DANA PROFESSOR KNIGHTED BY KING OF DENMARK

Norman C. Bansen, associate professor of English and Danish at Dana College in Blair, Nebraska, has been named Knight of the Order of Dannebrog by King Frederick IX of Denmark.

Professor Bansen will receive the Cross of Knighthood on Thursday, October 8, 1970. The presentation will be made by Mr. Lorenz Petersen, Royal Danish Consul General of Chicago. The ceremony is scheduled for 9:00 a.m. in Dana's Alumni Memorial Auditorium and is open to the public at no admission charge.

The Order of Dannebrog was instituted by King Valdemar of Denmark in the year 1219. Originally it was intended for members of the Danish nobility but in 1808 King Frederick VI broadened presentation regulations to include other citizens of merit.

The name of the Order, Dannebrog, is taken from the name of the Danish flag--said to be the oldest flag in the world. According to legend, Dannebrog descended from heaven in 1219 and turned defeat into victory for the Danish Crusaders.

The Cross of Dannebrog has been awarded to a select group of Americans who, in the opinion of the Danish King, have made significant contributions to the strengthening of Danish-American cultural relations.

Bansen, the son of Danish immigrants, has been associated with Dana College for the past 23 years--first as a student, then as Director of Public Relations and, since 1953, as a member of the teaching faculty. He has taught courses in the Danish language, Scandinavian Literature and Scandinavian Drama. (Dana is the only four year college in America founded by Danish pioneers.)

His contributions to the strengthening of Danish-American cultural relations have reached beyond his classroom. He has written a number of scholarly articles on things Danish; has translated numerous poems from the original Danish into English; has served as a visiting professor of Scandinavian at the University of California in Berkeley; has lectured throughout the midwest on a variety of topics related to Danish literature and history and has been active in a variety of Danish-American organizations.

As a direct result of his efforts, Dana has enlarged her holdings of Danish artifacts and books and today can boast one of the largest collections of Danish works in English translation found anywhere. He initiated contacts which resulted in the gift of historic gas lamps from Copenhagen presented as a greeting to Dana College on the occasion of the school's 75th anniversary. He also obtained beech trees from the native home of Hans Christian Andersen which have since been planted in a Memorial Grove on the Dana campus.

It was for reasons such as these that Dr. C. C. Madsen, President of Dana College and himself a Knight of the Order of Dannebrog, said: "Of the many outstanding people who have received this honor from His Majesty, the King of Denmark, I am convinced that Norman Bansen is one of the most deserving."

Lehmer Travels

Dr. Lehmer from the sociology-anthropology department will be making a trip to Bismarck, North Dakota to deliver a speech to the State Historical Society of North Dakota. Also he has an engagement to talk of "Westerners" in Omaha this month.

Students Choose Nader

Ralph Nader is the winner of a poll taken in Student Senate by the Special Events Committee. The poll was taken to determine who the students wanted as a major speaker this year.

Budget restrictions, however, may prevent Dana from obtaining Nader, as well as the other top choices including: Senator Fulbright, Senator Hatfield, Senator Hughes, and Margaret Mead. The committee can allow only $1300 for a speaker or funds for other events will be depleted.

Alternate ideas expressed at the last committee meeting included obtaining speakers from Europe or a band from the Virgin Islands.

History Curriculum Offers Seminar

In an effort to keep in closer contact with history majors, the department's curriculum has been expanded to include a seminar course.

This course will be offered each semester and is open to all history majors. The purpose of the course is to bring history majors together in a research type course. Four hours of this is to be required for graduation with a major in history.

Another development in the History Department is the renaming of the History Club to the Dana Forum. Under the leadership of executive officers Karen Mander and Bob Shaff, the group has been renamed and is presently in the process of being reorganized.

The organization will endeavor to bring speakers and programs of both current and historical interest to the campus.

An organizational meeting of the Dana Forum will be held Wednesday, October 14 at 7:30 P.M. in O.M. 110.

S.A.B. has some more small name entertainment lined up for the Dana Campus. Bittersweet is coming October 9th and 10th. Bittersweet is a new duo from the Atlanta area, Oliver says, "they're great!" and Bob Shane of the Kingstun Trio has called them "an extremely talented pair". Bittersweet will perform in the Dragon's Head on both nights from 8 to 10 p.m.

