Sophomore 'Zelda' (Carnival) Comes To Borup, Saturday

(Since "carnival" is a taboo word in this society, we shall refer to it as Zelda!)

Zelda will be here on November 3 at 7 p.m. She will be residing in Borup Coliseum during her stay.

As one enters he will hear his voice and know that he is at the right place. Traveling in and out of a labyrinth of festive groups, one will come upon a dark corner. (Zelda has a very refreshing one.) Of course there will be gypsies telling fortunes and now and then an ingenious group of jesters to entertain in case Zelda ever gets boring.

Zelda also offers vengeance for all freshmen. One of the many attractions is a water-balloon throw with some of those Beanie-Court Sophomores as targets! (Too bad it could not be changed to a William Tell game.)

To balance things off, Zelda is having a cake walk. (—Who said it was crummy?)

Other novelties are also offered at Zelda's, but most of those are either weighty or fishy. However, she does have a beautiful pink poodle and has decided to give it away that night.

Zelda's looking for you!

Regents Meet To Determine Policies

Dana's Board of Regents will meet on campus Monday and Tuesday, November 5 and 6.

Monday's meeting will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the official order of business. Later the board will receive reports from the President, the Dean, the Registrar and Director of Counseling, the Business Manager and the Vice-President for Church Relations and Development. Committee reports will also be given in the following areas: education, insurance and investments, finance, and buildings and grounds.

Policies with regard to next year's enrollment, student costs, and possible additions to the faculty and staff will be determined. Plans for the immediate future and long range building program will also be discussed.

Two members of the board will be meeting for the first time. These new members are Mr. Carl H. Gustafson, Denver, Colorado, Manager of Quinn and Company Investment Securities and Mr. Irving F. Jensen, Sioux City, Iowa, a building contractor.

ALC Decides On Important Issues

Action was recently taken on several important issues at the biennial convention of the American Lutheran Church in Milwaukee. By a two to one vote it was decided after nearly three hours of debate to continue the membership in the World Council of Churches. The merger of the Lutheran Free Church was approved by acclamation on the second day of deliberation.

Dr. Norman A. Menter, Detroit, was re-elected vice-president of the ALC; he has held this office since the body came into existence in 1961.

A budget of more than $22 million was approved for 1963 fiscal year expenditure. The budget also provides for $1.5 million for capital improvements at the church's 17 colleges and schools. In a related action the ALC approved the establishment of an internal borrowing plan designed to produce a loan fund for the benefit of church colleges and other institutions.

One ominous note was injected into the convention mood by the crisis over the military quarantine declared against Cuba by President Kennedy. After remaining in session to hear the President's address to the nation, the convention approved a message giving assurance of the church's support in prayer for wisdom and guidance, and adopted a resolution repudiating a statement by the World Council of Churches in Geneva expressing "regret and concern" over the action of the U.S. government against Cuba.

Representing Dana at the convention were the Rev. James Olsen, Mr. Boas Weismann, President Madsen and Herb Knudsen.

Science Hall Dedication Slated For This Sunday

Dedication ceremonies of the Charles A. Dana Hall of Science will take place Sunday, November 4 at 2:30 p.m. The structure is named for the New York industrialist-philanthropist, Dr. Charles A. Dana (pronounced Dayna). Dr. Dana presented Dana with a challenge gift of $200,000 early last year for the construction of a science hall. Dana accepted the challenge and the result is the building pictured below.

The Dana College Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. Wayne Wise, will provide preliminary music for the dedication.

The Rev. James Olsen will give the invocation and benediction. Greetings will be given by Dr. C. C. Madsen and Mr. Norman Otto, Administrative Assistant to Nebraska Governor, Hon. Frank Mor-

Why the early lockup?

Dear Editor,

Since the beginning of school until the present time, the facilities of Old Main have been accessible to students for late hour studying and research. Why has this privilege been taken away and the building locked so early?

This hinderance has been noted especially by science students who are required to spend extra hours outside of class in order to complete laboratory work.

The writer of this letter would like to see an answer to the above question from the administration in next week's Hermes.
Why??

To the Editor

Thank you . . .

