HAIL DANA

*While yet our land was wilderness
And sturdy Pilgrim reared
With brawny arm his lowly home
A flower divine appeared:
O hail, fair Dana, hail to thee,
Our song to thee we sing;
May always we thy name revere
While truth to us be dear.*

*To all who would thy truths embrace
Thy message true impart;
Be thou their guiding star throughout,
To manhood mold each heart.
O hail, fair Dana, hail to thee,
Thy children guide aright;
May they in faith and hope and love
Praise Him who dwells above.*

*And when we launch our little barks
On destiny's deep sea,
As ivies to thy walls do cling,
Our hearts will cling to thee.
O hail, fair Dana, hail to thee
Though time thy walls may claim,
Thy spirit live, another throng
Rise up and sing our song.*

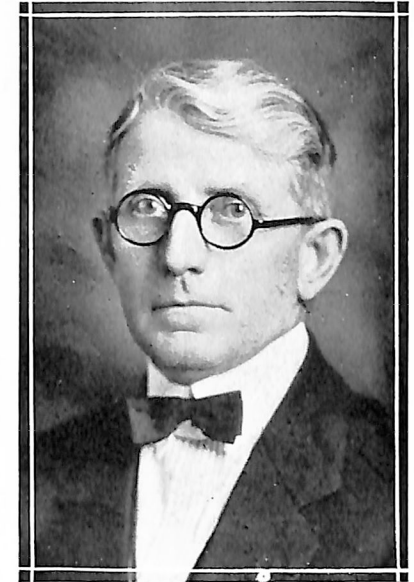

DEDICATION

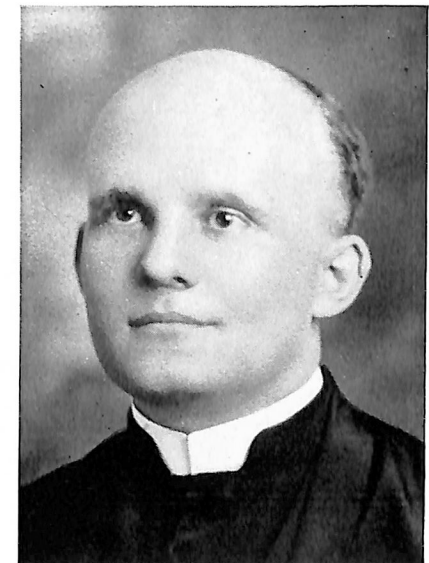

To one who with foresight and vision looked beyond the present far into the future; to one who realized the need of the youth of our church for an education; to one who saw the value of a church college in the training of this youth; to one who with unceasing effort, genuine loyalty, and tireless energy laid the foundations of Trinity Theological Seminary and Dana College—to a pioneer, leader, friend, and pastor, the Reverend A. M. Andersen, we, the Senior Class of 1934, dedicate this Senior issue of the Hermes.

Senior Class Will

THAT WE, the members of the graduating class of Dana College and Trinity Seminary, of Blair, County of Washington, State of Nebraska, now that we have become learned in retaining our sanity, being somewhat extraordinarily intelligent, of a disposing mind and charitable nature, being in full possession of all our faculties, do hereby make known our Last Will and Testament, in this year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and thirty-four.

FIRSTLY, To the School we bequeath our sincerest wish for more and better classes.

SECONDLY, To the Faculty our sincere appreciation for their untiring efforts in guiding us on the path of knowledge.

THIRDLY, To the Juniors our dignity and prestige, our "drag" with the professors, and the experience of our mistakes.

FOURTHLY, In a lighter mood we individually and separately, not wishing to be partial, do hereby dispose of our personal property in the following manner, to-wit:

I, CLIFFORD MADSEN, do will to William Larsen my low rate of travel with a permit to stop in Omaha.

I, RICHARD MORTON, do will and bequeath my B.A. degree to Paul Henry Holm-Jensen.

I, ALVIN CARLSEN, surrender all my executive ability to Bill Langley.

