Two Danish hymns are also to be included in the concert performances. They are "O Land of Our King" and the well-known "Den Store Hvide Flok."

The members of the Calgary church in which the choir is to sing are arranging a trip for the choir to Lake Louise, one of Canada's most beautiful and famous lakes. A side-trip to Banff National park in the Canadian Rockies is also being planned tentatively.

A Canadian choir tour was also scheduled for five years ago, but the choir got snowed in in North Dakota for two days and had to cancel all concerts north of the border.

Five Dana Students Receive Recognition

Five Dana students have been named for the "Who's Who Among Students In Our American Universities and Colleges for 1952-53." The nominations and elections were made by the faculty. Selections are made on the basis of the student's excellence and sincerity in scholarship; his citizenship and service to the school; his leadership and participation in extracurricular activities and academic activities; and his promise of a future usefulness to business and society.

The following students have been named for this recognition: Marilyn Steffensen, Paul Jersild, Bob Hemmingson, Mark Thomsen and James Nielsen.

From the Dean --

Appreciation to the coaches and to the football players who, in spite of fatigue from bouts with the "flu" and other causes, gave us their best in the last game of the season.

Bouquets to the Viking Players and their director! The performance was excellent; it really held our attention from beginning to end.

Special appreciation to the fellows who, during the normal Halloween prank of placing cement chunks before the doors, were thoughtful and concerned enough to use a board to prevent marring the doors.

Hats off to the fellows who arranged for absentee balloting on the campus for their genuine and active citizenship which includes putting basic principles above party affiliations.

Nebraska U. Holds Social Work Day

Social work day was held at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, on Friday, Oct. 31. The event, open to all Nebraska college students, was sponsored by the Nebraska Committee on Training and Education for Social Work, and the School for Social Work at the University.

At 9:30 the groups from the various schools met and got acquainted, and later groups were formed to visit various social agencies in Lincoln. The agencies visited were the Community Chest and Council of Lincoln, Family Service association of Lincoln, Lancaster County Department of Public Welfare, Nebraska State Home for Children, and the Veteran's Administration hospital.

In the afternoon the groups met in the Green room of the YMCA for discussion, lecture and a movie. Discussion leaders included Mr. Sanley Good, Dr. Albert Schrekinger and Dr. Frank Glick. The movie, "Friend at the Door," depicted the life of several social workers in British Columbia.

Those attending from Dana were Ruth Mengers, Margaret Christiansen and Richard Videbeck. Midland, Concordia, Union, Nebraska, Wesleyan and Omaha U. were also represented.

'The Deans' Comic Frolic' To Be Held Friday Night

On Friday, Nov. 7, the Dana college campus will look more like a page from the comic strip than an institution of higher learning. That is the night the deans of the two dormitories are sponsoring an all-school party. "The Deans' Comic Frolic" is the name given to the party this year because all students are asked to come dressed as their favorite comic characters. So if you see Superman or Daisy Mae running around, don't become alarmed. It has also been announced that prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, so you'd better get busy!!

As in the past, the purpose of the party is to have a good old fashion family get-together. The program will consist of group singing, various types of games and then topping off the evening with a few refreshments! The frolic will be held in the dining hall beginning at 8 p. m. and will continue until about 10 p. m.

For an evening of fun and excitement, be sure to come to the Comic Frolic tomorrow night—who knows, you might even win a prize!!!

Students to Help Choose Club Films

The Literary-Fine Arts club will sponsor all-school movies throughout the remainder of the school year. A list of twenty prospective films was given to the students who were asked to choose the eight they would like most to see. The first movie will be shown in November, although a definite date has not yet been set. The main objective of the club is to bring to Dana a selection of the better movies.

Amplifying System To Be Installed

Plans are now being completed for the installation of a recorded chimes and amplifying system which would provide music and chimes across the campus.

This project is the result of a memorial fund established by the student body in memory of Hal Cole, Peggy Kinion, Bonnie Dealy and Jean States, Dana students who died last year.

The equipment will be installed in Old Main with speakers located in the tower. It is expected that the music will be audible in Blair as well as on the campus.

Chimes will be played each morning from 9:40 to 9:50 just before chapel. During the Christmas season appropriate music will be played at other times during the day. Also the possibility of playing music from 12:00 to 12:30 each Sunday is being considered.

The equipment will be installed in the next couple of weeks by Floyd Petersen and Bob Hemmingson.