The help and cooperation of students during Homecoming weekend was sincerely appreciated by the cafeteria staff.

We especially want to thank the D Club for their assistance in serving the visiting bands and our own students Saturday noon.

Where is Dana's Patriotism?

Two weeks ago our American flag was displayed in front of Pioneer Memorial for three days in the rain! This is just one of the un-patriotic incidences this campus has shown.

According to the upperclassmen, the flag was used at every home football game last year. Where is it this year? It is assumed that every student at Dana has graduated from high school and it is further assumed that at some time or other during their high school days they have memorized the National Anthem. Why is it that as soon as they get to college they forget even the words to the first stanza!

A most embarrassing incident happened at the Homecoming game. As the football players took off their helmets (at least they did that much) and faced the spectators, the Dana band played the National Anthem (the first time it was done on campus this semester). A lone voice in the crowd started singing. Realizing that he was the only one, he turned to his friend. "We used to sing it whenever it was played on campus. I wonder why they don't sing it now." What answer do you give to this alumnus?

By the way, what has happened to the flag that used to stand by the altar in the chapel? How can we thank God for our free nation when we don't even show respect for what He has given us?

Council Clips

By Tom Lange

Two weeks ago Student Council met twice in two days. The first of the two meetings was held Wednesday morning in order to call an official Student Body meeting. The second meeting was held at the regular time and the business conducted was also more typical.

The first line of new business was to welcome to Student Council its new members recently elected. Besides those elected by the student body Gary Hanson and Judy Johnson, representatives of the dorm councils, were also added to the Student Council membership.

The Nebraska College Conference to be held at Kearney, November 16 and 17 was discussed and it was decided to send our executive officers and any council members who wish to attend.

A committee of six people—Rich Jorgensen, chairman, Thern Kaldahl, Jerry Jorgensen, Arden Dorn, Barry Tuttle and Joan Nielsen—was appointed to make necessary preparations for the ALC College Conference to be held at Dana at the end of March.

Liberal Arts Grading Unfair?

Dana's Liberal Arts Reading program has much to commend it. However, some of the effectiveness of the program in giving Dana students a well-rounded background is spoiled by the system used in testing. It is possible for a student to get an A without reading the assignment. Of course, this only hurts those who don't take advantage of the program, but it is unfair to those who do read their assignments carefully. They receive no more credit than those who are able to answer just one question.

A possible solution might be a test of only one question requiring an objective answer. Participation in discussion might also be included in the grade.

Dana's students should be proud of their unusual liberal arts reading program and should make the most of the opportunity it gives them.

To the Editor

Flies, Flies, Flies—Ugh!!

The Dana canteen is buzzing with activity! But unfortunately the gay conversations are not between students, but rather between—Ugh!—flies! The tables are covered with flies that wait eagerly for the next guest. Cups left on the tables swarm with flies.

New advances in pest control were demonstrated to the Omaha City Council several weeks ago by inviting the Council to a dinner served atop one of the city's dumps. The meal was served in comfort, with no odor or flies. I am puzzled that we cannot keep the Dana canteen as pleasant as the Omaha City Dump!

Attention, All Biology Students . . . Biologist 'Gives The Word' On 'Proper' Lab Technique

(Editor's Note: The following advice was given by an advanced science student to a general biology student who was about to take his first laboratory examination last week. The author intends for this in no way to reflect upon the teachings of the biology department.)

1) Upon removing the microscope from the cabinet, grasp the feet and carry it upside down to your lab table, hoping the ocular lens doesn't fall out.

2) Check to see if the lenses are smooth by rubbing them on the sole of your shoe. Clean the lenses with a wet paper towel or with sandpaper.

3) The microscope has a mirror on it so you can see if your lipstick is on right or your hair is combed. Never adjust the mirror in bright light or it may be blinded.

4) Prepare a "hanging drip slide" by suspending a gallon of water on the end of a very fine wire.

5) When looking through the microscope, close both eyes, otherwise your eyeball may be analyzed and found to be out of focus.

6) Focus the microscope by using high power and by turning the coarse adjustment down hard and fast until you hear the slide crack, then raise and complete the focusing process with fine adjustment.

