

Democratic Headquarters Open

Downtown Blair should see plenty of political activity Saturday morning as the Washington County Democratic Headquarters officially opens at 10:00. The past week the headquarters has been stocked with materials and has been organized. All Democratic candidates from Nebraska have pamphlets and bumper stickers available at the headquarters located upstairs at 16th and Washington streets.

Several notables will be present at the opening, including 2nd District Congressional candidate Pat Cooney and Nebraska Democratic Chairman Hess Dyas. Nebraska senatorial candidate Terry Carpenter and top McGovern organizer for Nebraska, Lou Lamberty have also been invited.

All Dana students are invited to attend the opening and meet the Democratic candidates. The office will be open week nights beginning next week, for those desiring information. Additional volunteers will be needed as activity increases. Interested persons should contact Ron Brown, Box 113.

QUESTION

What's A Nice Boy Like "Shams"

Doing In A Place Like This?

When Shamseddin Galshahr stepped off the 747 in Chicago he found things much the same and yet somehow different from his home in Tehran, Iran. He was amazed to see many large buildings so close together. He didn't like the overabundance of litter and marveled at the multilaned interstate highways.

He misses his younger brother, sister and the family's two dogs and pair of Persian cats. His brother will join him in the U.S. this November. Shamseddin plans to be an engineer and his student advisor recommended Dana as a good school to start on his education. In Iran, the boys and girls must go to separate schools. Sham went to high school with "600-700 nasty kids" whose favorite activities were putting tomatoes and potatoes in the chimney, starting fires in their desks and even setting the wall on fire. Everyone there is unanimous in their dislike for the compulsory English class.

Since he has come to Dana he has learned to play the piano. His taste in music ranges from Beethoven to Three Dog Night. Sham is an Aquarius, born on February 10, 1953. His favorite color is black. In Iran his favorite food is bar-b-que beef and rice, but in America he likes fried chicken and steak. Sham also loves going to movies.

ASF Plans Three Events

In conjunction with the Centennial Observance of the Danish Lutheran Church in America, the Dana Chapter of the American - Scandinavian Foundation will present a series of these events September 29 - October 9.

On Friday, September 29 at 8 p.m. in DHA, Professor Niels Ingwersen will present a lecture on "The Literary Scene in Contemporary Denmark." Niels Ingwersen, himself a native of Denmark studied at the Universities of Stockholm and Chicago before earning his Cand. Mag. degree at the University of Copenhagen in 1963. He has served as President of the Society for the Advancement of Scandinavian Study. Professor Ingwersen is not only an accomplished lecturer and teacher, but also a well-known authority in Scandinavian Literature.

"The Scandinavian Church in the Seventies" will be the subject of a presentation by the Right Rev. K.C. Holm, Bishop of Odense, Denmark, on Wednesday, October 4, at 8 p.m. in DHA. Bishop Holm obtained his theological training at the University of Copenhagen and then served as an associate pastor of the Grundtvig church parish in Copenhagen. The Bishop, headquartered in Odense, is a member of the Danish National Committee concerned about the work of the Santal Mission in India, a member of the board of directors of "Kristelig Dagblad," a Christian newspaper and a member of the Board directing activities of the Church Institute Center "Liselund" on the island of Zealand. Bishop Holm was appointed by the Council of Bishops and the Danish Ministry of Church affairs to represent the church of Denmark at centennial observances for the founding of the Danish Lutheran Churches in America.

Dr. Carlo Christensen, cultural counselor of the Royal Danish Embassy in Washington, will present on Monday, October 9 at 8 p.m. in DHA, a lecture on "Kaj Munk, Playwright and Patriot." Dr. Christensen has served as cultural counselor under three ambassadors and is presently the Dean of Cultural Counselors. An acclaimed lecturer, as well as author, he knew Kaj Munk personally before Munk was murdered by the Nazis in World War II. Dr. Christensen was awarded an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters from Dana on May 29, 1966. Dr. Christensen will also present a lecture on "Hans Christian Andersen and America" at 11:30 p.m. in PM401, Monday, October 9.