Dana Offers Soil Service

Ruth Pedersen

One part of the chemistry department here at Dana of which few students are aware is the soil testing service. This service was set up last spring under the supervision of Nels Bach, a Danish chemist. The department was patterned after the soil testing service at Iowa State college, Ames.

In order to illustrate the work of the soil testing service, let us consider the case of Farmer A. When Farmer A decides to have his soil tested he can do one of two things. He can take the soil samples himself or he can have a student field worker come out and take the samples under his supervision. The samples are then brought into the lab where they are dried, pulverized and aged. This takes about a week.

After the soil has aged, it is analyzed. Three tests are made on each soil sample. The degree of acidity of each sample is determined, and the potassium and phosphate content is measured. The results of these tests are sent to Sam Lingo, county agent. He interprets the tests and advises the farmer on the needs of the soil.

Will America Awake?

Arne Jessen

"No man can serve two masters. . . ye cannot serve God and mammon." Through the years America has grown in wealth and power. We have placed our emphasis and trust in money, atomic power, culture and care-free reckless living. We have politicians who regard themselves absolutely essential and indispensable to human progress—loud-mouthed hypocrites who seek their own glorification. America has forgotten that Jesus said, "Without me ye can do nothing." Our nation has become corrupt because we have forgotten God. Our religion is dishonest because we have disobeyed the Almighty's commandments and denied His eternal truths.

We are now at war for the third time within a single generation. Yet in tragic truth we must admit that our country has never once seen a great widespread conversion or religious revival. We are put to shame when we face the fact that there is more honest speaking of the Gospel of Christ in poverty-stricken India than in our land of plenty.

What have we to answer to the fact that less than one-fourth of our people are in church regularly, and many of these have not found the true peace and love of God but are burdened with spiritual falsehood? What have we to say when now as never before we have greater opportunities for higher education and yet our country stoops lower and lower in moral decay?

The first pilgrims in America grouped their education and living standards around the Gospel and the teachings of Christ. Now in many universities the Christian element has been replaced by atheism. Thank God for the Christian college!

Hypocrisy and immorality are gaining momentum. America—"Come to your right mind and sin no more. Some have no knowledge of God. I say this to your shame." America! Be still and heed the will of God! "If my people, which are called by my name shall humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land."

Halloween Peaceful at Dana

Fred Reinke

BOO! Halloween was celebrated on the hill in its usual quiet fashion last week as groups of Dana students meekly went about their business of raising "cain" with the forces of law and order. Perhaps the most noticeable characteristic of the evening was the lack of ingenuity among the students. Nobody thought of putting a car(?) in front of the dining hall, letting the air out of anyone's tires, throwing water from Old Main, putting chickens in the women's dorm, planting a cow on the upper campus, soaping downtown windows, scaring pedestrians out of their wits with a fire extinguisher, squirting the "cops" or even the far-fetched idea of adorning the landscape in front of P.M. with a (pardon the expression) manure spreader.

There were a few exciting moments, however, especially when Harry Landbo and a few accomplices engaged in a shooting fray with the city police. It was rather one-sided, however, since the law used 28-specials while Harry and his cohorts were forced to defend themselves, although heroically, with repeating squirt guns.

It can also be announced that a gift was bestowed upon Washington county in the form of a '37 Ford. Due to the low taxes in the county, the county officers haven't been able to afford an official vehicle. Now they have one.

The program of events was rather well rounded in my estimation and well carried out. Naturally there were a few rough spots, but we are learning and sincerely hope that by next year at this time we'll have them ironed out. Also I may add on behalf of the student body that any ill feeling created between the farcers and the farced was purely intentional and all actions were absolutely diabolical.

The Poor Little Children

Margie Poh

A common method used by parents to make a self-pitying child realize how lucky he is, is to tell him to "think of the poor little children in Europe." Why parents have chosen the "poor little children in Europe," I do not know. There are certainly people to be pitied who do not live so far away.. One such group is the student body at Dana college. These students suffer more than the founders of this country thought would be possible in a great nation like this.

How did it happen that there should be such an institution of suffering? Let a student tell you.

In the first place, Dana was established in just about the most miserable and remote section of the United States—Nebraska. To all but native Nebraskans, the climate here is bearable and that is all. The summers are too hot, the winters are too cold, and it is everlastingly too windy. With few trees and no lakes, the state is utterly devoid of any beauty. In fact, Nebraska is nothing but a big farm with here and there a small, uninteresting town. Dana has chosen one of these towns, Blair, as its home.

