Friends Of Distinction To Appear Dana Enrollment As Dana's Big Name Entertainment At All Time High

The "Friends of Distinction", RCA recording artists, are the happening thing on the West and East Coasts. On Friday, September 26, Dana College will try to start that happening in the Midwest.

The "Friends of Distinction" have truly arrived as the most exciting and unique group in the country. They are a group who produce many sounds like that of the "Fifth Dimension". Since their million dollar seller, "Grazin' in the Grass," which came out in 1968, they have produced two albums and another one is being released this month.

Things are happening so fast to the "Friends of Distinction" that they are expected to be among the class of performers such as the "Fifth Dimension" and the "Association" within the next year.

The Friends of Distinction are Harry Elston, Floyd Butler, Jessica Cleaves and Barbara Jean Love.

Harry Elston of Dallas began singing as a youngster in the local church choir. When he was fifteen, he left to join the Johnny Otis Caravan. Following a hitch in the U.S. Air Force and after a fling at professional baseball, he decided to make a career out of singing when he drifted into a rock group in the early sixties. There he met Floyd Butler and the nucleus of The Friends of Distinction was formed.

Harry is the group's writer, and it was he who composed the lyrics to the hit, "Grazin' in the Grass."

Floyd Butler is a native of San Diego, California, and grew up planning to be a jazz saxophonist. He was encouraged to begin singing and, after spending four years in the Marine Corps, he joined a group where he met Harry Elston.

Jessica Cleaves of Beverly Hills was singing as far back as she can recall. Both of her parents sang, and her mother played piano.

Jessica's ambition has always been for a show business career, and, to this end, she debuted in the church choir at the age of ten. She received scholarships to both the University of Southern California School of Music and to the California Institute of the Arts. She was brought into the newly forming The Friends of Distinction by Floyd Butler.

Barbara Jean Love also comes from Beverly Hills. She is the daughter of a West Coast disc jockey. She joined The Friends of Distinction about a year and a half ago.

Currently the group is touring the country in concert before their Dana appearance.

Admission to the concert to be held in Borup Coliseum is $2.50 to all students. Tickets will be sold one week in advance in the Student Center.

Chapel Schedule

Sept. 16 - The Rev. Robert Albers, First Lutheran Church, Blair
Sept. 17 - Pastor Bergstraesser
Sept. 19 - To be announced
Sept. 23 - Mr. Donald Kline, English Department

Opening Convocation

The fall Opening Convocation was held September 4 in AMA with Dr. C. C. Madsen giving the key address to a large group of faculty and students. Dr. Madsen's theme was "We are glad to be back" and he welcomed all new and returning students and faculty to a new year at Dana.

Dr. Madsen cited the new projects on campus and asked our patience in awaiting the opening of the library and the finishing of the girls' dorm. He also welcomed a year in which faculty-student-administration relationships would flower at a mature level of understanding and discussion.

Figures released today by the office of the Registrar show that 1969-70 will be Dana's largest year to date with a total of 920 students now registered for classes. This marks the first time in Dana's history that first semester enrollment has gone over the 900 mark. At this same time last year there were 832 students registered.

Included in the 920 figure are 162 seniors, 171 juniors, 204 sophomores, 344 freshmen, 1 special, 7 post-graduate and 31 part-time students. No geographical breakdown of figures is available as yet.

Danish Archivist To Lecture Soon

Holger Bladt, chief archivist of the Danes World-Wide Archives of Aalborg, Denmark will visit the campus on Monday, September 15. He will lecture on the subject "Danes Around the World" beginning at 8 p.m. in DHA. The lecture is open to the public at no admission charge.

Bladt is currently on a world-wide tour gathering information on Danish - American immigrants and their descendents. Dana is included in his tour as the only 4-year college in America founded by Danish pioneers.

In addition to his position as chief archivist, Mr. Bladt has also served as President of the Rebild National Park Society. The largest celebration of our American Independence outside the U.S. is held annually at the Rebild Park. The Dana College Choir has twice appeared on the program of that event.

Following the lecture on September 15, an informal coffee hour will be held in the Presidents' Room of the Campus Center. The Dana Chapter of the American Scandinavian Foundation will host the evening.