There is free admission to all lectures. A coffee hour in the presidents Room of the Dana Campus Center will follow each event.

NIELS INGWERSEN

Annual Competition for Overseas Study To Close Soon

In May, 1972, the 1973-4 competition for grants for graduate study abroad offered by the U.S. Government under the Fulbright-Hays Act and by foreign donors was officially opened by the Institute of International Education. Now, only a few more weeks remain in which qualified graduate students may apply for one of the estimated 590 awards which are available.

Full Grants, which provide round-trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one academic year, are available to 29 countries. U.S. Government Travel Grants are offered to 11 countries and foreign donors provide awards to 14 countries.

Candidates must be U.S. Citizens at the time of application, hold a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by the beginning date of the grant, have a language ability commensurate with the demands of the proposed study projects, and good health. Preference is given to applicants between 20 and 35 years of age.

Application forms and further information for students currently enrolled at Dana may be obtained from the campus Fulbright Program Adviser, Richard Jorgensen (PM 315a). The deadline for filing applications on this campus is October 15.

It should also be noted in conjunction with this article, that students interested in Danforth Graduate Fellowships for Women, Marshall Scholarships, of Rhodes Scholarships should also contact Mr. Jorgensen for further information.

NOTES FROM PARNASSUS

Currently planned for the last days of September and the first week of October are six humanities events.

The first, on Friday, September 29, at 8:00 p.m. in Parnassus, is entitled "The Literary Scene in Contemporary Denmark" and will be presented by Professor Niels Ingwersen of the University of Wisconsin. The presentation is described in another article in the Hermes.

"Casino Royal", a film in DHA, will be shown at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday, September 30 and October 1.

Two events are scheduled for Monday, October 2. Professor Neve will give a presentation on "Baroque Music" at 10:00 a.m. in Parnassus. Also, at 4:10 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., the film "King and Country" will be shown in DHA. Produced in 1964, it's leading actor, Tom Coustenay, won the Best Actor Award in the Venice Film Festival. The film centers around a young British soldier who, feeling "trapped by the system," deserts his army squad. This sensitive young man then learns first hand what military "justice" is; lonely and scared, he experiences the traumas of men at war. 86 minutes in length, it is an excellent film and should appeal to almost all Dana students.

Then, on Thursday, October 5, Professor J. Nielsen will present "The Bible As Literature" in Parnassus at 4:00 p.m.

And, of course, the highly acclaimed Rama Rao art exhibit will be on display until October 6.

Theatre Corner

By Candy Wild

Is the theatre a reflection of the attitude of the society? If the answer is yes, our society seems to be in deep trouble. 20th century playwrights expound the cry of doom and despair through the mouths of their characters. The cries of "Who am I", and "What am I doing here?" are a part of our generation. One even more noticeable trait of contemporary theatre is the fact that the characters communicate through non-communication. In other words, people talk, but really say nothing.

Samuel Beckett, a noted British playwright develops the theme of hopelessness and despair through his pathetic characters. His style is concise and short, but his message is anything but sweet. For each word, there is layer upon layer of meaning, and the reader can see loneliness and solitude in what is not said in print. It has been said of Beckett, "His characters are looking at each other and both are looking at YOU." In his plays "Endgame" and "Waiting for Godot," he creates people who are bored and caught in a dull routine of daily life. They sit for eternity waiting for something to happen, and finally realize their lives are over and they have done nothing at all. In this theatre, there is a warning to our present society to wake up to the facts of life and do something. The frightening aspect of this modern writing takes effect when we look at the play and see ourselves.

Harold Pinier is another master at forcing us to look at ourselves. His plays echo the crisis of self-identity and lack of communication. No one talks directly to anyone else, but instead, people live in their own little worlds, and no one else matters.

This is but a brief look at contemporary theatre, but it does show that attitudes of the society are reflected in plays. Drama is merely life as it is, recreated on a stage. Each man is searching for meaning in life, and the arts and theatre seek to reflect the spirit of this search. The theatre can stimulate people to think, but only you as readers and audience can discover the answers to the problem!