As an institution of learning, Dana is a complete failure. There is not an instructor in the entire college who knows how to teach, or for that matter, knows anything about what he is supposed to be teaching. It is through the efforts of the ambitious students alone that each year's graduating class ranks above the national average on tests given to seniors in colleges across the land.

In addition to this lack of ability, the professors are also cruel. They give assignments which the students must study to pass the course. These assignments are so long that students hardly have time enough to sit around outside and in the canteen to talk about all the work they have to do. One may observe the lack of social events on campus which has resulted from the fact that students do not have time for such affairs. Even after studying all day, students must often stay up late at night to finish their assignments. If they should then happen to sleep through their next morning's classes, they are sure to be called before the

Representing the male segment of our campus youths, we feel that we are duty bound to express opinions regarding the vogues of co-ed apparel.

We are somewhat disturbed about the supposed adorning of the gastroneimius and tibia of the lower limb. In our reasoning we cannot conceive why these woolly leggings are necessary, for certainly the chilly autumn breeze could not merit the use of these chivalrous manly garments.

In our humble reasoning we cannot ascertain the specific use of these garments, but after considerable contemplation we have concocted a few theories which as yet have not been verified. We state that they may be used in instances where physical structure of these limbs does not meet twentieth century standards, supposedly camouflaging reality. However, the stockings do not hide, but rather exemplify the weakness of the form.

Through our study we seem to find a correlation between the individual's personality and the color of the leggings exhibited by various persons. Our statistics reveal that there is a strong rela-

Gridiron Gleanings

by Dig

Windup on CCCC . .

Friday the conference officially comes to a close for this fall, with the game for third place between Tarkio and York. The Panthers will be out to avenge last year's 33-0 defeat and are favored to leave Tarkio in the cellar. Last week's activity saw the Panthers go down before the onslaught of Bethany, Kan., 37-12.

Another gridiron season then closes, with Concordia repeat champions. In all, the campaign was very successful, with much color being added as compared to the lackluster season of last fall. The jump from fourth to second by the Vikings is very respectable, especially with only seven regulars back from the preceding campaign. Coach Skogman did a commendable job in lifting his squad from their lowly position and molding them into a title threat. It was only in the last quarter of the Concordia game that the team faltered.

Farewell to four . .

Ending their collegiate career with the title game, were Mark Thomsen, Charles Andersen, Paul Jorgensen and Vaughn Christensen. Thirteen years of experience are represented by these seniors and their departure leaves a huge hole to be filled next fall.

Coach Skogman will have a difficult time to find replacement in the line for Charlie, "Jorgy", and Vaughn, all three of whom helped make up the middle of the forward wall. Their combined weight of 575 pounds was a huge factor for opponents to deal with.

Although Mark sat out most of the last two seasons, he has proven himself as one of the all-time stars of Dana football. Shifty in the backfield, he was that added something which the Red and White needed last fall and the middle of this year's campaign.

Stars of the year . .

An unusual display of talent was exhibited in the conference and picking a mythical eleven will be no easy job. This corner has nevertheless, selected some of the standouts of the year and when the top eleven is selected see if it doesn't include some of these.

Coaches this year were well-supplied with backs. Standouts in this department are: Larry Keiser, Herb Peter and Roger Wendt, Concordia; Bob Paine, and Dave Miller, York; Allen Govero and David Nichol, Tarkio; and Marion Hudson, Neil Moore, and Jim Thomsen, Dana.

Stalwart lines rested in the camps of the two top teams and they head the list of linemen with: Gene Oetting, Vance Hinrichs, and Floyd Duesing, Concordia; and Lloyd McComb, Vaughn Christensen, Paul Jorgensen, Vordyn Nelson, and Charles Andersen, Dana. York boasts two rugged linemen in Bill Watkins and Larry Thorson.

The officials don't care . .

Idaho university claims that it was the officiating that beat them in its 20-14 loss to Oregon state, but the men in the striped shirts have no grounds for complaints. They still get paid.

Officials nowadays have good reason to take grief in good spirits; they pocket $100 for each game they work. In the East the loot is $125.

Concordia Wins Conference By Defeating Dana, 14-6

Scoring the first time they had possession of the ball, Concordia wound up victorious over the Vikings 14-6 for the CCCC championship.

