Play Try-Outs Jan. 25-26 For Antigone, Good Friday

Try outs for the Drama department's two spring productions will be held January 25 and 26 in O. M. 111 at 7:00 P. M. Over thirty people are needed for the combined productions which should give all an opportunity for good parts.

The Jean Anouith version of "Antigone" will be the first play to be presented. It will be done in modern dress and according to Mr. Henneman, drama teacher, will provide excellent roles for both men and women. The play is to be presented March 1, 2 and 3.

The second production is the dramatic passion poem "Good Friday" by the well known English poet, John Masefield. This one hour program will be taken on tour to ALC Churches in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska. The tour will run from April 4 thru the 12 with travel tentatively planned by car caravan. New cars being provided by a local dealer). The play will also be presented twice on campus. Once in an extended chapel period Wednesday, April 3 and again after returning from tour on the afternoon of the 28th.

Twenty-five students are needed for this production alone, so good parts may be had by anyone willing to work. Actors that know how to sing or play musical instruments will be needed to add to this special passion presentation.

Rehearsals for the two plays will not be conflicting so students may try out for parts in both plays.

No previous experience is required and according to Mr. Henneman the only requirement is a willingness to work. "The success of this tour could lead to an annual event" stated Mr. Henneman.

"It is up to the students how successful this endeavor will be."

Scripts for both plays are on reserve in the library for those wishing to read through the various parts.

You CAN Sell Dana College

Its about that time of year again — time to begin thinking of how we can convince all of those questioning and inquiring young minds of high school seniors, that the ultimate place for the furtherance of their education should be Dana and not "That Other School".

I would suppose that all of us were convinced by an intelligent young Danian to come to this glorious institution. But can you remember back to the day when you were talked into coming here?

Perhaps the conversation went something like this:

Bewildered Graduate (B.G.): I certainly wish that I could make up my mind about which school I should attend.

Confident Danian (C.D.): Well, I think I can handle that problem for you. Have you thought about attending a liberal arts college?

B.G.: Yes, but I don't know why I should choose one of those over a less expensive State University?

C.D.: The answer to that is simple. Have you ever walked around the campus of Dana?

B. G.: No, should I have?

C. D.: Yes. The friendly attitude of almost all students is overwhelming.

B. G.: Well, I suppose that friendliness is a virtue for a school, but how about the most important part of campus life?

C. D. : You mean quality of education? Well, in that line Dana is seldom equalled.

The departments of philosophy, music, mathematics, speech, psychology, education and of course religion are excellent.

B.G.: No, no, actually what I had in mind was social life.

C. D.: Oh, there we are pretty good too. But take our physics department. Dana has an atom smasher. Isn't that something?

B. G.: I guess so, but what I look forward to most of all at college is activities in which I can meet other people . . . like girls.

C. D. Well, you can do that at Dana. And one of the best ways to do it is in classes.

B. G.: I'm still not convinced. Is it true that you hardly ever have dances?

C. D. Well, that is a minor problem. There's always other ways to have fun and meet people at Dana like. . .uh . . .well. . . I know at Chapel. They have it every day except Thursday.

B. G.: Oh! Sounds neat.

C. D.: What are you looking for in college? One big party? Well, if you don't think much of all the exciting activities I've already named, then you can . . . Well, you can. . .Uh! I know! There's always interesting conversation at Kiva. And if you don't like that there's always the Dragon's head.