7) When viewing live organisms, take heed that they do not crawl up the tube.

8) When frustrated, talk freely to the microscope and it will do its best to "adjust" the situation.

9) Never use profane language in the presence of a female microscope or the delicate instrument may be shocked and go to pieces.

10) Don't worry about breaking lenses: they are a dime a dozen. Always put worn out microscopes in the waste basket so they will be replaced.

11) Keep high power objective lense and slide in close contact so that you can hear a scratching noise when moving the slide.

12) At the close of the period: do not put the covers on the microscopes or they may become frightened in the dark. Always place male and female microscopes side by side. Throw microscopes into the cabinet and hope they won't fall out with a crash and break the silence.

Proficiency Tests Given To Juniors

Wednesday, November 7, marks the day the Junior English Proficiency Test will be given at Dana. The test, which is required of all juniors and of seniors who have not taken it in their junior year, will be given in Pioneer Memorial 318 from 10:30 to 12:20 p.m. All persons taking the test should bring pencils; and since a timed test is given first, all should be ready to begin promptly at 10:30.

During the testing period, two tests will be given. One is the STEP writing test which has a time limit of 70 minutes. The other is a grammar test which has no time limit but will take approximately a half hour.

With regard to reviewing for these tests, Dr. Rasmussen has stated: "Students are not required to review for the Junior English Proficiency Test; but if they feel weak in grammar, it would be wise for them to do some reviewing beforehand. Review on the writing test, which involves right ways of expressing ideas, would be as appropriate; it depends on consistent attention to word choice over a period of time."

These tests are given in the junior year to allow students with deficiencies in this area to remove such weaknesses before graduation.

Dr. Feder Advises On Dana Problems

Dr. Daniel Feder, student personnel director at California University, visited our campus last Thursday and Friday, the 25th and 26th, by invitation of Dana College. He was invited as a consultant to help find problem areas in our education program.

During his visit Dr. Feder met with and questioned the administration, faculty committee and individual faculty members to help stimulate our educational opportunities.

His primary concern was to strengthen the weak points found by the North Central Association of Teacher Education.

Dr. Rasmussen stated that "his visit was welcomed and gave us some good points to think about."

Original 'Hail Dana' Melody Was 'America the Beautiful'

"O hail, fair Dana, hail to thee! Our song to thee we sing. . ." These familiar lines are from "Hail Dana" which was the first official song of the college, although various unofficial compositions were used before it was written in the twenties.

A booklet of pep songs to be sung at athletic activities was printed in 1915 and included a two-verse composition in Danish. A few years later Miss Nellie Falk wrote three verses entitled "Hail Dana" and set to the melody of "America the Beautiful." For a time this was sung at special college events.

In the spring of 1926, a contest was held and students were invited to submit words for an official school song. Mr. Magnus Christensen composed the winning lines. Like the earlier "Hail Dana," these could be sung to the melody of "America the Beautiful," but Mr. Waldo B. Nielsen, director of the choir, composed the music which has since been the official melody.

In 1947, Dana played host to a distinguished scholar, the former editor of Forum and Century magazines and President Emeritus of The American-Scandinavian Foundation, Dr. Henry Goddard Leach. Among other things, Dr. Leach commented on the beauty of the Dana song. "Your 'Hail Dana' has all the thrill of 'Far Above Cayuga's Waters,'" he said, and added that it was one of the finest college songs he had heard and that it captured the very spirit of Dana.

"O hail, fair Dana, hail to thee!
Though time thy walls may claim
Thy spirit live, another throng
Rise up and sing our song."

Study In Denmark Is New Opportunity

This spring the first Dana student(s) will spend a semester at the University of Copenhagen in Denmark. This is to be made possible by the newly approved Scandinavian Studies Program for juniors in connection with "Danmarks Internationale Studenterkomitee."

In order to qualify, a student must have an overall grade average of at least 6, must be an upperclassman and having a little knowledge of Danish is desirable but not required.

Students will depart from Idlewild Airport on February 2; the semester ends with final examinations on June 6 and 7. Class hours meet Monday through Friday; weekly afternoon field trips are also arranged for some courses.