I, HAROLD CHRISTENSEN, bequeath my position as Laboratory Assistant to Byron Langenfeld that he may have something wherewith to occupy his spare time.

I, MERTON JENSEN, leave to Viggo Carlsen my boisterousness that he might rule the town boys' room.

I, HARVEY KUHR, designate Stan Jorgensen receiver of my shyness for the fair sex, that he may have more time to study.

I, JEAN LARSON, will my studiousness and presence in classes to Lucille Hancock and Nellie Rose Wilkins.

I, MRS. GERTRUDE NIELSEN, will my sweet disposition to Wesley Andersen.

I, AAGE NOMMESEN, with best wishes leave my many pleasant associates to Jim Hay.

I, H. ALBERT OLSEN, surrender my Ford to Lorentz Thorngren to aid him in his various visits.

Class Prophecy

ALVIN CARLSEN, Publisher of the Daily News Bulletin, in a radio news broadcast over Station P.U.N.K., Blair, Nebraska, in the year 1965, gives the following reports concerning the Dana University graduating class of 1934, which statistics he has spent considerable time gathering:

"Hello, the first man I come across is RICHARD MORTON. To our amazement we discover that he is vocal director in the Music Conservatory in Berlin; he introduced a new note into the regular musical scale;

HERMES

CLIFFORD MADSEN, President of Southeastern University, has just resigned to accept a position as Warden of Sing Sing;

We have a report that DR. HARALD CHRISTENSEN is leading an expedition studying ant life in the jungles of Jamaica. He is fast losing his interest in the ants in those wilds;

MERTON JENSEN, one of Dana's former outstanding athletes, is now President of Vassar College for Women;

HARVEY KUHR is director of Domestic Science at the Kaj Kajski University of Moscow, Russia;

JEAN LARSON is at present swimming instructor at a beautiful resort in Greenland;

MRS. GERTRUDE NIELSEN is now on an extensive tour of scientific investigation in the Himalaya Mountains;

AAGE NOMMESEN has been re-elected as telegraph operator in the Hawaiian Islands;

"UPPEY", H. ALBERT OLSEN is Governor General of the Poo Poo Islands in the Pacific. He has proposed a startling plan of free education among the natives;

ALFRED PETERSEN has recently been elected to the position of art judge at the court of Keno;

CLARENCE "CLOWN" VIG has thrilling experiences introducing the game of Ping Pong among the Eskimos. He finds it a warm task;

Superintendent LYDIA HANSEN has introduced a new system of education into the city schools of Orum, Nebraska;

MARIAN PETERSON has recently accepted the chair as Professor of History at Dana University;

AGNES PETERSON has forsaken the business world to take up the study of medicine, specializing in the effects of wearing high heel shoes;

MYRTLE PETERSON is a private detective for the "We Find Them" Detective Agency in the Fiji Islands;

RICHARD JOHNSON is making another extensive tour of Europe in search of a competent secretary for the Oriental Chemical Company of which he is the head;

HAROLD QUALSETT, Newshound, who has surpassed Walter Winchell, has been taken captive by bandits on the Island of Madagascar. He is being held for $50,000 ransom.

BERNICE CHRISTENSEN is now digging clams along the shores of Hudson Bay.

At the sound of the musical note it will be exactly 13:59 and 59 seconds, K. M. Station P.U.N.K. signing off."

The Class of 1933

It might be of interest to our readers to know what has happened to the various members of the class of 1933, what they are doing and where they are living. The Hermes therefore presents the class of 1933 with a few words about each member.

On Washington Island, Wisconsin, we find Leo. H. Andersen as pastor of the only church this little island has, Trinity Lutheran church.

Over in McNabb, Illinois, is Christian Bertelsen, now the Reverend Bertelsen, serving the Emmaus Lutheran church of that city.

Theodore I. Jensen is now located at Farmington, Minnesota, in charge of St. John's Lutheran church.

The vacancy at Lincoln, Nebraska, has been filled by Skriver Nielsen, who returns to the city where he spent a number of years in graduate study at the University of Nebraska.

