

Ellen and Brent Reign Over Mayfest Activities

Olympics And Dance Scheduled For Today

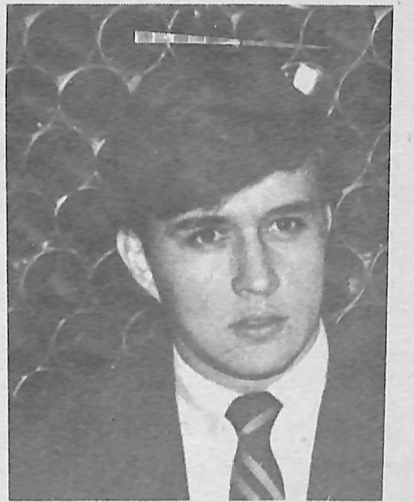

Ellen Andersen and Brent Peterson were crowned Mayfest Royalty last night in AMA at the coronation ceremony. Brent received a medalion from senior class president, Pete Nessen. Brent then crowned Queen Ellen with a crown of flowers.

The royalty and audience then watched the talent show done by the seniors. The show had several short "Laugh-In" type skits plus songs from Sharon Peterson, Karen Hansen, Lynn Johnson, Norma Carlsen and Paula Hansen, and a monologue by Norma Schafersman. Jan Haugen and Steve Miller amazed the audience with their very literary poetry. Ken Lizer and Dennis Weidler emceed the show.

This noon a picnic and the Viking Olympics will be held in the oval. Tonight at 8:30 Richmond Brown and the Blues Band will play for the Roman Holiday dance in Argo Lounge. Admission is $1.25 for singles, $2.00 per couple.

Dave Busse, a senior from Bird City, Kansas, is a social science major. He is a member of Kappa Chi Lambda and D-Club.

John Underdahl, a senior history major is from Denison, Minnesota. He is minoring in religion and plans to attend Luther Seminary after graduating.

Queen Ellen Andersen is a sociology major from Brush, Colorado. She enjoys spectator sports and music. Her activities include being a member of Kappa Theta

Phi, band and senior class treasurer.

Ellen plans to do child welfare work in Minneapolis after she graduates.

King Brent Peterson is a physical education major from Blair. His interests are in sports and horses, and he is a member of Kappa Chi Lambda, D-Club and Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Brent plans to become a physical therapist.

Seniors Are Invited To Madsen's Open House

Dr. C. C. Madsen, President of Dana College, is inviting the Class of 1969 to his home for Open House. The annual event will be held Sunday, May 11. Graduating Seniors may attend between 3 and 5 in the afternoon, or between 8 and 10 in the evening.

The Madsen home is located at 2519 College Drive.

Wives and husbands of graduating seniors are also welcome.

Paula Westfall is a French major from Western Springs, Illinois. She is a member of Kappa Theta Phi and Pep Club and is interested in swimming and cheer-leading.

Eileen Taake, an elementary education major from Tilden, Nebraska, is a member of Kappa Theta Phi and SEA.

Eileen enjoys traveling and music and plans to teach in Omaha.

Madsen Says Thanks For Parents' Day Help

I want to express my earnest thanks to the many people on our campus who contributed so diligently and effectively toward making our Parents' Day such a gratifying event: the folks in our Development, Admissions and Public Relations offices, members of food services and buildings and grounds staffs, faculty and staff members, Ekklesia Koinonias, music and dramatics departments and all of you.

Among many grateful comments from the more than six hundred visitors, I was most impressed by the many parents of new students who will be joining us next September, who said they were thankful that their sons or daughters are coming to Dana. May we continue to serve together so they won't be disappointed. THANK YOU

-- C. C. Madsen

Student Officers Installed

New student officers who were installed Thursday night are: Glenn Schacht, president; Rod Christensen, vice-president; Jan Penke, secretary; and Tim Wiggins, treasurer. They were installed by Carolyn Scholl, former president.

"Skipper" also installed Glenn's cabinet for the coming year. They are: Craig Moran, Parliamentarian; Louis Carpenter, NSA-NSGA representative; Charles Gilmore, Religious director; David Renze, Academic Affairs Committee Chairman; Jim Pierce, Student Personnel Committee chairman; Abigail Hubbard, Special Projects chairman; and David Wallman, Buildings and Grounds chairman.

