Dana Receives LIFE Funds

LIFE (Lutheran Ingathering for Education) has now received pledges for over $17 million and is not far from its goal of $20 million for its educational institutions. Cash received so far totals $4,600,000. This money has been distributed to ALC institutions around the country. The latest distribution was made at the ALC convention at Omaha on October 21.

Dana has received over $128,000 so far from these distributions. The funds are being used for the new library and it is hoped that $450,000 can be used for this new project. Excess LIFE funds will be used for the new fine arts building which should be added to the campus within the next few years.

LIFE funds are being handled by Dana's Development Office which is also raising money for the new girls' dormitory. Fund raising mailers have been sent to over 20,000 people. The mailers consist of a message from President Madsen asking for a definite donation of ten dollars or more. Donors have the privilege of designating how they want their money used. It is hoped that at least $25,000 can be raised from this project.

Junior English Proficiency Tests

The Junior English Proficiency Tests will be given to all Juniors, and to Seniors who have not yet taken them, on Thursday and Friday, November 14 and 15, at 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Half of the group will be tested each day, those with last names beginning with A-L on Thursday afternoon, and those with last names beginning M-Z on Friday afternoon. Tests will be given in OM 110. Students will be allowed to change to the other section to avoid missing a class, so this should cause very little class absence.

Those doing student teaching will take the tests in PM 317 on Saturday, November 16, at 9:00 a.m. Students will be informed of the tests during the week of October 28.

Donors are also encouraged to furnish rooms, lounges and other areas and will be recognized with a plaque containing their name and address to be placed in the new dorm.

Everyone who has pledged to LIFE is encouraged to pay now and anyone who wishes to pledge or donate to the new dormitory project should contact Ken Anderson in the Development Office, PM 207.

Piano Recitals By Dr. Brandes, Students Nov. 11

Dr. Alan Brandes, professor of music at Dana, will perform a piano recital at 8:00 P.M. November 11. Dr. Brandes will present works by Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart, Schumann, and Chopin. Dr. Brandes has given recitals for the past 3 years, always presenting classical and contemporary music. At the November 11 recital, he will execute several variations on "God Save the King", five variations on "Rule Britannia," Piano Pieces, Opus 118 by Brahms, Sonata in A major, K. 331 by Mozart, Papillons Opus by Schumann, and Four Etudes by Chopin.

At 3:00 p.m. the afternoon of November 11, Mr. Bob Whitney and Mrs. Charlotte Warner will present their senior recitals in Alumni Memorial Auditorium. Mr. Whitney will perform on the oboe, and Mrs. Warner will present vocal selections.

Immediately following the program a reception for Mr. Whitney will be held in Mickelsen Hall lounge. Mrs. Warner will have a reception at her home in Missouri Valley following the recital.

"Viking Days" Activities Offer Something To All

Many activities are provided for students, faculty, and alumni during Homecoming week-end at Dana. The week-end began Friday at 10:30 p.m. when classes were dismissed so that students could work on the Homecoming displays.

The Viking Revue, held both Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:00, includes talent from the Faculty Follies, from alumni, and from the student body. Mr. Rod Whitaker, former director of speech and theater at Dana, will emcee the "Revue". Eleven past Homecoming Queens were presented following the coronation Friday night. The annual choir reunion will be held following the revue tonight.

At 7:00 last night the lighted displays were judged. Five groups competed for the $150 first prize. P.E.M. and D-Club display is located in front of Borup, Delta Sigma Omega's display is east of Mickelsen, while the Freshman class' display is west of Mickelsen. Kappa Theta Phi sorority has built their display east of Dana Hall while Kappa Chi Lambda fraternity's is located in front of Pioneer Memorial. Judging was based on originality, workmanship, adaptation to the "Viking Days" theme, overall effect, and animation and special effects.

Winners of the display contest were announced by Student Body President Carolyn Scholl at a bonfire and pep rally held Friday night at 11:30.

