Dean's List Told For Fall Semester

Seventy-three students made the Dean's List for scholastic excellence during the fall semester.

In order to be eligible for the Dean's List the student must have maintained an average of 7:50 or over for the semester. Any grade of 3 or less (including incompletes) makes a student ineligible. After incompletes are made up, a student may be added to the list if he is eligible.

Lincoln Authority Lectures On Feb. 15

A lecture on Abraham Lincoln will be given at Mickelson lounge at 8 p.m. Wednesday, February 15, by Dr. R. Gerald McMurtry. The History Club invites all interested students and faculty to attend.

Dr. McMurtry is editor of the Lincoln Lore and curator of the Lincoln Museum of the Lincoln National Life Foundation at Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

Dr. McMurtry spent his youth in Kentucky as did Lincoln himself, and received his B.A. from Centre College where Lincoln's first law partner was educated. He is the author of a number of books and pamphlets about Lincoln.

Kiva Creates New Campus Avenues Of Expression

A new form of expression was initiated on Dana's campus Friday evening through Sunday morning. The cellar of A.M.A. was given the appropriate name of KIVA. (A Pueblo Indian name for underground pits for celebration of tribal rituals of life.)

Forms of self expression were seen in the areas of music, literature, and poetry—borrowed and original. The atmosphere was similar to the popular coffee houses of today. During the three day period, amidst the smoke of cigarettes and candles, one hundred-seventy interested students and professors met for a free exchange of ideas. The interest exhibited in the free participation has shown the need for KIVA's continuance. The reaction of all interested has been highly favorable. The realization of the need for informal communication between students and faculty has been fulfilled.

Future plans include the proposal of bi-monthly evening meetings.

Nine Dana Coeds Vie For Winterfest Crown

One of these nine Dana coeds will be crowned "Miss Winterfest" and will reign over the coming weekend's festivities. A panel of judges will choose the Queen on basis of personality, poise, beauty, and talent on Friday night.

Barb Ohlsen, a freshman from Canby, Minnesota, hopes to teach on the junior high level after she receives her degree in education. Her philosophy for living is that one should "confront each new idea and each new experience with enthusiasm and the feeling that one will always do one's best."

Music is an integral part of her life as she enjoys singing and playing the piano. She will use this interest for her talent presentation by singing "People."

Barb, the Delta Sigma Omega's candidate, enjoys being with people who know how to keep "fun-ness" and seriousness in balance and keep things in a right perspective.

P.E.M. Club's candidate, Carol Canoyer is a nineteen year old sophomore who enjoys sewing, singing and playing the piano.

A friendly and gay attitude, individuality and interest in others are Carol's ideas of desirable traits in people. She believes everyone should "Think before they speak."

For her talent presentation this weekend she will be both singing and dancing to materials taken from "West Side Story".

Results Show Lack of Genuine Concern

It has been brought to my attention that 24 per cent of the teacher evaluation sheets that were distributed last week have been filled out and returned to the academic affairs committee. This is a very poor show of genuine concern on the part of Dana's students.

Why is there so much care shown in student discussions on campus and yet so little response when an organized vehicle of concern appears? Are the majority of us too busy to take the time to criticize and commend our faculty on paper? Perhaps it is just "in" to complain. At any rate, the student who fails to take the time to participate in a program that is designed to utilize his criticisms and commendations has no valid complaint.

If we are really interested in improving the academic departments at Dana, it seems to me that we can find or make the time to participate in this program. If you have lost or misplaced the forms, feel free to request another set from either Paul Panum or Dan Busse. The due date on these forms is Monday, February 13. I hope the percentage of the constructively concerned responsible students will show a considerable increase by that time.

Choir Will Remember Snowbound '67 Tour

By Karen Nelson

For the Dana College Choir of 1967 it was smooth sailing through Des Moines, Chicago, Racine, Big Rapids, and Muskegan. The tour was going well; spirits were high; and the next stop was Neenah, Wisconsin.

Leaving Muskegan at 10:00 A.M. Thursday, choir members settled down to the routine bus ride which consisted of sleep, card games, conversation, reading, and letter writing. The morning passed and a stop for lunch was made. Everything was still running right on schedule.

Shortly after the busses had left the lunch stop, snow began to fall. The windows were icing over, and driving was becoming more difficult.

The first bus drew over to the side of the road since the second was out of sight. Having waited awhile, the first bus proceeded to a truck stop. The second bus was still nowhere to be seen, and the snow was growing worse.

Traffic was slowed to a crawl as we on the second bus entered Gary, Indiana. Cars and trucks were abandoned all along the route. The blizzard of '67 was in full swing.

At 9:30 P.M. the bus pulled into the Wayfarer Restaurant. By this time we had heard that continuing on that night and, no doubt, the next day would be impossible. SNOWBOUND was the key word for the next three days.

The first night of being stranded was spent sleeping in chairs, on the restaurant floor, or on the bus. A card playing epidemic spread throughout the restaurant as every available deck was put to use. Folk songs and choir music got a work out. A few choruses of "We Gotta Get Out of This Place" were heard.

