

Jorgensen To Get $300 Scholarship

Richard Jorgensen, junior from Poy Sippi, Wisconsin, has been announced winner of the annual Lutheran Brotherhood scholarship. The $300 award is presented each spring to a member of the next year's senior class.

Jorgensen began his duties as president of the 1958-59 student body on May 1. He is on the honor roll and is also a member of the Honor Society.

A former president of the Men's Dormitory, Jorgensen belongs to the Vets' Club. He participates in intramural sports and is a member of the track squad.

The $300 Lutheran Brotherhood award was given to students in 29 senior colleges this spring. Two students received the scholarship in schools having an enrollment of 750 or more.

Presentation of the scholarship will be made by a Lutheran Brotherhood representative at the commencement ceremonies May 25.

Sower Will Soon Be Given To Students

Copies of the 1958 Sower will be ready for distribution to students within the next few days, according to Editor Marlene Paulsen.

Extra copies are available at the cost of 75 cents.

Winners of the Joseph Langland awards for prose and poetry and of the Hal Evans Cole award for art will be announced when the Sower is distributed.

Faculty Will Add New Instructors

Prospective instructors for the science and education departments and a candidate for assistant to the librarian are being interviewed this month, according to Dean Reuben Poston.

The applicants are being considered in order to fill the positions of three faculty members who have resigned.

Mr. C. Arthur Christiansen, biology instructor, is leaving Dana to pursue further study toward his doctorate. Dr. Charles Shipman of the education department has accepted another position, and Miss Sena Bertelsen, assistant to the librarian, is retiring at the end of this school year.

A third instructor has been named to the English department, Dr. Poston announced. Miss Luella K. Nielsen, presently an English instructor in Blair High School, has accepted the position.

A replacement is also being sought for Mrs. Elaine Watt,

48 Will Receive Degrees On Commencement Day

Receiving the bachelor degree at the commencement ceremonies May 25 will be 48 students, according to information received from Dr. Elmer M. Rasmussen, registrar.

Counselors Chosen by Dormitory Heads

Counselors have been chosen by the Men's and Women's dormitory heads as a part of a newly adopted plan for more self-government.

Chosen as counselors in the Girls' Dorm are Sonja Jacobsen, freshman; Carol Madsen, junior; Karen Petersen, junior; and Joanne West, sophomore. Marilyn Olsen, freshman, was chosen as off-campus counselor. Alternates chosen were Willa Houtwed, sophomore; Joann Hundtoft, freshman; and Lois Lorenzen, freshman.

Each counselor will serve as a friend and advisor to a group of ten freshmen, welcoming them and helping them to know their way around when they come, and taking a continued interest in them throughout the year. They will acquaint them with the regulations and policies of the dormitory and college and will help them make adjustments to college life.

The counselors will be alert to the academic, social, and personal needs of their counselees, giving guidance when able and otherwise referring them to qualified persons.

Ernest Andersen, junior; David Larsen, sophomore; Ernest Larsen, junior; and Dick Brink, sophomore, have recently been selected to hold the positions as counselors for the Men's Dormitory and Kline House.

They will primarily be leaders in social, academic, devotional, and intramural athletic activities of the dormitory. Their secondary duty is to maintain order and study hours.

In the fall an additional man from each floor will be elected. He, with the counselor, will serve as floor or house leader. From this group they will choose their own council officers.

Each men's counselor receives an amount of $130 per year.

Is This the End? There's More Yet

Another school year draws to a close, and suddenly everyone begins having the good times that he thought would never come. He begins wishing that the school year which he thought would never end would do just that—never end, and one begins seeing his acquaintances of the past several months in a new light—as real, lasting friends—ones he'll want to think of again and again.

But Father Time must have his way and he can wait for no one; so the minutes and hours, and, too quickly, the weeks fly by. And you ask yourself, just where has the time gone? It's often hard to convince yourself that you've completed one year of college in what seems so short a time.

