vernon Robeson—burly left guard and full-back on defense. In on many of the tackles. Hard blocker.

H. Nielsen—veteran half-back. Carries the ball and is the team's best passer. Throws both long and short ones.

Eldon Farrens—solid sprinter from Decatur. Good ball carrier and fine pass receiver. Makes a good many tackles at defensive half-back.

MINOR LETTERMEN:

Nelson Boe—an end last year, he was shifted into the backfield this year. Serves as relief man for Plugge or Farrens.

Ted Repsholdt—reserve end on last year's team. This year is the replacement for either Andersen or TanCreti.

along with his: Keep your enthusiasm for the game, and the date. Save all of your secret yens for the right end for "hen parties" in the dorm. Every man (according to him) is pretty wonderful and he likes to have the little gal, who was lucky enough to be dated by him, think so too.

MEET THE BROTHERS

On the 1940 edition of the Viking football squad the team has three pairs of brothers. There are the Petersens, Paul and Milton; the Andersens, Leonard and Joe; and the Svendsens, Ethan and Sheridan. An interesting fact concerning their football careers is that each pair of brothers has never played on the same team before coming to Dana.

Paul Petersen is known to all the followers of Dana athletics. Last year he was elected honor athlete of 1939-40 and football captain for the 1940 season. This is "Pete's" fourth year as a member of the team. He plays full-back on offense and line-backer on defense. Besides his duties as captain he calls the plays in the huddle, gives the defensive signals, and keeps the team on its toes by his aggressive play.

"Bud," the little brother, is a sophomore at Dana this year. Last year was his first as a member of any organized squad. He is the center on offense, playing smashing defensive football. Watch "Bud" in the homecoming game for he says his little inspiration from Northfield is coming.

H. Leonard Andersen, better known as "Hank" or still better as "Ned Brant," is a senior at Dana this year. This is his fifth year of organized football, having played one year in Audubon, Iowa, before entering Dana. He is easily noticed on the field for he plays a smashing type of end game. A broken nose and a broken rib are his favorite remembrances of Dana football. His greatest disappointment was being tackled on the three-yard-line after running with a pass for 64 yards.

Joe Andersen, tackle and aviator, played one year in high school, and this is his first year of college ball. He specializes in flying tackles because he is out for flying. He claims his greatest thrill was the time he "slugged a guy" in a high school game.

The Svendsens will long be remembered for their exploits in Dana football history. Not only Ethan and Sheridan of this year's team, but also "Red" of a few years ago. Last year Ethan was marked for about a week with a beautiful "shiner" which characterized his aggressive play. He is the only veteran tackle on the squad—this being his third year at that position. One year he didn't play because of a minor heart condition, which he says, "wasn't Cupid's fault." His biggest thrill was playing in last week's game.

Sheridan, Ethan's running mate at guard, is a solid fellow, who leads the interference around the ends. This is his second year of football at Dana. His memory leads him back to his first game in high school competition when he was hit on the nose and it started to bleed. Says he felt like a real player with blood over his jersey.

When you see the next Dana game, watch for these brother combinations. See how Bud passes the ball back to Pete, how Ethan and Sheridan open up a hole for the backs, how Joe and Leonard cooperate on defense. These little details will make the game more interesting for you.

Squad Travels to Concordia College

With two weeks of concentrated drill under their belts after the Hebron game the Dana College Vikings travel next Friday to Seward, Nebraska, to avenge last year's overwhelming defeat at the hands of Concordia College. According to Coach Olson this is the toughest game on the Dana schedule.

The team has been working the past two weeks to perfect its timing, develop its passing attack, and to smoothen out the powerful running attack in the single and double wing-back systems. Variations of the spinners off the double wing-back have been added to the list of plays.

For the benefit of the readers the single wing-back or the Notre Dame system places an emphasis on individual blocking and power plays off-tackle and around end. The double wing-back or the Warner system adds deception to the running attack with spinners and reverses. The combination of these two systems give Dana a powerful running game, as was shown in the Hebron game. Passes can be thrown from either of the two formations.

The probable lineup for Dana is TanCreti and Andersen at ends, Jensen and Ethan Svendsen at tackles, Robeson and Sheridan Svendsen at guards, M. Petersen at center, Farrens at quarterback, H. Nielsen and Plugge at half-backs, and Paul Petersen at full-back.

DANA GIRLS DEVELOP BADMINTON TALENT

Girl's athletics have begun under the supervision of Coach Olson. Preparations are being made for a doubles badminton tournament but at present the rules and "technique" are being mastered by the girls. There are approximately fifty girls who meet in classes held every Tuesday and Thursday. If the enthusiasm shown for badminton continues, a singles tournament may also be held. During the remainder of the football season, the girls will be under the direction of Helen Rebecca Anderson.

Luther Forfeits Two Games to Vikings

The football game against Luther College, scheduled for last night, was cancelled by the Luther College authorities last Monday morning. Coach Olson called Luther to make the final arrangements for the game and was informed that Luther did not have a team and had not held a practice since September 16.