Freshman Class Holds Elections

The Freshman Class will elect their five student Senators for the 1970-71 school year on Friday, October 9. The polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and only freshmen may vote.

The Senate is the deliberative body of the Student Government at Dana. It is here that a few seeds of Student Power have been planted which could replace the illusion of student government which the college administration has nursed for so many years.

All freshmen who are interested in improving Dana and the life of the Dana student are needed. Nominations will be open through Tuesday, October 6. Nomination can be accomplished in either of two ways: 1) The student may fill out a nomination form which can be obtained from either Jim Pierce, Edd Ezekian or at the information desk in the Campus Center or 2) the student may circulate a nominating petition. Fifteen signatures of members of the freshman class are necessary. Then either the form or the petition should be given to Jim Pierce, the Student Body Vice-President, Box 746. The qualifications for freshmen are that they not be on either academic or disciplinary probation. If any freshman has a question contact either Jim Pierce or Edd Ezekian.

The Battle Rages

This is a call to arms.

Our brothers are already dying on a battlefield only minutes, no, only seconds away. Their blood is forming a river at our very feet, yet they fight on. Agonizing cries are heard above the clash of weapons.

Why is it their struggle affects us not?

Why sit we idly by while they rush to the defense?

Is not their cause, ours?

Pick up your weapons and advance to the front. Remove the enemies' shield of ignorance and hate. Surround them with kindness. Disarm them with justice. Pierce their hearts with love and capture them with freedom.

The day may yet be ours and fears of tomorrow will vanish.

And Then She Walked Out

A fair-weather Christian without the guts to see it through walked out, and later said, "I just can't see how a person can claim to be a Christian and stand up there and say things like that about God and the church." An in-tune comment, "Maybe some of these things could be brought up in discussion, but in chapel?" "How could Pastor Bergstraesser allow a thing like that?" "Those things shouldn't be allowed."

"I take it you won't be there tomorrow then."

"No, I won't be there tomorrow."

I find it a very disturbing form of religion when those who are presumably active in their commitment to the church and in their commitment to spreading the love of Christ, are the ones who are so weak, that they cannot or will not accept things that are brutally hard and biting. Unfortunately, this is quite true of many in the church today.

The man said we (the Christians) have murdered God and now we are embarking on the second prong of our objective--murdering the church. The man was right in many ways; and it is evident. Look at all the scared Christians in the United States today, afraid of Communism, afraid of poverty, afraid of races other than their own, and afraid of free thought. Afraid because they have very neatly sterilized their God, rendering him impotent or because they have killed him by smothering him in beautiful stale buildings. Afraid because now that they have done this to God they know that he can no longer come to their aid, being "our help in ages past" but no longer our "strength in years to come."

Moving out of fear, these people now seek to protect the church by sheltering it in the lethal shade of noninvolvement, masked over with the petty politics of campaigning for organs, letting the youth have a Sunday a year to do as they're told so that their parents can go home and say, "Well, I guess it was kind of a nice service, for a change. Don't you think so?" The gospel in diluted form is preached, and signed and dated commitments of lives to God are secured and forgotten to gather dust while the newly committed people are left to wonder what they are committed to.

Moving out of fear--the same people who have killed God by taking themselves from him are now castrating the church in many areas by saying "That has no place!" "That person can't be Christian and say that." "Sure the church isn't perfect--people aren't perfect."

To that last statement I would agree. But saying that the church isn't perfect isn't enough, having said that one cannot just sit there on his or her "rosy - red" and do no more. Being imperfect and admitting it, we must constantly strive to do the impossible--to become perfect and to make the church perfect. Unless we do this we are killing it. The only way we can do otherwise is to kick it out into the streets and ourselves with it and work like hell to make it better. When the time comes that we can look back with some pride, we must kick it and ourselves out into the streets again -- admitting that our pride is starting to choke it once more.

Not one of us would particularly care to die more than once--so why do we demand it of God and the Christian faith?

In Support Of Humanities

By Susan Kruse

They (the humanities department) did a commendable job of enticing students to Dr. Brandes' Beethoven recital. The audience was larger by far than the majority of audiences for most events here at Dana. Although everyone's motive for going may not have been purely cultural, the performance was well worth the time. Dr. Brandes' ability should be supported in such a way all of the time.

While students may grumble and groan about extra humanity work, various students and departments are finding out that by giving the humanities department a little support, they will be rewarded many times over. After all, it's much nicer to perform (anything) in front of a live audience, even if it is captive, than to perform for several rows of empty, relatively dead chairs.