Up at Herman, Nebraska, just a few minutes drive from Dana, we find Immanuel Petersen in charge of the mission congregations there and at Orum, Nebraska.

Paul G. Rasmussen stayed in the middle west too and is now pastor of Bethany Lutheran church at Kimballton, Iowa.

Of the class of 1933, twelve graduated from the liberal arts department. Of these, six are now pursuing their theological studies at various Lutheran seminaries in the United States. Wesley Andersen, William Larsen, Harold Larsen, and Emil Pedersen are at Trinity Seminary. Ervin Bondo is at Gettysburg Theological Seminary in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, while Johan Petersen is in St. Paul, Minnesota, at Luther Seminary. Of the rest, Ernest Hansen is at present at one of the C. C. C. camps, Alfred R. Jensen and Robert Larsen are teaching at the Oaks, Oklahoma, High School, Aleine Miller is staying at home in Waupaca, Wisconsin, and F. Paul Reins is teaching at the Clarkson, Nebraska, High School.

From the music department only two students graduated: Viggo Carlsen, who is continuing his studies at Dana this year, and Alma Johnson, who is now Mrs. Carl Jensen of Pasadena, California.

Five of the class of 1933 graduated from the two year teacher training course. Mrs. L. Christensen is now at home in Blair, as is also B. Helen Loftis of Herman, Nebraska. Dorothea Gilbertson is attending the University of Nebraska. Bernice Pedersen and Ruth Petersen are at Dana again this year continuing their studies.

Lydia Hansen, graduating from the commerce department, is also at Dana this year, continuing her work in the commerce department.

From the Academy one student graduated, Anna C. Andersen, who is now at home at Pacific Beach, California.

The College

It is a pleasure to bring greetings to the readers of this annual near the close of this fiftieth year of progress. If this anniversary year is indicative of what the next half century will bring, continued progress is assured. As we glance over the year we note improvement in the physical plant, the coming of Professor Hartwig to the Dana English department, further effort to stimulate high scholarship, and an enrollment of college students which is the largest in the history of our school. Indeed, Dana is today rapidly approaching capacity enrollment. With this larger group of students has come increased enthusiasm, life, and activity. More interest has been stimulated in the somewhat larger classes. More vigor has been expressed in the field of student activities.

The future of a college often lies in the hands of her alumni. Will the larger graduating classes carry on the torch which was lighted on this hill? Will students who have learned to enjoy a new vision continue to widen their horizon? Will students who have enjoyed the results of sacrifices on the part of our Church, the untiring effort of the faculty, and the low-cost plant "bear fruit" to the honor of their Alma Mater?

The most promising aspect of the future of Dana College lies in the growing army of former Dana students and graduates who constantly seek opportunities for the presentation of the cause of Christian education at Dana. May the class which shall soon leave Dana unite with those already in the field to carry forward the name of Dana with honor, to support her, to pray that her light may shine out farther farther and still farther.

Erland Nelson, President.

Trinity Theological Seminary

"He gave some to be . . . pastors and teachers; for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto the building up of the body of Christ: till we all attain unto the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a fullgrown man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ."

It is for "the work of ministering" our seminary endeavors to train men. In doing this our aim is ever to grow in knowledge of that measure of ultimate truth which has been revealed to man in the Holy Scriptures, and to make this truth a living experience through the Holy Spirit. A church will in large measure be what its Ministry is. In order to build a living church, we need a living Ministry—one with a living theology, that in practice is living its theology. The only source of this is the life-giving Christ, as He is seen through the eye of faith in the divine Revelation. Any man's real theology is his interpretation of Christ through his experience of Him in his own life. The true theologian is a man of faith, and faith is an experience in the depths of the soul.

In the life of our church, nothing can be of greater importance than the training of such men for such a Ministry.

J. P. Nielsen, President.

The A Capella Choir

This year the Dana A Capella Choir benefited greatly from the increased enrollment at the school. Many splendid voices were added, and the organization, under the capable direction of Professor G. J. Malmin, rose to outstanding success.