Glenn said, "The important thing is getting current affairs settled." Next year Glenn would like to see the social committee separated from the Student Council as much as possible. He will try to be a coordinator between the students and the faculty concerning the calendar changes and other affairs that will affect the students.

Death Takes Regent, Rev. Otto Fangmeyer

Pastor Otto Fangmeyer of Beatrice, a faithful member of our Dana Board of Regents and the Board's Committee on Education, died Monday after an excruciatingly painful illness of several months, a spinal malignancy.

Funeral services were at St. John's Lutheran Church in Beatrice, Nebraska, on Thursday. President Madsen gave a tribute at the service from Dana College and our Regents.

Marshall Fredricks Will Conduct Sculpture Symposium May 7 and 8

Dana will sponsor a sculpture symposium featuring Marshall Fredricks, sculptor of international fame, on May 7 and 8. Guest artists from Kearney, Creighton, Peru, College of St. Mary, and Hastings colleges will attend.

Mr. Fredricks' artistry is well-known for its human touch, and his humanitarian approach. He is co-founder and American Director of Diadem and Diadem-Return Program for International Exchange of the Handicapped.

In the summer, 1967, fifty handicapped young people from Denmark attended a session at Dana under the sponsorship of Mr. Fredricks' Diadem Exchange for the Handicapped program.

Mr. Fredricks will give a lecture and show slides of his work on Wednesday night, May 7 in DHA. A coffee in the Presidents' Room will follow.

In addition to Mr. Fredricks, the symposium includes exhibits of Father Lubbers, Chairman of Creighton's Fine Arts Department and Gary E. Couiter, Chairman of Art at Hastings College. The exhibits will be in the Blue and Gold Room.

At 2:00 p.m. on May 8 a symposium on aesthetic problems and a comparison of contemporary artists will take place.

This 'Wheeling Gazelle' centerpiece of Barbour Fountain at Belle Isle, Detroit, Michigan, was done by Marshall Fredricks.

The new officers for the student body are: Glenn Schacht, president; Rodney Christenson, vice president; Janet Penke, secretary; and Tim Wiggins, treasurer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Is HERMES Asleep?

To The Editor:

I couldn't help but feel a twinge of guilt run up my spine when I read Dick Zion's editorial in the April 18th issue of the Hermes. But as I was crawling into a dark hole to hide from the pious gaze of those "70 people qualified to vote," my non-political mind tripped into a credibility gap.

Even "Lapsus Linguae" admitted the many activities that the campaign speeches conflicted with, and, knowing how Dana students love to attend meetings, I'm sure there were almost as many people at the presidential debate. So I can agree whole-heartedly with Dick about the possibility of the student election, which will "affect all of us next year," becoming a popularity contest. But when, under the banner headline of "Responsible Government Depends on Responsible Voting," I read all about the hobbies and club affiliations of those students running for governmental positions, I began to wonder what happened to responsible reporting. Popularity contest or election? Society page or news page? Is the Hermes staff awake to the problem, but sleeping through the solution?

A newspaper fills the needs of the community it serves. If the community can not get out to hear the issues of a campaign, the newspaper should bring the campaign to the community. My final question is this: Is the Hermes a newspaper?

H. Jean Bryan

Editor's Note

Admittedly, the issues of the recent student body election were not well covered. This was due partly to the lack of sufficient staff reporters. The election article was compiled by four different people - two of whom were the editors whose duty is not reporting. However, we found there were just no major issues and that both candidates seemed to agree on every point which was made at the debates. This is not the fault of the newspaper.

Because we found no prominent issues in the election, we printed facts about the candidates themselves, hoping that the background and experience of each candidate would at least help the students make a reasonably responsible choice. By making an extra effort to put the newspaper into the hands of the students on the day before the election rather than after the election, we hoped to at least make the voters acquainted with the names and faces of the candidates.

Phi Alpha Theta Initiates Seven

Six students and a faculty member were initiated in Mu Kappa chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, international honor society in history, on April 24.

The students are Mary Adam, Suzanne Chambers, Glean McClannahan, Gary Panko, Mary Stubbendick, and Kathleen Zwanziger. Miss Carolyn Eckley, instructor in history, was also initiated at this time.

Officers for next year will be Gary Panko, president; Mary Stubbendick, secretary; Mary Adam, historian, and Nelson G. Williams, faculty advisor.

