News Analyst To Lecture On Vietnam

David Schoenbrun, internationally renown foreign news analyst, television commentator and author, comes to Dana Tuesday, March 5.

This summer Mr. Schoenbrun made a three-month tour of the Asian countries. He will give his "Vietnam Report" at 8 p.m. in A. M. A. This lecture is free to Dana students and staff with questions following his talk.

Mr. Schoenbrun is preparing a book on Vietnam which he has undertaken for the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions in Santa Barbara, California. This will be Mr. Schoenbrun's third book on foreign affairs and foreign leaders. His others are "As France Goes" and "The 3 Lives of Charles de Gaulle." In addition, he contributes frequently to such magazines as "Life," "The New York Times Magazine," and "Esquire", and appears often on NET documentary programs.

David Schoenbrun was born and educated in New York City. He taught romance languages in high school before he entered the U. S. Army as a private in 1943. He served in military intelligence and later with the psychological warfare board in Algiers as chief of its news desk and a broadcaster to occupied France, and the capture of Vienna. After the war he opened his own news bureau in Paris, and then in 1947, at the invitation of Edward R. Murrow, joined CBS.

In 1961 he returned to the United States as chief of the CBS Washington Bureau. He was there two years and then went to the metro-media network. He is now devoting most of his time to writing and lecturing and to documentaries for NET. In July, 1967, he was appointed to the faculty of the Graduate School of International Affairs at Columbia University in New York.

He is multi-lingual, fluent in French, German and Spanish. He speaks Italian and Hebrew and "can get along" with Portuguese. To keep up with political and economic conditions, he subscribes to 30 foreign periodicals, and an hour each night is set aside for books.

Schoenbrun is a reporter with a scholar's concern for knowing his subject well. News today is too complex, he believes, to be treated lightly or glibly.

"I hate the words commentary and analysis. You stick your nose deep, deep down inside a society. Smell it. Taste it. Then you may know it."

His coverage of news has won Mr. Schoenbrun many major awards including:

The Overseas Press Club Award for Best Radio Reporting from Abroad (1953), Best Television Reporting from Abroad (1955), Best Book "As France Goes" (1957), Best Magazine Article of the Year (1959), The Alfred I. Dupont Award as Best Commentator of the Year (1960).

from which he received his Ph.D. degree. He has since written a great number of books and articles which include: "Faith and the Vitalities of History" and "The Scope of Grace." He has served on the editorial staff for "Dialog," "Una Sancta," and the "Lutheran Quarterly."

Virgin Spring Is First Film

THE VIRGIN SPRING grimly depicts a father's ruthless vengeance for the rape and murder of his virgin daughter. Bergman fills our eyes with highly contrasting black and white to evoke an imaginative medieval world, suggesting the battle of Christianity and paganism. For a man of Bergman's sophistication, the austere simplicity of this film is a rare achievement.

Herr Tore has two daughters. Karin is blond, beautiful and good. Ingeri is dark, pregnant and a stepdaughter. Ingeri is envious of Karin, and when Karin is sent to carry the holy candles to church, as only a virgin may, Ingeri slips a toad into her bread.

Karin is stopped by some herdsman. Innocent, she offers to share her meal with them. As they take the bread the toad pops out. They are angered and their lust aroused. They rape and murder her, and leave her body naked. Later, guests at Herr Tore's farmhouse, they offer to sell Karin's robe to Karin's mother.

After first purifying himself, Herr Tore kills the herdsman, one by one. He also kills the child that accompanies them.

Going to the spot where his Karin lies dead he vows to build a cathedral on the spot. In answer, a spring is suddenly born on the spot where Karin lay.

President Madsen receives his "protest" birthday card in the Student Center from Steve Bohling, student body president. See page 2 for President Madsen's reply to the students and faculty.

The Apathetic Student

There are two types of students at Dana. One is active, and participates in organizations and activities on Campus. Campus recruiters look for him and he is well known and well liked on Campus. In several years he will be happily married and pleased with his well paying job.