The Mellow Banana

After an enjoyable consultation with the moon as it tried to evade me by dodging behind the cloud cover, I sit back and recall those words uttered at this fall's convocation- "Ask not what your college can do for you, ask what you can do for your college."

So far, I had looked about the lighted hill and had seen few very encouraging things to cause me to bloom into a frenzy of patriotic Danianism. And then it hit me, fully in the seat of my drawers, while I was innocently and sincerely wading through another blah weekend. The

MIDWEST CONSOLIDATED AND UNIFIED MARCHING PRECISION DRILL AMATEUR WHOLE CORN BAND.

From the four winds they came. Led by that masterful game bandmaster L.A. Baker. Music this campus heard that day will never be equaled by any other group. The so-called "quiet" floor."

Never before have I heard Hail Dana rendered in such a unique fashion. It was probably one of the first times that many Dana students stood up and sang or clapped along on impulse. It was the first time for me.

That is one way of beating out the Black Death of student activity this year. The WHOLE CORN Band helped me feel a bit touched by fact that only at a place like Dana could a band perform in front of hundreds without really giving a damn how they sounded, as long as they could pull it off. That has to be one of the most original, refreshing happenings on this campus since its origin. It almost makes me optimistic of the future. It is one of those rarities, like a breeze in the desert, that comes as a pleasant surprise. A mellow banana in a continuous cycle of common bananas, which only relieves tortured anthropoids temporarily.

So that, kids, that is how last Saturday's football game and half-time show were the answer to the Challenge of the Convocation - "Ask not what your college can do for you, ask what you can do for your college."

Now, go out there and win one for the Old Quipper.

Law Test

Deadline Today

Students planning to take the Law School Admission Test this school year are invited to pick up a test bulletin, which includes sample questions and a registration form, from the pre-law advisor, Prof. Niel Johnson. His office is PM316A and he may be reached on ext. 246. The first exam will be given on October 21, and the registration deadline for it is September 29 (so that registration can reach New Jersey on time). Subsequent tests are given in December, February, April, and July. Dr. Johnson wishes to update his roster of pre-law students and requests that any student interested in law as a career inform him of such plans.

Election

Today

All students are urged to vote in the selection of Homecoming Royalty Friday. Voting tables will be arranged in the Student Center and ballots cast from 9 until 3. Students are to select ten candidates from all eligible junior and senior girls. This group will then be narrowed to five contestants in an election held Friday, October 6, and the Queen then chosen from this finalist group. The Homecoming Committee has put in a lot of time preparing this year's event. Everyone is invited to participate in the many planned activities.

YR's Plan Semester

The Dana College Young Republicans are currently conducting an all campus voting poll to find out the student body's choice for President of the United States. Students will be going door to door working on the poll this weekend and next week.

On Monday, October 2, the Young Republicans will be having a picnic supper at the home of Leon Lienemann who lives on College Drive. His home is two houses west of Pioneer Memorial. All YR's and interested students are invited to attend.

Last week Dr. C.C. Madsen spoke to a group of YR's at their first business meeting. Dr. Madsen commented on the changes he has seen in youth and the Republican Party over the years. Also at that meeting officers for the year were elected. They are as follows: Chairman -- John Elling, Vice-Chairman -- Fred Baltz, Secretary --Debbie Bane, Treasurer --Dana Munson, Parliamentarian -- Biana Curtis, and Public Relations Chairman -- Pat Tripp. Professor Walter George is faculty sponsor.

Plans discussed by the club for the semester include bringing to the campus Republican candidates for office. Congressman John McColister will be at Dana next month as well as Roy Brown, a Blair man, who is running for State Senate. Mr. Brown spoke in Parnassus yesterday at 4:00.

Plans are also being made to organize a Teenage Republican Club at Blair High School and to work at the County Republican headquarters downtown which will open in several weeks.

