

PAIGE YOWELL REIGNS OVER TIVOLI

Football, Dinner and Dance End Homecoming Activities

SMORGASBORD

Nineteen year old Paige Yowell from Herman, Nebraska was crowned the 1967 Homecoming Queen Friday night at the official opening of festivities at Tivoli II. Paige is a sophomore majoring in art and minoring in french.

Trumpeters heralded the Queen and her court to the stage, situated in the center of Dana's oval. Tivoli guard boys, Eric George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter George and David Nielsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nielsen were custodians of the royal crown and the bouquet of roses for the queen.

Joel Herman, master of ceremonies presented the Queen and her court. Miss Connie Anderson 1966 Homecoming Queen relinquished the crown and throne to Queen Paige.

The Dana College Band then played, the recessional "Trumpet March" as the Queen and her court made their way to a special Tivoli tent set up for their use.

The special homecoming dinner is to be a Smorgasbord in the Cafeteria. There will be three hours of serving, 5:30, 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. All 7-day meal-ticket holders should pick up free tickets at Tivoli II headquarters if you have not already done so. Anyone without a 7-day meal ticket must purchase a ticket for $2.75, also available at Tivoli II headquarters.

A special feature of the dinner is an assortment of Danish pastries being prepared in Denmark and flown to this country courtesy of Scandinavian Airlines System. 3500 assorted pastries are being provided at no charge to Dana.

ENTERTAINMENT

Special entertainment will be provided this evening at 8 p.m. in AMA by Mr. Edwin Baron a world famous hypnotist. Tickets are $1.00 if purchased in advance and $1.25 at the door.

Tivoli II will close at 12:30 with a fireworks display.

Dr. Hordern Will Discuss L.A.R.P. Book By Luther

In featuring the 450th Anniversary of the Lutheran Church, we're placing the emphasis on the Reformation during Spiritual Emphasis, October 15-17. Dr. William Hordern, President of Lutheran Theological Seminary in Saskatchewan, Canada will be the guest speaker for the event.

The Spiritual Emphasis program begins Sunday, October 15 when Dr. Hordern will speak during the 10:30 a.m. Homecoming Worship Service in Alumni Memorial Auditorium

Monday Evening at 7:30 p.m. in AMA, Dr. Hordern will lecture on the booklet Christian Liberty by Martin Luther, the LARP selection for that week. Students will be responsible for the lecture material in addition to the booklet during the quiz for that week.

Later Monday evening it is hoped that Mr. Hordern will speak during the evening Student Chapel Service at 9:30 p.m. in DHA.

Dr. Hordern has held many positions since obtaining his B.D. in 1945. Several of these positions include Associate Professor in Religion at Swarthmore College and Professor of Systematic Theology at Garrett Theological Seminary. He has also served in several parishes and written various publications including The Case For A New Reformation Theology.

During Monday and Tuesday, Dr. Hordern will be lecturing to the Religion and Philosophy classes at their regularly scheduled class sessions. The class sessions will be open to all students who would be interested in attending.

The Spiritual Emphasis program will conclude Tuesday, October 17, at the morning Chapel Service during which Dr. Hordern will be the guest speaker.

Theologian Asks 'Is Religion Dead?'

Dana will be host to a theological conference scheduled for Wednesday, October 18 in the Dana Hall Auditorium. Dr. William Hordern, guest speaker for Dana's Spiritual Emphasis program, will conduct the one-day conference.

Dr. Hordern will begin speaking to the conference at 11:00 a.m. on the topic "Is Religion Dead?" He will also address the conference at 1:30 p.m. on "Is the Parish Dead?" Dr. Hordern will later lecture on the subject "Is There Hope For Renewal?" at 3:00 p.m. in Dana Hall Auditorium. All of the lecture sessions throughout the day will be open to Dana students and faculty members interested in attending.

The conference will be open to pastors of all denominations and is scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m. The general theme for the theological conference is "Wordly Christianity."

Dana Choir To Participate In Reformation Festivals Lit. Class Offers Two Indian Plays

The Dana Choir and an orchestral group will present musical programs out-of-town the next three Sundays in honor of the 450th anniversary of the Reformation. They will appear at Ft. Morgan, Colorado, October 22; Syracuse, Nebraska, October 29.

