Operation Now Needs Students

Mr. Roç Wead, Executive Director of Wesley House in Omaha, spoke to Dr. Hanson's religion class on Wednesday afternoon about a plan he has for a grass root credit union and about the Operation Now Program in which three Dana students are participating.

Operation Now involves students living in the ghetto for a year and working as community organizers. They receive $50 a month plus room and board. They also get 9 credit hours for their work. Presently Pat Bracken, Peg Vogel, and Katie Homier of Dana are working in this program. Their year will be finished in June and three more students are needed to replace them.

Students with integrity and a willingness to devote a year to a good Christian work are encouraged to contact Pastor Jensen.

Mr. Wead also brought to the class his proposal for a credit union that would make maximum loans of $500.00 to be used in the ghetto. The program is designed to help deprived families. Connected with this program is Operation Green Power, a consumer education program designed to educate ACD recipients. Both of these proposals have been chartered and will be in effect in about a month.

The Lutheran Church provides funds for these projects and Mr. Dick Jensen coordinates the funds.

Mr. Wead is a 1957 Dana graduate.

Informal Winterfest Offers Movie, Dance and Dinner

Winterfest, which this year will take place January 31 through February 1 will take on the informal air, with Midland College as Dana's guests.

Winterfest begins with the banquet from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.,

Friday, January 31. This meal is free to all students with seven day meal tickets.

That same evening from 9:00 to 11:00 p.m. AMA will host the New Frontier, a nine member folk singing group from Fremont, Nebraska. They have played at several Midwest colleges and are expected to be excellent entertainment. After listening to the New Frontier, rush back to the dorm and get pillows and blankets for the movie to be shown in the tile floor gym at Borup at 11:30 p.m. Walt Disney cartoons and the film The Bride of Frankenstein starring Boris Karloff will be shown. All activities concerning Winterfest the 31st will be free of charge.

Saturday morning, February 1, snow sculptures made by each of the floors will be judged by the art department. The winning floor gets pizzas for a party.

The evening at 5:45 p.m. the Center will be the scene of a Viking pep rally to promote spirit for the highlight of Winterfest, Dana's game with Midland. The game begins at 6:30 p.m. in Borup. After the game from 9:00 to 12:00 p.m. dance to the music of the Rumbles at AMA. Only $1.50 per person.

School clothes will be appropriate for the dance.

Winterfest is sponsored by the Social Committee. The Social Committee is also showing the Movie Night of the Generals, January 24 at 8:00 p.m. in DHA. Admission will be 50¢ per person.

Jackson Discusses British Viewpoint Of World News

Mr. Colin Jackson, a member of the British Parliament, was on the Dana Campus January 7. Jackson, of the Labor Party, spoke at Chapel concerning his surprise at Russia's August invasion of Czechoslovakia. He spent the day visiting with students and faculty.

In the evening Mr. Jackson lectured in A.M.A. He discussed the British Commonwealth, the Arab-Israeli War, and attempted to clarify the British position in the Nigerian War.

Mr. Jackson has lectured to audiences all over the world and is a regular broadcaster in Britain both on radio and television. He writes a weekly column cover in the United States and the Commonwealth and contributes regularly to newspapers and periodicals in Britain, including Punch and New Commonwealth. His reporting on international events is unrivalled in its interpretation and clear thinking.

Warriors First Conference Foes

Tonight the Vikings face Midland in their first conference game. What is Midland's team like? Coach Rainforth said it's probably one of the finest teams Midland has had in a long time. They have a top scorer, Jeff Draemeal, the coach's son, with 259 points for a 23.5 average.

Midland is about the same in height average. They are quick but have not used a fast break much this year: they have a tough defense, are well organized and the team plays as a group. They have two top rebounders, Young and Ohm.

Free Caravan To Game

Anyone who would like a ride to the Dana vs. Midland basketball game, please come to the student center at 6:30 on Friday, January 10, 1969.

We need people to drive, so if you have a car please come. You will receive $1.00 for driving. There is no cost to the riders.

the actives and her sister pledges as Pledge of the Semester.

On the following Saturday morning the sorority, which now numbers thirty-three, were the guests of their faculty advisor, Dr. Sarah Penick, for brunch at her home. This gave many actives the needed strength to attack one of the Blair Super Markets to buy crates of fruit, cartfuls of all kinds of food and sacks of peanuts for a Christmas greeting to be given to two children's homes in Omaha.