"Rural," a group from Ames, Iowa, will be playing for a dance in AMA, November 18.

Neihardt Returns To Dana

When John G. Neihardt, Poet Laureate of Nebraska, reads and comments on his writings on campus next week, his text will be accompanied by symbolic art created by Rev. Thomsen of our Art department. Rev. Thomsen became interested in Neihardt's writings some years ago by reading "Black Elk Speaks" as a part of our LARP program. He discovered through Neihardt a "oneness" in spirit especially as related to the Indian religion and other major religions of the world. He continued to read Neihardt and when the Poet Laureate visited Dana early last year Rev. Thomsen discussed with him the idea of illustrating some of his work. Neihardt responded favorably and Rev. Thomsen began putting his ideas on canvas.

Now, almost a year later, Neihardt is scheduled to return to Dana and this time when he reads from Black Elk, his words will be accompanied by the illustrations created by Professor Thomsen.

From his hilltop studio Thomsen has created a series of eleven illustrations each inspired by the writings of Neihardt. His interpretation on canvas of the spirit of Black Elk, Crazy Horse and the Indian religion is much the same as that which Neihardt has expressed in words.

The illustrations will be shown publicly for the first time on Thursday evening, October 5, when Dana presents a program entitled, "Neihardt: The Creative Flame." Another added feature of the program will be moods in music composed and performed by Dr. Brandes.

The October 5 program at Dana College, said to be one of Neihardt's last major public appearances, will be held in Borup Coliseum beginning at 8:00 p.m. Admission is free to all Dana students and faculty.

Dear Ombudsman,

Do you think it would be too much to ask Mrs. Carey to save some food for the choir? If not, would you ask her? (We eat too, you know - man may not live by bread alone but it is a fact that he has to have a little bread in order to live at all). Thank you kindly.
Hungry Choir Member

Dear Hungry Choir Member,

No, it wouldn't be too much to ask her. It is not often that Ombudsman gets a plea for aid from the starving (usually they come from the ordinary undernourished students). If you are still under-fed after next Monday send your letters to C.A.R.E.

Dear Ombudsman,

There is a hole in the screen on my window. What should I do with it?

Holling Resident

Dear Holling Resident,

Holes are handy things, Man has used holes to his advantage throughout history. If you chew, it makes a ready target. Some people have also used holes in screens for convenient ashtray.

However, if you refrain from the use of tobacco, or if you become bored of your hole, simply apply a well-chewed piece of bubblegum of appropriate size to the orifice.

Signed,

Dear Ombudsman,

Is it too much to ask to keep in working order the few washers and dryers that we have in our dorms? It may seem a small thing to the college but to us students it can be a real problem.

Sincerely,
B.O. Plenty

Dear B.O. Plenty,

It's not too much to ask, but it does seem that there are some

GETTING A LOAD OFF OUR DESK
By Brian Andersen

The Hermes gets a landslide of mail each week on political and social questions that are posed from around the country. Most of the letters are biased, and the facts may be partially incorrect. From time to time, we would like to present some of the more interesting ones to you.

The New York Times recently published this article by George Walker from Mockham, Illinois.

"...President Nixon could offer his 1968 platform, since he has not used it yet." "He said he would bring us together again, he has not done that." "He said he would stop inflation, and he has not done that." "He said he would have a job for every man and woman who wanted to work, he has not done that." "He said he would restore law and order, he has not done that." "He said what we needed was new leadership. If only he would say that in his 1972 campaign he sure would be telling the truth."

"I voted for him in 1968, but never again."

NOTICE

Voter registration will be held this Thursday, October 5 in the Student Center from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. A recent ruling allows students to register to vote in the area in which they are living without changing their permanent residence. If you register on campus, you can get around all the hassle of voting on an absentee ballot.

Dana Pulls Out A Victory

DANA WHIPS WESTMAR

Third - string quarterback Don Nevius paced the Vikings to a 6-0 win over Westmar last Saturday, coming on in the second quarter after both Mike Brady and Jerry Wilson were injured.