Coach Olson has been making efforts to line up another opponent to fill the vacant date. Perhaps an arrangement can be made for a return game with Hebron on November 9, when Dana was to play Luther at Wahoo.

"POP" FILMS GAME

Dana's culinary expert, "Pop" Merrill, took motion pictures of the Dana-Hebron fracas on last Thursday. This was the first experiment of its type in Dana athletic history. The films arrived Wednesday and the pictures were shown to the team.

Coach Olsen hopes to be able to iron out the flaws in pass defense and defensive play by carefully scrutinizing these pictures. If Dana should meet Hebron again this season the pictures would have a double value in the fact that the Hebron offensive could be deciphered.

Several Professors at Summer Sessions

Among the faculty members who attended summer schools during their vacations were Mrs. Winifred Selby, who studied six weeks at Omaha University; Miss Jean Larsen, who attended Gregg College, Chicago; Professor Paul Nyholm and President Siersbeck, who attended the University of Chicago.

Miss Larsen declares it was an inspiration and privilege to study under some of the best commercial educators in the United States. They included Louis Leslie, author of The Functional Method of Teaching Shorthand; Harold Smith, authority on typing technique; Clyde Blanchard, teacher at Hunter College, New York; W. W. Levin, head of the shorthand department at Gregg College; and Dr. John R. Gregg himself.

NEW 1920 CAR SEEN ON COLLEGE HILL

A new member of the automotive family—1920 vintage—has recently arrived on the campus. The owner, Allan Hansen, announced to the special press correspondent that he owns the "jaglopy" jointly with L. Keay and C. Hiede. Claims made by said owners are that, due to high torque "Fireball 4," the car will do thirty-five miles an hour and will stop within 250 feet, with adequate warning. Another characteristic feature of the car is that it must always be parked on the top of the hill! Why?—The owners state that it is not yet equipped with a self-starter. It is certain that this limousine will be one of the outstanding features of the homecoming parade.

FACULTY CONFERENCE

meeting of the History and Social Science group, Dr. H. F. Swansen was elected chairman of that division for the coming year.

FORMER INSTRUCTORS HAVE NEW POSITIONS

Professors George Hartwig and Elwood Kraft, former instructors at Dana, are now teaching at Fremont, Nebraska, and Freedom, New York, respectively. Professor Hartwig has a position with Western Theological Seminary, and Professor Kraft is giving piano lessons and concerts at the State Normal School in Freedom.

CHOIR OFFICERS

Sorensen, Ewald Svoboda, Sheridan Svendsen, Reynold Tange, Paul Thorslev, and Evelyn Wintther.

The Male Chorus also elected officers for their group. Ethan Svendsen was chosen president; Harold Sorensen, vice-president; Paul Neve, secretary-treasurer; and Sheridan Svendsen, librarian.

A list of the Chorus members includes: Homer Nielsen, Stanton Petersen, Harold Sorensen, Sheridan Svendsen, Paul Thorslev, Joe Andersen, Allan Hansen, Donald Hansen, Frank Hengeveld, Lloyd Nelson, Alton Neve, Paul Neve, Arnold Nielsen, Raymond Nissen, Edward Sorensen, Reynold Tange, Gilbert Jensen, Maynard Hansen, Thorvald Hansen, Rodney Hansen, Chester Jensen, Cloyd Kitt, Leonard Andersen, Robert Berthelsen, Cliff Claar, Bob Hogzett, Robert Christensen, Norman Nielsen, Ethan Svendsen and Einer Olsen.

Those attending from Dana were President Siersbeck, Professor H. L. Shadle, Dr. H. F. Swansen, Mr. P. V. Hansen, and Dr. S. M. Thomsen.

The 1940 conference was a success, with a total registration of 166. Representatives came from as far west as Pacific Lutheran College, Parkland, Washington, and from as far east as Capitol University, Columbus, Ohio, and Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio.

THE SEMINARY

With an increase of five members in Trinity Seminary, the enrollment has now reached a peak unrivaled for a number of years. The new class represents congregations from Maine, Canada, Montana, California, and Nebraska. Only one year in the past thirteen (the time of Dr. Nielsen's professorship at Trinity), has the present enrollment been bettered. At that time the group numbered eighteen in comparison with this year's sixteen.

To adequately meet the needs of the present students it has been necessary to schedule classes six days each week. A Saturday devotional service conducted by the professors and the seniors has also been added to the program.

An Adumbration

It may "get in your hair" if you meander too unobservingly about the seminary library. And if you are included in the category of detested vermin you may expect little sympathy or assistance in gaining your freedom from those who inhabit that sanctum sanctorum. The seminarians have set themselves to snare, waylay, entangle, and kill all that fall under the above mentioned category. A Maginot line has been erected by librarian Wildrick to carry out the program. The ominous scene of carcasses strewn along this line mutely declaim a solemn warning to the impetuous. Vermin, beware!