Discount Days Next Weekend

The Blair merchants have agreed to cooperate with Dana College in sponsoring the third annual Dana Discount Days, Friday and Saturday, September 19 and 20. Most stores will offer a ten percent discount on all merchandise while others will be offering extra specials along with the discounts.

Dana students should be sure to carry their college I.D. because some merchants will require it at the time of purchase.

The stores who will be participating in Dana Discount Days have advertisements in today's Hermes. Grocery stores, restaurants, and gasoline stations will not be involved.

Dana students help stand the new cross on the hill.

Students Erect Cross On Hill

Dana's campus has gained a new sentinel of Christian freedom up on the hill. A new cross has been erected to replace the one destroyed two years ago by vandals. The cross was carried to its new home by Dana students. Pastor Bergstraesser and Dr. Madsen were in attendance to speak at the dedication ceremony.

The Sophomore class is responsible for the new cross and David Zion was chief contractor for the project.

Singer In Head

Danny Cox, guitarist and folk-singer, will appear in the Dragon's Head on Friday and Saturday nights, September 19 and 20.

Cox now 26, was born in Cincinnati and planned to become an art teacher until he started playing the guitar. He has appeared in San Francisco, Kansas City, and most recently, in Washington, D.C. with the Pozo Seco Singers.

Offices Traded

Mr. Erling Rasmussen, Dean of Students, now has his office facilities in the Student Center, and Mr. Pagel is located in Pioneer Memorial.

Asked to comment on his new location the Dean said, "It's great for me!" When asked what his feelings were for the students this year, he made only good comments. He believes the year has started out right, with few problems on the parking situation and he feels the attitude of all the students is great, especially the Freshmen.

'69 Viking Olympics Enjoyed By Frosh

On Sunday, September 7, the upper classmen invited the freshman class to participate in a yearly ritual known as "The Viking Olympics". The event was well attended by a host of red Beanies and upper-classmen dressed in grubbies.

The festivities were started by a three legged race. Although the Frosh's form left much to be desired everyone managed to cover the course despite the shady nylons used to tie their legs together.

The second event consisted of a piggy-back race; boys on girls' backs for half a lap and girls on boys' backs for half a lap. Event number three was a relay race with a girl and boy back to back running a specified distance. Due to much farsight by the initiation committee, a water balloon was provided each couple to cushion their backsides.

The finale event was a tug of war. The rope was stretched over a water and mud-filled pit. Upper-classmen were on one side and Frosh on the other. After several attempts at regaining the rope, everyone proceeded to place each other in the pit.

David Musick In Bach Competition

David Musick, senior music student, has been accepted as one of a limited number of participants in the 1969-70 J. S. Bach International Competition scheduled for September 26-28 in Washington, D.C.

Sponsored by a Government grant, the competition is designed to focus attention on a limited number of young artists--twenty-three students were accepted for participation last year. The winner of the Competition is awarded a year's study in Germany and a solo recital in Washington, D.C.

Several local appearances by Dave have been scheduled prior to the Washington, D.C., Competition. He will be featured in an all-Bach recital on Sunday, September 14 beginning at 3 p.m. in the Lecture Hall at Joslyn Museum. The recital is open to the public at no admission charge. Other engagements include a closed performance for the Private Music Teachers of Omaha and a public recital at Midland College in Fremont.

Flight Club Planned

This year Mr. George would like to start a new Dana Flying Club. Anyone interested in flying should put their name in Mr. George's box, number 1206.

President Madsen Welcomes Us

I deem it a privilege to welcome you, freshmen, transfer students and returning students, as we begin our eighty-fifth academic year at Dana. You are a part of the largest student body in our history, some over 900. As you come here to the heart of mid-America from coast to coast, from Canada to the Caribbean, from nations around the world, you bring to our campus the traditions, heritage and culture of your communities and your people. We welcome this.

The privilege of sharing our faith and our cultures gives us the finest setting for a liberal arts community of learning. Let us do so with respect and understanding to widen our horizons and deepen our compassions.

A most impressive conclusion of the opening week activities was the planting of the cross atop the hill overlooking our campus. I thank you for the privilege of sharing in this hour of inspiration, and I hope this cross may stand as a constant reminder to all of us to order our days and set our goals in the light of those values which have eternal worth.

May God direct you and bless you and all of us to that end so we can say that this 1969-70 school year has not just the biggest but the best student body in Dana's history.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING . . .

It sounds terribly trite and somewhat unnerving to say that school has started, but it's time, and it's time to get into the groove once again.

We, as a college newspaper staff are going to try to keep you, as a student body, up on most of what's happening. Every faction on campus, faculty and administration included, has problems functioning within the campus as a whole. For this reason we propose to set down a few guidelines for both the reader and the staff's benefit.

1. The staff is a collection of interested students donating their time for volunteer newspaper work.
2. All timely, accurate and factual articles, determined to be so by the staff are considered as publishable material.
3. Any article submitted by a staff member or other person or organization is subject to editing or deletion.
4. No anonymous letters will be published.

The Hermes, while being a source of information to the student body, is also representative of it. The students make the paper what it is. Those who don't approve of the way the paper is handled are more than welcome to add their opinion and helping hand in making the Hermes a better paper.

Everyone associated with the Hermes wishes to give his heartfelt thanks to Miss Luella Nielsen who has consented to be advisor this year. Without an advisor the paper could not exist. Miss Nielsen will undoubtedly prove to be an invaluable asset. We sincerely hope that we can make her as proud of the Hermes as we are to have her associated with it.

Greetings From Glenn

When asked to write this editorial the suggestion was made to write the typical "Hello, I am your friendly Student Body President; Welcome to Dana" routine. At first I was not certain as to exactly what I should welcome you to; the wonderful city of Blair, the twelve by twelve cubicle you will have the pleasure of living in for the coming year, or Mrs. Carey's "greasy spoon".

Then I began looking back at the events that occurred on campuses throughout the United States during the past year. I discovered through my conversations with professors and students at the National Student Congress that the reason for the protests is the failure of the colleges and universities to stimulate independent and creative thought by the student.

This failure by the university has effected a polarization on campuses between a faction who are satisfied with a manufacturing plant which turns out plasticized human robots to be molded into the proper shape by society and a faction who is not only interested in an education which provides training in a particular discipline but also one which trains them to live in and identify with the revolutionary society which is rapidly emerging.

At the National Student Congress I often found it difficult to relate the problems of other schools to Dana because a majority of Dana's professors do try to stimulate the student to think independently and creatively. Consequently, there is not a strong polarization present on Dana's campus; instead the students and faculty are working together to develop a curriculum which will provide a greater stimulus for uninhibited thought.

It is because of this progressive step in education that I welcome you to Dana. My hope is that this year the students will furnish ideas and support in effecting further changes at Dana because that is the whole scene of independent thinking.

Initiation Lauded

The freshman initiation program at Dana this fall has included many procedures new to the returning students. As chairman, I have received the slams and salutes of these changes and extend a verbal handshake to all cooperating upperclassmen and faculty, and also my appreciation for the criticism and suggestions I have received. I congratulate a campus once tired of itself for the revival of vitality and interest visible now.

To the freshmen of 1969, I can only offer my admiration for a class that shows enthusiasm and good sportsmanship thus far unsurpassed on Dana's campus. I thank you and congratulate you and completely welcome you to the student body.

Why is everyone so hung-up on the fashion scene? Almost everyone is telling everyone else what is cool and what is not cool as if he were a true expert. If Dana has so many fashion experts, how is it that the "Playboy" fashion forecast overlooked our comely campus?

The vast majority of the campus experts actually have no idea at all as to what is "in" and what is not "in." Most Danians agree to one thing, though: flares and bell-bottoms for guys are not in. In truth, these experts are not "in."

In New York (approx. 1070 miles east of Blair), flared slacks are where it's at. All types of men are with it, including not only the Village, but the businessmen, and at least a few of the clergymen. All the chics are with them. While Windsor and Detroit are right at New York's heels, Cleveland and Chicago are a little more reserved. The collegiates are grooving in bells, but the old guard is too conservative to take the plunge. As for the South, Al Hirt really digs bells and silk shirts, and as the King says, "As the King goes, so goes the South!"

So here we are in Nebraska. Omaha is pretty much with it. But here at Dana, only a few miles away, bells are freaky! It doesn't make sense. Dana just isn't moving in the new direction. Any male seen on campus with anything heavy (bells, army shirt, scarf, etc.) is thought to be a hippy. How poor! Just because someone has enough mind to dress comfortably and protect himself from the elements as clothes were originally intended, he is classed as a social outcast. How can college students be so feeble-minded as to judge their contemporaries by their clothes?