Courses offered in the program are Contemporary European History, Contemporary European Political Problems, Scandinavian Literature, Social Welfare in Denmark, European Economic Integration and Contemporary Danish Architecture and Design.

All credits will count towards the student's degree at Dana, but his course schedule must be approved by the college. A student must be recommended by his counselor and approved by the administration in order to make the trip.

The entire cost to the student for tuition, board, room, transportation (from New York City and back), Student Union membership, excursions, field trips and group activities will be $1,275.

Dr. Christiansen made it clear that juniors are preferred, but that any upperclassman is eligible. For further information one may see Dr. Christiansen in the Dean's office.

Lions To Sponsor 'TV Show' Monday

Sponsored by the Blair Lion's Club, the famous Ken Griffin Show will be presented in Alumni Memorial Auditorium on Monday, November 5 at 8:00 p.m. This show, which has been presented on television, spans an entertainment range from comedy to artistry, including novelty acts, dancing and Ken Griffin's own TV headline act.

Tickets are 50¢ for students and $1.00 for faculty, and may be purchased in the Dean's office as well as at the box office.

As The Crow Flies

Washington vs. The Kremlin:

On Monday night, October 23, it looked as if the United States had taken the initial step in the creation of a third world war when President Kennedy formally announced in his report to the nation that the United States military forces had been given the order to set up a military blockade near the island of Cuba.

In the U.N. criticisms and accusations were thrown at the United States by both the delegates of Cuba and the Soviet Union. The Cuban delegate spoke of the U.S. government as committing an unpardonable act of aggression and imperialism and, although he admitted the presence of Russian missiles in Cuba, he stated that they were merely in defense of such "Yankee Imperialism."

Then came the break that put the United States in the driver's seat. In his speech before the United Nations, directly following that of the Cuban delegate, the Russian delegate, after saying nothing else, flatly denied the existence of Soviet missiles in Cuba. The previous admission by Cuba along with photographs of such missiles and bases taken by a United States U-2 plane forced the Kremlin into admission of a lie, and broke the back of the Soviet effort to put the United States in the wrong.

The following events of the week led to many proposals on the part of the Kremlin and many "no's" on the part of the United States.

Now that an agreement seems to have been reached on the dismantling of the Cuban bases, it appears that for once the United States has learned to stand on its own feet and in so doing, has forced the Soviet Union to trip over a shoe too big for its delegates to handle.

That's the news as I fly by . . .

Welsch Entertains NFS

The first meeting of the Nebraska Folklore Society was held in Lincoln, Sunday, October 28. The general theme for the first meeting was "Folk Music."

Professor Roger Welsch played his banjo and guitar with audience participation in the songs as he provided the entertainment of the meeting.

Others attending from Dana were Professor Norman Bansen and Charles Crow.

Plainsmen Host Vikings In First Tilt Since '58

This Friday night Nebraska Wesleyan will play host to the Dana College Vikings in a non-conference tilt. It will be the first meeting of the two schools since 1958.

Nebraska Wesleyan is a much improved team since its performances earlier in the season. Wesleyan is a bigger school than Dana and is also in a higher conference. Even though it is not considered a power in its conference Wesleyan is still tough and has a rugged line.

Dana Takes One, Drops One To Assure Championship Tie

Dana's Homecoming crowd was treated to a thrilling Viking victory over the Westmar Eagles, 14-7. It was the first Viking Homecoming victory since the days of the Korean conflict.

The game's only scoring came in the first half. Dana jumped off to an early 7-0 lead on an 11-yard run by quarterback Roger Beck. Westmar retaliated before the end of the quarter and tied the score 7-7. But in the second quarter, fleet Viking halfback Bryce Olson raced 47 yards for the decisive touchdown. Maynard Kellerman kicked both points after the touchdowns.

Outstanding team effort by Dana's offensive and defensive units was the biggest factor in the victory. Freshman fullback Greg Mitchell chalked-up on defense. Tom Frank recovered three Westmar fumbles and Al Reinking recovered one.

By winning this game, the Vikings clinched a tie for the Tri-State Conference Championship.