Keep Trash Out Of Linden Room

Along with the changes in the Center go reminders: The Linden Room doesn't have an abundance of waste baskets, nevertheless, trash can't be left on the floor or furniture. If it is, we lose the privilege. Please remind yourself and others of this.

Also, the juke box is coming and the new room should soon be livable. If you have certain songs you would like on the juke box send your ideas to Box 857.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Kappa Theta Phi Sorority activated all of their pledges on December 12 with an activation ceremony in the President's room. Nancy Shaner was selected by both

Computer Course

Fortran 4, a nearly universal computer language, is taught at Dana. The course, listed as English 150, is offered this coming semester by Mr. Emmerich.

By the end of the course, students know how to program the Fortran 1130 computer at Creighton. Students are also introduced to the Olivetti-Underwood computer at Dana. Dana students are allowed a time slot on Thursday afternoons at Creighton's computer center.

There are no prerequisites for the course, and it is designed to be of special interest to business, science, and math majors, although any interested student may enroll.

Dana students make use of the key punch machine at Dana and run their programs at Creighton. With good fortune, the program clicks through the computer and prints the answers, much to the student's delight.

Student's Car Victim Of Turnover And Fire

A Dana College student's foreign auto was the victim of vandalism Thursday and Friday of this week. Miss Lynn Johnson, student at Dana College, had left her car in the student parking lot when she went to her parent's home in Pamona, California for the holidays.

The Johnson auto was the only car in the lighted Dana parking lot. Sometime Thursday night persons unknown turned the light car upside down. Later the car was put back on its wheels after suffering only minor damage.

At about 11 p.m. Friday night the Blair Volunteer Fire Department was called to the Dana College student parking lot. When the firemen arrived they found the interior of the car completely engulfed in flames. The fire was quickly extinguished but the car was termed a total loss.

The World Speeds By

As we begin a new year and approach a new semester we can look back at what has passed.

The year of 1968 was mainly a year of violence and unrest. The Vietnam War still raged and millions were starving in Biafra. Negotiations for peace talks were at a deadlock. North Korea captured the American ship, Pueblo, and refused to release the crew. Student unrest brought about riots and demonstrations all across the nation and world. The problem of black versus white was always present.

Last year was an election year. Robert Kennedy was assassinated and violence was the rule at the Democratic Convention in Chicago. Martin Luther King, a civil rights leader, was also on history's list of leaders to die by the assassin's bullet.

Yet there were notable accomplishments in 1968. Dr. Christian

Bernard performed the first successful heart transplant in South Africa, making it possible for many to live a longer and better life. Apollo 7 and Apollo 8 made great strides in the space program. The Pueblo crew finally came home and three Vietnam War prisoners were released.

This year, 1969, could be a better year -- it could be the greatest year of all. This could be the year that the Vietnam War ends. This could be the year people all over the world stop starving. This could be the year that world leaders put aside their hatred and greed and work for a united, peaceful world.

But 1969 can only be a great year if everyone, including you and me, put forth an effort for greater communication and better understanding between himself and his fellow man.

Parking Lot Is Scene Of More Car Vandalism

There is a problem which exists on campus for which I have no solution, but I know something should be done. It seems a shame when one's personal property is always in danger and nothing is done to protect it.

I am referring to the incident in the parking lot where a car was upset and burned during vacation. There have been other numerous cases of vandalism in the parking lot and we have no protection. Cars are expensive items for other people to be playing with.

I suppose we could all sit in our cars all night with a shot gun, but that really wouldn't be too practical. Yet we can't sit by idly while tires are stolen, cars are burned, and other equipment is tampered with right under our noses. So a problem exists. Something has to be done to protect the cars in the parking lot. Got any good suggestions?

LETTERS TO EDITOR ARE ENCOURAGED

Letters to the editor are welcome and encouraged. However, to be printed they must be limited to 200-250 words.

Preference will be given to letters that are signed, but letters will be printed if the writer signs his name and requests that his name be withheld.

No anonymous letters will be printed. It is hoped that students will use the Hermes as a vehicle for expressing their opinions.