Editorially Speaking . . .

We'll Try Harder

The Hermes is a student publication and it tries to be a newspaper, even though it faces innumerable obstacles.

One of its major obstacles is lack of student participation. About 300 column inches are filled, one way or another, by a handful of students fortnightly. By handful, we refer to approximately two dozen students out of the 800 who attend Dana. This handful doesn't always do the best job of reporting or accurately reflect the opinions of all the students, but they spend many long, hard hours in getting four pages of print, pictures, and ads to the rest of the student body.

It's a pretty thankless job. Most of the comments are complaints about articles left out, names spelled wrong, bad reporting, etc. Few people say thanks to the staff for working extra hard to get out a special issue or an early paper. Most of them don't even notice.

The reporters and photographers are not paid. They contribute their valuable time, sacrificing studying and other activities. It takes from 20-25 hours an issue to get the stories together and into a Hermes (even though sometimes it may look like we have spent two hours on it).

We face other limitations like money and space. If we didn't have a budget to operate within we could do some elaborate things, have more pages, and pay the staff. We also have a space problem. Next year the Hermes and Danian will share an office in Elk Horn!

Dana has one journalism course, and publications seem to be very low on the priority list. You can't learn everything about journalism in one course.

The people on the Hermes staff try to make it a good paper. If we had more cooperation, a larger staff, more space, a bigger budget, more courses in journalism, and more time the Hermes would be a better paper. But until these things come about, we can only hope we get more volunteer help and that each year the results of a hard-working, underpaid staff and advisor will be better.

Put Your Grievances On The Table May 5

To The Editor:

Within the past few weeks, we have become increasingly concerned with the number of grievances that have seemingly been unexpressed to the administration and, therefore, unresolved by them.

We feel that it is time that we, as a student body, present a list of our grievances to the administration in hopes that meaningful dialogue and action will result.

We feel that the purpose of a college education is not to escape from humanity, but to discover humanity. We, at Dana, exist in a rather alienated atmosphere, but it does not have to be this way. There are many issues on this campus that need to be expressed and acted upon. Perhaps some of these concerns seem trivial and insignificant--like desiring cleaner silverware, or wanting to know how our tuition money is being allocated. But it all boils down to the fact that we, as students, want to be recognized and realized as important to Dana College. Without students Dana is just buildings; we are the life force of Dana. We must get away from the idea that college is a sterile community of intellectuals pursuing their degrees and looking neither right nor left. The mind must be improved, but not at the expense of the whole man. We should be concerned with the guts and soul of humanity.

In hopes of finding a way to express our concern, we are setting up a table in the student center on Monday, May 5, at which time the student body can express their personal grievances. We will compile these grievances and present them to the administration for consideration over the summer. After summer, we propose to meet with the administration and dialogue for action.

Remember, you are not insignificant and neither are your issues.

Jim Mortensen Wins Art Award

W. James Mortensen, a senior has won an exhibition award in the eleventh annual National Lutheran Student Art Award Program sponsored by Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal insurance society.

Mr. Mortensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell G. Mortensen, is from Linn Grove, Iowa. He received a $25 United States Savings Bond for his oil painting entitled "The Blue Room."

The 58 winning art works in the program were selected from 497 entries submitted by students attending 98 schools. The society has awarded $2,800.00 to students and Lutheran schools they attend in this year's program. Included are purchases of nine entries for Lutheran Brotherhood's permanent art collection.

Ekklesia Koinonias Elects Officers

Election of officers and three new council members for student congregation - EKKLESIA KOINONIAS - was held following the Sunday morning worship service, April 20th. To serve for the coming 1969-70 school year, the following were elected: Chuck Gilmore, President; John VanDyke, Vice President; Naomi Kenyon, Treasurer.

Juel Neve, Phil Gotsch, and Rod Kastrop were elected to serve three-semester terms as general members on the church council.

The new officers and councilmen were installed during the Parents' Day service before the 600 parents and students in attendance.

Outgoing officers and councilmen are: David Larsen, President; Chuck Gilmore, Vice President; Naomi Kenyon, Treasurer; Dennis Schmidt, Eleanor Jensen and Tim Wiggins are the outgoing council members.