Perhaps this is the time when we should take note of the many things that have made our year such a complete one—the friends, the fun, the fellowship; yes, even the lessons, the loves, and the laughs. And notice, as you're taking note of these things, that they greatly overshadow the few bad things that you thought you'd never forget.

Yes, this has been a great year—for the Danian as well as Dana. These last few weeks may make you aware of the great values of the preceding weeks. This has been a great year, and what's made it really great is that you've been a part of its greatness!

President Chooses Council's Cabinet

Appointments to cabinet positions in the 1958-59 student council were approved at the first meeting of the new council.

Re-appointed to the position of social director is Karen Jensen. Noel Petersen will serve as religious director, and intramural director will be Mark Petrusson. Ernest Anderson was appointed to the position of parliamentarian.

The new student body officers, headed by President Richard Jorgensen, took office May 1.

Mid-Continent College Sends Students to Scattered Areas

One of the distinguishing characteristics of Dana's personality since her very beginning has been her mid-continental flavor. She has served students from a wide variety of national and home backgrounds. Because of her centralized location, she has served students each year from both the eastern and the western seacoasts of this country.

Perhaps it is partially the mingling of these varied backgrounds that has helped to make Dana what it is today.

Seniors Disperse

And of course, as students come to Dana from various directions they, too, go out again in various directions. For example, this year's senior class will send students to the east and the west, to the north and the south.

Dana will be well represented in the teaching field in the state of California and will also send teachers to Minnesota, Wisconsin, Arizona, Nebraska, and Iowa. Many of this year's seniors will enter the business world in varied locations. Some seniors will pursue further study. Many will enter seminary, others will begin graduate work in their specialized field of interest.

Varied Plans

Several of the graduates will tour Europe this summer; one graduate has applied to teach in Japan next year.

One thing to be noted as we watch this year's graduates go out in their various walks of life is that they will take with them something of the Dana spirit and understanding. They will disperse it in varied areas, among different types of people, and in many different ways. Despite these differences, they will be united in one common bond: they will all speak for Dana and Dana will speak through them.

Students, Faculty Choose Six Books

A majority of the students and faculty members expressed their choice of the Liberal Arts Reading Program materials to be read during the coming school year.

The selections which were selected are: Out of My Life and Thought by Albert Schweitzer; Frued's Psychoanalysis of Everyday Life, and Gulliver's Travels by Jonathan Swift.

Second semester books are Candide by Voltaire, Dante's Inferno, and Walden and Civil Disobedience by Thoreau.

Each text chosen had a plurality of from one third to three fourths above the work receiving the next highest number of votes.

Members to Elect Fine Arts Prexy

Pat Andersen, junior; Elliott Nielsen, freshman; Adrienne Petersen, freshman; and Bud Petersen, sophomore, were nominated by members of the Fine Arts Club Tuesday evening to serve as president for the 1958-9 school year.

Voting will be held Friday for the presidency. Ballots will be placed in the members' mail boxes.

Other officers for the club will be elected in the fall.

Joanne West, sophomore, served as president of the Fine Arts Club this year.

Editor Says . . .

Thanks, Good-bye, Good Luck

When organizations and traditions which have been a part of one's life for four years draw to a close, even the most callous of us tend to wax sentimental.

A lot of type has come off the press since that first Hermes issue appeared last fall. Looking back over the past 26 issues, a word of thanks is in order for those who made possible Dana's best newspaper.

First, thanks go to Peter Smith—for many things. For keeping the Hermes budget book in black ink instead of red for the past years; for scouting around for numerous advertisers; for planning, directing, and coordinating the recent journalism conference; and for the tremendous contribution to activities and organizations both at Dana and across the nation during four years of college. It isn't necessary to wish you luck and success in life, Pete.

Orchids also go to an individual who in her quiet way has contributed a great deal to the Hermes. Feature editor for two years, Joan Coffey has written many an article for page two. Your talents are going to be missed next year, Joannie!