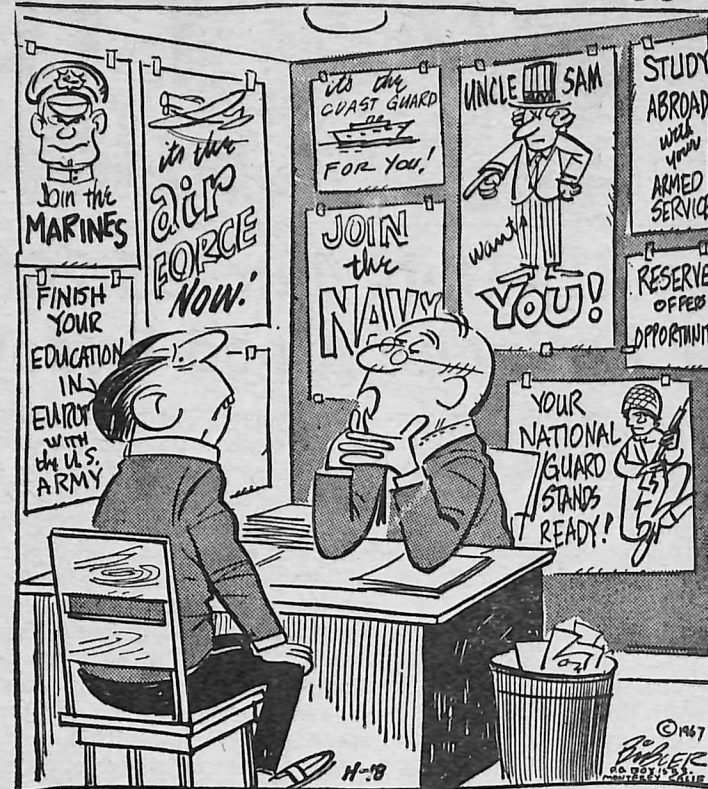

B. G.: What's the Dragon's Head?

C. D. That's the Student Center, sort of.

B. G.: Oh. Sounds really exciting. Yes, Dana sounds like it offers something. But I don't think it's for me.

C. D. What's the younger generation coming to? All they want are thrills. They never think of the higher things anymore.

Editorially Speaking

Black Power

Recently, I have read some articles which have brought my attention to the question of Black Power. "Black Power" has become the cry of an enraged and militant generation of Negroes, as much as it has become the fear of their white brothers. The cry of one is as alike to me as the fear of the other.

As a young white male I try to appreciate Black Power as a means for furthering the lot of the Negro and, eventually all men. For this reason I must consider myself an advocate of Black Power.

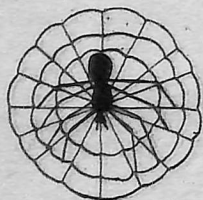

The Stokely Carmichaels and H. Rap Browns are strangers to me. They provoke me to distrust their motives. If there is anything to fear, it is not Black Power but rather its militant, radical leaders.

Perhaps there are too many disagreements about what Black Power means. I believe Black Power seeks the right for the Negro to have a government that will enforce laws, that will free him - no, compensate him - for the years of enslavement, repression and rejection.

This is revolutionary. But rather than fear this revolution, we should applaud it. For such radical change would bring about our own freedom as well as our black brother's. No man enjoys losing power. But there is no power at the expense of another man's bondage. There is, indeed, only fear.

Is it not long past time for this freedom to come to all men? Have not bigotry and hate enslaved men long enough - enslaved the Negro to the ghetto and the white man with fear?

Black Power can not be denied, no more than it can be ignored. It augurs a revolution of change; one that will have the Negro take his place with his white counterpart. Then maybe at last we would have marshalled the true potential of human power.

The Spyder Speaks

By Bob Siebert

As semesters go, this one did it with very little progress made on the dress code, the problem of the Campus Center, Kiva (or any place to go to let off steam), dances or rather the lack of them, and last student apathy.

Most of these problems were given to the proper people where they were instantly bogged down with counter proposals, pork-barreling and plain pigeonholing. But that's not where the buck stops cause if people involved with the specific problem don't keep pushing nothing is ever going to happen. Well, I guess that's enough of that. I said in my last column that I wasn't gonna kick any more dead horses (take it as you please) so pardon me one and all.

I have a small complaint about some of the language used on this campus. I was walking with my girl last Tuesday toward the center from her dorm when three guys started yelling at another "dude" about a hundred yards away. Now I'm fairly liberal about most swear words being as the Marine Corps isn't the Y.M.C.A., but some of the quaint phrases used were even new to me. I don't give a darn what kind of words are used in the dorms or in a coffee clutch, but yelling it across campus really doesn't make it. That was just an example. It's been done quite a few times before.

