

"Una Sancta" To Be Presented By Band And Choir

The Dana College Choir and Band, together with Lutheran Church choirs in this area join in presenting "Una Sancta," a festival cantata, on Sunday, April 23, 7:30 p.m. in Alumni Memorial Auditorium. The mass choir and the band will be under the direction of Professor Paul Neve.

"Una Sancta," a festival cantata composed by Paul J. Christiansen, Professor of Music, Concordia College, Moorhead, Minnesota, was first sung for the Constituting Convention of The American Lutheran Church on April 24, 1960, by the combined choirs of the senior colleges of The American Lutheran Church, accompanied by the St. Olaf College Band.

The theme of the cantata is expressed in its title, "Una Sancta," which is developed in three sections: "One God," "One Church," "One Mission." A suggestion of the backgrounds of the merging churches is accomplished by the use of three representative chorales: "How Brightly Beams the Morning Star," "Built on a Rock," and "O Day Full of Grace."

A free-will offering will be taken at the door.

Elliott Nielsen To Give Senior Recital

Senior Music student Elliott Nielsen, Baritone, from Minden, Nebraska, will present his recital this Saturday, April 23, in the Alumni Memorial Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Miss Carol Petersen, who last year graduated from Dana, will be Elliott's accompanist. Some of the numbers to be presented are: Si, Tra I Cippi "Berenice" by Handel, O du mein holder Abendstern "Tannhauser" by Wagner, and Thy Word is a Lamp which is Elliott's own composition.

41 Dana Band Members Begin Tour On Monday

Dr. Wayne Wise, director of the Dana Band, has announced the following list of students who will be participating in the 1961 spring tour: They are: Judy Magnussen, Lois Lorenzen, Mary Jo Nielsen, and Karen Flood, flutes; Don Fosberg, oboe; Arden Dorn, Jean Hagensen, Robert Rademacher, Lynn Roberts, Janice Larsen, and Marilyn Larsen, clarinets; Tom Lange, bassoon; David Snowbeck, LaVae Pohlman, and Janet Frandsen, alto saxophones; Judith Hein, tenor saxophone; Rogert Lippincott, baritone saxophone; Bill Johnson, Robert Hansen, Spencer Martin, Diane Lippincott, Carol Bruning, and Gary Ramsey, cornet and trumpets; Clara Birney, Bonnie Nelson, and Edith Wise, French horns; Maynard Hedegaard, Dave Wulf, Hans Willadsen, Phyllis Bondo, Elliott Nielsen, Marjorie Behrens, and Judith Svendgard, trombones; Wayne Josephson, and Sonja Jacobsen, baritones; Dave Rasmussen, and Ralph Hansen, bass; Ellen Andrews, Ceva Hansen, Dean Hendricksen, and Phil Kurz, percussion.

This year the band will travel to a number of outstanding communities in both Nebraska and Iowa during the week of April 24-29th. Some of the concerts include high school engagements at Syracuse and Bellevue, Nebraska, as well as at Audubon, Elk Horn, Underwood, Avoca, and Harlan, Iowa. Evening engagements are scheduled at Bruning, Nebraska, and Underwood, Iowa.

Some of the numbers which the band will present include the "Classic Overture" by Gossec-Goldman, "Chorale and Alleluiah" by Howard Hansen, "Ogden Nash Suite" by Jerry Bilik, "Vincent Youmans Fantasy" arranged by Yoder, "The Three Trumpeters" by Azostini-Bainum, "Trombone Troubadors" by Dave Bennett, and "Jabberwocky" by Harold Walters.

In addition to the musical "workout" which is always a part of every tour, Dana is injecting a special surprise treat into the tour. It will come in the form of an evening of entertainment for all members in Omaha.

Dr. Wise has also outlined a tentative tour schedule for the band for next year which was planned by The ALC advisory council. It will include concerts at Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Kansas City, Missouri; Topeka and Wichita, Kansas.

This year's home concert will be presented on May 7, in Alumni Memorial Auditorium at 3:00 p.m.

Dr. Madsen Receives Two Very Commendable Honors

Dr. C. Madsen, president of our college, has recently received two very commendable honors, both of which come from national organizations.

President Kennedy approved the recent decision of the Naval Reserve Selection Board to promote Dr. Madsen from commander to captain in the Chaplain Corps of the Naval Reserve.

Dr. Madsen has also been elected to serve as a member of the American Committee of the Rebild Park Board, which is the American co-partner of a Danish-American committee that arranges the annual Fourth of July celebration at Rebild Hills National Park in Denmark. Because of close ties between families and friends of Denmark and the United States, July Fourth has been an important Danish holiday for over fifty years. This year Dr. Madsen has been asked to bring the American greeting to the festivities highlighted by our Denmark Touring Choir.