To Sports Editor Lee Ramage: congratulations on achieving a rating of excellent from the ACP on your sports writing for the first semester! Thank you for scrounging so faithfully for sports copy each week, and keep up the good work next year.

Thanks go to Dave Parrish and Leo Kirchhoff for clueing us in on news tips each week and for running around the country to have our cuts made.

We also want to express our appreciation to the Lutheran Publishing House for putting up with all our nonsense and mistakes all year, and for faithfully coming out with a fine printing job each week.

To each reporter on the staff, to those working on the business end of the Hermes including subscription manager Mary Jo Andrews and circulation manager Tom Nielsen (who incidentally made many a trip to the Publishing House to pick up the Hermes during the year), I want to express my thanks.

Finally, to the new editor, Alice Nelson, go all my good wishes. I'll think about you every Tuesday night next year, Alice!

To all Hermes readers everywhere: thank you for your continued interest in "the messenger from Dana College." Without your support, the Hermes would not exist. Thank you for entrusting me with the responsibility of editing your paper; it's been an experience I shall never forget.

Vikes May Rank Second In Baseball Conference

Dana's Diamondmen dumped Concordia 8-3 on Tuesday and stopped Westmar 8-7 on Saturday to run their season record to 7-2 in the Nebraska College Baseball Conference, and an 8-2 all-game showing. The victory over Concordia practically clinched second place in the conference, depending on the results of the postponed Hastings' doubleheader.

Senior Bill Davis rolled to his sixth and seventh personal victories without a defeat in the process, going the full nine innings against Concordia, and relieving in the Westmar fracas.

Seward Scores

Dana clubbed three Concordia hurlers for thirteen hits at Seward, Nebraska in posting a convincing win. Concordia scored first, getting one run each in the first and second innings, and leading 2-0 going into the bottom of the fifth.

The Vikes then broke loose for four runs and four hits to grab a lead which they never relinquished. Ron Huston, knocking the first of his three hits, started things with a sharp single to left. Bill Saint smashed a liner to right and Ernie Anderson walked. Davis then singled to drive home three runs, as Anderson scored all the way from first. Jan Philby singled and scored on an error to net the fourth tally of the frame.

Huston Hits

Hits by Duane Neitzel and Bill Saint, and walks to Huston and Anderson produced two more runs in the sixth inning. Dana went scoreless in the seventh, but in the eighth Huston slapped his third single and went home on Anderson's long triple to left-center. Anderson then stole home for Dana's eighth run.

Davis allowed Concordia eight hits while fanning five, as he again managed to put down his opponents without help from the bench.

The Vikings came from behind to defeat Westmar Saturday on Veterans' Field in an eleven-inning affair. Bob Zimmerman started Dana's only non-conference game of the season, and was relieved by Larry Wright in the fourth inning and Davis in the seventh. Davis received credit for the victory.

Dana Leads

Westmar collected four runs in the first and three runs in the fourth, but were shut out in the other frames. Dana whittled away gradually at its opponent, getting one in the second, another in the fifth as the result of a round-tripper by Davis, one in the sixth, three in the eighth, the tying run in the ninth, and finally the winning tally in the bottom of the eleventh.

Anderson led Dana at the plate with three hits, two of them doubles, and Philby followed with two safeties to account for half of the Vikings' ten hits.

Track Squad Cops Weekend Events Four Gold Medals Are for Tracksters

The Viking cindermen placed last by a point and a half at the Lutheran track meet held at Concordia Friday.

Dana did, however, bring home four gold medals, led by Lee Ramage who managed two first places in the 120 yard high hurdles and the 220 yard low hurdles respectively. Don Jorgensen again showed his superiority in the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 11 inches.

The other gold medal went to Tom Nielsen, who gave up the 440 yard dash to upset the sprinters from Midland and Concordia in the 220 yard dash.

Track summaries:

880 yd. relay: Dana, second (Svendgaard, Mertens, Ramage, Nielsen)

120 yd. high hurdles: Lee Ramage, first.

220 yd. low hurdles: Lee Ramage first; Don Jorgensen, fourth.