Lapsus Linguae

By Dick Zion

The sound is hardwood on a horsehide ball, and the cheer of excited fans as one of the Viking baseball players smacks it out of the park. If you haven't heard this sound, you are missing one of the happening things around Dana this spring. Even if you don't like baseball you should attend; the fresh air and vocal exercise will do you good.

The best part of the whole thing is that we're winning and very possibly could be conference champs. Even when we lose (which we hope is seldom), the games are well worth attending. An old adage goes something like, It's not whether you win, but how you play, and in every case when the Viking ball team hits the field you see an exciting game.

To individually name and congratulate each player would take several columns, and it seems more proper to leave the statistical end to someone more qualified. But from a former baseball hater and now an avid fan, the Vikings get my full and enthusiastic support. The baseball games are fantastic and well worth the time spent attending.

Unfortunately there are no more home games, but I hope that this article may kindle some more interest in the baseball team and that at the next game the whole student body will go and support our team. Just think what would happen if all of us showed up and cheered. The other team might leave under the force of "mouth power". Even if yelling isn't your bag, go and watch. You might learn some cool baseball lingo, and in that way increase your vocabulary. That qualifies baseball games as learning experiences. You just can't escape the advantages of higher learning!

Prof. Grube Elected A. A. U. P. President

George Grube, associate professor of biology, was elected president of the Dana Chapter of the American Association of University Professors at the spring business meeting on May 1. He will succeed Nelson Williams, associate professor of social science, who has served in that capacity for the past two years.

Girls Place Well At 'Little Olympics'

The Tri-State "Little Olympics" was held at Westmar College on April 25 and 26. The meet included a badminton doubles and singles tournament, a tennis doubles and singles tournament, archery, and a track and field meet. Every college in our conference was in attendance except for Midland.

Mrs. Smith, as track coach, took six girls from the P. E. M. Club to the meet on Friday. Those participating in events were: Judy Duncan, Sally Kirkwood, Louise Petersen, Winnie Eaton, Lora Lunzmann, and Linda Bergstedt.

These Dana women brought back three second places for a team total of twelve points.

Lora Lunzmann took second place in the 4-kilo shot put, with a toss of 33' 1", only coming short of the 1st place winner's throw of 33' 11 1/2" won by Jeanne Meyer of Northwestern. Both girls broke the 1967 record of 31' 7".

Sally Kirkwood and Linda Bergstedt took second place in the badminton doubles tourney on Friday. They took second after a grueling battle with seven other teams, playing 20 games in all.

On Saturday, Louise Peterson advanced all the way to second place in the badminton singles competition.

The girls returned to Dana a tired, but happy group. They are all looking forward to next year's 4th annual "Little Olympics."

Max Stratton, Central Plains Regional Director of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, will speak at the All Sports Banquet to be held May 9 from 6 to 8 P.M. in the cafeteria.

Mr. Stratton was in the Navy during World War Two and attended Kansas Wesleyan after discharge. He was a high school coach in Riley, Kansas from 1957 to 1960 and joined the FCA staff in 1967.

Following the dinner the Honor Athlete Award, Sportsmanship Award, Coach Olson Trophy, "D" Club Alumnus Award, and player recognitions will be presented by the coaches and president of the "D" Club, Ron Briggs. The Rufus Olson Award will be presented by Nelson Brothers Clothiers.

Dan Watts is shown doing the broad jump in a recent track and field meet.

Trackmen Earn Five First Places In 4-Way Meet

Viking tracksters topped Midland, Concordia, and Tarkio in a quadrangular track meet held last Friday at Viking Field. The Big Red turned in 5 first place efforts in this important win.

Freshman Gary Reitsma took first place in the shot put with a record toss of 47 ft. 5 in., which bettered the old mark by 1 inch. Hooper won a first place in the 100-yard dash, Knehans took first in the 880, and Vasby copped 1st place in the pole vault. Finally the mile relay team of Watts, Andersen, Knehans and Rasmussen took first to put the meet on ice.

The final results showed Dana ahead with 76 1/2, Midland second with 67, Concordia with 63 1/2 and Tarkio last with 51.

The week before, Dana trackmen finished 4th at the LeMars invitational held at LeMars, Iowa. John Magnuson took first place in the shot put and Roger Knehans took second in the 880 yard run.

Other Vikings contributing to the cause were: Fisher, 4th in the 100 yard dash; Korzilius 4th and Wiggins 5th place in the mile run; and Rasmussen 4th place in the 440 yard dash.