A Smorgasbord will be served in the Dining Room on Saturday at 5:30, 6:30, and 7:30 p.m. The 7:30 serving hour is reserved for those who wish to attend in formal dress.

Dana's first formal Homecoming Dance, "The Ascott Gavotte", will begin at 9:30 p.m. in the Concourse of the Center. Music will be provided by the Carl Manne Septet of Sioux Falls.

Casino Royale, a gambling casino, will be open to anyone who wishes to attend from 10 p.m. - 12 in the Dining Room of the Center. Prizes will be given away at Midnight.

Homecoming Worship Service will be held in AMA at 10:30 A.M. on Sunday morning. President Madsen will be the speaker.

Ceremony Held For Cornerstone

The cornerstone laying of the new Dana College Library will be November third at 2:00 P.M. The building is the first of buildings which are to be built for LIFE (Lutheran Ingathering for Education).

The cornerstone will have many different articles in it: A 1968-1969 Dana College Catalogue, the program for the Dana College Library written by the library committee, a Holy Bible, LIFE material, the president's report for 1968, a report of the ALC Convention at Omaha, Dana Review, March and April 1968 which announced the new library building program plus the October 1968, Hermes, the latest campus bulletin, the latest Enterprise and Pilot-Tribune, the latest copy of the World Herald, and the directory of students and staff for 1968-1969.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WELL, WE DON'T DARE PARK IN TH' FACULTY PARKING LOT—TH' CAMPUS COP WOULD SPOT US IN A MINUTE."

THOUGHTS ON THE WORDS OF WATTS

By Dick Zion

Last week Dana College was privileged to have four truly great people on campus speaking on a subject which should be of interest to all of us. For those who possibly didn't know the symposium existed, the title was "Challenge of the East." Possibly the most relevant area of the symposium was Eastern thought, by Dr. Allan Watts. Through an understanding of Eastern philosophy it is possible to better understand the other aspects of a culture which is foreign to most of us. Dr. Watts' lecture was augmented by the fact that we had just finished his book, The Way Of Zen, in L.A.R.P.

When asked if he had been formally trained in Zen, Dr. Watts answered no that he had used a "back door" approach in order to become knowledgeable without becoming bogged down in the ritual aspect of the discipline. This approach typifies the oriental idea of thinking by not thinking, or as Dr. Watts put it "You can't have high quality thought if you don't know how to not-think." At this point we encounter a semantic dilemma. English is a marvelous language and it is fastly becoming the universal mode of communication. This tends to make English speaking people rest easy with the knowledge that their language is being learned at the far corners of the world and hence they don't often try to learn the languages of others proficiently. But English, as versatile as it is, leaves something to be desired when trying to communicate with an Asian. Dr. Watts used the example of the English phrase "It is raining." We, as English speakers, understand what is meant by this statement, but an Oriental mind asks what "it" refers to. This is because their languages use verbs as nouns. They would say "raining" and not use a direct object. It seems to me that this would be an easier way to describe the phenomena.

If and when we take the time to learn Asian thought patterns, through languages, there are two lessons, according to Dr. Watts, we can learn from these people. One, we could profit from their aesthetic view of materialism. They treasure the basic concept of wealth. This is manifested in their love and care for their land. Along with this they accept nature as they find her. They don't believe in bulldozing nature's beauty into perfectly symmetrical phallics of concrete and plastic; they build with and around nature. This is the second point of Dr. Watts' thoughts. He maintains, and I agree, that the East must teach us the Judo (gentle way) of life. He puts it another way, "anything forced is somehow wrong, nature must be trusted. This amounts to taking the line of least resistance."

This concept of "the line of least resistance" puts us right in the center of Zen. As Westerners and particularly Americans, we are too prone to try to force anything that doesn't immediately fit into our ideas of its eventual outcome. To put it simply and sweetly in my own words; we, as Americans, sweat too many details. If you don't believe me check the figures on the sales of tranquilizers in the U.S.A. for this year. If more people would try to understand Zen there would be fewer ulcers in the United States. How, you ask, can I understand the Zen. As Dr. Watts so aptly put it, "You understand with your gut, not with your cortex (mind)."