2 mile: Paul Christensen, third.

Field summaries:

Broad jump: Don Jorgensen, first; Rich Jorgensen, third.

Shot: Ron Petrick, second.

Javelin: Emory Anderson, fourth.

A traveling squad of Vikings will compete at Lincoln in the District 11, N.A.I.A. track meet tomorrow.

Members of the squad will be Darrell Mertens, Dave Svendgaard, Jack Madsen, Tom Nielsen, Don Jorgensen, Paul Christensen, Ron Petrick, and Lee Ramage.

Dana trackmen will finish their season next week at Fremont, when Midland will be host to the Nebraska College Conference track meet May 23 and 24.

Sports Banquet is Held for Athletes

Dana's annual Sports Banquet Monday evening announced Bill Davis, senior from Omaha, as the Honor Athlete.

Ron Huston, junior, was named captain of the 1958-59 basketball team. Ernie Anderson, junior, and Huston were named co-captains of the spring baseball season next year.

Guest speaker was Keith Skogman, head football coach at Nebraska Wesleyan. Rufus Olson of the Blair newspapers acted as master of ceremonies.

Old Editors Never Die . . .

Sitting at my desk with typewriter, pencils, copy, galleys, paste, scissors, ink, and late stories near-by I think of Margaret downstairs, who probably for the first time all year is enjoying a Tuesday's night sleep. Then, perhaps, she is worrying about how I'm getting along with this issue (You see, this is the first time I have ever done the Hermes. I'm worried about it, too.)

Next fall we are going to get off to a new, fresh start with some new ideas, a new staff, a new editor, and new problems. But always those old problems will be present. The lack of copy, the fact some one hasn't turned in the story which was assigned to them, the big hole on page two with no copy for it, and the nights with little or no sleep.

Few of us realize the strain of being an editor of the HERMES. Margaret has done a commendable job this year and I feel that we should all congratulate her on the high Associated Collegiate Press rating that her HERMES received. Isn't it easy for us to complain when there are mistakes in the HERMES, when something is left out, and when the news isn't the best and most current? But do we ever stop to thank Margaret when she does really a "bang-up" job on a particular edition? I know that Margaret has truly enjoyed this work, but it isn't all joy.

I only hope that I can serve you, the students, faculty, and other readers, in the fine tradition that Margaret and editors before her have established. This is your paper, you know what you want to read, let's hear from you occasionally. I want to know what you like and what you don't like about the Hermes.

Next year's staff has been appointed, but if you want to help us as a reporter we need all the willing helpers we can get. Keep us in mind next fall when you are choosing your activities. We want to be the most active activity on campus.

Thank you, Margaret, for the 26 editions, for the help you've given me, for the news that you have brought to us the readers. May all your future endeavors be as successful as this year's HERMES.

DAIRY QUEEN

"What will it cost me to wait and buy insurance later?"

Young people getting ready to take on new responsibilities often wonder if they can afford to postpone buying life insurance.

No one can say what the delay might cost if you died, but here's an example of what happens to premiums as you get older . . . based on our most popular policy, the Brotherhood Provider for $10,000:

Age	Premium		For each dollar paid in you get back at 65*	Monthly income at age 65* (male)
	Annual	Monthly
20	$156.90	$14.10	$1.74	$77.20
25	180.20	16.20	1.56	70.90
30	209.30	18.80	1.40	64.60
35	245.80	22.10	1.24	57.40

Note that during the ten years from age 25 to age 35, the annual premium increases by $65.60, or 36%. And the amount you get back for each dollar invested decreases by 32%, or 20%.

Now, the Brotherhood Provider is an outstanding value, no matter when it is purchased. And the net cost is even lower than the premiums suggest, because of Lutheran Brotherhood's substantial dividends.

But these figures do emphasize the advantages of buying insurance as early as possible. Why not start your own insurance program now, before your premiums go up? Give interest a chance to work for you. See your Lutheran Brotherhood representative, or write the home office.