As this is my last article I'd like to thank those of you who were kind enough to read my column and those of you who were interested enough to send letters to the editor on some of the ideas I presented. If I've offended anyone, that's probably the way it was intended so I won't say I'm sorry.

Good luck on the finals.

Colin Jackson Discusses Arab-Israeli Conflict

On Tuesday night, January 9, in AMA Mr. Colin Jackson, member of British Parliament, spoke on the Arab-Israeli conflict. He is a well qualified authority on Britain's foreign affairs and has traveled to the Middle East three times in the past year.

Mr. Jackson stated that the chief sympathy here in the U.S. as well as in Britain lies with Israel. The war between Israel and Arabia is actually a war between two centuries. The Israelis have always been dominated by others rather than their own people and have been subjected to modernization, where the Arabs have not developed themselves technologically. The war sprang from the technological gap between the two countries. The reason the Israeli victory was so short and decisive was due to their overwhelming advancement in combat materials.

He seriously feels that the United Nations must do something more decisive about this trouble spot. He said that we are in danger of waiting too long for the next round, and that the idea of Nevi Shute's novel "On the Beach" may have a possible chance of coming true.

Mr. Jackson raised four points in his lecture which he feels must be carried out in order to quell any further conflict. (1) He feels that the time has come for Israel to be recognized and accepted politically in the world. (2) He says that Israel must be able to sail the seas and have access to such waterways as the Suez Canal. (3) Jerusalem must be taken out of Israel politically and given international status. The Arabs wouldn't sign any treaty with Israel without Jerusalem politically removed. (4) The many Arab refugees must be provided for.

Mr. Jackson spoke briefly on the Viet Nam issue and said that 1968 will be a year of pacification in Saigon. The people are weary of the war since they have been in conflict with other nations since 1949 and are seeking security.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

(EDITORIAL COMMENT: The following letter was written to Bob Siebert in reference to his column, Spyder Speaks.)

Dear Bob:

As a corpsman with the Marines in Viet Nam and an ex-Dana student, I thank you for your column in the Hermes of the 9th of November.

Your views and thoughts are well recieved here, versus those of the hippie and what seems to be a large body of college students. I wish more people had first hand experiences with this "war". Then maybe it would be better understood.

Have enjoyed your column very much, Bob. Am looking forward to reading more of your interesting articles.

Sincerely,

Dear Business Manager:

Arriving at school after Christmas vacation, we find there is something missing from our dorm life. It is not card games, phone calls, gossip, television, or the like; it is something more essential: PAPER TOWELS IN THE BATHROOM!!

It seems that during our absence it was decided that we Argo girls use too many paper towels; thus the paper towel dispenser has been removed.

This situation would not have been so disastrous, but with the heat being turned off at the beginning of school, our hands turned purple by the time we got from the bathroom to our rooms.

What goes next, the toilets?

Dana Falls To Northwestern 96-78

The Dana College Vikings journeyed to Orange City, Iowa Monday night and returned on the short end of a 96-78 count. The Red Raiders presented a good shooting eye and control of the boards to assure themselves of the victory. Northwestern shot 49% from the field and pulled down 65 rebounds to dominate those phases of the game. The Vikings managed only 36% shooting and only 38 rebounds. This was the first game that Dana was out-rebounded.

Free throw shooting was Dana's only bright spot. They hit 26 of 30 for 87%. Northwestern made 24 of 39 shots -- Dana was called for 29 fouls with 4 players fouling out and one more with 4. Dana finished the game with no forwards or centers, no one over 6-1, and 2 under 5'8".

Dana played without Dean Krueger who injured an ankle the night before in a practice session. His rebounding was missed. His status for the Friday Sioux Falls game is questionable, too. Flip Larsen was Dana's main threat with 18 points. Gary Shuck fouled out with 18 minutes left in the second half to reduce more of Dana's rebound effectiveness. Freshman Jeff Beatty was pressed into service, the first time he's done any playing and did a creditable job. The 6'5" pivot man scored 11 points and got 7 rebounds.

