THE DANA MESSENGER

V XLVII

Blair, Nebraska, November 12, 1965

Number 10

Poverty Subject of ALC Conference

This Thanksgiving, Wartburg Seminary at Dubuque, Iowa, will host the ALC College Conference. 200 delegates from all of the colleges and seminaries of the church will discuss for three days the role of the church in social action, particularly in the area of poverty. Provoking thought on this timely question will be speakers from the three major religious groups in the United States; Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish. All are experts in the area of social action and each will represent the views of his particular faith in the area of social reform. The three include Dr. Richard Henry Luecke, Father Colman J. Barry, and Rabbi Arthur Gilbert.

Dr. Luecke, author of several books and numerous contributions to periodicals, is presently Director of Studies at the Urban Training Center of Christian Mission in Chicago. The UTC is a cooperative effort on the part of several denominations to provide an opportunity for study on the part of churchmen in the area of urban ministries.

Father Barry, President of St. John's University in Collegville, Minnesota, will present the role of Catholicism in social action. Upperclassmen may remember that Father Barry appeared on the Dana campus several years ago while we were discussing in LARP a book concerning dialogue between the Roman Catholic and Protestant churches.

Rabbi Gilbert is currently Director of the Department of Inter-religious Curriculum Research for the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith. He is also serving as Director of the project. Religious Freedom and Public Affairs of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. This project stimulated research on issues such as religious practices in the public schools and the use of public funds in support of church-related institutions and the legislation of morality.

Each of these men promise to be most interesting and thought provoking. The delegates from Dana look forward to hearing what they have to say and hope to relay to the students the insight received from them.

'Freya of the Month'

Barbara Yiannikis, 18, black hair, brown eyes, composure, grace, pleasant . . .

Barbara, freshman, is a biology major with a drama minor. She comes from Aurora, Colo. She is a sports enthusiast, singer and dancer. She loves to travel especially in Europe. She was a finalist in the Miss Colorado Universe contest last year.

Barbara said of herself, "I am somewhat of a tomboy. I want to be a lab technician after graduation and then, I want to get married."

Barbara's ideal man "must be a gentleman with a college degree and a broad mind. He must be well-groomed, a sports enthusiast and be able to carry on a good conversation."

Barbara Yiannikis, brilliant, personable . . . Freya of November.

Creighton Players Give Closet Drama

Tuesday evening November 16, at 9:00 P.M. the Creighton University players will perform on the stage of A.M.A. The title of their dramatic production will be "Existential Thought in the Theatre." Admission will be by student activity cards.

This production will consist of one act of a Shakespearean play, the dramatization of a short story by the French existentialist Jean-Paul Sartre, and the dramatization of a short story by a Spanish existentialist. This presentation will be what is known as closet drama, or dramatized readings, and should contain some very exciting material. It is also interesting to note that this will be a student-director production.

The Dana drama troupe took a show to Creighton about a week ago. This is the second year that we have swapped shows with them.

Senior Survey of Freshman English

The English Department announced today that a poll of seniors would be taken next week. The purpose of the survey is to determine unperceived reactions to the freshman English program. Results of the survey will be used to analyze the strengths and weaknesses of the present course and to gather suggestions for modifications.

Seniors were chosen as subjects because of their knowledge of the course work which freshman English supports. Although their own freshman course will be somewhat remote, their recent experience with the rigors of upper division classes should give added insight into the problems encountered along the way to the baccalaureate degree.

Questions asked of the seniors will include observations on the kind and length of specific subjects within the course and the orientation of the course as a whole.

Though the poll is being taken among seniors, anyone interested in contributing suggestions is invited to pick up a questionnaire from Mr. Emmerich in OM204 any time next week.

R.A.B. SPEAKS OUT . . .

'Let There Be Light'!

A funny thing happened to one of Dana's male students the other day. He went out into the parking lot to use his car and all four of his wheels had been stolen.

In reality, this is not funny in fact, it is completely uncalled for. The above incident isn't the only thing that has taken place. A list was submitted to Hermes with a total amount of damage in the area of $725.00. This covers everything from the painting of a car to taking all four wheels off of another.

One student told us that upon learning he had lost a front tire, he thought it would be best to report the incident to the police. This was done, but to add insult to injury, the police thought it was very amusing that someone would steal a tire.