Starting on the Dana 47-yard line, the Teachers needed only six plays to push across a touchdown. The final seven yards, were covered by Larry Keiser on a snap-off tackle. Vance Hinrichs, the Bulldogs ace kicker, booted the extra point to shove them out front 7-0.

Late in the first period, the Vikings rolled from their own 17 to the Concordia 3-yard line as the quarter ended. Marion Hudson lost yards on an end sweep, but Mark Thomsen flanked the other side for the Vikes only tally. The try for point was wide. Highlights of the sustained drive was Mark's 52-yard jaunt on a fake pass play.

After intermission, end Lloyd McComb set up golden opportunities for Dana to grab the lead, but the offense stalled when deep in Concordia territory.

In the last quarter, the Bulldogs boosted their one-point lead when they drove 77 yards for their second score. Roger Wendt smashed over from the one-yard line, and again Hinrichs kicked the point to ice the game for the invaders.

Concordia's big line outplayed Dana's both offensively and defensively and repeatedly sprang loose Bulldog backs. Besides Thomsen and McComb, other standouts for the Vikes were Neil Moore and Vaughn Christensen.

Third Undecided In Conference

Central Church College conference play is all but complete, only third place still undecided. All the key games having been played, the standings are:

	W	L	Pct.	Pts.	Opp.
Concordia	3	0	1.000	67	6
Dana	2	1	.667	58	14
York	0	2	.000	0	47
Tarkio	0	2	.000	0	58

Offensive leader in the conference this season was Neil Moore, followed by Larry Keiser of Concordia with 13 points. Dana's Marion Hudson and Paul Kochnke and Roger Wendt of the champions are next with 12 tallies.

A total of 105 points were tallied by the Vikings this fall, as against their opponent's 111. Concordia marked up 167 to 100 for their opponents, while York has a deficit of 60 to 148.

Moore also leads his own teammates in individual scoring with a total of six touchdowns. Hudson has chalked up four TD's Doug Johnson, Lloyd McComb and Jim Kruse, one each. Mark and Jim Thomsen have scored the remaining points with 17 and 10 points respectively.

Football Season Over; Basketball in Spotlight

With the football season over all attention is turned to basketball, intramural and varsity. Athletic Director, Neil Moore, reports that about five teams have been registered and expects about five more for intramural.

The referees will be chosen from the members of the class studying basketball rules and from the varsity. Neil plans on having two or three games on each night which is available for intramural games. There will be a tournament at the close of the season to determine the champion intramural team. These are the latest plans which are not yet complete.

This year's varsity squad consists of approximately 27 members who are working very hard to gain a berth on the traveling squad. Due to the fact that Coach Skogman will not be here second semester there will be no B team or B team games. The varsity has 21 games scheduled this season beginning with a scrimmage against the alumni on Nov. 22. There are only about six of last years squad members who have returned this year including varsity and B team members so Coach Petersen is going to have to work hard breaking in the new crop of freshmen to turn out a winning team.

teachers, excuses not being granted for such valid reasons as oversleeping. And many unexcused absences are not allowed or the student will be dropped from the course. This deficiency in sleep breaks an important health rule, lowering the resistances and resulting in a student body that is physically weak.

The dining hall is another place of misery. Freshmen seldom are able to gain more than ten pounds in the first two months at school, and by the time they become upper classmen they have nearly "waisted" away. And for this they must pay the exorbitant price of $8.50 a week.

You may wonder at the fact that students continue to attend Dana. Let me assure you that the enrollment would decrease to nothing were it not for the fact that attendance at Dana is forced on the sufferers by dominating parents.

Yes, these students are surely to be pitied!

Science Club Discuss Projects for Year

At a meeting of the Science club Tuesday evening, student projects for the coming year were discussed. These projects consist of exploring topics of special interest to the students. After exhaustive study of the topic, experimentation is carried on to verify conclusions and to learn more about the project in actual practice. Findings and results of experimentation will then be presented to the club.

Some projects which have been chosen are the re-refining of used petroleum products such as motor oil, growing of plants without soil, an investigation of types of organisms which grow in chemical media and conductivity of alcohols.

A few of these projects may be presented at the Nebraska Academy of Sciences next spring, along with similar projects of students from other colleges of this state.

Suggestions were made for a Science club trip and for movies to be shown at later meetings on electricity, atomic energy and other films of scientific interest.