With Friday afternoon came word that the other bus was at a Greyhound station. This made our predicament easier, knowing that the rest of the choir was at least safe.

Soon after more word came. Several homes were being offered to the choir until we could dig our way out. Preparations were made for the trek to these homes. Warmth was the main objective. Suit pants, white shirts, extra socks—anything for warmth was circulated throughout the group.

So looking very much like a cutting from "Dr. Zhivago," we set out across the snow. After two tries we finally made our way to several dry homes. The hospitality of the people in Crown Point, Indiana was wonderful. Those two days will not soon be forgotten.

Rumor has it that the Christensens may even have new vocations in mind by now. The nursing profession and the bakers association may have some perspective members. This writer also heard that Chuck Johansen has applied for work as a guide in the Yukon. Ruth Rysta has been named Rook champion and Jack Martin is looking for more snow drifts.

It was "Dana here we come!" Sunday morning, and as we crossed the Blair Bridge a cheer rose from everyone on the bus.

The Dana College Choir of '67 will have not only the tour to remember but also Gary, Indiana, long distance phone calls, gin rummy tournaments, "Crying Charlie", Willy the bus driver, and lots of SNOW.

"That ratings a bit steep for the dance of the seven veils don't ya think?"

On Campus

by Jess A. Student

Third week of writing and still no response. Oh, well, apathy is the big thing this year.

HIGH SCHOOL HARRY DEPARTMENT—Well, I've seen the utmost in immaturity now. What kind of children do we have enrolled here that can't keep from abusing something of someone else? The Art Dept. brings in a good art show for the campus to enjoy, and some idiotic child uses a piece of ceramics that is displayed for an ash tray. If you want to play childish games go to a good playground, like the intersection of 72nd & Dodge.

I think it's time for some of the students here to grow up or get out. What kind of people do we have that want to become leaders and teachers, but act like "cool" high schoolers?

* * * * *

depARTment DEPT.—Many people around this school, professors and students alike, say that our Art Dept. is the best field the campus has. I agree. We are very fortunate to have two men of this talent to work here under the conditions they work under. Why are they stuck way up on 4th floor of Old Main?

TEACHER EVALUATION DEPARTMENT—No, I'm not evaluating anyone. I just want to remind the faculty members who receive any criticism to think about possible improvements that could be made as suggested. The Academic Affairs Committee can sift through the poor answers, or those from grudge throwers, and come up with some pretty fair criticisms.

Jensen Schedules Confirmation Class

Due to interest shown, a Confirmation class is to be held again this year. The class will be primarily geared for those who wish to join the Lutheran Church but it will also serve as a review for those who may not remember everything they learned in Confirmation.

The class is tentatively to be held Thursday nights but can be changed to accommodate the group. Interested persons should contact Pastor Jensen.

Isotope Laboratory to Be On Campus For 2 Weeks

For the first time on this campus, the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies (ORINS) with the support of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission is bringing to Dana an 18-ton Mobile Radioisotope Laboratory. From February 13-24, the unit will be located in the parking lot south of the Dana Hall of Science as part of a program on radioisotopes which is being sponsored by Dana and Midland.

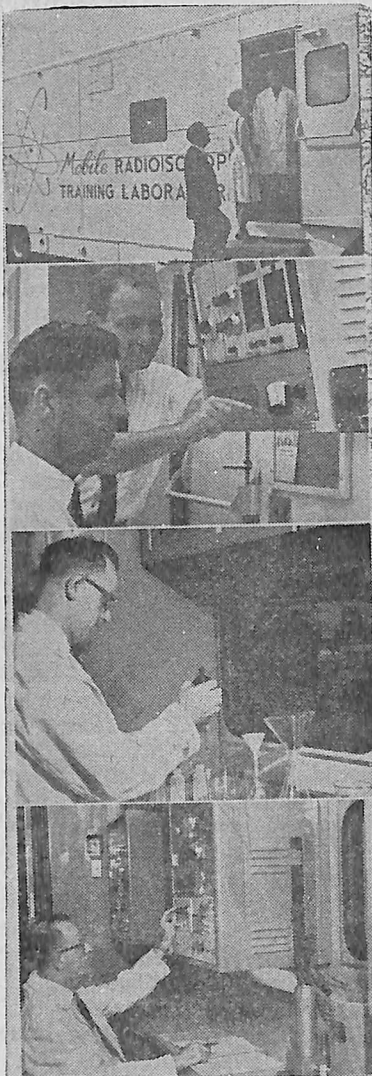

The Oak Ridge Mobile Radioisotope Laboratory program is designed to provide for the advance science majors and the faculty at undergraduate institutions an opportunity for specialized training in radioisotopes techniques and applications.

ORINS in conjunction with the Atomic Energy Commission will provide during a two-week period here at Dana the Mobile Laboratory, instruction in radiation during the laboratory sessions and lecture periods, all equipment necessary and most supplies. The program will involve four Dana science faculty members and four advanced science students with the like number from Midland, two hours of study in the mobile lab each day for ten days.