S.A.M. Members To Attend Get-Together At Kansas City

Kansas City will be host to various Colleges and Universities from Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Nebraska for the regional Student Senior Chapter Get-Together, April 21st and 22nd. Dana's S.A.M. Chapter will be the only school representing Nebraska at the conference with fifteen members planning to attend.

The week-end agenda includes the keynote address, "Purpose and Direction of S.A.M." presented by C. West Hodges, Educational Advisor for the Society for Advancement of Management; two plant tours; an evening banquet followed by a Symposium on Manufacturing Management Simulation by Remington-Rand Univac; a panel discussion on problems facing the various S.A.M. Chapters; and a Chapter Officers' Workshop.

A report on the past, present, and future projects and activities of the Dana Chapter will be presented to the conference by Al Storzer. Included in the report is Dana's Rating in the National S.A.M. Performance Awards Plan. Of the ten rated schools represented at the conference, Dana ranks second.

It is felt that a "get-together" and interchange of ideas, such as this conference will offer, may aid in the development of new and varied programs and projects; and offer new ideas for improving co-operation between surrounding businessmen and Dana's business students.

Best Is Awarded Two Scholarships

Roger Best received word Saturday that he had been awarded a graduate assistantship with a $1,500 stipend plus a waiver of non-resident tuition from the University of Arkansas, College of Business Administration.

The State University of Iowa also awarded him a tuition scholarship; however, he will decline it to accept the assistantship from the University of Arkansas.

A senior from Arnold, Nebraska, Roger will be completing the major-minor in business administration. He is a very active member of S.A.M. and was chairman of the recent S.A.M. project of expanding the Library collection of economy and business administration books.

Since this school year is rapidly drawing to a close and Jim Thrig, our Student Body Vice-President, has called for nominating petitions for next year's Hermes, Danian, and Sower editors, it seems appropriate to reminisce a little over this year's Hermes. This being issue No. 23 out of a twenty-seven issue yearly schedule, means that we have just four issues left this year.

We have tried to remember that Dana is growing and that with her growth must also come a bigger and better student newspaper. The foreman at Augsburg Publishing House informed me this past week that Hermes has printed more total pages this year than any previous year. There were eight pages in the Homecoming issue at which time a new $35 masthead was introduced. In addition to that, there have been six six-page issues and one remains to come out in May. A challenging field awaits next year's Hermes. It should be entered into a national rating service and an all-out effort be made to achieve an Honor Roll Rating, which to my knowledge has not been received since 1953.

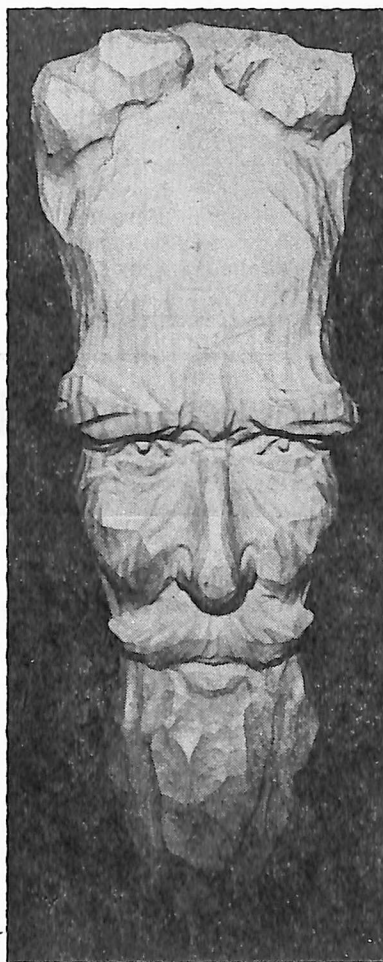

Although I was a high school newspaper editor and have had some commercial printing experience, this year's task has been extremely challenging to me. I want to take this opportunity to thank each and every member of the staff and encourage you to take an active part in next year's Hermes.

Hand-Carved Bust Of George Bernard Shaw Is Inspiration To Hermes Staff Members

Adorning the second floor hall of Old Main this past week has been an exquisitely hand-carved bust of George Bernard Shaw. The bewhiskered gentleman, with his benevolent eyes of maple wood, scanned his new surroundings searching for evidence of that love which is said to permeate Dana's campus.

Eight years ago Mr. H. A. Becker, creator of the mural which adorns Mickelsen Hall, created a maple wood bust. At first glance one may wonder why such a grotesque work of art is displayed. But is it grotesque? Take another look. The bust was beautifully and patiently carved into a beautiful work of art. By gazing at the bust one can almost hear it speak kind and fatherly words of advice to those who will but stop and listen. Also, the bust has gained fame in many art museums throughout the area.