GORDY SAYS — Statistics Show Good Baseball

Statistics compiled by the Viking baseball team point out the fine quality of the team produced during the 1969 season. At one time Dana rated 9th in the NAIA in hitting. The Vikings had a team batting average of .312 after 16 games but have fallen to .301 after 20 games. Doane (.345) and Rockhurst (.296), former Viking foes, were rated 1st and 15th respectively.

In individual standings, Mike Moore, who was 34th in the NAIA in hitting, has fallen from .403 to .357. Jan Haugen, rated 42nd by the NAIA, has gone up from .400 to .416. Other individual batting averages are: Flip Larsen, .316; Craig Moran, .308; Ron Bernier, .300; Brent Peterson, .281; Brian Moerer, .237; and Gordy Putnam, .200.

With an E. R. A. of only 3.076, the Viking pitching staff has done a better job than was expected. Dan Jackson has the lowest E.R.A. of 2.14, Flip Larsen follows with 2.59, Paul Toole has 3.00, Ken Peterson has 4.32 and Jim Uchtman has 6.75.

With only six games left, four of them Conference, it's hard not to look too optimistically toward the future.

In the Conference, Concordia, which is on the top of the league, still has to play Yankton and Dana. Yankton plays Sioux Falls and Westmar and the Vikings also face Northwestern.

Dana is one of the ten schools in District II of the NAIA. Four of these ten schools will be chosen for the playoffs beginning May 15. UN at O (10-4) and Kearney State (6-2) played last Tuesday with UN at (triumphing. Wayne State, which Dana split with earlier this year is 9-2. Dana has beaten Doane (5-7) three out of four times. Hastings, Midland, Peru State and Chadron State fill out the District II.

Tri-State Standings

Concordia	4-0
Dana	7-1
Yankton	4-2
Westmar	3-5
Midland	2-6
Northwestern	2-4

Vikings Split In Tennis Meets

Dana split in dual tennis meets with Westmar and Concordia.

Ralph Mayer, Gaylan Miller, and Terry Thomas all won their singles matches over the Eagles. Mayer and Miller, Thomas and Greg Rogers also won their doubles matches to defeat Westmar 5-2.

Mayer and Thomas continued to win against Concordia in singles, but the Vikings dropped the other singles matches as well as the doubles, losing 5-2.

Thursday, May 8, the Vikings are host to Doane at 1 p.m. On May 10 the tennis team travels to Westmar for a 10 a.m. meet. At 9 a.m. on May 13 the Tri-State Conference meet begins in Fremont.

Golfers Lose At Sioux City

Rod Appel shot a 77 to qualify as co-medalist in a losing cause in a golf meet with Morningside. Joe Dickinson was five strokes behind at 82. Appel and Dickinson scored Dana's three points while Morningside tallied 12.

Val Heim and Appel both shot 82 in a triangular meet with Sioux Falls College and Briar Cliff College. The Vikings edged Briar Cliff, 8 1/2 to 6 1/2, but lost to Sioux Falls, 9 1/2 to 5 1/2.

Concordia hosts the Vikings on May 2 at 1 p.m. The NAIA District golf meet will be held at Fremont on May 5 and 6.

Decisions! Decisions!

One of them should be a buying decision

One of your most important decisions should concern life insurance from Aid Association for Lutherans... a fraternal society for Lutherans.

Lutheran college students can get a bargain... because of age, good health and the fact that AAL's rates are low to begin with. Another reason... Lutheran students can have guaranteed purchase options that assure them of being able to buy additional insurance later on regardless of health.

AAL representatives serve all 50 states and five provinces in Canada. Talk to one soon. Let him show you the advantages of starting a life insurance plan at your present age. That's Aid Association for Lutherans, where there's common concern for human worth.

Berkely Prof. Tries to Explain Student Unrest

Dr. R. L. Moellering who is presently on the faculty of the University of California at Berkeley was on campus Tuesday evening, April 29. Dr. Moellering spoke on "Student Unrest" and began his topic with a discussion of Marxist principles versus Christianity.

He stated that alienation, a key to the problem of student unrest, is also a key to the understanding of Marxism. He also pointed out that even though Communism believes that religion is the opiate of the people, the present Marxists are changing their minds and are beginning to see that Christians do attack social problems. The question is rapidly becoming one of Christian theology vs. Marxist philosophy.