Although Nevius was intercepted three times, his passes proved to be a helpful supplement to the fine running of Mike Thompson and Ron Schneider. Thompson ran for 133 yards and averaged over eight yards per carry, while Schneider picked up 128 yards on the ground including an 88-yard run for the lone score. Schneider compiled an average of over seven yards per carry.

The Vikings started out slowly as they received the kickoff as they lost Mike Brady after only eight offensive plays. Jerry Wilson came in for two plays, was promptly injured and replaced by Brady who passed two incompletions and forced the Vikings to punt.

Almost immediately the Westmar Eagles fumbled and the ball was scooped up by Steve Hardiman Brady returned for two more series of downs when he was hit again and escorted from the field. This put the Dana squad on the horns of a dilemma as neither of the regular quarterbacks were showing any signs of voluntary motion. Nevius was then called on to perform the quarterback duties, even though he had been working the week before at defensive back and was not familiar with the plays or the moves of the players.

Nevius performed adequately for the last few moments of the half and the teams left the field with the score still at 0-0. There was a discernable rapt silence as both Brady and Wilson were carried from the field.

The Eagles failed to move the ball when they received the kick and punted to Dana. On the first play from scrimmage, Schneider took off from the twelve and went the distance. The extra point attempt failed.

The rest of the half was similar to the first half as most of the game

Creighton Upsets

Cross-Country Team

was played between the 30-yard lines.

Westmar had one more fine opportunity when they had to give up the ball on downs but got it back because of a roughing the kicker penalty. They failed to capitalize on the situation however and Dana received the ball once again.

The ball changed hands three more times in the contest, once Dana taking over thanks to a key interception by Bob Sanger, but each team failed to show a potent enough offense to tally another score.

Neither of the injured quarterbacks is expected to return for the game this Saturday, and each may be out for the remainder of the season.

Tomorrow's game is against Martin Luther and will start at 3:00 p.m. at Viking Field.

The Dana College Cross-Country team opened its season with a 17-41 loss to Creighton. The highest finisher for the Vikings over this approximately four mile long course was Bob Coffey, who finished fourth in a field of twelve.

Members of the team besides Coffey are Pete Schur, Warren Mann, Ron Beaman, Stan Johnson, and Paul Johnson. The coach of the Dana team is Mr. Vic Brown of Blair.

In this sport the place finishes for each team are added and the lower score wins. Because of cancellations and other scheduling problems, the remainder of this season's schedule is indefinite at this time.

Navy Team To Visit Campus

The Navy's Officer Information Team will be visiting the Dana College campus on October 12-13 to talk with prospective graduates about the job opportunities available to them in the Navy.

The Navy has available a wide variety of jobs in almost any field of study. There are programs in the fields of Aviation, Business Engineering, Nursing, Law, Medicine and others open to Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors and graduates.

If you are interested in obtaining a well paying and rewarding job after college, you can talk to the Navy's Representatives from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Campus Center.

The qualification tests for the various programs will be available on campus; contact the Team early so that arrangements can be made for you to test while they are on campus.

Is Bobby Fisher On Campus?

By Mark Gruner

Perhaps one of the biggest re-occurring crises that confronts the average student at Dana is the weekend. As we examine the average weekend, we find that there is very little to do. We can always go to the DHA movie, but these sometimes don't meet very high standards. Besides, the movie is only a couple of hours taken out of the whole weekend. Sometimes we can go to the football game to watch the really terrific halftime show by the IBT band. But that is only five or ten minutes long. A real exciting weekend is watching Nebraska lose a football game, but that will only happen two more times this year, against Colorado and Oklahoma, of course.

But wait! What is happening to second Saturday in October? Why, it's the First Annual All Campus Chess Tournament. This tournament is sponsored and planned primarily by the Chess Club. It will not be a campus vs the club tournament but rather a tournament designed for anyone ranging from the novice to the grandmaster. In other words, anyone who knows how to move the pieces can participate. The tournament will show how you stand as compared to the rest of the campus. Naturally the tournament is supposed to draw interest to the club and add new members, so spectators who don't know how to play or are afraid to play such people as Larry Rasmussen or Tom Nielsen can come and watch them lose.

