Shakespeare Players Enact Scenes from Author's Plays

Students of the Shakespeare class will present humorous and dramatic scenes from Twelfth Night, King Lear and Hamlet, Saturday evening, April 27 at 8:00 in Alumni Memorial Auditorium, under the direction of Richard Moosmann.

Gary Ramsay as Malvolio, a self-important and conceited servant in Twelfth Night, finds himself out of the graces of his mistress Olivia (Mary Jane Clausen) when he follows the absurd suggestions of pleasing her in a forged letter appropriately placed by Olivia's comic maid, Maria (Dr. Engelman).

Playing the part of the mad King Lear, Dennis Berkej divides his kingdom between his two vengeful, but flattering daughters, while his youngest daughter, Cordelia (Mary Jane Clausen) who loves him most is banished with no inheritance.

A dramatic scene from Hamlet depicts the meeting of Hamlet (Richard Jorgensen) and the Ghost (Richard Moosmann) of his father, Hamlet Sr., on the rampart as the Ghost reveals to Hamlet that he was murdered by his brother Claudius (Dennis Berkej), who plotted against him and stole his throne.

Also featured will be Elizabethan costumes; a replica of the Globe Theater, complete with Elizabethan spectators and a scene from MacBeth; and six paintings by Sandra Warman, a former Shakespeare student, depicting scenes from Twelfth Night.

Elizabethan music will be provided by Janet Hansen, Marj Kathman and Liz Nielsen. Earland Estes is in charge of music and Dr. Herta Engelman, Shakespeare instructor, is coordinator for the evening.

Admission charge is 25 cents.

May Fest Royalty Candidates Chosen

Candidates for the May Fest Royalty chosen by the student body in the election on April 5th are the following:

For Queen: Judy Swenson, Joan Nielsen, Julie Sanderson, Kay McGill, Sharon Olson and Vallory Petersen.

For King: Gary Lebeck, Everitt Petersen, Dean Henricksen, Arden Dorn, Barry Tuttle and Rich Jorgensen.

Election for the three finalists in each area will be on Fri., May 3 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the regular voting place, outside the entrance to the Library reading room.

'Hermes' Receives A.C.P. Rating

Hermes received a "second class" rating on the first semester issues from Associated Collegiate Press (ACP), a college newspaper information and rating service.

Some of the high points were news sources and stories, balance and treatment of copy, copyreading, editorials, sports coverage, front page layout, typography, printing and photography.

Weak points included news story leads, features, editorial page makeup, sports writing and display, inside news pages and headlines.

Under the category of weeklies, 700 or less enrollment (area into which Hermes falls) there were no "All American" ratings, six "first class," five "second class," and four "third class."

The ratings that a paper receives from the ACP is intended to show how it compares with other papers in its own classification throughout the nation.

Four Accepted For Peace Corps

Four Dana students have been accepted for training in the Peace Corps.

Ken Muehl from Pawaukee, Wisconsin, and Ruth Meyer from Johnson, Nebraska, have been assigned to the Philippine Islands to help in the area of elementary education.

Donna Berryman from Cement, Oklahoma, has been assigned to British Honduras and will begin training in New Mexico in August.

Junior Schultz from Blair, has been assigned to East Pakistan in the area of agriculture.

Reception and Concert Highlight Parents' Day

Dana College will observe the National Christian College Sunday by designating Sunday, April 28, as the 1963 Parents' Day. This day is set aside to give the parents an opportunity to visit the campus and become better acquainted with Dana College.

The program for Parents' Day will begin with formal worship service at 11:00 a.m. at First Lutheran Church. Following the worship service all guests are invited to dinner in the College Dining Room at 12:15 p.m.

A special Parents' Day Program is planned for 2:15 p.m. in Alumni Memorial. At 3:30 there will be a President's Reception in the College Dining Hall. Following the reception, all-campus Open House will be held from 4:30 until 6:30. Parents and friends are invited to visit any and all buildings on the campus.

The highlight of the day is a concert by the Dana College a Cappella Choir under the direction of Professor Paul Neve. This is the annual home concert and will be held in Alumni Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Drury Wall Presents Lectures on Mathematics for Students and Faculty

Dr. Drury Wall, associate professor of mathematics at the University of Iowa, will present the fourth in a series of lectures in Dana's Year of Dedication, on Friday-Saturday, April 26-27.

On Friday at 9:00 a.m., Dr. Wall will speak on "Construction of Algebraic Systems"; this is for faculty and advanced students. From 2-4 p.m. there will be student and faculty conferences. At 7:30 p.m., Dr. Wall will present a public lecture on the topic "The Concept of a Group."

