Brandes To Play B Majors: Brahms, Bach, and Bartok

The Dana College Music Department presents Dr. Allan Brandes, pianist, in recital November 29, 1967 at 8:00 p.m. in Alumni Memorial Auditorium.

The hour long program will include a variety of selections ranging from the Baroque Style of Bach to the Barbarism of Bartok. The program includes "Capriccio on The Departure of His Beloved Brother" by Bach, "Variations and Fugue on a Theme by Handel" by Brahms, "Sonatine" by Ravel, and "Sonata" by Bartok.

Dr. Brandes career has featured numerous recitals in the past; the position of soloist with the St. Louis Little Symphony and the St. Louis String Ensemble, and accompanist for the St. Louis Bach Society. He is now active as an organist and choir director as well as teaching piano. Dr. Brandes received his doctorate from Boston University.

Dr. Brandes will present basically the same program 7:00 p.m. Sunday November 12 at Morning Star Lutheran Church in Omaha.

The November 20 recital is free to Dana Students and faculty.

Trip Is Planned To DeSoto Bend

The biology department is sponsoring a trip to Desoto Bend Wildlife and Game Refuge to view the spectacle of thousands of geese using the Refuge as a stop-over on their long migration south. Students wishing to view this mass congregation of geese and ducks are invited to meet in the D. H. A. parking lot by 7 a.m. on November 18.

Mr. George Grube of the biology department approximates that at least 40,000 geese will be there assembled by that date; plus 75,000 to 100,000 Mallards. Species of geese will include Blue, Canadian and Snow.

It is advisable to dress warmly for the tour and advantageous to bring a pair of binoculars.

Everyone is invited and students who wish to go and have cars are urged to contact Mr. Grube. Those going will leave that Saturday morning at 7 and return at approximately 10 a.m.

AD. EXECUTIVE TO SPEAK AT SAM ON NOVEMBER 14

Mr. Richard H. Galley, president of Galley and associates will be the featured speaker at the November 14 S. A. M. meeting. The Tuesday program is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. in The Presidents' room.

Mr. Galley has had 36 years of advertising experience and will speak on "Advertising in Business Today." Galley and Associates is a national advertising firm.

On the 16th of November S. A. M. and members of Mr. Coon's Income Tax class will tour the Omaha office of the Internal Revenue Service. This tour will be at 3:00 p.m. and provides an opportunity for students to acquaint themselves with the Service's function.

Later in the month Mr. George Rankin of the Federal Reserve System will speak to S. A. M. members. Mr. Rankin is vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City. This meeting is tentatively scheduled for November 28 at 8:00 p.m. in the Presidents' Room.

All students and faculty members are invited to attend any of S. A. M.'s lectures or tours.

Only 3 More Hermes Before Christmas

Because of the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, there will be only three more HERMES in 1967. Publication dates are November 17 and December 1 and 8.

Those who have news or advertising to be published before Christmas should keep in mind that the deadlines for these issues will be Tuesdays, November 14 and 28, and December 5.

Kiva Will Open November 17 & 18

Kiva will be open November 17-18 in The Basement of A.M.A. Admission is 25¢ per person to cover the cost of Coffee, pop and pretzels.

Three Angels Open Tonight

Sam and Bella Spewack, who wrote the musical "Kiss Me, Kate," are the authors of the Broadway comedy hit, "My Three Angels." It will be presented at Alumni Memorial Auditorium, November 10-12, with John Leitell, Chuck Emmons, and John Dalton in the title roles.

"My Three Angels" is the tale of a chivalrous trio of convicts in a French Guana penal colony, who have been assigned to work in the home of an amiably impractical shopkeeper. Finding that their host and his daughter are about to be victimized by a pair of unpunished scoundrels, they proceed to see that justice is done.

"MY 3 ANGELS"

Lowell Thomson will play the role of the trusting shopkeeper, Pat Darling will play his wife, Lynn Johnson the daughter. The roles of the unscrupulous uncle and nephew have been assigned to Jim Lippold and John Prouty respectively.