Record Discount For Students

The National Association is sponsoring a record club offer. There is a $2.00 lifetime membership fee for anyone interested in joining the club. A catalog will be available each month describing 15,000 albums of all labels. All records will be offered at discount of at least one-third off the regular price.

If you want to join the record club, leaflets will be sent through campus mail. Fill out the necessary forms and send them to either Carolyn Scholl or Graig Moran.

Amendment Lowers G.P.A. Standards

It is now possible for interested students to participate in more student activities without the 5.00 g.p.a. stipulation. They may serve as student body officers, cabinet members, student council members, cheerleaders, publications editors and members of judicial committee, homecoming committee, and royalty, as long as they maintain a g.p.a. "equal to or above that required for graduation." At present this would mean a 4.00 g.p.a.

Student Council passed the proposed amendment almost unanimously after discussing whether to state a definite g.p.a. in the amendment or not. Council felt that the final proposal would be more flexible if graduation requirements would ever change. A constant revision of the amendment would not be necessary.

Convention Delegates Enjoyed Dana Visits

The following is typical of the responses which have come to me since we had the privilege of being hosts to delegates and visitors from our American Lutheran Church convention on Sunday, October 20. I want to express to all of you my deepest appreciation for your part in making the day such a gratifying experience.

C. C. Madsen

Dear Dr. Madsen:

Now that the Fourth General Convention of The American Lutheran Church is history, there come moments of reflection and re-evaluation for those of us who were privileged to be delegates. One of the high points of the convention was the visit to Dana College last Sunday afternoon, and the hospitality of the hours spent on the campus will not soon be forgotten. A most sincere thank you for the warm reception that was received there on the part of all those who came from near and far. The program, and the evening dinner was truly "great" and a most sincere thank you for everything. For those that were in the car when we returned to Omaha, there was the expression, - "the end of a perfect day." God's blessing upon you and your work at Dana College.

Most sincerely,

/s/ Marvin L. Witte

An Open Letter From The Dean Of Students

First of all I would like to commend the student body for the good citizenship and cooperation exhibited thus far. We have had a good start and it has been due to the fine efforts of you students.

We must, of course, continually strive to improve and I am certain there are areas where we can do better. We could use the sidewalks more in some areas. Some of us could do more studying perhaps. Generally speaking though I feel things are going quite well.

Let us continue to exhibit good scholarship and citizenship.

Chapel Play Presents Timely Political Theme

On Wednesday, October 30, Encounter presented a one-act play, "The Leader", by Eugene Ionesco.

The play presented a timely theme relating to the upcoming political elections. It showed how people have become followers of "the crowd" in the respect that they will follow any leader. Personal anonymity within the crowd was effectively portrayed with the use of "masks" by the individual actors. The audience was made to feel a part of the group when the actors "followed their leader" off-stage and into the audience. Almost stylized dance motions also added to the effect of anonymity and gave the crowd its feeling of oneness or sameness.

The discovery of the anonymity of the members of the crowd and their blind faith in the leader posed the question to the audience, "What is your name?" "Who are you?" and "What is your role?" are questions presented by this highly interpretive play.

A commendable job was done by Cheryl Grap, Bruce Phillips, Carrie Dumke, Craig Moran, Chris Wiegert, Don Anderson and the production staff.

Midland To Host Faculty Fellowship

On Friday, November 15, the faculties of Dana, Midland, and Concordia College will meet on the Midland College campus for their annual faculty fellowship. This fellowship, started in 1958 is for all faculty members and their wives. The three schools take turns hosting the event and provide an evening of relaxing entertainment.

Decisions! Decisions!

One of them should be a buying decision

One of your most important decisions should concern life insurance from Aid Association for Lutherans . . . a fraternal society for Lutherans.