These are only a few incidents that have happened recently. We learned that there were to be lights in the parking lots. But as you can all see it is still pretty dark out there.

We are not advocating a police force; we think that a student should be able to leave a car on campus without having to chain it down. Very few student drivers carry theft insurance which means any loss will come from their own pocket. This in itself should be a pretty good reason to try and correct the situation.

We have brought this situation to light because we feel that light is the only remedy to try and correct the situation. The school probably would have a hard time keeping a campus policeman busy. So let's clear this situation up and shed some light on the subject.

Across The Footlights

by Dick Moosmann

Last weekend, most of the students witnessed a production of John Steinbeck's Of Mice and Men. To those of you who did not take the time to see this, I offer my condolences; it was your loss.

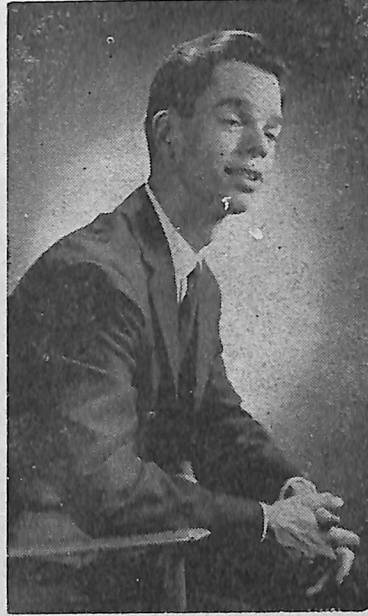

I must begin by offering my congratulations to Mr. Fred Lange. His "morganistic marriage of the Greek periaktoi with Russian Expressionism" set the mood for the entire play. The unique use of greys and the exaggerated detail gave the illusion of depression and of man's being overpowered by his environment. This is most important to the entire "message" of the play.

Naturally, it is the performance of the actors that makes the production live. The set can do just so much; it is the actors that must make those canvas walls come to life. Bob Hansen's portrayal of an over-sized adult with the mentality of a child, was excellent to say the least. He established his character and never strayed. Ben Talley proved what was hinted at in Bus Stop; he has talent and promise.

Other performances worthy of note were those of Rolan Bentjen, Cy Warmanen, and Jan Murphy. Pam Clark obviously saw meaning in her performance of Curley's wife, but she lacked mobility. Experience is all she really needs. Jim Beck, as Slim, shows promise and I hope we see more of him. The supporting cast fulfilled their role in making the production complete.

There were certainly some extremely high moments in the production. The death of Curley's wife was excellently staged and the closing scene between Lenny and George was one of conflict and heart warming emotion. The actors created such a mood that the audience was fully aware of the emotional consequences to George. It was unfortunate that there had to be a scene change between scenes two and three in Act II. Whenever a mood is created as it was in scene two, a break destroys this and leaves the actors the extremely difficult task of carrying this over during set change and audience chatter. The task was performed rather effectively, no thanks to Mr. Steinbeck.

Naturally, every production has its problems, and this was no exception. My one real criticism was that the performance lacked polish and only time could have accomplished this. It was believable, meaningful, and effective, but it could have been even more so. Experience means a lot and this only comes with time.

David Burge, Noted Pianist
In Concert Tuesday Night

David Burge

Mr. David Burge, pianist, will play his own "Second Piano Sonata" and several contemporary and classical works Monday, November 15.

Mr. Burge is a noted pianist, lecturer, composer, teacher and adjudicator. The Special Events Committee has made it possible for him to appear here.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in Alumni Memorial Auditorium. Admission will be by activities' card. Tickets will be available at the door for those who do not have activities cards.

Mr. Burge has been a featured artist at the First International Webern Festival, the Festival of American Music and at several university music festivals.

Mr. Burge was recently appointed conductor of the Boulder Philharmonic Orchestra, Boulder, Colo. He is on the faculty at the University of Colorado where he directs the New Music Ensemble.

Winters To Direct

Reform Committee

Initiation Committee headed by Gary Winters, is working on a revision of initiation policies.

Ken Lizer was appointed to investigate the freshmen initiation programs of other schools in the conference.

Solid ideas for successful improvement of Dana's initiation may be submitted to any Student Council member.

Student Viet Nam
Demonstrations

ARE THEY RIGHT?

Should Dana students plan a demonstration protesting American policies in Viet Nam (though not implying a total withdrawal from that area), what would your immediate reaction be?