Rumpelstiltskin Try Outs Nov. 13-14

"Rumpelstiltskin" will be the Children's Theatre presentation to be presented on Dec. 12, 13, 14, 1967. Try outs will be held in OM 111 on Nov. 13th and 14th at 7:00 p.m.

Spend A Year In Japan?

A group of Japanese business and professional men from the city of Shizuoka, Japan, visited the Dana campus in early October. One of the men, a doctor, has offered to provide board and room for a student from Dana who might be interested in spending a year in a school in Japan. Preference would be given to a student from the Omaha area, as Omaha and Shizuoka are "sister cities."

Anyone interested should see Dr. Rasmussen of the Registrar's office.

64 Students From Dana Start Practice Teaching

Record Number Will Serve
Omaha, Blair, & Iowa Schools

A record number of 64 Dana students will begin their practice teaching this week. Of these, 30 are in elementary education and 34 will be teaching in high schools.

They will devote full-time to their practice teaching for eight weeks. Those in elementary education will spend four weeks in one grade, then four more in another grade and school. Those in the high schools will spend seven weeks in the same class.

They will all be supervised by the regular classroom teacher, and by members of the Dana faculty. Dr. Melvin Boehr, Miss Dorothy Kundel, and Mr. Frank Gold will have principal responsibility for the program.

The largest group from Dana will go to Omaha: 12 in high school; 25 in Omaha elementary schools; and 5 more in District 66 schools. Ralston and Blair will each have 7 Dana students in their high schools, and Blair will have 8 more in the elementary schools. Iowa schools will give practical experience to 11 students, mostly in Council Bluffs.

Those who will be in Omaha high schools are Alvina Chow, Patricia Forsberg, Roger Knoell, Gary Knudsen, Curtis Lorimer, Catharine Madsen, Edward Piner, Barbara Siert, Phyllis Taylor, Alan Thomas, John Thomsen, and Deb Wilson.

In Ralston will be Connie Anderson, Gary Hansen, Myron Hansen, Karen Larsen, Mary Ann Rademacher, Kathryn Ringhand, and Jerry Voll. Thomas Bisbee, Mrs. Kathleen Kuster, Barbara Magee, John Orwig, Susan Schadle, Mrs. Sandra Voll, and Mrs. Jeanette Slusher will be at Blair High School.

See TEACHERS, p. 3

Dean Christiansen Gives T. V. Lecture

Dr. C. Arthur Christiansen Dean of Dana College, will be featured on a Tuesday educational television program November 14.

He will discuss "The Scientist and His Culture: Assimilation or Isolation." Dr. Christiansen formerly taught biology at Dana.

The program may be seen in OM 102, and will be video-taped for future use.

DANA FACULTY HOSTS MIDLAND & CONCORDIA

Faculty and their wives from Concordia and Midland Colleges will be the guests of the Dana faculty in a "Fellowship evening" at the Student Center on Friday, November 17.

Cecil and Mildred Slocum of Omaha will present a short musical program. Mrs. Slocum is instructor in voice at Dana.

Gymnasts May Visit Classes

The members of the Danish Gymnastic Team plan to arrive on campus on Saturday, November 11. They will be staying on campus until after their exhibition scheduled for Wednesday, November 15.

During their stay, members of the team would like to attend classes. If they choose to visit one of your classes please extend a welcome to them. Most of the team members are teachers in Denmark--not necessarily teachers of physical education.

You may still purchase tickets for their performance at the reduced rate of $1.00 per person. All sales at the door will be $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students.

Body-building and form-giving exercises are fundamental in Danish gymnastics. The aim is to develop the entire body into full harmony. Thus strength, flexibility, and co-ordination are provided, essential to further achievements in the advanced exercises.