However, "Veritus," as the bust has been named, has been of more use in the Hermes office. For the past few years "Veritus" has made his home in what is now the Hermes office. It has been said that, as the students who put the Hermes together work into the long hours of the night and run out of ideas, "Veritus" has given them the inspiration to come through with the news and more important with the truth. In respect and appreciation the Hermes staff has unofficially made "Veritus" their mascot. It is their hope that "Veritus" will keep them keen to the task of gathering the news and printing factual truth. Also, it is hoped that "Veritus" will become the symbol of truth, honesty, and courage for the men of Dana, as the mural is for the women of Dana. May "Veritus" long be remembered as the friend and protector of that which we hold so dear to our hearts: the truth.

The Observer

This week I have deviated from my regular editorial type column in order to cover a bulletin released to me concerning the Peace Corps. As a college student, I feel that this may be the answer to some of us who feel a challenge, but don't know just what in. Therefore I will cover what the Peace Corps is looking for in a volunteer.

A specific "needed skill" is the first requirement. The range of needed skills is great. Most nations requesting volunteers will be industrially less developed than the U.S.A. The skills most badly wanted by foreign countries are in agriculture, teaching, and engineers, technicians, craftsmen, and administrators to aid in industry.

If you are among an interested group wanting to serve your country, this may be the answer. However, one must be reminded that the goal of the corps is not to remold the foreign countries as an image of the United States. A person is expected to be adaptable enough to undertake a difficult and sometimes frustrating assignment. He must understand the strengths of democracy and how our system operates as well as that of the country and a knowledge of that country's language. Physical fitness and an understanding of the purpose of the Peace Corps are other requirements for the volunteer.

Anyone interested in actively participating may write Peace Corps, Washington 25, D.C.

Students Successfully Launch Man In Space

Blair, Nebr.—Reports have reached us which declare that the Science Department of Dana College has successfully launched a man into space and returned him to the earth in the same condition.

Needless to say, this announcement carried a great impact upon the American public as well as the foreign powers. The nation's top scientists had been going about their endless schemes to surpass the Soviet Union, quite oblivious of the fact that a small mid-western college contained some brilliant students who had been working steadily on the very project sought by the scientists—to send a man into space and to return him to earth unharmed!

This amazing accomplishment was to bring about varying remarks. Fellow students found themselves admitting that the title "mad scientists" had more truth than falsehood—for what could be more "mad" than a bunch of science students launching a rocket from Old Main terrace? But what is more commendable than the great accomplishment is the spirit of calmness held by those students involved. They were utterly confident of the success of their endeavor to return a man from space in exactly the same physical condition as before departure, for, as one student so brilliantly put it, "How could we lose? We knew he would return none the worse physically because we launched a corpse."

Professor Tweton Delivers Paper On Agriculture Today

Professor D. Jerome Tweton of the Dana Department of History delivered a paper before the Mississippi Valley Historical Association in Detroit today. Tweton's topic, "James Wilson and the New Agriculture," will be one of three on a program concerning transition in twentieth century American agriculture.

The paper relates the role played by Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson in promoting a scientific approach to the problems of the American farmer. Wilson held the longest tenure of office of any Secretary of Agriculture—1897-1913.

Others appearing on the program with Professor Tweton will be Theodore Salouts and John Hicks of the University of California and Rodney Leehr of the University of Minnesota.

Officers Elected By Class Of '64

The class of '64 elected Howard Johnson president of the sophomore class at the recent class meeting. Other officers elected are Rich Jorgensen, vice-president; Liz Nielsen, secretary; Ned Kitomari, treasurer; and Tom Lange, student council representative. The Rev. Harold Becker was chosen as the new class advisor. These people officially take over their respective offices next fall.

From The ALC . . . TENSIONS CONFRONTING YOUTH EMPHASIZED AT L.L. MEETING

The Luther League of The American Lutheran Church has just finished its meetings today in Miami Beach, Florida. The Rev. L. David Brown, of Minneapolis, stated the convention included substantial emphasis on tensions confronting youth in today's world.

He said, "For too long, young people have been subjected to modern bias picturing them as hoods, delinquents, intellectual babies; our young people have been ideologically mistreated. These biases have ignored the contribution young people can make in modern areas of social concern—such as racial tensions . . . social and economic problems . . . world responsibilities . . . or the role of Christianity in a Space Age. We will seek a Christian view of these tensions in relation to youth. I think we should never forget that this is the world our youth will inherit."