At 10:00 a.m., Saturday, Dr. Wall will give a lecture and discussion program especially designed for teachers of mathematics called "The New Mathematics and Mathematics Curricula."

This event will also be in Doctors' Auditorium.

Dr. Wall is a graduate of Tulane University and the University of Michigan. Before coming to Iowa, Dr. Wall held a similar position at the University of North Carolina and was a mathematician with the National Security Agency in Washington.

He has been a visiting lecturer for the Mathematical Association of America since 1961, and in 1962 was the official delegate from the University of Iowa to the International Congress of Mathematicians in Stockholm.

Dr. Wall is primarily interested in rings and algebra, their structure and representations, and characters; homological algebra; quasi-groups; lattices and theory of numbers.

Alpha Chi Representatives Have 'High' Time Over Texas

By Way of Bob

It's a bird, it's a plane, . . . it's only Alpha Chi returning from Texas. Maybe if we can elbow our way through the TV cameramen, we can interview Dana's flying intelligensia, plus faculty member—Doctor Lehmer. (Well, we did have a 3-minute interview in Wichita Falls, and we did make the local TV station that night.)

"Is this that fraternity from South Dakota that attended the conference?"

"Yes, we are," (never mind the details), "now if you'll excuse us, our plane lacked 'facilities' . . ."

"Now then . . . how was the conference?"

"Fine."

"And how was flying?"
"Urp!" (Actually we even helped navigate and confuse the course . . . Must say California was great.)

"How long was this conference?"

"Well, for us—three hours, minus meals, of course." (To be honest, because of a combination of weather and engine difficulties, our departure was delayed nearly 24 hours.)

"I understand you were also 24 hours late in returning."

"Yes, weather was certainly cooperative. We had this neat squall going for us. So what to do. . . . Since we couldn't go north, we went south, to the land of Big D itself—you-all know—Dallas!"

(These three Dana coeds attended the National Alpha Chi Honor Society Conference in Wichita Falls March 29, 30. Dr. Lehmer, faculty advisor, piloted the chartered private plane entitled "35 Wisky" that took them to the conference.—Editor)

"Oh, how was Dallas?"

"Swinging, like these people 'up yonder' don't know what they're missing! If this is oil country, pump away. You wouldn't even believe the big mansions! We even rubbed elbows with some of the rich ones when we stayed at SMU (Southern Methodist University) in a dorm even worse than our men's halls! However, downtown Dallas was our main attraction, what with Mexican restaurants and Carta Blanca."

"And what made you leave Dallas?"

"Well—ah—hmn—ah—Mr. Neve?" (We have this choir concert in Council Bluffs tonight.)

"Did you make this return trip, then, all in one day?"

"You better believe it! We left Dallas at 11 a.m. this morning, stopped at Oklahoma State University for lunch from 2:30 until 4 p.m., and we are now here in Omaha at 6:30. Now, man that's traveling!"

"Yes, you can certainly say that. And I do hope that you will kindly hide your Confederate flags outside the church while singing. And are there any other comments you wish to make at this time?"

"Oh, yes, the conference was really . . . fine."

Lizanne Nielsen
Janet Francis

"Don't Fence Me In!!" That's what George Maharis sings, and that's what the student body screams. These ugly and ultra-dangerous contraptions that are supposed to keep clodhoppers off the grass aren't really doing much good besides injuring those who "forget" and run into them.

If sidewalks around here were laid in a practical fashion instead of in a pattern which might look nice from the air (it certainly doesn't from any other angle), then there would perhaps not be this problem of "cow-paths" across the lawns. Don't Fence Me In!!!

Dana makes the cover page!! Yes, a full page picture of Old Main adorned this past week's issue of THE LUTHERAN STANDAR, the official church paper of The American Lutheran Church. One interesting note is that even though Dana has several new and modern buildings, our stately and majestic Old Main with its tower overlooking the Mighty Missouri and the city of Blair, still remains the symbol and representative building of our fair campus. Long may she stand!

To the few girls who braved the mysterious interiors of the men's dorms last Saturday night, Congratulations! It was rather disheartening to the fellows who so diligently cleaned their rooms for the inspection of the female population and then to have so few girls come over. Maybe Open House has lost its charm; or was it because there was no mistletoe to be caught under at this time of year?

Council Clips

By Tom Lange

A committee has been set up to study the possibility of organizing a student congregation on campus. This committee will draw up a tentative constitution to present to the Council.

Herb Knudsen has presented a charter for the Student Tutorship Society to the faculty, who have referred it to a committee for consideration.

