

Spiritual Emphasis Speaker Is Missionary Lloyd Neve

Spiritual Emphasis days, scheduled for Sunday through Wednesday, Jan. 30-Feb. 2, will feature Rev. Lloyd Neve, missionary to Japan and graduate student at Union Theological Seminary, New York, as guest speaker.

On Sunday, Jan. 30, he will speak at both services at First Lutheran Church, in addition to the series of messages to be presented here at Dana.

Topics for the morning meetings, under the theme "A Matter of Life and Death," are: Sunday, "It's Human Nature"; Monday, "From Eternity to Here"; Tuesday, "Dead to Rights"; and Wednesday, "Hope Against Hope." The theme for the evening services is "Something New Under the Son," and the specific topics for these meetings are: Sunday, "A New Lord"; Monday, "A New Life"; and Tuesday, "A New Burden."

Slides Featured Sunday

On Sunday evening, the service will include the viewing of slides plus a lecture about Rev. Neve's recent trip through the Holy Land, in addition to the topical message.

Class schedules will be staggered in order to meet the schedule of services which are to be held at the regular chapel time. The other meetings will begin at 8 p.m. on Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. on the week-days. All these meetings will be held in Pioneer Memorial chapel. There will be a student-led prayer service beginning twenty minutes before each evening meeting, and all are urged to attend. Between the meetings, opportunity for personal visiting and counseling with Rev. Neve will be provided.

Rev. Neve is a graduate of Dana College and Trinity Seminary, having attended the Lutheran Bible Institute in Minneapolis for one year before entering Dana. While at Dana, he served as the national president of the LSA. He has attended summer school at the University of Minnesota, and has spent one year at Augustana Seminary in Rock Island, Ill. He was ordained in 1947 and since 1949 he has been a missionary to Japan.

He met his wife while in Japan, and on his return to the United States last year, he and his wife and three children traveled extensively in Asia and Europe.

$100,000 for Budget

Council Releases Election Results

Last Friday's election results revealed the following committee chairmen for the 1955 Homecoming festivities: Bill Lawson, general chairman; Paul Kaldahl, vice chairman; Pete Smith, publicity; Ada Anderson, banquet; Jackie Garrett, decorations; Ron Stricklett, program; Wayne Christensen, parade; Leland Bosche, clean-up; and Harold Laursen, housing and registration.

Gunnar Mengers was also elected to fill the vacant editorship of this year's Sower.

Dana will receive $100,000 of a special fund of $350,000 to be raised in 1955 by the United Evangelical Lutheran Church. Representatives from the synod's nine districts scattered from coast to coast in the United States and Canada met last week in Blair to map plans for the fund drive. The campaign chairman is Harold L. Carver of Atlantic, Ia.

Fund Tabbed for Improvements

The $100,000 grant to Dana will be used for improving existing facilities and for purchasing new furniture for the campus dormitories. In 1948 the UELC built the $265,000 Pioneer Memorial building.

The balance of funds received during the present drive will be distributed as follows: $150,000 for establishing new congregations of the UELC in the United States and Canada and $100,000 for the Pension Fund for retired pastors of the denomination.

Alumni Place In Magazine

Several former Dana and Trinity students have contributed articles or illustrations to the 1954 issue of Christmas Chimes, the annual publication of the U.E.L.C. Luther League which is edited this year by Lyle Paulsen.

The list of authors and selections includes "Christmas Collect" by John W. Nielsen, Trinity; "Beyond the Ministerial Record" by Lawrence Siersbeck, a Trinity graduate; "Butchie" by Pamela Rhoades, Dana 1953-54; "Christmas Psalm of a Soldier" by Richard Andersen, Dana grad. '53; "Impressions" by Paul J. Nyholm; "Christ Is Born" and "Mary's Lullaby" by Paul Neve, Dana choir director on sabbatical leave; "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by Lyle Paulsen, Trinity grad.; and "Fulfillment" by Ann Harms, Dana grad., 1954.

Artists for the issue are Pamela Rhoades, Diana Rhoades and Elmer Petersen, all 1953-54 Dana students.