Dana Band Makes Plans

By Susan Kruse

The Dana College Band, under the direction of Dr. Wayne Wise, has been practicing for the past three weeks. Approximately 46 of the musicians on campus have joined and are preparing for several appearances. On Tuesday, October 20, the band will perform in Chapel. The joint band and choir Christmas Concert will be held on Dec. 6, and during second semester, a tour is planned with stops in Iowa, Illinois, and Wisconsin. Some of the band members have volunteered to form a Pep Band, under the direction of Greg Witte, which should enliven the home football and basketball games.

Dr. Wise says the band this year has a very fine potential. Several percussion pieces have been ordered, and hopefully, will be here within the next two or three weeks.

Prexy's Report

Due to inflation and the decrease in enrollment, a couple of the proposed changes that I had drawn up last semester had to be scrapped. Lack of funds and high costs are showing up everywhere we look.

Thus far this semester, the hours in Blair Hall have become more liberalized. Our thanks goes out to Mrs. Deets for her final okay. Hopefully, Mrs. Laaker will follow this step in the right direction.

Thanks to Larry Borkhus' salesmanship, a dozen and a half business merchants offered Dana students ten percent discounts last weekend. I hope you all took advantage of the discount days.

After a little chat with President Madsen on Tuesday, it was decided that a few vending machines would be in order for the dorms. No formal date was set for their arrival, but it should be in the near future.

There will be a Student Body meeting on Monday, October 5, 1970. If you are interested in where your dues go, please attend this meeting to approve the semester's budget.

Population Growth

Human Rights and Concerns Committee brought to Campus a program dealing with population growth, Tuesday, September 29 in D.H.A.

The Planned Parenthood Committee of Nebraska sent its Executive Director, Mrs. Verne Vance of Omaha with a short program on Birth Control and its part in population growth. Some of the highlights of her program gave the following facts about birth control. She said that twenty percent of Americans are poor and have not the income to provide the moneys needed to provide themselves with adequate birth control devices. She said that in 1969 one million children were brought into the world unwanted, and that four million women had no choice as to whether or not to give birth to children.

These few statements counter-crossed with the mission of Planned Parenthood Committee. This Committee which works internationally to provide education and birth control method works on the assumption that this form of population control must be voluntary and available to all persons regardless of marriage. They set no moral standards, just medical information. Their stand on population growth is simple, they suggest that no more than 3 children to a family and that if more children are desired, such people should result to adoption of children already in the unwanted category.

Mrs. Vance's honesty and openness was a very strong implication to the success of the committee for Planned Parenthood. Her humor and wit was far beyond the inhuman approach to "people" control given by a dehumanized, mechanized society.

S.E.A. Future Planned

Representatives from Dana, Midland, the University of Nebraska at Omaha, Wayne State, and Platte College were present at a regional S.E.A. meeting last Sunday at Dana.

Mr. Gene Geisler, consultant of N.S.E.A., spoke on the background of the state offices and their functions in the total perspective to the N.S.E.A. Mr. Geisler also announced upcoming meetings such as the state-area meeting on November 14 held at College of St. Mary's in Omaha; a possible field experience day in early March set up by Omaha Educators; and the State S.E.A. mid-term conference January 14-17.

LETTERS

Many of you remember George Wallace who was forced to leave school a year ago last spring, and you joined students and others in contributing toward the costs of his expensive treatments and surgery. Since then several have asked from time to time as to George's progress.

Here is some information from a letter he sent last week:

I hope all is well with you and the teaching members of Dana as you plunge into another year of educating those who wish a higher education. Best of luck to you all!

In July the doctor removed my kidneys and as of October 23, 1970, I will have received one of my mother's kidneys through transplantation, a fantastic medical achievement!

I would appreciate hearing from students, faculty, and administration whenever time allows a note or two . . . Again, thank you for everything in the past and hope for a continued and long lasting friendship. God bless all of you!

It seems strange to be writing to a student body were 1/4 of you don't know me, 1/4 of you didn't really like me much, 1/4 of you don't care, and 1/4 of you haven't really recovered from my being there for four years yet. But a pretty significant thing has happened to me, and I'd like to share it with all of you, even those who are new to Dana and haven't heard of me. Today I received notification that I had been selected as one of the 6000 Outstanding Young Men of America for 1970. Just what does this do for me? Well, it gets me a piece of paper, 8" x 11", and an order form for an internationally distributed "who's who" type book, at 21.95, that I am allowed to now purchase, plus postage of course.