The next time some tight-panted "straight" is ridiculing a comfortably dressed free-thinker, ask yourself, "Who's kidding who?"

Theater

By Marianne Claire

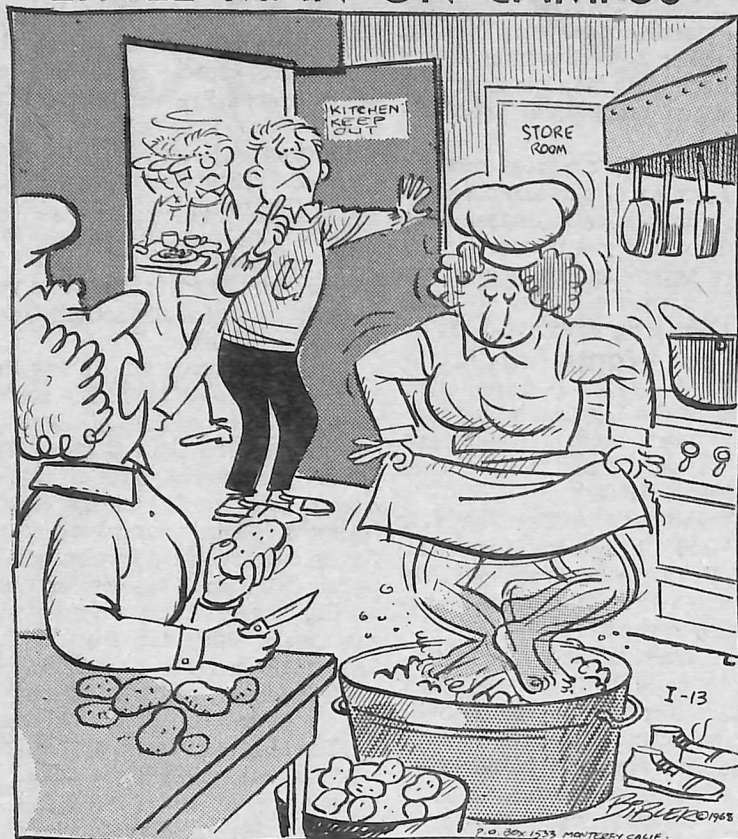

The drama department is doing some great things in theatre this semester. "Dr. Faustus" by Christopher Marlowe is the first on the agenda of performances and try-outs were held last Monday and Tuesday evenings. Mr. Henneman, director for the show, said that approximately twenty men and twenty women will be needed as actors in the production and that parts originally written for men will be rewritten and filled by women. Included in the revision is the change of the Seven Vices, who taunt Faust, from male to female roles. Do you suppose Mr. Henneman is trying to tell us something?

The second play has not been decided upon, although Mr. Henneman is considering two contemporary dramas which, in contrast with "Dr. Faustus", would be female-oriented.

Aside from the acting aspect of drama, there is plenty of opportunity in stage and crew work for those who feel the need to create. The costumes for Faustus will all be newly designed and made by students, and new stages for AMA are to be constructed for each of the productions. In "Faustus" a "thrust" or peninsula-type stage will be used, and the second show will be done "in the round" on an arena stage.

Besides building and costumes, there are other areas such as lighting, props, sound, and special effects that are rewarding for the artistically inclined student. But don't take my word for it - get involved in one of the shows.

Danians Traveled During Vacation

This past summer Dr. Penick, French instructor, and Phil Pagel, head of the Public Relations Department, were part of a group who traveled to Europe with the Danish - American Club Charter Flight.

Dr. Penick spent one and a half days in Copenhagen and then went on to spend two weeks in France.

On July 17 she traveled to Oslo, Norway. She stayed in Norway a week and found the people very warm and friendly. Dr. Penick spent the remainder of her trip with Margrethe Borchorst's family in Denmark.

Mr. Pagel spent several days in Denmark and also toured Switzerland and France as well as East and West Germany.

Modernism Course Taught By Dr. Sosa

This past summer Dr. Sosa taught a course in Modernism at Miami University to nine graduate students. He also received an invitation from the University to lecture for a special course in Spanish-American Literature.

Modernism is a cultural movement in the last part of the 19th century. It is the first movement which started in America and then moved to Spain. Some of the writers in Modernism are Marti and Rubin Dario.