The Spyder Speaks

By Bob Siebert

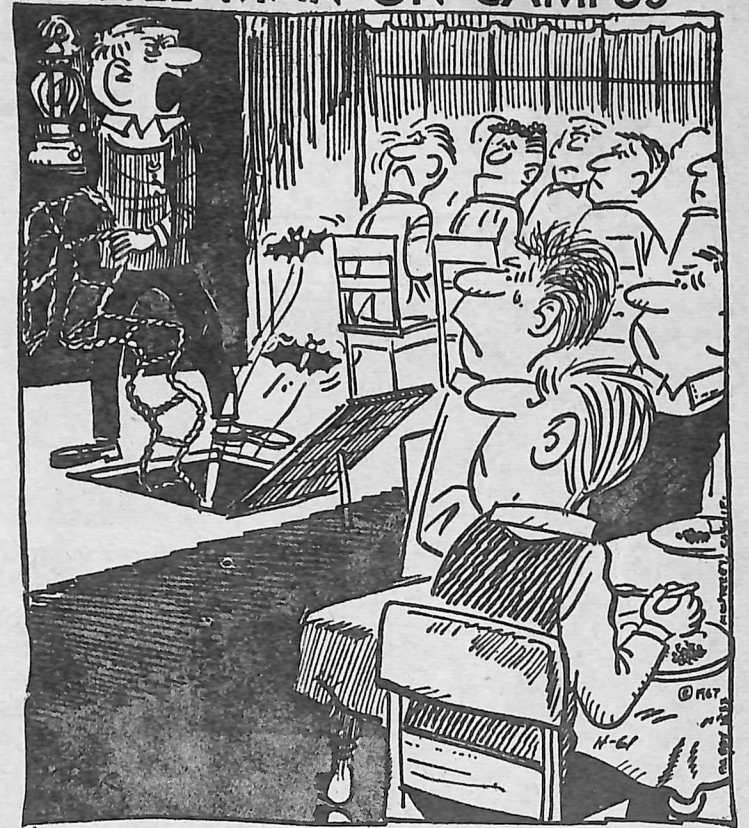

This week I'm going to try to convey something that's been on my mind for a long time.

On this campus much about Vietnam and how wrong we are to be there. How its dirty and immoral and what a waste of good men and money. (Mostly money I think. The second guess philosophers seem to mention little of men dying.) Everyone has an opinion, usually against the war, and usually with about thirty "instead of doing that we should" statements thrown in. Why is second guessing so popular and so late?

It's strange that when I look back on the guys I knew in high school, and the friends I had in the Marines, who died in Nam I can recall very few who would have burned their draftcards, or gone over the border to avoid the service. They mostly didn't know why they were there, or for what purpose the government had them fighting, but they were United States Marines or United States Armymen, not Viet Cong Rangers like we seemingly have here in the States.

I wonder how many of the dissenters realize what a morale breaking chain they hang around our servicemens neck when they have their damn sit-ins and rallies. Those guys that are doing the "Dirty Work" are not unfeeling robots, but are guys between the ages of 18 and 23, who could be out on Woodsies and dates and who would have been going to college except that most of them felt the responsibility of the free citizen to work for their country when they were needed. They know about the unrest and can only think that this is the voice of the American peoples as a whole. I know the thought of it well. It's along the lines of "We're here but nobody at home is supporting us. What in the heck are we suppose to do?" Add that to the dust, the swamps, the heat, malaria and dysentery, and you lose all the spirit that you could ever muster. I'd like to take as an example a guy I met in boot camp named Dave.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"OKAY, YOU PLEDGES - IT'S TIME TO HIT THE SACK."

Editorially Speaking - - - - -

Vietnam War

In formulating our own opinions on Viet Nam we often forget to see the war from the standpoint of the Vietnamese people and in particular the Vietnamese that are our own age.

Both the son and daughter of the man the New York Times calls "South Vietnam's No. 1 Dove" are attending college in the United States. Both of them want peace for their country but they believe that is impossible as long as the Thieu-Ky government rules in South Vietnam.

Moniqui Troung Kim Anh attends U. C. L. A. and David Tusong is at Stanford. Their father Troung Dinh Dzu, ran as a peace candidate in the September 3 presidential election and finished second to Thieu. They believe the elections were rigged and point out that the Validation Committee of the National Assembly named 38 charges of fraud.

As for American involvement David says "Most Vietnamese are getting very impatient with the Johnson administration. He favors a halt to the bombing and if this were done, he feels "International pressure from both Communist and non-Communist countries could force North Vietnam to come to terms."