In addition, one and a half hour lectures will be given in DHA by the staff of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies every evening from February 13-24 beginning at 6 p.m. The lectures will be open to all—in fact, the Science Division encourages all faculty, students and staff personnel to attend as many of the lectures as possible.

Paul Bondo, Dick Coffey, Paul Rasmussen, and Larry Miller are the Dana students participating in this portion of the program.

Mr. Roger Olson, coordinator for the program here at Dana stated, "We think that this is a wonderful opportunity to acquaint the faculty and students with the subject of radio isotopes.

The series of lectures open to everyone will cover the basic techniques and application of radio isotopes in the area of physics chemistry and biology. Some of the various topics to be selected include: An Introduction to Radiation; Radiation Detection and Instrument Calibration; Radiation and Health Physics; and Carbon 14.

The Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies designed the first mobile laboratory of this type in 1958. Since then four additional units have been constructed, two of which have been presented to the International Atomic Energy Agency for use in foreign countries. One unit has been placed in the area of Europe and Asia, while the other is presently being used in Central and South America. Here in the United States, ORINS is conducting programs using three such Mobile Radioisotope Laboratories.

"Jewel Song" from the opera "Faust" will be Trish Forsberg's talent contribution in the finals competition. Trish, Kappa Chi Lamba's nominee, is a music major who plans to teach upon completion of college.

The twenty-one year old junior from Herman, Nebraska, believes you must "meet everyone halfway if you're going to get anywhere in life." Sincerity is the main quality she admires and seeks in the people she meets.

"Life is what we make it. If we find something wrong with everything, life is bound to be unpleasant. Look for the good things and life will be satisfying." That's Kathy Reisner's formula for successful living.

Kathy, a brunette from Glenwood, Iowa, believes one should "Be yourself—dare to be an individual." When the world seems to crowd against her the thought that she is herself is important in combating the pressures. People who are out-going, sincere, and who reach out to others attract Kathy. And she believes there is no such thing as an "holier than thou" person.

Nominated by the Great Danes, the freshman candidate will dance to "African Echos" played by Ferrant and Teicher in the talent competition of the "Miss" contest.

Alpha Sigma Omega's candidate, Alice Christensen, is from New London, Connecticut. The blond haired, blue eyed, freshman coed is majoring in English and art.

Traveling, one of her hobbies, may prove to be Alice's occupation if she decides to become an airline stewardess instead of an interior decorator. Action seems to be the key word in her life as she enjoys skiing, swimming and dancing.

Alice will read a selection from the play "All the Way Home" during the talent portion of the competition for the Winterfest crown.

Friendship is the thing Barb Nielsen, Pep Club's "Miss Winterfest" candidate, looks for in people.

A junior majoring in psychology, Barb plans to teach in the elementary grades. Sports, especially tennis, playing the guitar, singing and traveling are her hobbies.

She will don a sailor's suit and tell the audience of a character from "South Pacific"— "Honeybun"—for the Friday night finals judging.

This brown haired, brown eyed candidate, Paula Westfall, wantshave an 'eye' on tomorrow."

Churchmen Visit Campus Feb. 17

The American Lutheran Church Men (Brotherhood) and the Dana College Church Relations Office have announced the fourth annual Churchmen's Day at Dana to be held Friday, February 17, 1967.

The day will begin with registration in the Linden Room (9:00 a.m.) to be followed with a special concert by the Dana College A. Cappella Choir during the Chapel period. Other events comprising Churchmen's Day will include "LIFE and Dana Development", an address by Dr. Madsen with open discussion afterward moderated by Dean Christiansen; Dr. Edward Lindell, Dean of Denver University will also be present as a special speaker. The closing portion of the occasion will include a basketball game with Dana vs. Northwestern in Borup Coliseum. One new feature of this Year's Churchmen's Day is the opportunity each participant will have to visit several classes to use her French major to become an interpreter employed by airline companies.

S.A.M. sponsors this sophomore coed who enjoys playing the guitar and cheerleading. Paula will employ her hobby of guitar playing during the talent competition of this weekend's pageant. To have a successful life Paula believes one should "live each day as it comes."

Most people have a "pet" saying. Karen Nelson's is "How are ya?" This blonde haired, blue eyed sophomore candidate hails from Westbrook, Maine.

Karen, sponsored by the History Club, enjoys skating, boating, and writing. For her talent presentation she will sing "I have Dreamed" from the musical "The King and I". After graduation, she plans to put her elementary education major to use by teaching kindergarten.

People who have a good sense of humor and are considerate of others are Bette Mitchell's choice. Bette, 'D' Club's nominee, likes dancing, most types of music and talking to people. She will perform a modern jazz dance during the talent competition for the crown this weekend.

Her favorite saying was written by Tagore. "Either you have work or you have not. When you have to say, 'Let's do something,' then the mischief begins." Her advice on living is that you "live today as you see fit but always have an 'eye' on tomorrow."