Monday morning my alarm clock rang at 7 o'clock and I wearily dragged myself out of bed. I was tired but somehow relieved that I had arrived back at school alive and could hopefully get into the study groove before finals swooped down like a block winged ill-omen. I stumbled to the can and performed the basic required rituals. After a brief hassle picking out two matched socks in the pre-dawn gloom, I finished dressing and proceeded toward my first class.

I stepped outside the dorm and braced myself for the icy wind I was sure would greet my exit. Before I even had time to shiver I found myself lying on my back in front of Unit B. I was surrounded by commuters, upper class girls and late returning freshmen all crawling on their hands and knees trying to reach the Academic heights.

To make a long story even longer, I'm sure it wouldn't have hurt the maintenance people to work Sunday afternoon or even Monday morning to sand or salt the sidewalks and the city of Blair could have spared a couple of yards of sand or salt for the roads leading to campus. If the streets had been sanded to the parking lot we wouldn't have had so far to fall in getting our luggage to the dorm.

In the future I hope the sidewalks are better prepared for winter use. Crutches make it difficult to carry books. Actually it's probably my fault for not bringing my ice skates in anticipation of the new undergraduate sport of the year, class attendance.

Student Defends Humanities

Letter To The Editor

In response to a recent (Dec. 13) critique (if we may call it that) of the Humanities program.

I did take the humanities courses. All of them. Personally I'd say they were more than worthwhile.

If one academically survives the first two years of college he may restudy some of the elements initially introduced in humanities. Hegel, to use the example provided, will get a response of "Oh, yes, I remember him", if you even half tried to understand the first time around.

Profs are hired to teach not drill their vast knowledge into "turned-off" minds. If you don't care -- why should they? The main point here being THEY DO! I can see where new students encountering some of the most worthwhile, finest, mature, organized, concerned... teachers for the first time in their lives would find it difficult to recognize what is of real value. I may be blind to some of their faults, but friend, you're blind if you don't see their good points.

You don't have to be a major in any field to learn a little. You only have to be interested. (YOU INTERESTED! -- not the subject or the teacher.) You'll personally get more out of it when you personally put more into it. I'm sure Dr. Hanson or any of the other faculty would be willing to listen to student's suggestions on how to improve Dana's program.

The Black Man Speaks

(Editor's note: The ideas and feelings of a Black student in the white society of Dana college are expressed in this paraphrase of Hamlet's soliloquy. "Telling it like it is," the author hopes to deal with "our problems. I say ours, because I feel my problem, as long as I am here, is your problem.")

By Langston Bradley

To be, or not to be a man: that is the question;
Whether 'tis nobler of we blacks to suffer
The slings and arrows of outrageous white men,
Or to take arms against a sea of prejudices,
And by opposing end them. To fight; to live again,
And by a fight to say we end
The thousand natural shocks that the Black flesh is heir to:
'Tis a consumation devoutly to be wished. To suffer, to wait:
To wait; perchance to dream; ay, we have our dreams.
For in our life of strife our dream will come;
For only when we have shuffled off this mortal hate, then we give pause.
There's the respect that makes calamity of so long life;
For no one (not even we) can bear the whips and scorns of time.
The oppressor's wrong, my proud people's pride,
The pang of denied rights, the law's delay,
The insolence of racism, and the wrongs to patient merit by the unworthy,
Instills the spirit that we shall overcome;
And with a riotous revenge thus a quietus make.
For who would the fardels bear to grunt and sweat under a weary life,

But for the dread of what our children may have after our death.
For this undiscovered society that this country must birth,
From whence no man Black or white will suffer, puzzles the will
And makes us rather seek freedom, than bear the abuse of others
We know from whence it will come.
Thus conscience makes men of us all, and this Black hue of resolution
Is suckled up by the world's pale cast of righteous,
And enter the presses of great oppression and the desires to be free.
With this in regard, the current trend
Turns to action and leaves the name of waiting.
Soft you now; my fair-skin brothers, the time has come,
Be our plight noted.

Briar Cliff Edged Dana In 79-73 Overtime

The Briar Cliff Chargers and Dana College played another overtime game, this time the Chargers won it, 79-73. The game was the first game of a doubleheader at Northwestern College in Orange City, Iowa. Neither team could ever gain much advantage throughout, Briar Cliff's largest margin was 8 points and Dana held a 5 point edge several times.