These young Vietnamese also expressed that if the U. S. pulled out of South Vietnam immediately it might mean a North Vietnamese takeover. But maybe the feeling of independence in the South would be enough to allow non-Communist elements to stand against them.

Students Meet With Mrs. Carey

This last Wednesday during the evening meal a committee of students ate dinner with the cafeteria dietician, Mrs. Carey. She had previously agreed to meet with a group of students and discuss the problems with the food.

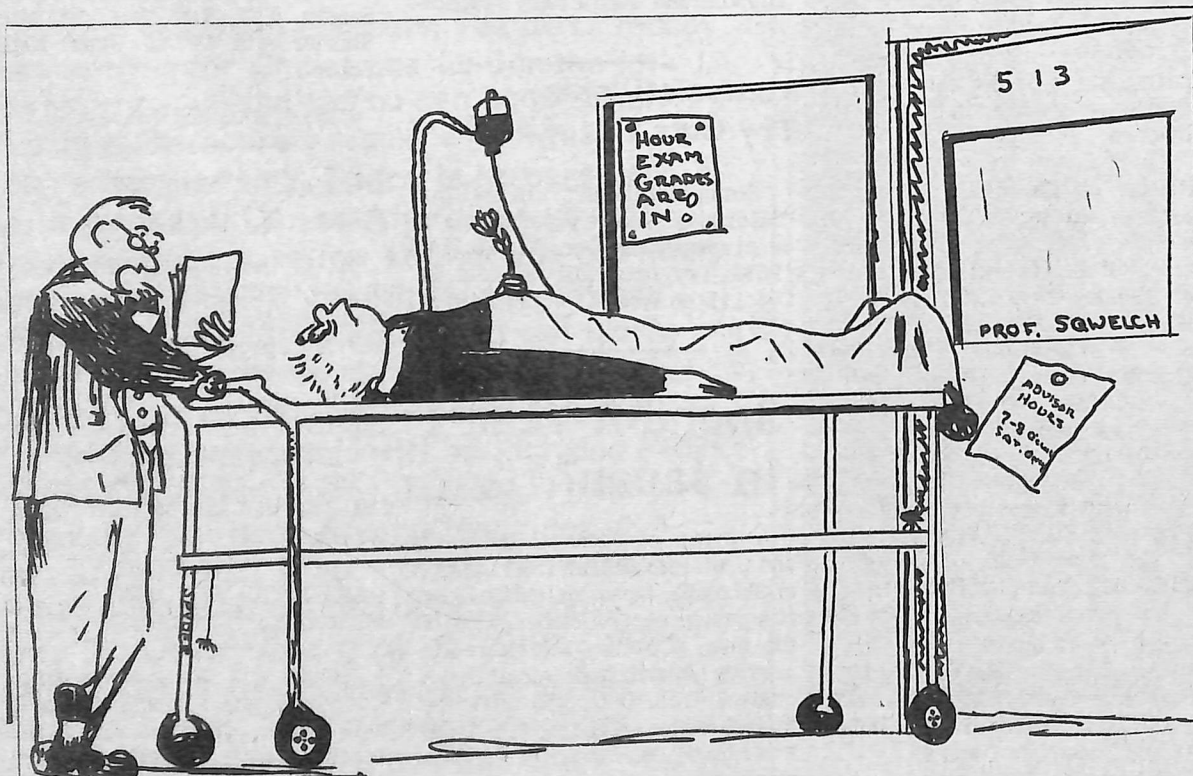

The students at this meeting, tried to avoid being simply negative, telling Mrs. Carey both the things they liked and the things they didn't like. The main complaint was that the food was too greasy, and that there isn't enough variety. Mrs. Carey said they are trying now to do something about these.

It was suggested that Mrs. Carey and the cooks ought to be in the cafeteria during meals so students could make suggestions to her. She is often walking through the cafeteria during meals, and if anyone would like to make suggestions to her, she will listen.

Perhaps the most important thing that has come out of this meeting is the possibility of dialogue between students and cafeteria personnel. If we don't know we can speak to these people, we can't give them our complaints, nor can we understand their problems. Mrs. Carey has shown willingness to listen and the students willingness to talk.