However at Dana there is another type of student. He looks no different from the active student but there is a difference in his campus life. He gains only "book" knowledge and does not reap the education an active campus life can give him. He is not a member of a religious organization, or a fraternity, or the Band, or the Pep Club. He does not belong to Delta Zigs or Kappa Chis or work on the "Hermes" staff. He does not take interest in the Student Senate, dormitory council and is not interested in being a class officer. He does not participate in the sports activities or even attend sports events. He refuses to be a member of Drama club or attend lectures and special events that are held on campus. Of all these activities listed here, and then some, he finds none of interest to him.

What makes this difference in these two Dana Students? Not the education. The same "good" education goes to both. Not the school they go to, not the campus round about.

The difference is that the active student receives, but does not keep all he has learned. He shares with others his talents and knowledge by being active and participating in the numerous activities on campus.

The giving and receiving go on in equal measure. The other student is shrewder, hoarding all his "book" knowledge and individual talent-uninterested in campus activities. Everything he knows he is not willing to share. The active student gives and lives. The other student gives "nothing. He is called apathetic." R. J. V.

President Madsen Thanks Students, Faculty and Staff

Dear Friends -

I wish I had words adequately to express my gratitude for the wonderful surprise party staged on the 13th when my scheduled Chapel appearance suddenly became a glorious birthday party.

When you do these heart-warming things for me I confess I'm disturbed by the realization that there are so many deserving people on campus who should have such gracious recognition - after all, everyone has a birthday once a year. However, since you have so kindly accorded me this demonstration of your goodness I cherish the hope that it is an expression of the affection and respect all of us have for one another.

When I returned to my office after the celebration I read once again what one of my esteemed fellow college presidents wrote after long years of service:

To watch youth come to life morally and spiritually, to see him develop to intellectual stature, to witness his growth in maturity of insights and understanding, to see him take his place of authority and responsibility as a good citizen and a supporter of the things that are righteous, holy and pure - this is the greatest reward that can come to any man.

In this spirit I express my earnest thanks to each of you. If there were faculty members or students who were disturbed by the cancellation of third period classes, I assure you this was not my doing. I suspect the officials who made the decision were carried away by the spirit of the party. ---And, I promise you, I'll never celebrate a 60th birthday again.

Gratefully,
 C. C. MADSEN, President

Off The Wall

By Montana

The academic schedule being what it is, time is short for the bi-daily period of "Cut your friends (I use this term loosely) in the Linden Room.

If you want to know what you did last night JUST ASK! Someone's bound to know. People know what I've done before I did it. This is cool I don't wear out my crystal ball that way and I know how much the weekend is going to cost before it comes. It's sometimes hard to get between classes, the grape vines get tangled around the bod. It wouldn't be so bad if the grapes were wine material, but they're all sour.

The only people who escape this vinegar wash are the grey kids. Who are they? Good question. You never know because you never see them. A typical grey kid could be one of a crowd of three and you'd never notice him. The walls of the head are custom made for them. Ever see a pair of eyes over by the pool table, it's a grey kid hiding and watching the fun he's missing.

I'm not saying everyone should be an extrovert. In fact, it boils down to a choice. Be safe within your shell or be slandered from the Linden Room. I made my choice have you?

In Demand Of Equal Time

By Bob Siebert

Since this is a Christian oriented campus our views are predominantly Christian and therefore we look on other ideas on religion with somewhat slanted views.

I'd like to make it clear that I'm not a Christian, in fact I'm not much of anything religiously although I do lean to Persian Zoroasterianism more than all else. Pity its a defunct religion.

Anyway, has anybody ever thought of the Christians Heaven and exactly what it is? No drinking, no wenshing nothing! You sit around forever without any kind of jolts listening to religious philosophy, picking flowes (if its allowed) growing wings and playing harps. Kind of blah when you come right down to it.

And then there's Hell where some goof sits around all day in his red skivies, wearing horns and a barbed tail while the unrepentant sinners hot foot around on burning coals.

Somehow Christianities dogma seems to me to be "If you're good you get a lollypop, but if your bad you stand in the corner."

Now we come to the point of no-return. Have you ever noticed how religion is packaged with a bow and sold as the only way to fly by most Pastors and Priests? If it's so good why is it pushed so hard? It seems to be along the lines of here we have "brand X" and here we have Christianity. With brand X your hair will fall out, your teeth will rot, you'll get mid'rif bulge and your clothes will be white but not bright.