Briar Cliff jumped to a quick 9-1 lead on several fast break scores but Dana caught up to 12-12 with 10:00 left in the 1st period. Jeff Beatty and Brent Peterson scored two quick baskets to gain a 16-12 margin. The Vikings employed a 2-1-2 zone throughout which gave the Chargers plenty of trouble as during a 6 minute stretch of this half the Sioux City team could score only 2 points. The Chargers caught up, however, as 6-5 Chuck Porter tipped one in for a 29-28 B.C. lead. The Chargers lead 31-28 at the half time break, thanks mainly to 8 one and one free throws in the last 2 1/2 minutes.

Dana got back on top in the 2nd half at the 17:00 mark on 2 free throws by Flip Larsen, 37-36. Peterson and Jahnke did some more quick scoring and got the lead up to 45-40. Dana's last "big" lead of 5 points was with 6:30 left when Dean Krueger made 2 free throws for a 61-56 lead. Briar Cliff steadily pulled up and took the lead with 2 1/2 minutes left at 66-65. 5 seconds later Peterson committed his 5th foul and Jim Hinrichs, who scored 31 points, converted the 2 free throws. Larsen tied at 69-69 on his lone field goal of the night and the two teams exchanged lay-ups and regulation time saw a tie score at 71 all.

After 16 seconds of the overtime, Krueger fouled out. His loss, and Peterson's early departure were detrimental to the Viking cause. In the extra period, Briar Cliff managed 6 free throws and a 60 foot field goal at the buzzer while Dana could muster only 2 free throws.

According to Coach Rainforth the Vikings played better ball in losing the second contest with Briar Cliff. In the losing effort Dana shot 44% to Briar Cliff's 37%. The Charger's leading scorer, however, scored 31 points.

Peterson and Jahnke were Dana's high scorers with 18 points apiece, while Jeff Beatty tallied 14. Briar Cliff had 4 men in double figures, Hinrichs 31, Porter with 12, Ed Wiltgen 14 and Ron Schultz 11. Dana played Pillsbury Saturday night at Orange City.

Vikings Beat Pillsbury, 107-99

The Dana College Vikings hit the century mark for the second time this season as they trounced Pillsbury College of Owatonna, Minnesota 107-79 Saturday night. It was part of two doubleheaders Friday and Saturday at Orange City, Iowa. The first night Dana lost in overtime 73-79 to Briar Cliff while Northwestern belted Pillsbury 100-56. Northwestern topped Briar Cliff 75-71 on Saturday also.

The Vikings used some accurate marksmanship in downing a clearly outmanned Pillsbury team. They hit 56% of their field goal attempts in the first half and 50.5% overall on 42 of 83 shots made, while Pillsbury only hit 30 of 91 attempts for 33%. Accuracy proved important with Pillsbury getting off more shots and out rebounding Dana 67-56.

Pillsbury scored first but Brent Peterson put Dana ahead for good 4-2. Pillsbury stayed within 2 points for 7 1/2 minutes but 2 quick buckets by Rick Jahnke and single goals by Dave Busse and Peterson opened up a 22-12 lead for Dana. The Vikings soon enjoyed margins of 30-17 and 44-27. Jahnke's free throw after the buzzer lifted Dana to a half-time bulge of 54-37. Jahnke and John Biddle scored 12 points apiece in the opening 20 minutes.

Dana opened up a 65-44 edge 5 minutes into the second half and at the 12:30 mark had a 70-49 bulge. At this point coach Jerry Rainforth began using reserves who have rarely been in. Dana has been playing with only eight men in most games. Flip Larsen and Rex Mahlman, members of the "starting 8", led the build up to 80-55. Reserve Ralph Glock tossed in 8 points in the final minutes.

Biddle had the honor of cracking the 100 point mark as his field goal with 2 1/2 minutes left sent the score to 101-73. Reserve Jim Uchtman who had 5 points closed the scoring at 107 for Dana. Biddle was Dana's high scorer with 18 points on 9 field goals in 13 attempts. Jahnke had 17, Peterson 15, and Busse hit 9 free throws in scoring 11 points.

Pillsbury's Tom Yauch, a 6'2" senior, embarrassed Dana with 33 points and 19 rebounds. A 5'10" sophomore, Bill Henderson, added 20 points as Dana's zone defense was successful with all but these two players.