CHOIR ITINERARY EXPANDS

It was revealed recently that a tentative choir tour itinerary will include Chicago, Racine and several Iowa towns. The tour will probably be taken in the first part of March. Further details will be published as they become available.

Nyholm Edits Dansk Nytaar

Professor Paul C. Nyholm edited the second annual edition of Dansk Nytaar, Danish New Year, a Danish publication printed by the Lutheran Publishing House, Blair, especially for Danish-Americans. Professor Nyholm also edited the first edition of last year.

This year marks the 150th anniversary of Hans Christian Andersen's birth, so the magazine features a colored picture of Andersen on its cover, as well as an article about the famed storyteller.

Jean Hersholt Contributes

Other material in the issue includes contributions of prominent Americans and Danes such as Jean Hersholt, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow and Joseph M. Girtz.

Last year's issue was a complete sell-out, and early indications are that the 1955 issue will be the same.

NO HERMES

There will be no Hermes next week because of semester final exams. The next issue will be on Friday, Jan. 28.

WAA Carnival Set Jan. 22

"Northern Lights," the second annual Snow Carnival, will be held on Saturday, Jan. 22, at 7 p.m. in the dining hall. The event will be co-sponsored by the WAA and the D Club, according to Eleanor Wohlers, WAA president.

Committee chairmen named for the carnival are: Millie Laursen, decorations; Arliss Petersen, food and waitresses; Audrey Erickson, signs and publicity; Margaret Jensen, programs and tickets; Sandra Lamb, program; Ada Anderson and Sharlene Lauritzen, king and queen.

Three king candidates will be nominated by the WAA, and three queen candidates will be nominated by the D Club. After this nomination, the student body will elect the king and queen to reign over the Snow Carnival.

Staff Reveals Intricacies, Goofs In Editing Paper

In response to several letters (A, P, Q, M, and L), we are going to explain to you just how your weekly edition of the Hermes is prepared and published. (Now is the time to run out and get that drink of water you've been wanting—this gets pretty dry.)

The whole grisly mess takes place up in the "city room." This is a quaint place, guaranteed to make the blood race and the collar seem tighter than usual. Here we find the teletype machine, the wire-photo receiver, and a direct telegraph wire to our news bureaus in Washington, London, Paris and Tia Juana. Several old linotype machines sit sulking in one corner, and the air is filled with the insistent chatter of typewriters.

"Copy-reading"

It is here that the preliminary copy of the news, sports and feature material is typed up. It is then sent on to the editorial staff where it is scoffed at, spit upon, and lacerated with red pencil slashes. This is known as "copy-reading," from the Armenian "copos," meaning "read," and "reading," meaning nothing whatsoever.

From here, the embryonic Hermes is sent down to the Lutheran Publishing House, where it is set up for printing. The cast type is impressed upon long, narrow strips of paper, known to the journalistic fraternity as "long, narrow strips of paper." These long, narrow strips of paper are then cut up, pasted on what is known as a "dummy," and thrown away, with much hilarious laughter by all present. Then we start all over again.

The Hermes is finally ready for printing, after a few additional steps in the processing. (We will omit a description of these steps here, partially because it would take too long and partially because nobody knows what they are.)

With many a merry cry of "Scoop! Scoop!", and "Stop the presses!" the new-born Hermes is finally run off. Three hundred of them are brought up to the college by Ron "Front-page" Stricklett, ace circulation manager, and the other twelve hundred are ground up to be made into Kleenex.

So next time you open your box and take your Hermes out, remember how much work goes into it; think of the time and energy expended in producing it; think of all the man-hours of labor involved in publishing a single issue; think of the expense involved; think of the ten thou-

Democrats Give Morse Two Important Posts

Some skillful political maneuvering which should have much effect on future legislation took place Monday when the Democratic Party Steering committee met to hand out committee assignments for the new session of the Senate. Senator Wayne Morse (Ind.-Ore.), snubbed by the Republicans when they controlled the Senate, finally was granted his long-sought-after wish—that of a post on the all-important Foreign Relations committee.

The Name's Familiar

Senator Morse, it will be remembered, is the recalcitrant Republican who bolted his party to oppose Eisenhower in the last presidential election. As a result, he was turned out of two important committees—those of Armed Services and Labor—during the last session of Congress by the Republicans. Ever since, Morse has considered himself an independent, while at the same time inclining himself toward the Democrats.