ADDITION TO DEAN'S LIST

The following name was left off the Dean's list due to an oversight in grade calculation, the name of David Knutson should be added with a 7.54 average for first semester.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"OH, PROF. FLEISHAN'S ISN'T SO TOUGH - I HAD HIS CLASS ALMOST A MONTH BEFORE I DROPPED IT."

Wakefield Active Member Of Sports And Music

Mr. Wakefield

The absent-minded professor of yesterday has virtually disappeared from the college scene. Instead he has been replaced by such personalities as William Wakefield II of the Sociology Department.

Mr. Wakefield attended Omaha's North High School as the drummer for a combo, he was chosen to attend a regional try-out for the Ted Mac and Jackie Gleason shows in New York.

He has kept up his interest in music by heading the percussionist section in the Omaha Symphony Orchestra for eight and a half years.

Besides music, Mr. Wakefield is an avid sports fan, enjoying football and basketball along with teaching swimming for nine years. Another sport which he actively participates in to keep in shape is karate.

During his studies for his Masters, Mr. Wakefield held the position of Research Intern at the Omaha Youth Dention Center for seven months, working with juvenile delinquents.

Because he preferred the stimulating environment of the college community and young fresh minds, over the business world he made the decision to teach. He is also drawn to the constantly changing atmosphere and believes, "When you teach you learn through organizing, synthesizing and verbalizing one's thoughts." He sees another advantage in being able to follow the current trends in his field.

Psychology and Sociology make up Mr. Wakefield's double majors for his undergraduate work at the University of Omaha, while being president of his class and a member of Pi Kappa Alpha (social fraternity), Alpha Delta Kappa (Sociological fraternity), Phi Mu Alpha (national men's music fraternity), Alpha Chi Omega (service fraternity), and Omacron Delta Kappa (scholastic honorary for senior men). He also obtained his Masters degree from Omaha University in Sociology with minor emphasis in psychology.

Mr. Wakefield lives in Omaha with his wife and three year old son, Billy, and tentatively plans to work on his Ph.D. at the University of Nebraska in Social Psychology.

Reverse Nite February 29

Hey, Girls! Its your last chance to catch that certain guy.

Traditionally with the leap year celebration the female has the right to take the initiative. Accordingly with this tradition is the Sadie Hawkins Day event.

The women at Dana will have their chance on February 29. A. W. S. is sponsoring the day and will also have in effect penny-a-minute night. This allows women to stay out one hour longer for 60¢.

So, fellows don't be surprised if you're approached for a coke date, a movie or if you're lucky, dinner. Just take advantage of the situation. It only happens once every four years.

Air Force Visits Campus

The Air Force officer selection team will be on campus February 27. Any graduating senior is urged to stop at the center that day for information concerning officers school for both men and women.

Basketball Report

Viking Victory Over Raiders

February 9 - Slow-up basketball, run the pattern and take only the high percentage shots. That's the way the Vikings played it tonight and it paid off as they beat the Red Raiders of Northwestern 64-52. The fans weren't too happy watching the Vikings passing and cutting for two or three minutes before taking a shot but they were happy with the results. The effect was to get the opponents off the pace of run and shoot basketball and play for control.

Brent Peterson played very well tonight. Some of the most exciting moments of the game were watching Brent break for the basket all alone and take a pass for an easy lay up. It must have happened more than once because Pete was high point man for Dana with 16 points.

Westmar Wins

February 16 - Tonight Dana played one of the best games we've seen this year and still lost to Westmar, 77-68. Westmar, who will probably win the conference championship this year, had too much speed and height for the Vikings. The opening tip-off told the story as 6' 10" Roger Moller tapped the ball to teammate Art Oordt who drove in for an easy lay up. From then on it was the Eagles all the way.

Rich Jahnke, a freshman from Dewitt, Nebraska, came off the bench in the second half and scored a couple of quick baskets but was a little too aggressive on defense and fouled out midway in the half.