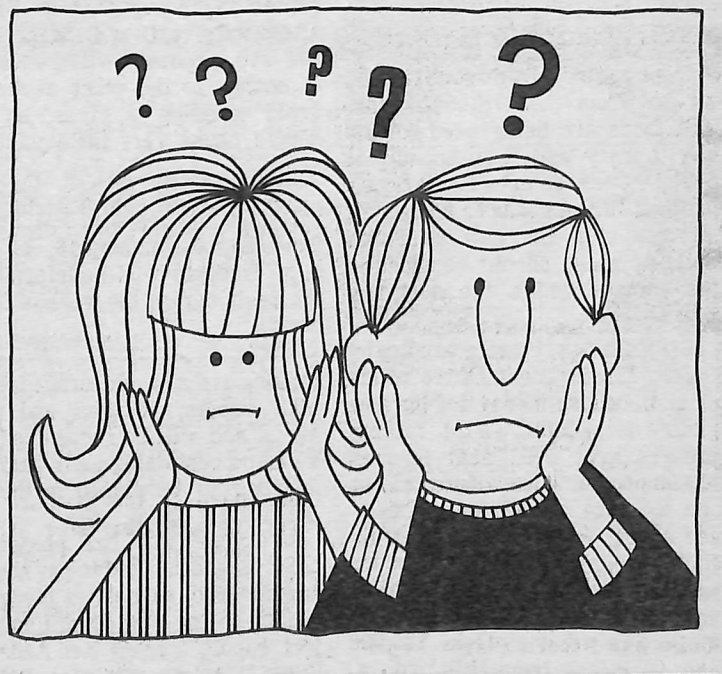

Lutheran college students can get a bargain . . . because of age, good health and the fact that AAL's rates are low to begin with. Another reason . . . Lutheran students can have guaranteed purchase options that assure them of being able to buy additional insurance later on regardless of health.

AAL representatives serve all 50 states and five provinces in Canada. Talk to one soon. Let him show you the advantages of starting a life insurance plan at your present age. That's Aid Association for Lutherans, where there's common concern for human worth.

Viking B Team Defeats Concordia

Dana's B Team won its first game this year when it defeated Concordia's J.V.s 21-13. Dana's scoring came early in the first quarter when Jim Binckley recovered a fumble on the Concordia 10 yard line. After several plays quarterback Don Matzen went in for the score.

In the second quarter Dana scored again on a one-yard run by John Hausserman. Concordia scored once in the second and third quarters to tighten the score at 14-13. Third quarter action saw Dana drive to the Concordia 10 yard line. At that point Matzen connected with Jerry Brown on a TD pass.

Mike Beech split the uprights for all three extra points to complete the Vikings' scoring.

Harriers Defeat JFK, Midland

Tim Wiggins led a string of four Dana harriers Tuesday in a cross country meet in which the Vikings scored dual victories over JFK and Midland and a triangular over both.

Runners from JFK finished first and second in the triangular, but Tim, Ralph Glock, Roger Knehans, and Craig Moran finished in that order to take the next four places. The score in the triangular was Dana 32, JFK 43, and Midland 45. Dana - Midland's dual score was 20-35 and Dana finished ahead of JFK by a one point margin, 27-28.

THE TOP TEN FINISHERS

1. Howard Nolan - JFK 20:09
2. Jerry Ochesky - JFK 21:09
3. Tim Wiggins - Dana 21:12
4. Ralph Glock - Dana 21:27
5. Roger Knehans - Dana 21:53
6. Craig Moran - Dana 21:55
7. Joe Onstatt - Midland 22:27
8. Jerry Leigh - Midland 22:58

THE BIG...

GORDY SAYS

It's Not Too Late For Vikings To Win

Dana has not had a real successful year in terms of scoring and winning, (2-5). The Vikings have played good football, however. They have lost to the best teams in the nation and the conference. Doane (rated 18th in the NAIA) and Westmar (first in the conference) have both beat the Vikings. They have lost close games only by the hand of fate.