November fifth the Dana college choir will be going to Omaha to take part in the Festival of the Reformation there. This festival was originated by Reverend William Kniffel to commemorate the 450th anniversary of the posting of Luther's 95 theses.

Dana will be one of the three Lutheran colleges represented at the program. The other participants are Midland and Concordia.

The highlight of each program will be a cantata by Paul Christiansen, "Una Sancta," with Joel Herman as narrator and baritone soloist. Kay Ringhand will be the soloist for "How Can a Sinner Know" by Ford, with Robert Whitney on the guitar.

The instrumentalists who will accompany the 58-voice choir, directed by Prof. Paul E. Neve, are Karen Larsen, piano; Ronald Hutton, Rodney Hutton, and Daniel Hutchinson, trumpets; John Orwig, baritone horn, and Joseph Fryman, trombone.

GERMAN CLUB

Those interested in organizing a German club should meet Tuesday evening at 8:00 in OM 105.

According to Mr. Walter George, assistant professor of German, the purpose of the club will be two-fold: first to provide an informal conversational use of the language and secondly to organize and present programs on Germany.

The World Literature class under the supervision of Mr. Norman Bansen will present staged readings of two plays by Rabindranath Tagore, India's poet and dramatist, Thursday, October 19 at 8:00 P.M. in DHA.

The plays are Chandalika, with roles played by Alison Welty, Connie Boehr, and Connie Warner, and Karna and Kunti, featuring Marie Krysl and Marvin Harris. The public is invited to attend.

Tagore is well known as a contemporary Indian playwright. He was closely associated with Gandhi and Nehru. His plays are symbolist plays which attempt to show fundamental traits of human nature.

The Hermes Squawk Box will be placed on the coat room counter on Tuesday the 17th of October for any comments, complaints and suggestions.

The Spyder Speaks

By Bob Siebert

Would you believe I'm not going to be sarcastic or knock anything this week? Didn't think you would.

First off, last week's game attendance was great, cold weather and all. Sure hope we can keep it up.

Now, it has come to my ears that Mr. Pagel was most unhappy that he wasn't contacted first before a complaint committee was organized (i. e. returning the Student Center to the Students.

Mr. Pagel, do you really think that anything would be changed or even taken under advisement if single students or an unorganized group had come to you with complaints? Isn't it quite a (bit more useful) to have the students organize, find out what the complaints are among themselves, dump the ridiculous ones, and then go to you with the valid ones?

Personally, I think the Dragon's Head could definitely do with a juke box, maybe a space to dance, and a couple more pool tables.

Yes, I know, space and money. Well, if we could drink coffee or cokes in the Linden Room, the quiet types or those just wanting a game of chess or cards or talk could go there, and us rowdies could stay in the Dragon's Head (remind me to tell you my drafty head joke sometime) to play pool or just goof off. This would leave room.

As to the money needed, has anyone computed what the pool tables (all two of them) take is on an average day 60c an hour t'aint bad at all. I know upkeep can't be that much. I mean what is the going price of chalk and tips? Wouldn't they pay for themselves in a couple of years? Or maybe semesters. And as to a juke box, I'm positive that it too would pay for itself in a short period of time.

O.K. I admit I'm not a management expert, but don't you have to spend money to make it?

LETTER TO EDITOR

The Editor:

I have experienced two full years of meal eating on our campus and am working on my third. A question has come to my mind, "Does Dana need a change?"

My questioning is provoked by Sunday dinner. Specifically this past Sunday dinner which consisted of, according to the menu, pork chops and dressing, baked potato, scalloped corn, fruit salad, rolls and strawberry chiffon pie. Would the conglomeration be considered a "balanced meal" to a dietician?

I ate my meal with less enthusiasm than usual because of its appearance. Unfortunately, I received no satisfaction from any part of the meal. Maybe the rolls could have filled my needs if they had been slightly warmed.

My reason for writing is mainly to express a gripe. Can anything be done to give me satisfaction for my monetary board investment?

"Fed Up."

COUNCIL CLIPS

Informal Center For Students?

By Juel Neve

A discussion sparked by a letter written by DeLane Wright was the major item of business at the student council meeting last Thursday evening, October 5. The discussion centered around the problems of the students having a place where they can relax and gather freely. All interested students were invited to come to the meeting for the discussion, and about fifty showed up.