The purpose of the choir is two-fold; it wields an influence upon its members, as well as upon those who enjoy its concerts. The values received by the students who belong to the organization are beyond estimation, and the expressions of appreciation from the various churches throughout the Synod indicate that they, too, have gained inspiration from the messages in song by the choir.

This season's tour was the most successful in recent years. Leaving on April 6, the choir covered 2500 miles in Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota; presenting twenty-three concerts in eighteen days. The trip was successful in every detail and, as one student expressed himself, "The tour was an education in itself."

Following is the complete itinerary.

Atlantic, Iowa	Racine, Wis.	Minneapolis, Minn.
Des Moines, Iowa	Denmark, Wis.	Hutchinson, Minn.
Coulter, Iowa	New Denmark, Wis.	Morgan, Minn.
Cedar Falls, Iowa	Oshkosh, Wis.	Geneva, Minn.
West Branch, Iowa	Neenah, Wis.	Albert Lea, Minn.
McNabb, Ill.	Waupaca, Wis.	Thompson, Iowa
Chicago, Ill.	Withee, Wis.	Graettinger, Iowa
Milwaukee, Wis.	Luck, Wis.

The choir also sang, on shorter trips, in the following places this year: Orum, Ft. Calhoun, Kennard, Washington, Blair, Oakland, Lyons, Tekamah, Lindsay, Genoa, and Newman Grove, Nebraska; and Avoca, Shelby, Audubon, Missouri Valley, Shenandoah, and Red Oak, Iowa.

Seminary Quartet

The organization of the Seminary quartet, early last fall, brought into being an outstanding musical organization. It has been a pleasure for the student body to have heard this group on various occasions as it presented the gospel message through song. Not only has the organization filled its place on the campus, but it has, in a measure, met the strong demand from our various congregations to come into their midst to sing for them.

It is with eager ears and open hearts that all have heard the messages as they have been sung. Those who have heard the quartet can express their gratitude, only in part, for the messages which the group has brought. To the quartet, we lift our hats and extend our congratulations for its splendid work.

The group has played an important part, not only among the students, but among our people, in bringing our school into touch with them by singing over the radio, in schools, and in our churches.

The personnel of the organization is as follows: Mr. William Larsen, Racine, Wis., first tenor; Mr. George Robertson, Luck, Wis., second tenor; Mr. Ben Engskow, Omaha, Nebr., first bass; and Mr. Emil Pedersen, Racine, Wis., second bass. All the members of the organization will return next year, thus assuring us that the good work of the quartet will be continued.

Debate

Another successful debating season under the skilful leadership of President Nelson was brought to a close in March. The conclusion was marked by the annual tournament of the Nebraska Intercollegiate Forensic Association, which was held this year at Hastings. The Dana teams took part in the tournament; and although they did not win any first places, their ratings were pleasingly high.