Dana's defense has been strong all year. Using a new four-man line seems to give the Vikings extra strength both on the line and in the backfield. The offense started slow but has picked up momentum and is now at top strength.

Injuries have hurt the Vikings this year. They have not completed a game without an injury that kept a player out.

Today the Vikings go after Yankton. Since 1958 we have only lost 5 times to the Grayhounds. Yankton's best game is on the ground. Dana's line should be able to hold them. Dana is starting to roll this season. It is late in the season but there are still two more games left. The Vikings should be able to win with a few breaks.

Vikings Whipped By Sioux Falls

Tony Howe's power and the finesse of Don Hooper were the only bright spots for Dana in Saturday's wet and windy 18-13 loss at Sioux Falls. Although the Vikings rushed and passed the Braves 287 yards to 153 yards, Sioux Falls had more scoring breaks. The Braves tallied quickly by recovering an early Viking fumble on the Dana 7 yard line and carrying the ball across the goal line 4 plays later. Sioux Falls scored again in the first quarter when Gary Vossler ran the ball in from the five yard line. There was no scoring in the second quarter and as the second half began the rain that had been falling the first two periods let up.

Jim Uchtman sparked Dana's first T.D. when he intercepted a Terry Holland pass and returned it thirty-nine yards to the Braves' 21. Howe who gained 128 yards, carried the ball to the 2 where Hooper, with 112 yards for the night punched over for the score. Several minutes later Hooper scored again on a 55 yard sprint. Phil Vasby put Dana ahead momentarily 13 to 12 when he kicked the extra point. Dana's hope for a second conference win was short lived, however, when Vossler ran 17 yards to score Sioux Falls' winning T.D.

Peace Corps Tests Will Be Monthly

Mr. Weckmuller Earns Doctorate

Associate Professor of Education, Raymond J. Weckmuller, recently received his Doctorate of Education in school administration. The degree was conferred in July commencement exercises at the University of Nebraska.

Having worked with the Dana student teachers, Dr. Weckmuller used his interest in this program as a basis for his dissertation.

Dr. Weckmuller questioned 150 teachers who did student teaching in this state and have taught for no more than two years. Half of this group did student teaching for half-days, and the other half taught full days for a shorter length of time. The study indicated that students teaching only a few classes a day became better acquainted with their pupils, but those teaching full days were able to become better integrated with the faculty and school system.

Dr. Weckmuller received his B.S. from Dana, his M.S. from the University of Omaha, and has been at Dana since 1958.

Dr. Neve Tells Of Japan Tour

Dr. Paul Neve, chairman of the Music Department, has announced plans for an Oriental tour during the summer of 1969 by the Dana College Choir. The tour is open to all members of the College or Chapel Choir, besides parents and associate members connected with the college. This includes interested students who are not choir members. In order to make the trip possible, twenty people are needed at the minimum.

The choir will leave Blair on May 26 and depart from San Francisco May 29 for Japan.

There will be a ten-day stay in Japan with three or four of the nights spent in Japanese homes. Then the group will leave to present concerts in Hong Kong, Formosa, the Philippines, and the Hawaiian Islands.

The cost of the trip per choir member will be approximately $900. Each person in the Associate Group can expect to pay approximately $1250. This includes all but meals in Honolulu and several items of a personal nature.

All those interested in the Dana College Associate Tour of the Orient are urged to pick up a brochure in the Campus Center.

Four From Dana At A.A.U.P. Meeting

Four faculty members represented the Dana Chapter at the Nebraska State Conference of the American Association of University Professors on October 19 at Wayne State College.

President William A. Brandenburg of Wayne State welcomed the delegates and briefly discussed the problem of academic tenure that has resulted in A.A.U.P. censure of that college.

Professor Irwin Goldenstein of the University of Nebraska, who is a member of the Dana Board of Regents, presided.

Dana delegates were Nelson G. Williams, chapter president; Dr. Sarah Penick, secretary-treasurer; Miss Luella Nielsen, social chairman, and George Grube, a member of the state committee on the financial status of the profession.