One problem which was brought up was the closing of the lounge to students because other groups were using it. Many seemed to think that a more informal atmosphere is needed; that it should be a place where the students can relax. The point was made that the student center should be for the students.

A student union board, an idea mentioned in the circular passed out Thursday at supper, was discussed. The members of this board, who would be elected students, would participate in making decisions about the use of the center. It was suggested that this board, if the idea was adopted, should be either the social committee or the student council itself.

Several suggestions were made for places that could be used as a center, but it was finally decided that the canteen has the best facilities and would require the least change to accomplish our aims. The main obstacles to the use of the canteen as it is are the lack of a juke box and the rules against playing cards and games.

President Steve Bohling pointed out that persistence is necessary to accomplish our aims. A motion was passed to appoint a committee to draw up a resolution to be submitted to the student council for its approval and then to the administration in an attempt to let them know that we wish more use of the student center.

The committee is headed by Dan Hutchinson and DeLane Wright, and its members are Steve Bohling, Lynn Edgell, Roger Johnson, Pete Nessen, Juel Neve, Ruth Rysta, Chuck Scott, and Henry Thorberg. Anyone who has any constructive ideas for the committee is asked to see a committee member or to drop a note to either Dan Hutchinson or DeLane Wright in campus mail.

Alligators Live In Holling Hall

Hello, animal lovers. I just wanted to tell you that the popular Dana Reptile Gardens is now open for visitors up at 413 S. Holling. Come up and see Roald, Robespierre and Chi-Town Baby, the famous performing alligators. This is one of the few zoos where they don't care if you feed the animals. In fact, we're getting pretty tired of catching bugs for them. So when you come, bring a moth or a cricket.

We have had the alligators three or four weeks now and they have been doing very well. The only mishap to date was about a week ago when assistant owner-trainer-handler Spence Wedberg sustained a nip on the right index finger while he was trying to put Chi Town Baby to sleep by rubbing its belly. We keep them at night in a large aquarium full of water and they seem to be satisfied. The biggest problem is keeping them fed. It's nothing for the three of them to attack and devour up to three or four dozen grasshoppers in a day. Like Spence says, they show a lot of class.