JIM WARDRIP: I would object to such a demonstration, because most student factions do not know what is happening in American foreign policy, and also because most demonstrations are merely seeking publicity.

SHARON TIMBERMAN: I would be against any kind of demonstration—there are better means than college students for such action. Try legal means!

RONNIE: I would not join because I am not an American. But, I would be interested in understanding the motives.

DAN ATEN: I would be against this demonstration because U.S. has a definite purpose in Viet Nam. People must deal with a situation as it is—fortunate or unfortunate—realizing that it is just as murderous to abandon our allies as it is to defend them.

BILL WEIGEL: I would object. It is unpatriotic to have a demonstration . . . anyway, it would have a bad influence on the boys over there.

Lennie (Bob Hansen) and Crooks (Cy Warmanen) come to blows over Lennie's friend.

Final Statistics Of Season Given

Different players have statistically led the Vikings during the last three games.

Phil Anderson is the leading runner. He gained 139 yards.

Bill Sorenson gained 131 yards. He led the team against Sioux Falls with 100 yards and against Yankton with 31 yards gained.

Knight Wynn led the team last week by gaining 79 yards. He gained 99 yards in the three games.

Jerry Quirk has been the only successful pass receiver. He caught ten passes for 99 yards.

Leading scorers have been Phil Anderson, Sorenson and Wynn. Anderson scored three touchdowns; Sorenson and Wynn, each two.

Jerry Bray and Roger Eitzmann have been the most frequent tacklers.

Eitzmann led three tackles, against Sioux Falls. Bray, Eitzmann and Marlow Remmers led three against Northwestern.

John Jensen has recovered two opponents' fumbles in the three games.

Others who have recovered fumbles are Dave Kelly, Remmers, Lowell Larson, Wynn, Bray, Rick Houston and Schettler.

Remmers intercepted two passes against Sioux Falls; Bray, two against Northwestern. Kelly and Peterson also intercepted passes against Sioux Falls.

Vikings Close Out A Losing Season

Dana finished out its season by bowing to the Bulldogs of Concordia Saturday. This was the sixth loss for the Vikings and gave the Bulldogs the fourth place berth in the final conference standings.

Concordia blasted the game wide open in the first period with a 21 point splurge. This was the only scoring of the game for either team. The T.D.'s for Concordia were set up by a long punt return by Jim Young and a fumble recovery on Dana's 30.

Although the Vikings finished with a losing season, it should be noted that the bulk of the burden was carried by underclassmen. There is much promise for Dana gridiron action in 1966. GO VIKINGS!!!

Letters for Spring Sports Announced

Varsity letter winners in spring 1965 sports were announced last week at a "D" club meeting. Thirty-nine men received awards.

Baseball has the most lettermen among the sports. Jim Jorgensen, Ken Kemmish and Wally Welandner received their third letter in the sport. Tim Brown, Jim Erickson, Don Perkovich, Bob Pratt, Gerry Quirk and Ken Quirk lettered for the second year.

First-time baseball lettermen included Keith Benson, Ron Bernier, Leon Bragg, Ken Luce, Roger Moller and Jerry Voll.

Fifteen lettered in track. John Seburg was a four-year letterman. Rich Evans, Garv Hienke and Knight Wynn lettered for the third time. Dennis Barker, Tony Fendrick, and Les Hausler were second-year lettermen.

Rookie lettermen in track were Leon Bracker, Tom Bisbee, Dick Coffey, Rich Hansen, Jerry Hendrickson, Mark McKenzie and Warren Renander.

Five men, Bob Boldig, Tim Brown, Brian Kolterman, Keith Limbo and Richard Loeber, received letters for golf. Brown and Limbo are second-year lettermen; the others are first-year.

Tim Classen and Dennis Jeppen lettered for the second time in tennis. Larry Engdahl lettered for the first time.

SMOKE-PURE LUNGS HELP GO-GIRLS WIN

Surprisingly enough the campaign of the Argo-Go girls to eliminate smoker's lungs was rewarded by a three-game victory over the Unmentionables. The attack was led by "spiker" Ruth Rvsta and assisted by several physical education majors; Pat O'Dell, Lois Vaught, Cheryl Hanson, and Bonnie Heiss.