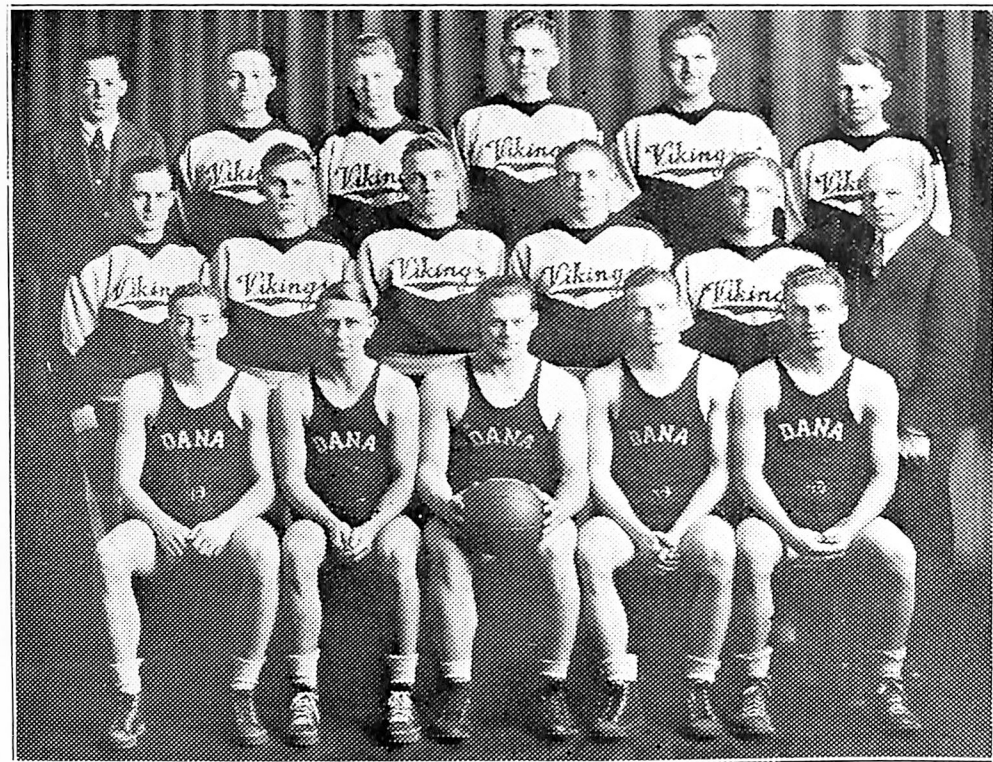

The debating this year was concentrated on a single question: "Resolved that the powers of the President of the United States should be substantially increased as a permanent policy."

The first debate of the year was a no-decision encounter with Creighton at Dana. This initial skirmish served to give the Dana debaters experience in arguing with some very capable opposition.

Later, dual no-decision encounters with Morningside College and with Omaha Municipal University were held. Nebraska Central College was met twice here and twice there with a split of victories in each setting.

The debate squad was not large, but it soon proved itself very able and well suited to the two-man team system which was used almost exclusively. The members of the squad were Leo Andersen, Sally Hermansen, Jean Larson, Harold Sorensen, and Robert O'Hanlon. Sophia Pedersen was appointed manager of debate and served diligently in that capacity.

The Dana cagers of 1933-34, unquestionably one of the finest squads in the history of the school, achieved a season record of ten wins and three losses, with a point total of 499 against their opponents' 429. Under the able direction of Coach Olson, the team, composed almost entirely of veterans, scored several upset victories over strong opponents, and were successful in winning over each of the three teams which defeated them; namely, Creighton Frosh, Kearney, and Nebraska "B".

HERMES

The past season was an additional triumphant step in Dana's victorious basketball march during the past three years. In that period the Red and White have scored a total of thirty-three victories and nine defeats—against a wide range of worthy foes. Graduation will claim most of the basketball regulars, but several newcomers appear as likely first-string candidates for next season.

1933-34 lettermen were as follows: Merton Jensen, Milton Pedersen, Lee Hancock, Clarence Vig, Harold Hancock, Harold Hurd, Harold Qualsett, H. Albert Olsen, Stanley Larsen, Richard Johnson, and Richard Pedersen. Dolliver Thogerson was awarded the manager's letter. Milton Pedersen and Merton Jensen served as co-captains during the 1933-34 season.

Football

Dana 0	Midland 19	Dana 13	Creston 0
Dana 21	Nebr. Central 0	Dana 6	York 12
Dana 26	Concordia 7

Compiling a record of three wins and two losses, the Viking football squad wound up its second successful season under Coach Olson.

After a mediocre start against the strong Midland Warriors, the Dana gridders, bolstered by several outstanding veterans, proceeded to win three out of the four remaining games, rolling up a total of 66 points against their opponents' 38. The team presented an exceptionally effective passing attack and also displayed good ground gaining ability on running plays. The back-field veterans performed well under fire, while the line, although containing many first year men, made a creditable mid-season showing. Last season's record together with that of the previous year credits the Vikings with a two year total of eight victories and two defeats.

Graduation will claim the majority of Dana's veteran players this spring, but the showing of last season's first year men would indicate that Coach Olson will have in them a valuable nucleus around which to construct next year's grid team.