Members of the delegation to the Lutheran Student Seminar were asked to talk to the proper officials in Washington, D.C. concerning the possibility of bringing an African student here who has studied in Bulgaria. At the last council meeting Rich Jorgensen reported that he had contacted officials in Washington and would be corresponding with them further.

Chuck Jorgensen presented to the Council a list of general regulations for Freshmen Initiation. These regulations were discussed and approved and will be followed in future years for Freshmen Initiation.

Council voted to send a birthday greeting to Dr. Charles A. Dana on behalf of the student body.

Herb asked to officially represent the Council at a Tri-State Conference meeting for student body presidents held here Tuesday. This meeting was intended to associate the various student governments of the Tri-State schools.

'... And How About a New Organ, Too?'

Recently three new pianos were added to the music department's practice rooms in Alumni Memorial Auditorium. This is very fine indeed. Some of the old "klunkers" that were down in those practice rooms made practice really difficult.

But what about the "klunkers" that the college owns called organs? Neither the Conn in the basement nor the Möller in the auditorium are in very good condition—in fact they should be rated as in quite "poor condition."

The Conn has notes that "click" and some that stick, to say nothing of the sputterings and groans that issue forth from its soundbox.

Upstairs, the Möller does some weird things, for example cipherring during the middle of a hymn or at the end of a song; or perhaps a key will stick or a stop refuse to operate, to say nothing of the condition of the tone chambers.

Perhaps some of the money used for the new pianos should have been spent to repair the organs (really repair them!), or to buy a new electronic organ. Perhaps some less needed improvement took precedence over one that has been needed, not only for a few months, but for years!

Then again, perhaps an old "klunker" is just as good as a new instrument to accompany the hymns and songs which we offer to God in our chapel services. Maybe his ear isn't "musically" tuned and he doesn't mind, but really is just anything good enough for God while we put our best in the basement?

Rabbi Hamburger Speaks on Judaism

Rabbi Wolfgang Hamburger, a noted Jewish lecturer, will speak in Mickelsen Hall, Monday evening, April 29 at 7:30.

The theme of his presentation will be "Basic Beliefs of Judaism." He is sponsored by the Dana College chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

Rabbi Wolfgang Hamburger

Rabbi Hamburger was born in Germany where he received his early education. He was graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1949 with a B.A. degree and received an M.A. degree from that university in German. He was ordained a rabbi at Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, then receiving his M.H.L. degree.

Presently serving as spiritual leader of the South Street Temple in Lincoln, Nebraska, he also lectures on college campuses under the auspices of the Jewish Chautauqua Society, an organization disseminating authentic information concerning Judaism as part of an education program.

Rabbi Hamburger addressed an LSA meeting two years ago on the campus.

Folklorist Welsch Says, 'Preserve Our Culture'

In an effort to enrich the study of modern languages, Roger Welsch, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, has brought folklore and folk music to the classroom.

The beginning of his interest in folk-singing stems back to undergraduate days. A $10 guitar and a tape recorder brought on an awareness of what it could offer. Now his musical ability has grown to include mastery of a 12-string guitar and a five-stringed banjo. Admitting that it was difficult to learn the various techniques, tuning and folk-stories that go along with it, Mr. Welsch did it, nevertheless, without any formal lessons. But he is quick to add that "it is non-professional and non-academic and is just a hobby."

Since joining the Dana faculty in 1960 he has spent a great deal of time and effort collecting songs, finger-games and folk-lore in general. These plus taped songs, stories, games and tales will become a part of the Danish-American Study Archives to be located eventually in room 301 of Pioneer Memorial. The material for the archives is being collected to preserve the Danish culture for scholars and others who will, in the future, want to study Danish culture.

"The project is already underway. About 10 hours of actual conversation with people of Danish background has been collected on tape. A library of Danish books has been donated. But we need student co-operation," he says. "Anything worth saving including scholarly material is welcome."

Welsch's personal collection of musical instruments is almost enough to start an exhibit by itself. Included in his collection are stringed instruments from Vietnam, Bolivia, Sweden, Japan, Hong Kong, Russia, China, the Philippines and America.

Besides his numerous musical instruments, Professor Welsch has several hundred recorded tapes of folk music from many countries. One student, visiting at his home remarked, "I have heard of 'book worms,' but I've never seen a real 'tape worm.'"

To further add to his knowledge and background he spent the summer of 1959 cycling through Europe with his wife. While there he gathered more folk songs and talked to many people. "Folklore," he says, "is a real part of language study and cannot be separated. Literature brings the culture and personality of the intelligentsia; folklore brings the story of all the people whether they are laughing or are sad."