Among the problems discussed were "the problem of human discrimination," a broad term referring to the applications of "hate stereotypes" on radical, economic or other grounds; opportunities for service to society (such as the Peace Corps plan recently announced by President Kennedy); denominational relationships; and special youth problems such as sex education and occupational guidance. Opportunities were also provided for discussion of world tensions, as well as science and the Space Age.

Youngsters attending the convention included the age range from the sophomore year in high school through the college years.

W.A.A. Sponsors Swimming Party

Tomorrow evening, April 21, the W.A.A. will be sponsoring an all-school swimming party. Transportation, which will be provided, will leave Mickelsen Hall for George Norris Jr. High School in Omaha, where the party will be held.

Tickets are now on sale for 50¢ per persons and may be purchased in the dining hall during meals or from any W.A.A. member. The pool accommodates only sixty, so be sure to get your tickets early.

If you know of a car going that has room for more passengers, will you please let the W.A.A. know so that they can provide a ride for someone else.

Sanity And Survival Is Rescheduled

"Sanity and Survival," the tape recording of an address by Dr. Jerome Frank which was originally scheduled for last Tuesday's L.S.A. meeting, will be heard at 7:00 p.m. next Tuesday in the canteen.

In his address, Dr. Frank compares, in an extraordinarily effective fashion, the behavior of mental patients and the behavior of nations today.

This program should be especially interesting to anyone who has seen the movie "On the Beach," but others may gain much from it also. The tape has been used throughout the country and is highly recommended by all who have heard it.

Vikings Capture Four Firsts, Outscore Two Other Teams

Dana 82, Morningside 54, Westmar 19.

Last Friday afternoon the Dana Viking track squad, capitalizing on four first places in the field events, went on to outscore Morningside and Westmar in a triangular meet held at Morningside. Points were 82 for Dana, 54 for Morningside, and 19 for Westmar.

First place winners for Dana were Byron Jensen in the 120 high hurdles, Roger Beck in the vault, Hans Willadsen in the 880, Bill Bracker in the high jump, Emory Anderson in the javelin, and Ray Hundtofte in the broad jump.

The only double winner in the meet was Jim Landis of Westmar who won both the discus and shot put.

Cold weather, strong winds, and a soft track hindered performances.

Event Winners

- 880 Relay—Morningside, 1:32.8
- Mile—Bob Carley, Morningside, 4:50.2
- 440—Larry Thompson, Morningside, :54.0

MAJOR LEAGUE PREDICTIONS

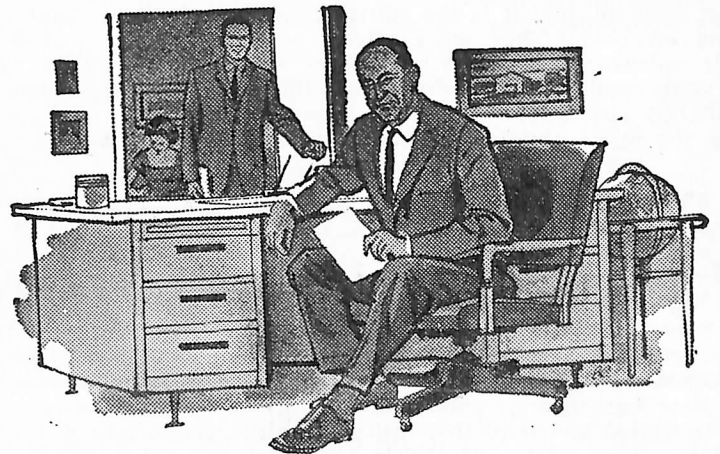

by Bob Steffensen

AMERICAN LEAGUE

1. Baltimore—will fly if outfield proves itself.
2. Chicago—too many old men?
3. New York—Ford and pray for rain.
4. Cleveland—strong pitching only point.
5. Minnesota—could be the team of the future.
6. Boston—could nudge the Twins.
7. Detroit—what happened to the pitching?
8. Los Angeles—will make lots of runs.
9. Kansas City—it's a long Lane ahead.
10. Washington—someone has to be in last.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

1. Los Angeles—young players will help.
2. Pittsburgh—needs all the breaks.
3. Milwaukee—who is in left and center?
4. San Francisco—best on paper.
5. St. Louis—could surprise everyone.
6. Cincinnati—no defense.
7. Philadelphia—lots of good young players.
8. Chicago—too many coaches, not enough players.

"They come by the dozens... each with a diploma and a bright smile"

"More and more bright, personable, well-educated young men come to me for jobs these days. And it's often hard to make a decision. That's why, in addition to other qualities, I look for maturity and stability. Life insurance ownership is one of the things that indicates this to me."