Last Saturday, the talented and inspired Concordia Bulldogs came to Viking field to meet the more talented, but less inspired and over-confident Dana Vikings. The Bulldogs were unleashed and the Vikings were devoured.

The game was decided early as Concordia jumped off to a 7-0 lead. The shock deflated the Viking spirit. It was the first conference game this season that Dana was behind. The final score was 21-6.

Dana standouts were few and far between. The Viking offense was unable to sustain any drive and the defense could not halt the powerful Bulldogs. The offense never scored. The defense provided the only thrill when Byron Jensen picked up a Concordia fumble and raced 17 yards for the touchdown.

Barring an improbable tie in this weekend's Midland-Concordia clash, the generous Vikings will share the Tri-State Conference Championship with the winner of the Warrior-Bulldog game.

Harriers Defeated Meet The Vikings By Westmar, 19-40

On October 20, Westmar defeated Dana, 19-40, in the last dual cross-country meet of the season for the Vikings. Ron Hough placed third for Dana.

Last Friday, October 26, Dana ran its last meet of the year as Westmar was host for the Tri-State Conference cross-country meet. Team scoring was Westmar, 35; Midland, 51; Dana, 80; Yankton, 83, Concordia, 96. The individual winner was Todd Furgeson of Midland with a time of 15:49.

The Challenger

As this article goes to press the so called "Cuban Crisis" is quickly dwindling into the annals of American diplomacy and the permanent record of United Nations Security Council.

Certainly though this international episode was without its share of repercussions reaching out as far as Blair, Nebraska, our campus could feel the war hysteria-like tremors that can be caused by such a Presidential proclamation.

In hours of near catastrophic peril, it is especially interesting to observe the reactions of others about us. The grave facial expressions of some seemed to echo the evaluation of the situation. The flippancy of others could possibly have been indicative of delight or despair. The vigorous boasting of our nation's deterrent strength, the loyal cries of Dana's potential drifters and the unobservable but subtly apparent mental preparations for nuclear calamity on the part of most of us, are now fading out of our conversation and consciousness.

What has such an event meant to Christians? What did it mean to you or me, or was it just a garbled void? There are some Christians who would see it as a sign of the last hours of our world. And there are those who see the Russian concession as a ray of promise from a more enlightened Soviet mind.

To the majority of us, it was an abrupt search—a tapping of our mental and spiritual resources. As this week's challenge I ask you "What did you find?"

R.D.H.

Ronald Anderson—Ron is an Evan, Minnesota, freshman and is a quarterback who was heralded last year when he played on his undefeated high school team. This lad is expected to play some offense and much defense throughout the Viking season.

Lynn Barnes—Lynn is an Iowa product from Mineola. He is a junior end who is seeing considerable action this season. Lynn has been, in past seasons, a speedy offensive end. This year Lynn has done much defensive work. In the last game Lynn sustained a head injury, but he will be ready for action later this season.

Ron Beck—Ron is an Exira, Iowa lad. At the tackle position, this husky freshman is a real bolster to the offensive and defensive line. Ron has shown this year that the Vikings have many more tough games to expect from him in his future years at Dana.

Bob Christiansen—From Oak Lawn, Illinois, comes Bob Christiansen. Bob has had no experience; however, he is a Big Red hopeful for this season.

Tim Classen—Tim is an Omaha, Nebraska, boy. He is a small, hustling defensive center. Tim is a freshman here at Dana who hopes to pick up much valuable experience in his first year with the Vikings.

Richard Evans—Richard, a sophomore from Brunswick, Maine, was injured last season in last year's Yankton game. This season Rich was raring to go again when he re-injured his knee. Rich was stated as being a very vital speedy halfback.

Anton Fendrick, Jr.—Tony is a Pender, Nebraska, freshman who was on last year's all-state football squad in high school. At the end position, Anton could be a very vital player in future years.

Richard Houston—From Northfield, Minnesota, comes Richard Houston. Dick is a freshman guard. After adjusting to college ball, Dick should be very valuable at offensive guard position.

Thomas Lange—Tom, formerly a Racine, Wisconsin, grinder, is a junior guard. Tom has no college experience, but it is hoped that his maturity and skillfulness will help improve depth situations that face the Big Red.