HERMES IN ERROR

In the Hermes last Friday it was announced that tickets for the Mitchell Trio would cost $2.00 for students with activity cards and $3.00 for others. The article should have read, "All tickets for the event will be $2.00. Students who have activity cards are requested to buy their tickets in advance to avoid the problem of punching at the door. All students should buy their tickets in advance in order to speed up their entering the concert."

IN MEMORIAM

Survey Reveals Our Students Don't Use Pot

How widespread is the use of marijuana and LSD by college students across the nation?

According to a nationwide survey, only six percent of American college students have ever tried marijuana, and about one percent have tried LSD.

Dana students, in a recent random survey, estimated that thirty percent of the college students in the United States have taken LSD or marijuana, with guesses ranging from five percent to sixty-five percent. They estimated that five percent of the student body has tried the drugs. In all cases, the estimate for Dana was much lower than that for the nation. This might be attributed to all the publicity marijuana and LSD users have received.

Two-thirds of those surveyed said they knew someone who had tried the drugs, but only two said that they themselves had tried marijuana and only one had taken LSD. Three-fourths thought that use of the drugs would increase.

Many different reasons were given for taking drugs. These ranged from personality problems to curiosity to rebellion to insanity. Only one mentioned the effect the drug gives as a reason for taking it.

One of the questions on the survey asked for a description of the type of person who would take drugs. The most common answer was that he cannot be stereotyped, but many suggested personality disorders. A few said that they thought intellectuals are more likely to take drugs.

How will the students who were polled treat the matter if it is a problem to their children? An overwhelming majority said that they would actively discourage their children from taking drugs, and the rest said that they would leave the decision up to the child. None said that they would encourage their children to use drugs.

Basketball Team Battles P.E.M.

On Monday night, November 13, the P. E. M. club has conceded to play the boys' Varsity basketball team. The boys wanted a little competition to help them get in shape for the start of the regular season. This tough game will start at 8:15 p.m.

Since the boys have a slight height advantage, they will play the A. A. U. girls' rules. To add to their expert handling of the ball, the six players will wear boxing gloves.

This looks like it might be a real grudge game. Swivel Zwanziger will be jumping center against Flip Larsen. Battling beneath the boards will be Bouncing Bailey and Hustling Haussermann against Kalchik and Krueger. On the recoil, "Rattlesnake" Radler will be taking the ball down court, followed closely by Swinger Swensen. The callers for this game (?) will be Honest Ernie and Judicious Janice Schneider.

Your ID card and $.25 will admit you to an evening filled with laughter, sweat, and tears. (Without ID, $.50).

Folk Group To Entertain

The Danish Folkdancers will perform for a dinner meeting of the International Bankers Association November 12, at Omaha's Sheraton Fontanelle.

The folk group will not only provide entertainment but also act as Danish representatives at the occasion. The dancers will provide gifts from Denmark to the bankers at the dinner.

Earlier in the day the dancers will attend an International Folkdancers Workshop sponsored by the Omaha Parks and Recreation Department. Mr. Richard Crum, internationally famous folk dance artist will be the guest instructor. He is presently the choreographer for the Tamburitians of Duquesne University, who will appear in Omaha November 22 at Joslyn Art Museum.

The workshop will include dances of Croatia, Serbia, Macedonia, Greece, Bulgaria, Israel, Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