Because of a promise by Morse to organize with them, the Democrats have been able to gain the upper hand in the new Senate. In return for his favor, party leaders have appointed him to the afore-mentioned post, in addition to the Banking and Currency committee.

A Reverse Situation

Thus, it appears as if Morse is ready to reverse the slight which he suffered at the hands of the Republicans. He now assumes a prominent position in Congress, and his voice should carry much weight on matters of foreign policy and banking and currency.

The Democrats need and want his vote, and so have appointed him to these posts. The Republicans also would like to have his support. However, their chances of this now seem slim indeed, and

Peru, Tarkio Stop Dana In Tournament Play

The Viking cagers suffered a holiday toll of two losses in the Tarkio Invitational tournament on Dec. 31, 1954 and Jan. 1, 1955.

The Red and White were turned back in their first attempt on New Year's Eve by Peru, 78-75, and succumbed to Tarkio in the final round on New Year's Day, 62-57.

In the opening game against Peru the Vikes were stopped cold at the free-throw line. Peru dumped in 34-44 of their charity tosses and hit only 22 shots from the floor. The Danes tallied 30 field goals but were able to capitalize on only 15-31 free throws.

In the final game of the tourney the Vikings grabbed an early lead and managed to hold it until late in the game, but were beaten again at the free throw line to drop the important game 62-57.

William Jewell won the tournament by drubbing Peru 94-80, and Tarkio finished third.

The composite two-game box score for the Vikings:

Vikings Fall To Soo Falls

Coach Paul Peterson's Dana cagers wilted in the last half at Sioux Falls Monday night and came out on the short end of a 92-81 score.

The Vikings at one time held a 17-2 lead, but the Sodak crew fought back to trail only two points at the intermission, 43-41.

The loss to the South Dakotans gave the Vikings a split for this season with them. In the previous game on the hilltop the Vikes sailed away with a 73-69 victory.

Dana was led by pacesetter Fritz Youra who tallied 26 points. Larry Stone finished with 16 points, Jim Thomsen 13 and Bob Jensen with 12.

Led by 6'1" Jim Fett, the Sioux Falls club put on a game-winning spree in the last half. Fett scored 23 points in the last half. Sioux Falls went ahead to stay with ten minutes left and were in the driver's seat of a nip-and-tuck contest.

Intramurals Start Off With A Bang

Intramural basketball got off to a flying start this week with eight teams entered—the Firehouse Five, Miltie's Maniacs, the Lampouroi, the Fubared Five, the Kool Kats, Lacy's Lushes, the Windless Five and Team One.

The first round of the double-game schedule was played Tuesday night. In the opener, the Firehouse Five dumped Miltie's Maniacs 41-33, with Dick Hibbeler and Eugene Jacoby hitting high-point for their respective teams with 15 and 11 points each.

Lampouroi Downs F.F.

In the second event Tuesday night, the Lampouroi, defending champions, downed the somewhat unorthodox Fubared Five 41-24 in a rather wild onslaught. Jerry Petersen and Milan Johnson split honors for Lampouroi scoring with 11 each, and Mengers dunked 7 to lead the F. Five.

The Kool Kate fundered Lacy's Lushes 51-20 in the final game. Scoring was pretty evenly divided for the Kats (no figures avail-

Dr. Morton recently attended the 41st annual convention of the National Lutheran Education Conference in Washington, D. C. He was in Washington Jan. 9-12, when he also attended a meeting of the Association of American Colleges.

Dr. Morton will attend a meeting in Chicago of the Joint Committee on Polity and Organization on Jan. 24. The committee is currently negotiating the merger between four major Lutheran synods.

so may be forced to tone down their proposals somewhat in order for them to pass.

On the other hand, Morse will be ideally situated for helping to check any bills submitted by the Republicans. Also he should be instrumental in assisting the Democrats to put across their legislation. For all certainty, Morse will be an important name among our Senators.

That Old Adage

Probably the old adage "He who laughs last, laughs best" is working here. It could appear that way. However, the last may yet be to come, Mr. Morse. Nevertheless, it does present an interesting situation.