Rex Mahlman also played well. Several times in the second half he out-faked the defense and moved in for two points. The result was 20 points and high point honors for Rex. He also hit 8 out of 8 free throws.

We feel that if the Vikings had played as well all year the 1967-68 record would have been much better.

C.T.C. Avenges

February 17 - The Vikings got off to a bad start against Concordia Teacher's College, trailing in the opening minutes, 16-0. Coach Dale Lemon substituted freely and when the team finally started hitting they stayed with the Bulldogs for the rest of the game. Unfortunately they could not overcome the lead. Dana pulled to within 6 points with seven minutes to go in the game but lost 77-68. It was the last home game for two seniors, Roger Reutlinger and Gary Shuck.

One bright spot in tonight's losing cause was the play of Ralph Glock, a freshman from Rising City, Nebraska. Ralph came in early in the second half and played some excellent defense, stealing the ball twice and covering Kent Jones, one of the best offensive playmakers and guards we've seen this year.

EDITORS NOTE

Because the Hermes is being published bi-weekly the sports stories will be written immediately after the contest, dated and presented as such.

Two Games Close Season

The Vikings basketball team winds up its season this week with one conference game and one non-conference game.

Dana could score a major upset tomorrow night by posting a win over the Yankton Greyhounds. The win would knock the Greyhounds out of a tie for first place with Westmar and give the Eagles the conference championship.

The non-conference game is next Wednesday at Lincoln against Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Yankton Upsets Dana Vikings

February 10 - The Vikings couldn't make it two in a row tonight as they lost to a strong Yankton team, 71-52. Dana got off to a good start but some good outside shooting by the Greyhounds and too many mistakes by the Vikings proved too costly.

Rex Mahlman and Dean Krueger scored 15 and 14 points respectively, but it wasn't enough. Besides being high point man for the game, Rex also shot 100 percent from the free throw line.

Wrestlers Lose Doane Match

February 13 - Dana's wrestling team had one of its better matches tonight, losing to a strong Doane team 24-13. Five of Doane's points came on a forfeit because Dana does not have a 123 lb. wrestler. Five more points were recorded for Doane when 160 lb. John Christensen sprained his ankle early in the first period and could not continue.

Two pins were recorded by the Vikings. One by 130 lb. Lee Voss who pinned his man in the third period and the other by 145 lb. Ron Briggs who pinned his man in the first forty seconds of the second period.

The most exciting match was between Doane's Paul Cathey and Dana's Ron Johnson who stepped into the 177 lb. class after Dean Ness quit the team last week. The second period was a wild free for all. Ron started in the down position but quickly escaped for one point. Then he got a take down for two more. All went well until Cathey reversed for two points and got three more for a near fall. Then with a switch Johnson reversed for two points and got Cathey on his back for a two point fall predicament. Neither man could pin the other and Johnson finally won 11-8.

Girls' Intramurals

Girls' basketball intramurals started February 6.

The first game was a lop-sided victory for 3rd Argo, 56-20 over 2nd Mickelsen. High scorers were Pat Welander with 24 points and 2nd Mickelsen's Elaine Winterhof with 16.

Fourth Mickelsen and 3rd Mickelsen fought to a close finish, 4th winning 35-31. Betsy Hall led scoring with 24 points; Karen Gailey from 3rd Mickelsen had 16.

The last game was also very close. Second-fourth Argo won 22-18 over the Units-Off campus team. Charles Kemish was high for the Units with 13 and Glean McClannahan with 10 was high for 2nd-4th Argo.

Tri-State Meet At Midland Sat'y

The Annual Tri-State Conference invitational wrestling tournament will be held tomorrow, Saturday, at Fremont in the Midland Gymnasium. All schools in the conference will be represented except Northwestern. The tournament begins at 10:00 a.m.

Wrestlers Lose Duel To Midland

February 21 - The Dana wrestling team found the going rough tonight, losing to Midland 21-8. Each team received 5 points for forfeitures. Dana forfeited the 123 lb. class and Midland the 152 lb. class.

The most exciting match was between Ron Briggs of Dana and Midland's Dick Wittman in the 145 lb. class. Ron got a quick take down and it looked like he would have a very fast pin. Wittnam kept his shoulders off the mat, however, and Ron had to settle for 3 points for a near pin.