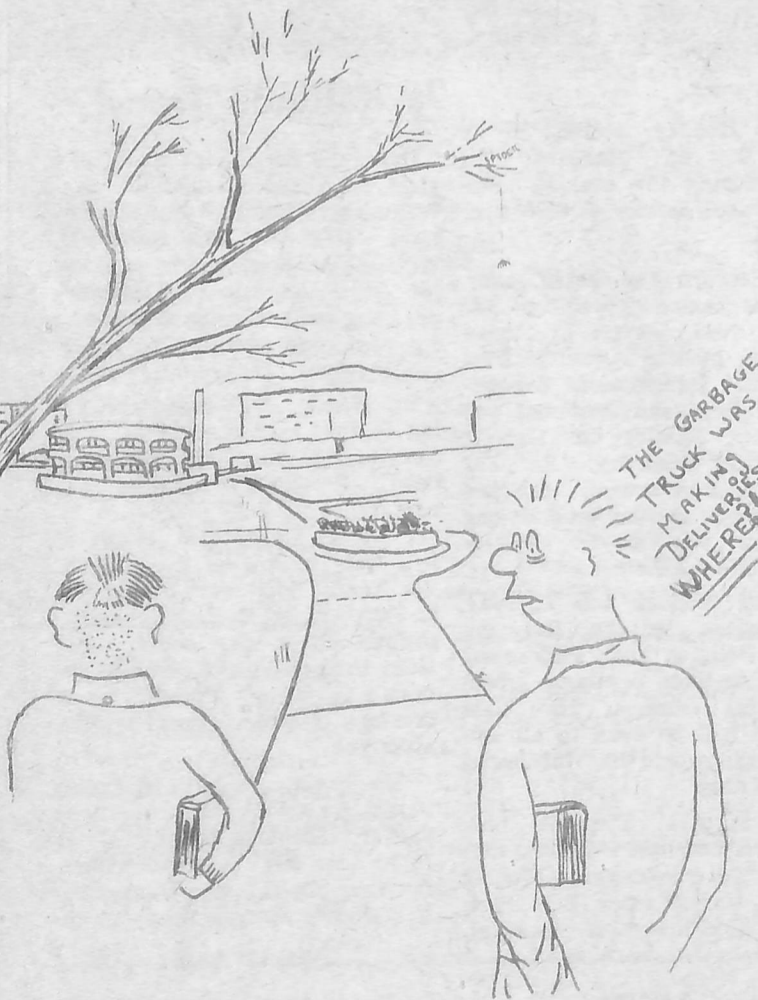

Well, assistant owner-trainer handler Jim Amundsen just came in the door and he wants me to leave you with this note, in case you're wondering why he named his alligator Roald. He says that for years when he asked people who discovered the South Pole, they have always answered that it was Admiral Byrd, when really it was Roald Amundsen.

DO YOU WANT TO GO TO N.S.A. CONFERENCE?

The Fall Regional Conference of the United States National Student Association will be held this year at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa on the weekend of November 10th and 11th.

This conference will offer the students of the Nebraska-Iowa Region a series of seminars and workshops. Some of the most important ideas they will discuss are the establishment of a working Freshman Orientation program, a tutorial program, a system for course and teacher evaluation, and students' rights.

Student Council this year has a budget allotment for the NSA conferences, and this will pay for the mileage involved in driving there. If you are interested in attending, please drop a note to Gale Pohlman, NSA Coordinator, Campus Mail.

Dana-Midland Scoreless on Wet Field

At the start of last Saturday's game the Viking prospects were not very bright. Three starting backs and a starting lineman were out because of injuries. The bench was also hurt. The replacements played a good game, there was never any doubt who was the better team, but the Vikings were never able to score, the wet field and cold weather causing deadly slips and fumbles in a scoreless tie.

Dana kicked off to begin the game. Almost immediately Midland fumbled and the Vikings had possession on the Warrior's 38. Penalties prevented any real progress and Dana punted. Still the defense kept the Warriors handcuffed and they kicked the ball to midfield, where Phil Vasby ran it back to their own 25.

Staying mostly on the ground Dana moved to a 8 fourth down and five yards to go situation on the Midland 6. The Vikings went for the down, but made it only to the 2. Midland regained possession and started to move. They drove to their own 27, where a fumble gave the ball to Dana. A fifteen yard Viking penalty and two incomplete passes led to a field goal attempt that fell short to end the first quarter.

Moving from their own twenty the Warriors drove to the Viking 32. With fourth down and four yards the Warriors attempted to make the down, failed and gave the ball to Dana.

Aided by another Warrior personal foul the Vikings began their own march. Staying on the ground quite a bit, with the backfield punching through for good yardage, the Vikings advanced to a first down on the Warrior 5. Dana advanced one yard, lost one and then, with a clear shot at the goal, Mark McMillan dropped the ball. He recovered it on the 8 and another field goal was attempted from the far backfield, it was wide and to the right.

In the last seconds the Vikings began to move again. They were stopped by a fifteen yard Viking penalty and a Midland interception on the Warrior 38.

Dana again kicked off to start the second half and Midland began on their own 20. Stopped on their own 38 they punted to the Viking 38, declining a Dana penalty on the play.

With third down on the Dana 43, Bill Sorensen started the ramble for what looked to be a sure TD when he slipped on the Warrior 35. Dana continued moving, for a fourth down and inches situation on the 16. They made the first down, but fumbled on the next play and lost possession.

With the Viking defense stopping them cold, the Warriors punted. Dana returned the ball to the Midland 38. From there the Vikings marched to the 7, where a blocked pass on fourth down gave Midland possession and ended the third quarter.

Hampered by a supertough Viking defense, and their own penalties, Midland punted from their own 8 to the Dana 38. In two plays the Vikes were at midfield, where they fumbled the ball away.

Handcuffed by penalties and fumbles neither team was able to get any sort of a drive going. Then, with one minute and eight seconds left, Phil Vasby intercepted a pass on the Warrior 30 for one last Viking chance. Offensive pass interference by a Viking breaking up an interception moved the Vikings back to the 46 where they were forced to punt.

Two plays later the game ended.