In offering advice to students he says, "You should become aware of the vast opportunities of culture around here and not yearn for California or New York. Within the immediate area are to be found fossils and other geological discoveries. Within ten minutes you can see an Indian fort; or you can see the place where the Mormons crossed the river and died; there are areas where Indian wars took place. And on the Indian reservations you can see a culture in action and it is fascinating."

"And even in your own home," he continues, "you can see culture in action. Listen to the stories your father tells or the songs your mother sings. These should be saved for your children and your children's children."

If anyone has an interest or a question concerning the Danish-American Study Archives he or she is urged and invited to stop in and see Mr. Welsch. "The whole success of the Archives Project depends on the students entirely," says Welsch.

Professor Roger Welsch

Something To Think About

By Bob Hansen

The end of another school year is fast approaching. Soon the great majority of us will begin our trek home to jobs and habits we have abandoned for the past eight months.

As we do so, it is with the knowledge that we are not the same persons that we were when we entered school last fall. New faces, new knowledge and new opportunities are now ours.

However, unless we as individuals are prepared to integrate consciously our new experiences, I sincerely doubt how useful this past year will be to us. Taking time to reflect over that which is known and aligning it into some meaningful configuration is as necessary for a mature attitude as accumulating voluminous data.

Summer will offer most of us plenty of leisure time. Perhaps we, who shall be returning next fall, can plan in our own minds how we can bring the best of ourselves back to share with our friends and our school. And for those of us who are graduating, perhaps we can plan how to be a better friend to Dana. It is as I believe, "something to think about."

New Officers Assume Duties May 1; President Comments

Student body officers for the 1963-64 school year were elected April 5, 1963. Chosen for the office of president was Tom Lange, a junior majoring in chemistry, from Racine, Wisconsin.

Tom has served on the Student Council for several years in various positions and has this year written "Council Clips," a column in HERMES presenting the activities of the Student Council and its meetings.

Richard Jorgensen, a history-English major from Des Moines, Iowa, was elected vice-president. He is an incumbent to this office.

Kathy Olsen, a sophomore from Blair, Nebraska, and Bob Jensen, a junior from Eugene, Oregon, were chosen for the positions of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The new officers officially assume their respective duties on May 1.

After the election, the new president released the following statement:

"I wish to thank everyone who worked on my campaign and those who put their confidence in me to represent and serve the students as Student Body President.

"Most of us attending Dana love our college and want to see it continually bettered as an academic institution and as an active and stimulating community of students. Working together with these goals in mind we can add our part in the coming year to all that has been accomplished in this direction by those who in the past have been devoted to Dana.

"The basic challenge I have accepted as Student Body President is to involve the majority of students in the functions and services of student government, so that the student body may benefit from the unified efforts of all to build a better Dana College.

"In the near future I will be calling upon you to participate in the activities of student government. For now I ask for your prayers for those of us chosen to be your leaders, that we may be equal to the challenge before us."

Special Report on Trip to Washington, D.C., New York

From April 7th to the 10th over one hundred college students from all over the United States, including eight students from Dana, had the opportunity to learn about the operations of our government on the scene. Morning, afternoon and evening sessions took us to several sites of government departments, including the Capitol Building, the Supreme Court Building, the Pentagon and the State Department Building.

The sessions consisted of an address by the speaker and a question period, during which time the students could question or challenge statements made by the speaker. Dr. Ernest Griffith, dean of the American University's School of International Service; J. William Theis, chief of the UPI's Senate reporting staff; Ray Scherer, White House correspondent for NBC and Dr. C. E. Carlson, Executive Director of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, were among the outstanding speakers at the conference.

During some of our free time we were able to visit places of interest such as the several Presidential monuments, the National Archives, the Smithsonian Institute, the Shakespearean Museum, the Treasury Building, National Art Gallery, the White House (from the outside only) and the FBI headquarters.

In addition to the conference in Washington, D.C., we took the opportunity to tour the United Nations Building in New York and sat in on a session in the Social-Economic Council Chamber.

All of us came back feeling a little more confident about the total situation in Washington and very grateful for the opportunity we had.

Yankton Outslugs Dana As Vikings Drop Double-header

Dana Vikings played host to a visiting Yankton club last Saturday, who won both games of the double-header.

Powerful Yankton pitching held the Vikings scoreless throughout both games. In the first contest Mark Petersen and Brian Rich, Dana pitchers, gave up eight hits and five runs compared to four hits and no runs by Yankton hurlers.