TRI-STATE MEETS

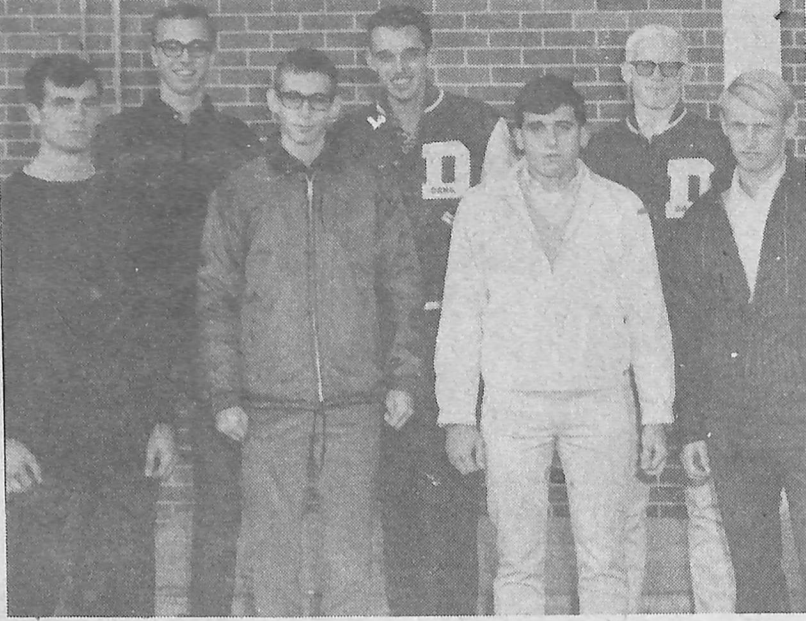

The fall meeting of the Tri-state Conference will be held at Wayne State College next Monday, November 13. Faculty representative Roger Olson together with the Athletic staff and President Madsen will attend. The question of new members to the Conference is the most important item on the agenda.

Dana Cross Country Team Takes 2nd In Conference

The Dana C. C. Team finished their season Friday Nov. 3 at Westmar with the Tri-State Conference Meet. The team ran well and finished second.

A strong Yankton team won the conference taking the first four places. The Dana team finished in a tie for second place with Midland College. Dana's top finisher was Tim Wiggins who finished in sixth place with a time of 15:54 for the 3 miles.

Most encouraging about the teams second place finish is that only one senior was on the team and the attitude of the team is that they can at least get a lot closer to Yankton next year. However the team will miss Ken Koester next year who will be graduating. Other members of the team were Tim Wiggins, John Korzilius, Roger Dickson, Ed Wegner and Craig Moran.

Monday Q'backs Honor Six Vikings

The Blair Quarterback Breakfast Club honored eight athletes this week.

The Dana defensive squad was honored for their hard work against the tough Westmar College team. Coach Grant Walls told the group that the score did not reflect the way Dana played against the first place rated Westmar team.

Walls stated that the Dana-Westmar tussle was the hardest hitting game Dana had played this year. The Dana defense was tough enough that Westmar was forced to throw the ball or not move.

Those honored, from the Dana team, were: Dan Meuschke, Burt Winchell, Ron Bernier, Brent Peterson, Phil Vasby and Langston Bradley.

Kappa Chi Lambda Pledges Promote Fraternity's Tradition Of Service

Kappa Chi Lambda, founded in 1966, established on Dana's campus the first tradition of service and accomplishment.

Conceived of as an organization to get things done, the Kappa Chi's have been fulfilling this obligation not only with zealous enthusiasm but with the thought that there is something to be gained by being involved in making Dana grow. This tradition of unselfish service is now being taught to another group of select men, namely the Kappa Chi Lambda Pledge Class which has been in training now for about four weeks.

During Pledge Training these "candidates" are put through a rigorous program of physical and mental training which entails learning about the history of the Fraternity from such general things as the Actives' names, home-towns and majors down to the specifics of the Kappa Chi constitution and By-laws. Also during Pledge Training these men are given a chance to experience the traditions of Brotherhood, Unity and Service that the Kappa Chi's are so proud of.

As part of their early training, the Pledge Class is allowed to re-enact the Brown Bottle Rock Tradition; a tradition filled with purpose and accomplishment. On May 17, 1967 the Brothers of Kappa Chi Lambda decided to accomplish a task to signify their willingness to accept social responsibility, and to demonstrate the ability of the Brotherhood to work together with unity. After much discussion on the subject, it was decided that a task of physical and mental stamina would accomplish the purpose.

The task decided upon was to go to the Missouri River and find a rock to carry to campus, since the rock would symbolize both the Kappa Chi Lambda's Brown Bottle Rock found along the Missouri River.