All lightness aside, I would like to take this time and space to thank the people responsible for me receiving this award . . . YOU. You are the ones who gave me this honor, and I thank you all; the 1/4 who didn't get to Dana when I did, my work was directed to you, and all Dana students of the future, I tried to give Dana some "big time" feeling, and make it a better place in which to go to college; the 1/4 of you who didn't like me, you gave me the drive and fight to do the things I did do, I tried to reach you in the only way I knew how, I hope someday you'll look back and say at least that I tried; The 1/4 of you who don't care, I tried in the things I fought for to reach you and make you feel something for Dana, to force you to make an issue or a side, to help you mature into a world where all too few care; the 1/4 of you who haven't recovered from my four years, we have some good things to remember--and some bad, I only hope that in the long run I didn't hurt you too badly, I came to Dana as most students did--wanting to be a face in the crowd, but it didn't turn out that way. Thanks all of you for your apathy, hate, love, confusion, listening, fighting, and for helping me to live and grow.

All of you, the unique Dana experience, deserve this honor as the force behind the face. But there are some specific people who were especially kind to me: the Regents--for not removing their "radical, hippie, leftist" from the campus before my tour of duty there ended.

Dean Rass--for doing such a good job of catching most of the Hell I threw, and throwing some of his own.

Edd Ezekian--for helping me see when I was blind and lost, but mostly for being a friend, and accomplice in my crimes of freedom; who should be writing this letter next year.

Well, enough of your time and mine spent. Back to your BUD and HAMMS, back to the Town and Fiegta, and back to your weed. I'll go on and try to save a life or two as a rehabilitation counselor.

Peace

MICHAEL E. BEECH

Post Script, Just a word of thanks to the dorm council, for acting without the thoughts and ideas of the entire campus in changing the intervisitation rules. I hope you enjoy all of the free time you will now have to molt, I'm sure that all the unwanted immorality you have stopped will help you sleep better, because we all know that nothing can happen in a car or in the press box like it can happen in a room with a bed in it and the door open. Score one for the freaks!

Ron Schneider is successful on a two point conversion after Tony Howe scored the touchdown against Northwestern. The Red Raiders won the contest 20-8.

Dana Falls At Northwestern

Dana helped Northwestern to three easy touchdowns but the Red Raiders made the exchange of generosity unfair as they handed Dana only one easy scoring opportunity, in a 20-8 win. The Tri-State Conference game at Orange City, Iowa, last Saturday leaves the Vikes with a 0-2 season record. The statistics were rather even despite the scoreboard. Northwestern made 184 total yards to Dana's 173, with Dana outrushing the Raiders 136 to 99. Northwestern had 13 first downs, Dana had 10.

The Red Raiders jumped to a 7-0 lead in the first four minutes due to a pass interception. Dana had received the opening kick-off and on third down saw Kirk McLaughlin's first pass attempt stolen and run back to the Viking 7 yard line. Darrell Wubbels punched it over from the 1 and Rick Bradley kicked the point after.

After an exchange of punts, Dana's Mike Thompson fumbled the Raider kick which was recovered by Dan Boonstran on the Viking 22. A 21 yard pass play to the 1, Krull to Dave Meylink, set the stage for another touchdown by Wubbels. Bradley again kicked the point after and Northwestern led 14-0 with 3:07 left in the first quarter.

There was no more scoring in the first half as Dana's bright spots were a 39 yard run by Thompson and a pass interception by Dan Smith.

The Red Raiders scored their 3rd touchdown with 7 minutes gone.

in the 3rd quarter to take a 20-0 lead. The third gift from the Vikings this time was a bad pass from center on a punt attempt which was downed on the Dana 4 yard line. After 2 plays and a penalty, Krull threw an 8 yard touchdown pass to Dan TeGorothenhuis. The kick was wide.

The Vikings gave Northwestern a fourth opportunity moments later after a Thompson fumble deep in Viking territory. But the defense stiffened and held the Red Raiders at the 1 foot line.