The highlight of the evening was the game between 4th Argo and 4th Mickelsen. Both teams showed outstanding volleyball ability, especially Carol Hauser, mann and Barb Holsing. The girls on 4th Mickelsen finally sneaked to victory by winning the last game, 15-11.

Next week will determine whether or not the Hinus and Playgirls of Mickelsen will be able to continue their winning streak, and whether or not the All Stars and Unmentionables will continue their losing streak!

Physical Fitness Results Prove Better Than Past

Results of the AAHPER Physical Fitness Test administered to freshmen and sophomore women at Dana this fall, have been completed. In comparison with the national norms for the test (established by the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation in colleges throughout the nation) Dana's scores for the group are above average in three items (modified pull-ups, sit-ups, and 600-yard run-walk), average in two items (shuttle run and softball throw), and below average in two items (standing broad jump and the 50-yard dash).

In comparison with the Dana group tested last year at this time, this year's freshmen and sophomore women are better than last year's in both sit-ups and the 600-yard run-walk.

The fitness test scores are used to evaluate each student's level of physical fitness, to find those areas where developmental work is needed, and to evaluate the student's progress at the end of the semester or year. The group results help the instructor evaluate the quality of the activities program in developing physical fitness in the students.

The following records were established this fall:

- Shuttle Run — Glean McClannahan—10.0
- Standing Broad Jump — Carol Canoyer and Gail Bruning—6'9"
- 50-Yard Dash—Sharon Hempler—7.1
- Softball Throw — Barb Magee—150'
- 600-Yard Run-Walk — Sharon Hempler and Sharon Hemmingsen—2:02.

Discover Remains of Ancient England

You may help to reveal the secrets of a Roman Village, an iron-age fort or the structure of a medieval town or Anglo-Saxon cathedral.

The Association for Cultural Exchange, a British non-profit organization, is sponsoring a program of archaeological "digs" in England this summer.

Volunteers first join in a three-week seminar for training in British archaeology and excavation techniques at Westminster College, Oxford. This training commences on July 11. On July 31, the group breaks up into small parties to take part in actual excavations in different parts of England until August 20.

Participation is open to members of the Association for Cultural Exchange. College students should apply not later than January 1, 1966. Scholarships are available to suitable students. Academic credit can be received.

The total cost of the program is $675 which includes round-trip air transportation from New York to London.

Applications and requests for further information should be set to:

Contests Can Afford Monetary Rewards Applications Open For Foreign Study

The third annual Kansas City Poetry Contest which offers $1,600 in prizes and the publication of a book-length work is open to all students.

Six $100 awards will again be offered to college students for single poems in the Hallmark Honor Prize competition sponsored by Hallmark Cards, Inc.

The Dr. Edward A. Devins Award offers a $500 advance on royalties for a book length manuscript to be published by the University of Missouri Press. Four $100 prizes are offered to poets of the great Plains region by the Kansas City Star.

Both the Hallmark and the Devins awards are offered on a national basis.

Closing date for submission of entries is February 15, 1966 and winners will be announced April 28.

Complete rules may be obtained by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to: Poetry Contests Directors, P.O. Box 5335, Kansas City, Missouri 64131.

Placement Bureau Open To Students

Many of the students here at Dana are only vaguely aware of a placement bureau on campus. This service is available primarily to the senior students in education and business, although assistance is available in other academic fields, also. The purpose of the bureau is to keep the interested students alerted to the supply and demand of job openings by means of bulletins, brochures, announcements, and personal interviews. Dr. Best heads the business department and Mr. Weckmueller aids the education majors in keeping students tuned to available job openings and/or post graduate work. Other academic majors—step lively—and see your department head as to procuring proper credentials and advice which may help you find a job easier!

All Men To Hide While Co-eds Look

Attention co-eds and other interested readers! This article contains information for you.

Saturday night is Reverse Night on Dana Campus. In the Social Committee's dictionary Reverse Night is an evening set aside once a year for co-eds to ask the college fellows for that Saturday night date.

To help the co-eds plan an evening not to be forgotten, there will be a free movie shown, Pillow Talk, starring Doris Day and Rock Hudson. The movie will be shown in DHA at 7 o'clock and at 9:30, no admission fee. Throughout the evening Borup Coliseum facilities will be opened for ping pong, swimming, archery, basketball, etc.

Enjoy the show and games co-eds, college guys, and other interested people.