If you are interested in being in the tournament and did not sign up Rush Night, contact either Larry Rasmussen, Box 673 ext 334; or myself, box 263, ext. 334. If you missed the Rush Night display or would just like to see what it is really like, come up to Pioneer Memorial 401 anytime after 7 p.m. on any Wednesday night. This would give you a good chance, either to brush up on your playing, or at least learn the basic moves of the game before the tournament starts.

Other things the club is planning are ten second tournaments and ladder tournaments within the club. The club has grown to about twenty-five members this year. We attribute this to the Fisher-Spassky games during the summer. Because of this we are having chess genius Jim Prouty write a letter to Fisher congratulating him on his victory and asking him to come here and give a demonstration at one of our meetings.

Remember, the tournament is the second Saturday in October and anyone can play.

The Bobby Fisher quote of the day: "I would like to deny a vicious rumor going around. It is not true that Henry Kissinger phoned me early to tell me the moves."

Encounter with Philosophy isn't as "heavy" as it sounds - you don't have to be a philosophy student (many of us aren't), and you don't even need to remember what was said in Humanities about Socrates, Descartes, Kant, or anybody else. The topics discussed each week are controversial current issues, with great social and moral significance. Everyone has opinions on these issues, and if he doesn't he should hear the arguments and take a stand. Discussions have included "Ethics of Genetic Control" which Dr. Stone participated in, Skinnerian psychology, behavior control, ethics of capitalism, sexism, aims of liberal arts education, and others. Meetings are tentatively scheduled for Thursday night at 7:00 at Dr. Clifford Hansen's home. Please join us!!

Workshop Planned

Dana College history students will attend the workshop for County and Local Historical Organizations at Lincoln, October 6, sponsored by the Nebraska State Historical Society.

Mr. Niel Johnson, assistant history professor, states that the conference will be "useful in obtaining ideas that can be applied to the local history interim."

This will help to create a Danish-American theme for Blair. The Chamber of Commerce will make the ideas from the interim into pamphlets and booklets about the Danish - American heritage of Washington County.

SAM Notice

Shar - Lo Mobile Homes in Te-kamah was the sight for the first SAM tour September 26. Other tours during the year are also planned to such companies as Western Electric and Falstaff for those interested. SAM's second meeting will be October 10 in the President's Room and a speaker is planned.

Student Stats

Dr. Elmer Rasmussen recently let out the following figures on enrollment for the 1972-73 school year.

	Men	Women	Total
Seniors	84	65	149
Juniors	80	60	140
Sophomores	80	72	152
Freshmen	87	74	161
Special (full time)	1	3	4
Post Graduate (full time)	5	2	7
Full Time	337	276	613
Part Time	15	34	49
	352	310	662

Most of the students are from Nebraska and Iowa, although there are some students from as far away as Denmark, Ghana, Iran, Japan, New Guinea, Nigeria, and Rhodesia. Almost half of the students belong to the American Lutheran Church. Dr. Rasmussen expressed his belief that enrollment figures will rise next year.

ACTION by HRC

The third weekly meeting of Human Rights and Concerns was held Tuesday night, September 26 in the S.A.B. room. Many activities were discussed. Among those were future plans for the month of October, which include Voter Registration in the Campus Center on October 5, American Indian movement program in the oval on October 10, and a speaker from Big Brothers Association on October 17.

The possibility of a booth for the Homecoming "Carnival" was debated and possible ideas discussed.

The most pressing project discussed was the "clean up the park" project. This is a rejuvenation of the area in back of Elkhorn and Argo Halls so that the pond can be filled for Homecoming. The clean up will be held this Saturday, September 30. President John Brooks welcomes all student help for the project. Interested students should meet in the campus park behind Elkhorn and Argo this Saturday morning at 9:00 to help.