Dana Lost To Undefeated Westmar 16-0 Saturday

The Dana College Vikings were defeated by the Westmar Eagles 16-0 at LeMars, Iowa, last Saturday despite a good defensive stand. The Eagles were held to 67 yards rushing but were able to complete 17 of 29 passes totaling 121 yards. Sputtering offenses for both teams caused the game to be close statistically. Westmar gained 11 first downs to Dana's 10. Both teams punted nine times.

However, Westmar was able to capitalize on breaks. The Eagles scored midway in the first quarter after an intercepted pass gave the Eagles possession of the ball on their own 42 yard line. Twelve plays later Bud Smith received

Joe Samojedny's 10 yard pass for the touchdown.

Later in the second period a long Westmar punt and a 33 yard against-the-wind Dana punt gave Westmar the ball on Dana's 42 yard line. Eight plays and two Viking penalties later the Eagles had the ball on the seven yard line. On fourth down Dave McClellan kicked a 25 yard field goal making the score at half time 9-0.

The third quarter was mainly uneventful until with minutes left, Bill Hoffman made the fourth Westmar pass interception at the Westmar 10 yard line and returned it 16 yards. Six rushes good for 14 yards and 7 complete passes out of 7 totaling 60 yards was the scoring drive put together by Westmar. The drive was capped by a 25 yard pass from Joe Samojedny to Frank Rausch for the touchdown early in the fourth quarter. It was not until this time that Westmar could begin to visualize a victory.

The Vikings posed one scoring opportunity when defensive end Jim Revels recovered a Westmar fumble on Dana's 47 yard line. The Vikings quickly moved the ball 50 yards in 8 plays and had a first down at the Westmar 3 yard line. An offside penalty moved the ball back to the 8. Four passing attempts from this point resulted in one completion good for 5 yards and short of the goal line.

Dana finished the season with a 2-4-2 record and was 2-3-1 in conference play for fourth place in the Tri-State Conference. Westmar has won the Tri-State Conference defeating all of the other six teams. With one game remaining to be played, Westmar has an 8-0 record.

Lions Sell Bulbs For Dana Copier

Members of the Lions Club sold light bulbs house-to-house in Blair Monday night to help raise money for a copying machine to be installed in the new Dana College Library.

The machine will copy pages of books and other periodicals right on the spot. The copies can then be taken elsewhere for study while the reference piece can remain in the library for others to use.

Student Body Book Exchange

Every year there is a great problem with our book sales. We buy the books that we have to use at very high prices. Yet, when we are ready to sell them back to the purchaser, we get little or nothing for our troubles. Certainly we do not get the full worth of the books, and often it is more worth our while to keep them—whether we use them or not.

Yet, there are students who wisely decide to keep some of their books to sell the following year. They find out from faculty members whether the book will be used again. If it is, they keep it and advertise to sell it. Usually they manage to do much better than if they had sold the books to the purchaser in the spring.

Well, why can't we all do that? Student Council, is setting up a committee to look into the idea of a Student Body Book Exchange. We hope to be able to convince students to save their books for the following year and try to sell them to students. If it works, the books should be sold cheaper than those in the book store, yet higher than when sold to the purchaser. At the Student Council meeting there were about seven people who expressed an interest in working on this committee. But, this is a big job. It involves compiling a large list of books and distributing these to the students; finding out what books are to be used over; and finding students who are willing to keep the books. We will need more than these seven people. If you are interested in working on this committee, please drop me a line in campus mail. Send it to Steve Bohling, PO Box 104. Believe me, your help will be appreciated.

MONEY-FOR-LIVING

saves?

Eventually almost everyone saves something. Even you. As a college graduate you will earn approximately 47 per cent more in your lifetime than a high school graduate. Some of your earnings should be yours to keep! If you start a life insurance program now, you can enjoy both protection and savings. Think smart. Let life insurance do your saving while it protects. Count on life insurance as money for living—for now and for later. Ask your AAL Professional how much security—and how much cash value—you can have at any future date. And have him explain how being an AAL member associates you fraternally with numerous projects of Lutheran concern. It's money for living—remember?