The Red Raiders were led by 6'4" Gene Den Herder who tallied 33 points and 12 rebounds. Many of his scores came off rebounds of missed shots. Terry Arends scored 22 points.

Dana -- 45-33 --- 78
Northwestern --47 - 49 --96
Larsen 18, Mahlman 14, Beatty 11, Peterson 10, Shuck 9, Reutlinger 8, Glock 5, and Busse 3.
Den Herder 33, Arends 22, Smidt 13, DeVries 6, Garrison 6, Bens 5, Sundt 4, Cheatom 4, and Sikkema 3.

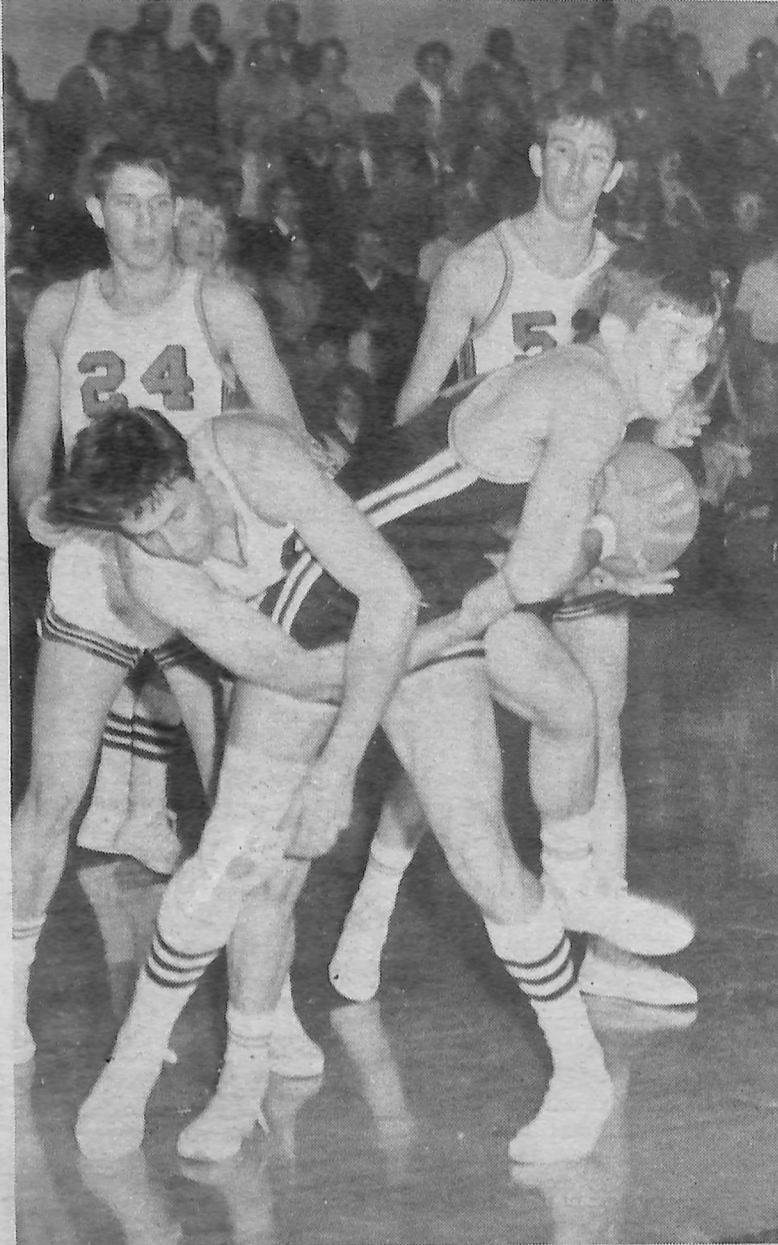

Dana Frosh Fall To Chubbyville

Chubbyville, of Lincoln, walloped the Dana Freshmen Saturday night at Borup Coliseum 105 to 86. Chubbyville is an AAU team made up of ex-college stars playing a wide assortment of college teams as well as competing in the Lincoln city league. Al Maxey, former Nebraska University star, paced the visitors with 40 points and put on a dazzling show of maneuverability in close to the basket.