Dana	54	53	107
Pillsbury	37	42	79
Dana: Biddle 18, Jahnke 17, Peterson 15, Larsen 12, Busse 11, Glock 8, Mahlman 8, Uchtman 5, Beatty 5, Krueger 4, Moerer 4, Stoll 0.

Val Heim Wins Pool Tourney

Val Heim, sophomore from Superior, Nebraska, has won his second trophy in individual intramural competition. Heim won his first trophy in the student division of the student-alumni golf tournament last fall and won his second in the pool tournament last December. Each match was the best of 2 out of 3 games of 8 ball. Heim never lost a game through the tournament as he defeated Mike Beech, Dale Oestmann, Gary Gray, and Fred Miller each two games to none. Charles Eastlund, the other finalist, forfeited to Heim when he left for Christmas vacation early. Joel Dickinson, Heim's roommate, placed third and got fourth in the consolation match. Pre-tournament favorites, Doug Lash and Mike Moore were upset before the semifinals.

Tarkio Rips Dana, 103-53 Tri-State Outlook

GORDY SAYS —

The Tarkio Owls took Dana's defense apart and chilled their offense in a 103-53 basketball lesson at Tarkio, Missouri Monday night. The Owls controlled the rebounds 64-39 and out shot the Vikings in percentage 47% to 36% to provide major factors in the win. Tarkio even tied the team assists record as they posted 29 of them on the evening. Tarkio is now 8-1 on the year while Dana's record slips to 4-5 in non-conference play.

The Owls raced to a quick 19-1 edge in the first half as nothing went right for Dana. It was 7 1/2 minutes before Dana could score a field goal which made the score 23-3. At one point, Tarkio led 47-7 and at the half it was 49-14. The Vikings could only hit 5 of 29 field goal attempts in the first twenty minutes, a percentage of 17.

The Vikings fared a little better in the second half, being outscored 54 to 39, and hitting a good 53% of field goal attempts. Much of this marksmanship was provided by sophomore Rick Jahnke who hit 8 for 8, and most were from 25 feet out against a Tarkio zone defense. Jahnke's shooting and Brent Peterson's eight assists were about the only high-lights in the Dana cause.

Viking Grapplers Win 2nd Meet

Dana's grapplers pushed their record to 2-0 by defeating Sioux Falls 29-6 before dropping the next meet to high flying Morningside. Dana swept all but two matches in defeating the Braves. Walt Duda, Chuck Morris, and Randy Lamer each pinned their opponents, Lamer turning his man over in 48 seconds. The young Vikings found the Morningside Chiefs to be a tougher crew as only the heavyweight, Walt Duda, could manage a decision. Dana's freshman laden squad gained valuable experience against the Chief's nationally recognized team.

Westmar Stops Young Wrestlers

Dana's wrestlers were defeated by Westmar 43-2 Wednesday night in Borup Coliseum.

Dana suffered 6 pins and 2 decision matches against the star-studded Westmar grapplers, champions of 1968. Dana's only points came when Gary Gray fought to a draw with Westmar's Chuck Paschke in the 130 pound class.

Dana has a very young team, including only 1 senior and 2 juniors. The rest are freshmen and sophomores. If appearances mean anything Dana's wrestling future looks bright. The team is stocked with strong arms from top to bottom. It was probably a good experience for the Dana wrestlers to go against such a fine team. Last year Westmar had a string of 42 wins before Morningside College finally put the lid on them.

A large enthusiastic Dana crowd turned out for the match, perhaps a crowd that is soon to see a Dana championship team.

Half-price to college students and faculty: the newspaper that newspaper people read...

At last count, we had more than 3,800 newspaper editors on our list of subscribers to The Christian Science Monitor. Editors from all over the world.

There is a good reason why these "pros" read the Monitor: the Monitor is the world's only daily international newspaper. Unlike local papers, the Monitor focuses exclusively on world news — the important news.

The Monitor selects the news it considers most significant and reports it, interprets it, analyzes it — in depth. It takes you further into the news than any local paper can.

If this is the kind of paper you would like to be reading, we will send it to you right away at half the regular price of $24.00 a year.

Clip the coupon. Find out why newspapermen themselves read the Monitor — and why they invariably name it as one of the five best papers in the world.