In the second period Ron again got Wittman in a pinning combination but again couldn't keep his shoulders down. Ron again received 3 points for a near pin and finally settled for a 8-2 win.

TENNIS TEAM

Anyone interested in being on the tennis team should contact Pastor Jensen as soon as possible.

Professor Stone Receives Doctorate

Larrie E. Stone, Associate Professor of Biology at Dana, received a Doctorate of Philosophy in Zoology and physiology from the University of Nebraska during commencement exercises held Saturday morning January 27.

Dr. Stone, now in his sixth year as a professor at Dana, received a Bachelors Degree in science and education from Dana in 1957 and completed graduate work for a Masters at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln in 1959.

He then began degree work for a Doctorate from the University of Nebraska. The program consisted of sixty hours of further course study and thesis work. In conjunction with the Degree program, the Cancer Foundation awarded Dr. Stone with a grant enabling him to spend the summer of 1961 working with a cytogeneticist in the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory in Bar Harbor, Maine. During the following summer Dr. Stone received a grant from the National Science Foundation to further his thesis research.

Dr. Stone's thesis, "Salivary Glands Chromosomes in Drosophila Affinis," was submitted to and approved by a committee comprised of faculty members from the University's staff. This committee, chosen by Dr. Stone and his advisor, also administered the oral examination over the submitted thesis in November 1967, and notified Dr. Stone of his successful completion of the Doctorate program.

Linda's Back At Dana More Active Than Ever

Linda Filson, a 21 year old co-ed from Santa Ana, Cal. is again making her dark world light up on Dana's campus.

Two years ago Linda was on Dana's campus amazing everyone, for although sightless, Linda does more than most girls. She plays the piano, sings with vocal groups, takes part in dramatics, swims and waterskis.

Linda is currently in the Miss Winterfest contest to be held March 8. She is also in the Spring play "Antigone" and knows the stage positions better than any one on the cast. Linda tells positions by the voices.

Linda has a remarkable sense of humor and a genuine love of life which makes her an astonishment to all who meet her.

Vote For President In TIMES "Choice '68"

In November of 1968 the United States will elect its President for the next four years. Many of the students here at Dana will be old enough to vote, and in that way will express their opinion on the candidates and the issues that separate these men. But, many other students will not yet be old enough to express their opinion in this way. It is for these people in our various colleges that Time Magazine has decided to sponsor their National Collegiate Presidential Primary, "Choice 68."

What is "Choice 68"? As I said before, it is a National Collegiate Presidential Primary sponsored by Time Magazine. Perhaps that doesn't mean anything. "Choice 68" is a chance for all the college students under twenty-one to express their opinion on the men who will be running for the Presidency of the United States. On April 24th, over five million college students will have a chance to vote in this Preference Primary. If it is true that college students are among the best informed people in the nation, then they should have some means of expressing their opinion. By voting in their Primary when it takes place on campus you will be able to express your opinion in a way that will receive national attention. The results of this primary will be given a feature article in Time magazine and in this way your views will receive national publication.

In addition to the candidates for President, there will also be a chance for students to voice their opinion on three subjects of debate today. The three have not yet been selected, but one will have to be Vietnam and most likely another will be the problem of our ghettos.

No college student should dare to call himself informed if he is not aware of the problems facing our nation and of the solutions proposed by national leaders. This is our chance to learn of these, both the problems and their solutions, and to express our own opinions. I hope that every member of our campus will be willing to take part in this, to listen and learn, and finally to vote on the basis of what we have learned.

The member profits at AAL. Insured persons and their beneficiaries usually profit most from life insurance. Since AAL is a fraternal society, this is especially true. Fraternal societies have no requirement for profits in the normal sense. Funds not needed for claims, for operations and other costs of doing business, are placed in reserves or paid to members as surplus refunds. Beyond this AAL awards benevolences to Lutheran institutions and causes, and members share fraternally in this grant-giving. Who profits? That's easy. As an insured AAL member, you will certainly profit the most. It's all part of the special difference AAL members share.