After teaching for two weeks in July, Dr. Sosa remained in Miami for two more weeks vacationing. During the rest of the summer, he worked on two books here in Blair. One book is on poems and the other is on essays.

Tau Gammas Meet

Tau Gamma Rho held its first meeting for the 1969-1970 school year on September 3. This year's President, Beth Peterson, announced that the faculty advisor would be Mrs. Ann George, instructor in English. The sorority will be taking its first pledge class, consisting of about 15 pledges, in four weeks. Sorority members will be talking to interested girls in the following weeks and at Rush Night on September 15.

This past week the sorority has been busy helping with Freshman Initiation. On Wednesday a Paper Drive was conducted to collect paper and objects for the bonfire and pep rally. Tau Gamma Rho will also participate in the Freshman Float Ceremony tonight.

Projects planned in the future include a caramel apple sale and a sorority dance on November 14.

Gordy's Sports

By Gordy Putnam

Can Dana beat Doane? In my opinion they have little chance. With injuries to two top offensive starters the Vikings are hurting. Mike Thompson, Freshman halfback, and John Magnuson, Junior tackle, will be out for the Doane opener and Dana's chances seem slim. Tony Howe will have to be keyed up in order for him to be effective and Greg Hayes is new to the team. The offense is said to be the best Dana has had in five years, but no one will know for sure until Saturday.

The spirit has been high on the team since practice started. The defense should be as good as last year. But, can they keep Doane's 2B Green and Halfback Sallier from scoring 34 points as last year? The new ends for Dana will have to play good ball to keep those two contained. Watch for Green's role outs with passes and Sallier's sweeps around the end to gain a lot of yardage.

I now ask a question of the football players, the coaches and the fans. Can the Dana Vikings win more than three games this year? They haven't done that since 1962!

KTP's Begin Work

The Kappa Theta Phi's held their first meeting of the year, Tuesday, September 9. Wednesday night they participated in the paper drive with the other three Greek organizations.

Work has been started toward a homecoming display and the planning of the Alumni breakfast. They are looking forward to rush night where anyone interested may sign up for second semester pledging.

Frat Wants Spirit

Kappa Chi Lambda, hoping to arouse much excitement this year, has already made itself noticed (ask the DSO's).

The officers for the coming year are Rod Christenson, President; Jeff Beatty, Vice President; John Prouty, Secretary; and Pete Christensen, Treasurer.

The fraternity this year is hoping to build more school spirit by unveiling our New Victory Bell, for the school at the first football game Saturday against Doane (despite Louie's objection.)

George Wallace Awaits Transplant

Former Dana student, George Wallace, suffering from a nonfunctioning kidney ailment is currently residing in Brunswick, Maine. Treatment now consists of dialysis, a six-hour process using a machine as temporary kidneys.

George was scheduled for a kidney transplant in mid-August but an attack and subsequent removal of the parathyroids postponed it until late October or early November. If no donor is found, George will be placed on dialysis 24 hours a day until a suitable cadaver can be located.

Barbara Wallace, George's wife, is teaching high school physical education in Bath, Maine.

At last report, George is in good spirits

Since both are former Dana students, they would appreciate letters and news of campus activities from friends. Correspondence may be sent to:

DSO'S Plan Year

The key word for the Delta Sigs this year will be "activity." The executive council consisting of Jim Brehm, President; Doug Hanson, Vice-President; Carroll Hornbuckle, Secretary; Eric Peterson, Treasurer; Jim Scopac, Social Chairman; Cal Pohl, Scholastic Chairman; Neils Rasmussen, Sargeant at Arms; and Advisor, Mr. Bill Wakefield met recently to decide the activities for the first semester.

Most important of all was the Pledge Class of 1969. The active chapter now consists of eighteen members. The Delta Sigs will be looking for twelve young men to be taken into the fall pledge class. Although pledge training will be the main concern of the fraternity, the executive council has also planned a Christmas formal dinner dance in Omaha. Other activities for the semester include a bowling party, a few dances, and a steak supper at the Cottonwood Marina in Blair.

The Brothers of Delta Sigma Omega are anticipating the upcoming year and the activities planned. We will have a table display on Monday, September 15, the night of formal rush. We will be looking for you so stop by and say hello. We are all anxious to meet you and talk to you about the fraternity.