The second game developed into a pitchers' dual between Dana's Jim Jorgensen and Yankton's Bob Miller. Jorgensen held the Yankton hitters to just one run and two hits and also collected Dana's only two hits.

No hitting support was given to Miller by his teammates however, but he also kept the Vikings hitless. Yankton picked up their one run from Jorgensen in the second inning, but it was enough to stymie the Dana Nine.

Golfers Shut Out In Two Matches

Last Thursday, April 18, saw the Viking golfers go down before Creighton and Omaha U. in a triangular match. In each match the Vikings were shut out 3-0.

Carl Mackie lost to Fred Werve, Creighton and Bill Hoffman, O. U. Dave Barber lost to Tom Smith, Creighton and John Counshman, O.U. Dean Henriksen lost to Creighton Fuji, Creighton and Mike McGovern, O. U. And Mike Sink lost to Pete Emmanue, Creighton and Jim Gember, O.U.

Bill Hoffman was the medalist with a 75. Dave Barber led the Dana golfers with a 91.

On Saturday the Dana golf team met three other teams in a quadrangular tournament at Midland. Besides Dana, Midland, Concordia and Nebraska Wesleyan were on hand.

Concordia won honors with a 345 (for 4 golfers), followed by Nebraska Wesleyan with 362, Midland with 370 and Dana with 377.

Mike Held of Concordia was medalist with an 81. An 83 by Carl Mackie led the Vikings.

Dana Diamondmen Fall To Creighton

After splitting a double-header with St. Cloud April 9, the Dana baseball players traveled to Omaha on the 18th and dropped a close game to a more fortunate Creighton nine.

The Vikings took an early lead by posting one and two runs in the first and second innings, respectively. Creighton regained the lead in the fifth and went on to win.

A two-run Dana rally in the ninth was to no avail and the Vikings lost 6 to 5.

Although Dana obtained nine hits to Creighton's seven, the "breaks" just did not fall in the scoring column. This loss left Dana with a 2 won, 4 lost season.

Students Visit Benedictine Monastery: Several Comment on What They Saw

On April 6 the Advanced Composition class taught by Professor Norman Bansen made a field trip to Mount Michael Monastery located at Elkhorn, Nebraska. Their host was Father Edward Malone, rector of St. John's Seminary there.

After the visit, one student commented, "As I toured the monastery I was most impressed with the up-to-date aspect of it. My conception of a monastery had been that of a place, more or less closed to the world, and I suppose somewhat gloomy in nature."

"...As our guide said, 'We know that even if we do not accomplish all we desire, it will be completed by those coming after us.' Even though we are Lutherans and they are Roman Catholic Benedictines, we cannot help admiring their dedication," stated another student.

"From the first view of Mt. Michael Monastery to the final appraisal, I found that I had to abandon quite a few of my stereotyped Lutheran ideas concerning the operation of a Catholic monastery," another commented.

In general the students found that the monks were not "stuffy" and that they definitely had not lost contact with the world.

In summary, one student remarked, "As we pulled away from the monastery, I kept wondering how many other things I hadn't appreciated simply because I hadn't taken time enough to really understand them."

Straight talk

from Lutheran Brotherhood about student insurance

WHEN TO BUY INSURANCE. During college is an ideal time. Even though right now your responsibilities may be few, those responsibilities often pile on fast after graduation. If you've started an insurance program now—in anticipation of those responsibilities—you'll be better able to meet them.

TYPES OF INSURANCE. There are three basic types of insurance policies: (1) term, which is temporary protection; (2) whole life, which is lifetime protection with savings features; (3) endowment, which is primarily savings with protection included until the endowment matures. Various combinations of these are offered by most insurance companies.

THE COST OF INSURANCE. Don't be fooled by "bargain" insurance. You get exactly the protection and savings features you pay for—no more. Yet the earlier you take out life insurance, the lower the premium.

WHICH INSURANCE PLAN? No single plan will fit the needs of all college students. Lutheran Brotherhood offers a variety of plans—each excellent, but each designed to do different things. One, for example, offers $10,000 of protection for less than 50¢ a day to college age men. Another—for married students with children—offers $2,500 of protection for each child at only $7.50 a year up to age 18. Yet another—designed especially for college students and young family men—offers $10,000 of protection at less than 12¢ a day during the first years, then builds into a solid protection and savings plan as your income grows.

HOW TO CHOOSE. You should have skilled counsel when you choose an insurance program. Your Lutheran Brotherhood representative offers that service. Whether you plan to buy insurance now—or simply would like a more detailed explanation about the role of insurance during your college days and in your future—drop him a note or give him a call. He'll be glad to give you all the information you want.