If Offense Goes Vikings Can Win

Coach Walls named Phil Vasby, a defensive back and Bob Hansen, a defensive tackle, as back and lineman of the week at the Monday Morning Quarterback breakfast. They will be presented with their certificates Monday, October 16. Coach Walls had nothing but praise for the Dana defense, saying that Midland never got farther than the Viking 30. Of the offense he said that it was never a question of "if," but of when they would score. Unfortunately, they never did.

Today Dana meets Sioux Falls at Viking Field for the homecoming game. Sioux Falls is among the National leaders in rushing, defense and pass defense. They have allowed only 65 yards per game, to rank thirteenth in the nation for over all defense. The Viking Defense has been especially strong this year. The Vikings should have an excellent chance of winning if the offense can start to move.

Petersen & Byriel Attend Clinic

Donna Byriel, Instructor, and Coach Paul Peterson attended the Lifetime Sports Education Project Clinic October 12, 13, and 14 at North Des Moines High School, Des Moines, Iowa.

Coach Peterson is President of the Nebraska Association of Health, Physical Education, (NAHPER) and will serve as Co-State Co-ordinator of the Lifetime Sports Education Project Clinics throughout the 1967-68 school year. Donna Byriel is one of 140 educators and recreation specialists chosen to attend the tri-state clinic in bowling, golf, tennis, archery and badminton. Participants came from Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota.

Viking Harriers Gain Sixth Place

Dana's Cross Country team showed fine improvement over previous meets Saturday, October 7, at the tough Doane invitational. Although some distance behind Wayne and Doane who tied for first place the Dana teams sixth place finish was encouraging for several reasons. First, they finished a mere six points behind fourth place Kennedy College. Second, they were only four points back of Midland and well ahead of Concordia, the only other teams from the tri-state conference at the meet. Third, the times of all Dana runners were the best of the season.

Further encouragement comes from the fact that Dana only ran five runners leaving two boys home due to injuries. The squad feels that with a team of seven we can beat both Midland and Concordia. Top Dana runner was again Tim Wiggins who finished ninth.

Mrs Englund Talks Program To Help Improve Reading On Danish Design

Mrs. Helen Nelson Englund, noted student of Scandinavian design, will present a lecture entitled "Modern Scandinavian Design" Thursday, October 26 at 8:00 P.M. in DHA. The lecture is sponsored by the Dana Chapter of the American - Scandinavian Foundation.

Mrs. Englund holds degrees from Smith College and the University of Minnesota and a diploma from the University of Vienna. She is vice-president and executive secretary of the Chicago Chapter of the American-Scandinavian Foundation. She has been decorated by each of the Scandinavian governments as well as the Foundation.

A new development reading program will be initiated at Dana soon. This program will be limited in membership to 2 sections of 20 students each and will not be offered for credit. The purpose of the program is to help students increase their reading speed and comprehension. Time will also be spent on improving study skills and note-taking ability.

The cost of participating in the program will be limited to the cost of the materials consumed by each student (probably less than three dollars.) Meeting dates and times for the two sections will be announced after consultation with all interested students. Anyone wishing further information is asked to contact Professor Paul Emmerich, the supervisor of the program.

Teachers' Strikes To Be Discussed

Whether teachers should be allowed to strike will be discussed by two members of the Dana faculty at an open meeting of the Student Education Association, 8 p.m. Monday, October 23, in D.H.A.

Raymond Weckmuller, chairman of the education department, will present the negative side of the education. The affirmative will be taken by Nelson Williams, associate professor of social science. Questions from the audience will be answered at the close of the discussion.

MONEY-FOR-LIVING

you gotta be kidding!

Why think about life insurance when you've got everything going for you—youth, health, few responsibilities? Lots of time, you say. Mind if we challenge that point of view? After all you, as a college graduate, will be earning approximately 47 per cent more in your lifetime than a high school graduate. Now where will it get you if you don't save some of it? To help make saving easier, AAL is offering a new low cost "money for living" plan for college age Lutherans. It's called the Student Special. It protects, it guarantees you against future uninsurability and it starts you saving—painlessly. Ask your AAL Professional about the Student Special. And have him explain how being an AAL member associates you fraternally with many projects of Lutheran concern.