The young Vikings made a game of it for the first 20 minutes as they trailed by only two at the half, 48-50. The first half effort was paced by the work of Terry Brown, Jeff Beatty and substitute guard Tom Jorgensen. Maxey's 28 points in the second half was too much for the Frosh team as they went down to their 3rd defeat. They've won 3. Jorgensen was Dana's top scorer of the evening with 20 points. Brown scored 19, Beatty and Rick Jahnke had 12 apiece. Pete Christensen made 8, far off his usual pace and Ralph Glock tallied 7. Scoring 2 points apiece were Jim Deupree, Brain Moerer, Bob Lawhead and Jim Ellis.

DANA HOST TO SIOUX FALLS

The Dana College Vikings will host the Sioux Falls College team on Friday, January 12th. This will be a Tri-State Conference game.

It was a mass of tangled arms and legs as Dana's Roger Reutlinger tried to get the ball away from a Midland player. Number 24 is Dana's Rex Mahlman. 52 is Dean Krueger.

Midland Accuracy Topped Dana 75-63

Following Blair high in last Friday's double-header; Dana bowed to Midland 75-63 in its opening tri-state conference game. Viking inaccuracy, especially in the second half, was the story of the game.

In the first half Dana's defense was having its troubles, trailing the Warriors 31-42 at the half. After the mid-game break, the Viking defense began to click, forcing 6 quick turnovers, but gaining only one point. That was the problem, Dana made 42 field attempts in the second, but scored only 12 times, losing the second half 32-33. Overall the Vikings hit on 24 of 75 attempts, for 32% accuracy; against Midland's 30 of 66 for 45%.

Midland was carried by double figure scoring from five men. Ivan Young led with 15, Mike Schauble 13, Mike and Jeff Draemel 11 apiece, and Mike Wilcox with 10.

The 28% shooting in the last half and low scoring from its usual leaders, Rex Mahlman, Gary Shuck, and Dean Krueger, sealed Dana's fate midway in the half. The reserves, led by Pete Christensen, managed to narrow the gap in the final five minutes.

Midland	42-33	75
Dana	31-32	63

Young 15, Schauble, 13, J. Draemel 11, M. Draemel 11, Wilcox 10, Clark 8, Hagstrom 6, Landowski 1.

Larsen 12, Krueger 8, Christensen 8, Shuck 8, Mahlman 7, Jahnke 5, Busse 4, Peterson 3, Glock 2, Reutlinger 2, Knehans 2, Beatty 2, Scopac 0.

She also showed slides of Zanzibar, Egypt, and Israel taken during her Christmas vacation a year ago.

Miss Messer will begin graduate studies at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, next week.

Two sections of Developmental Reading will be offered this spring. One section is scheduled to meet at 7 P. M. MTTh, and the other is to be arranged after registration.

Students who participated actively in the experimental this semester have generally expresses approval. Although some of them made little significant increase in reading speed, most found that they were able to comprehend their reading more readily.

Paul Emmerich, who supervises the program, predicted that students who are seriously interested in improving their reading ability can increase their reading speed and comprehension significantly by means of the longer program next semester.

Kathryn Ringhand Sings In Church Music Seminar

Participants were chosen by their respective schools. Thirty-three Lutheran senior colleges in the U. S. and Canada accepted Lutheran Brotherhood's invitation to send top vocalist to participate in the Select Choir at the seminar.

Other personalities participating in the seminar included Helje J. Nyman, dean of the theological faculty of Abo Academy, Abo/Turku, Finland; Clemens Leske, one of Australia's leading pianists, of the University of Adelaide Conservatory of Music faculty; and Miss Elaine Harper, music instructor at Wittenberg University, Springfield, Ohio.