Dana's long scoring opportunity came on a fumble. Linebacker Sam Christensen picked up the Raider fumble at the Viking 44 and went 55 yards before being caught at the Red Raider 1 yard line. Fullback Tony Howe scored on his second try into the line. Ron Schneider ran for the 2 point conversion and brought the score to 20-8 with 5:59 left in the game. Dana executed the off-side kick to perfection and once again had the ball near mid-field; but the drive was thwarted by a pass interception.

The Scoring:

Dana	0	0	0	8	8
Northwestern	14	0	6	0	20

The Statistics:

J.V.'s Shine In Loss

Dana's reserve team scored 1 TD as did Wesleyan but still lost 16-10. The Plainsmen's Ross Stephenson kicked 3 field goals to decide the final score.

Dana dominated 1st half action and left at half time leading 2-0. The safety was scored when Tyrone Turner and Bill Caughé nailed the quarter back in the end zone.

In the 3rd quarter a 3rd down and 18 to go pass situation; Wesleyan threw a 78 yard touch down to go ahead 7-2. Two field goals

Heim, Appel Spark Win

Dana's golf team extended its winning tradition with a convincing victory over Doane College, Sept. 28, at Blair. The linksters won handily by a 13-2 margin. Senior Val "Compact" Heim from Superior, Nebr., was hampered with putting problems but still managed to shoot an even par 72 to take medalist honor for the day. Rod Appel, a Council Bluffs product, fired a one over par 73, despite four penalty strokes. Both Val and Rod have provided the one two punch over the past couple of years.

Adequate support was given by Joel Dickinson, Paul Refsell and Roger Lorsch. Dickinson, a senior from Vinton, Iowa, completed the circuit with a 76. Refsell posted a 78 while Lorsch stumbled in with an 82.

Doane will host Dana October 7 in Crete, Nebraska.

Wilhelm Paces Cross Country

Last Saturday the Dana cross country team got their first home victory of the season against Faith College (near Des Moines, Iowa) on the windy Viking campus. The windy 3 mile trek provided a stiff challenge for both squads. The five top finishers for Dana and their respective winning times were: Tom Wilhelm 17:29; Tom Van Steenhoven 18:48; Jim Maxwell 20:31; Don Aanomson 20:23; and John Tjomsland 21:08.

The Dana College cross country team opened its season with a 19-44 loss to Tarkio College held on Dana's campus. To score in cross country the top 5 men from each team are given points (1 to 5) in accordance to their respective finishes over the 3 mile course. The top Vike runners were: Tom Wilhelm, Tom Van Steenhoven, Jim Maxwell, Don Aanomson, and John Tjomsland.

Women's Serves Are A Smash!

Women's intramurals got off to a volleying start September 22nd. The victors of the first game were Mickelsen 2A over Mickelsen 3A. They won the first game 15-8, lost the second 8-15 and struggled through the third, 15-13.

Next came the Argo girls fighting for their first win. The first game found Mickelsen 2B winning 15-7 hands down. Argo fought till he end taking the second game 15-13. However, in the third game the victory wasn't an easy decision. In the last few seconds Argo pulled out a two point lead to win 16-14.

Mickelsen 4 B took a victory over Mickelsen 3 B two games in a row 15-4 and 15-9.

Intramurals take place every Tuesday night.

Dana Choir Organizes

This year there are about 100 singers in the Dana College Choir. According to Dr. Paul Neve, director, the talent in the freshman class was good enough to warrant combining the chapel choir and the Touring Choir. Their first appearance will be at Homecoming, followed by the Christmas Concert on Dec. 6. The choir will tour in a direction northeast of Dana. Plans are now underway for an even bigger trip in the summer of 1972 to Europe.

in the same quarter gave Wesleyan a 13-2 lead.

Midway in the 4th quarter they added a 23 yarder to take a commanding 16-2 lead.

After Mike Todd's interception of a Wesleyan pass on the Plainsmen 45 yard line; quarterback Jim Uchtman and Halfback Jim Waters spearheaded a drive which was capped by Waters' 1 yard plunge. Uchtman's pass to Jerry McCauley was good for the 2 point conversion; and that ended the scoring for both teams.

Vikings Have Home Opener This Saturday

The Dana College Vikings will get to play at home for the first time this season Saturday, when they take on the Westmar Eagles. The game will be played at 2:00 P.M. on the Viking Field. The Vikes have experienced a few problems in losing to Wesleyan and to Northwestern. Mistakes cost Dana the Red Raider game which was basically a defensive struggle. The Wesleyan game was a NIAC game and the other a Tri-State game, making the Vikings 0-1 in both leagues.