Dr. Moellering went on to state that student unrest isn't limited only to the United States and very often extends even into the high schools. Oftentimes leaders of unrest are falsely accused of being impractical and irrational.

He cited that the agony of today's colleges and universities lies in the desire of students and faculty who want a re-evaluation of curricula, new innovations, more community involvement, and numerous other measures.

A description of the underlying issues of the San Francisco State riots revealed that students felt the need for special programs for minority groups and expressed concern for the preservation of the college as the originator of ideas and as the critic of society. The students also put up a resistance to outside interference to their local autonomy.

He concluded with an explanation that no outside advocates are usually involved and that one has to differentiate between pacifists and activists and their role in student unrest.

Casts Listed For One-Act Plays

"The Bald Soprano" by Ionesco will be presented by the Dana College Players May 25 at 8:00 p.m. in DHA.

The play which is directed by Lowell Thomsen for his acting-directing class is about people whose lives are so common that they have lost everything in life and are just living.

The cast for the play is: Mrs. Martin, Pat Darling; Mr. Martin, Ron Hutton; Mary, Mary Beth Sims; Mrs. Smith, Norma Schafersman; and Mr. Smith, Dennis Weidler.

"House of Cards", a suspenseful one-act drama by Percival Wild, will also be presented Monday evening under the direction of John Christensen. The cast of players is: Doug Witte, Kris Berg, and Carl Fredrickson.

Last Wednesday in chapel "Perceptus" by David Steigerwalt, under the direction of Rich Tenney was presented. It told the story of three businessmen and their fate on judgment day.

The cast included: Jim Pierce, Arden Rakosky, Cliff Larsen, Cheryl Grappe, Pam Holden, and Carol King.

Kappa Theta Phi Pledges Go Active

The Kappa Theta Phi Sorority activated all their pledges on April 23 with an activation ceremony in the Presidents' Room. Joyce Jensen was selected as Pledge of the Semester.

Shakespeare Class To Give Elizabethan Evening May 9

"Sleep no more. Macbeth doth murder sleep!" shout the haunting voices heard by a murderer enveloped in crime.

"Lord, what fools these mortals be!" exclaims Puck, the fun-loving fairy, who enjoys nothing more than making men look even more foolish.

John Terry and Jean Brehm, shown in front of a replica of the Globe Theater, are rehearsing for the Elizabethan Evening to be held May 9 at 8 p.m.

Macbeth and Puck are just two of the characters who will be seen at the 10th annual Elizabethan Evening to be presented May 9 at 8:00 p.m. in A.M.A. by the Shakespeare class under the general direction of Dr. Engleman.

For the first time Dana faculty, students, staff members, and their families can enjoy the evening of Shakespearean drama and music for no admission cost. In addition to the scenes from "Macbeth" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream", 16th century songs in solos, duets, and trios, along with sonnet interpretations will be presented in traditional Shakespearean costume.

Works of former Shakespeare students including a model of the Globe Theater and pictures depicting scenes from Shakespeare's plays will be on display.

Students who will be participating in the evening are Alvin Anderson, Allan Anderson, Carol Jean Hanson, Tracy Fischer, James Weinman, Joseph Anderson, Sheryl Rasmussen, Marianne Clare, John Terry, Jean Brehm, Marilyn Hansen, Alison Welty, Sara Christiansen, Naomi Kenyon, Linda Sue Anderson, Sharon Juhler, Joel Hermann, Sharon Boone, and Jan Winkel.

Iowa Attorney Speaks To SAM Members

Mr. David Moore, the County Attorney of Shelby County, Iowa, spoke to SAM members April 30. He explained the duties of a county attorney in regard to criminal law, misdemeanors and felonies. Mr. Moore stated that liquor is the biggest problem in most juvenile and divorce cases.

Mr. Moore stated that he felt juveniles should be sent for correction rather than let off in major offenses as is often the case. Many times they commit a similar crime almost immediately. In his opinion, Mr. Moore said he felt there is a general breakdown in morals, but feels it will tend to stabilize.

The next SAM meeting will be May 6 at 7:30 P.M. in the Presidents' Room. The speaker will be Nels Peterson from the AFL-CIO. Everyone is welcome.