Westmar, a Tri-State foe and with a new coach, has won 2 and lost 1. They have wins over Buena Vista 26-23 and Macalester (Minn.) 16-12, and lost Saturday to Lea College (Minn.) 24-8.

Doubtful starters for the Vikings Saturday are: Paul Toole and Steve Hardiman; both have sprained ankles; Rick Nash, has tonsillitis; and Greg Hayes had a swollen knee.

Danforth Awards

Inquiries about the Danforth Graduate Fellowships, to be awarded in March 1971, are invited, according to Mr. Warman, the local campus representative.

The Fellowships, offered by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri, are open to men and women who are seniors or recent graduates of accredited colleges in the United States, who have serious interest in college teaching as a career, and who plan to study for a Ph.D. in a field common to the undergraduate college. Applicants may be single or married, must be less than thirty years of age at the time of application, and may not have undertaken any graduate or professional study beyond the baccalaureate.

Approximately 120 Fellowships will be awarded in March 1971. Candidates must be nominated by Liaison Officers of their undergraduate institutions by November 1, 1970. The Foundation does not accept direct applications for the Fellowships.

Danforth Graduate Fellows are eligible for four years of financial assistance, with a maximum annual living stipend of $2,400 for single Fellows and $2,950 for married Fellows, plus tuition and fees. Dependency allowances are available. Financial need is not a condition for consideration.

Danforth Fellows may hold certain other fellowships such as Ford, Fulbright, National Science, Rhodes, etc. concurrently and will be Danforth Fellows without stipend until the other awards lapse. Danforth Fellows also may be designated Woodrow Wilson Fellows.

The Danforth Foundation, created by the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Danforth in 1927, is a philanthropy concerned primarily with people and values. Presently the Foundation focuses its activities in two major areas, education and the city.

Women's Lib Movement Polls Dana Students

By Rachael Neve

"I enjoy being feminine, and my husband likes it, too," says a student at Dana of her role in life. Adds another student, a male, "When I get married I want my wife to be home when I get there after work. A lot of women are complaining about discrimination against themselves, but I'm sure that the majority of women are happy the way they are, and don't even want to be liberated."

According to a survey taken of 150 students at Dana, 70 women and 80 men, this seems to be the prevailing opinion. Four-fifths of the women polled, and two-thirds of the men, are satisfied with the status of women in the United States. The survey was concerned with attitudes of the Dana College men and women towards the feminine role in society. Interestingly, the women rated lower in their estimate of their own capabilities than the men did.

The feminist movement, which is spreading throughout the United States, is protesting what it considers intolerable job discrimination against women, sexual exploitation, and exploitation of the women working as housewives. Feminists claim that women are limited to secondary roles in a patriarchal society such as the United States.

Apparently only a minority of the students at Dana share this point of view, as indicated by the survey. It is interesting to notice that, although two-thirds of the women polled felt that they did not get as good a break in life as men, four-fifths of them were content with their present position in society. Those who believed men have an advantage state that this applies primarily to the area of job discrimination against women.

Most of the women plan to have a job outside their home, but only "until I have children," or "because I have to, to make enough money." The majority of the men will let their wives work "if it is necessary, or if she has a good reason to."

Following are the questions asked, and the responses from men and women polled.

1970 Homecoming Takes Shape

Preparations are being made to view "Dana Through the Looking Glass" on November 6-8. This is the theme for the annual Homecoming festivities which will cover the scope of Dana's past, present and future.

The Homecoming Committee, headed by student chairmen Stephanie Petersen and T. C. Johnson, is working hard to make this year a special event. Some changes in tradition are to put the displays onto flatbeds for mobility. They will be displayed to the halftime crowd at the Dana - Yankton game Saturday afternoon. "We need lots of displays", says Steph, so all the clubs and classes can get started planning theirs soon!

Music for the dance Saturday night will be provided by the "Chevrons". Also, it is semi-formal which means that the guys won't have to rent a tux, but the girls can wear long formals if they want.

The Viking Review will be held on Friday and Saturday nights with the coronation of the Queen being on Friday night. On Friday night it will mainly be the Dana students performing, with emphasis given to Alumni talent on Saturday night.

The Alumni can also display "their own thing" at an Alumni Art show held in the Center. There will be an Alumni get-together dinner scheduled at the Fiesta Grande.