The complete 1933 roster was as follows: Aage Nommesen, Richard Johnson, William Langley, Jack Sides, Waldon George, James Carlsen, Dolliver Thogerson, Edward Larsen, Rudolph Knudsen, Stanley Larsen, Edward Andersen, Elmer Brietbarth, Laurentz Thorngren, Anker Jensen, Leo Andersen, Stanley Bach, Stanley Jorgensen, Gilbert Bell, Milton Pedersen, Merton Jensen, Harold Hurd, James Hay, Jack Brody, Clarence Vig, Roy Christensen, Lyle Bliss, Waldon Halverson, Lee Hancock, and Wayne Smith.

Lettermen were: Merton Jensen, Lee Hancock, Wayne Smith, Harold Hurd, Clarence Vig, Aage Nommesen, Lyle Bliss, Stanley Larsen, Elmer

HERMES

Brietbarth, Richard Johnson, Edward Andersen, Dolliver Thogerson, Stanley Jorgensen, James Carlsen, Jack Brody, and Roy Christensen. Harold Hancock received the manager's letter. Merton Jensen held the captain's post during the 1933 season.

Women's Athletic Association

Under the leadership of Miss Agatha Madsen, the Women's Athletic Association of Dana has completed its second year. Until the year 1932-33, only the male athletes were entitled to earn the coveted "D"; now, under the newly organized Women's Athletic Association, the women are, with certain limitations, able to earn athletic letters.

They are required to secure 1600 points which may be gained through participation in such activities as basketball, tennis, soccer, pug-ball, hiking and weekly physical education classes.

During this school year the following officers were elected: Barbara Hansen, president; Bernice Pedersen, vice-president; Vita Hansen, secretary; and Mary Jensen, recording secretary. Other members of the association are: Josephine Elseman, Eva Bach, Helen F. Petersen, Claire Madsen, and Agnes Madison.

Due to insufficient practice and inexperience, the Women's Basketball team suffered an overwhelming defeat when they played the Oaks Oklahoma Indian Girls' team on Dana ground. In a close game with the Blair teachers, they redeemed themselves to some extent, gaining victory by two points, with a score of 39-37.

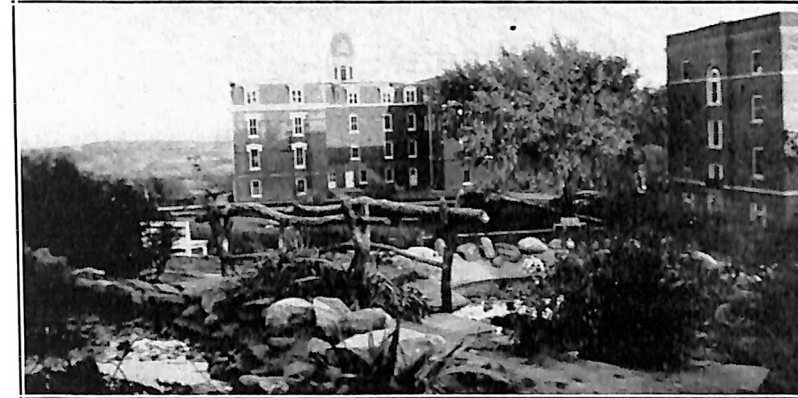

Even though the girl athletes have as yet gained no eminence in inter-collegiate games, there is promise of greater accomplishment, since there is an abundance of enthusiasm displayed and a fair degree of material with which to work.

Honor Athlete

Harold Hurd of Omaha was chosen by the members of the "D" club to receive its Honor Athlete award for 1934.

Hurd has turned in two brilliant seasons at the half-back position on the Dana football squad and has also been a valuable asset to the basketball team, alternating at forward and guard positions. His run of 82 yards for a touchdown against Concordia during the 1932 season remains on the record books as the longest scoring dash in Dana football history.

This is the third year in which the award has been made. The first, in 1932, went to "Clown" Vig; the second, in 1933, to "Doc" Pedersen.

Organizations

HERMES

Luther League

The Luther League, which aims to provide a direct spiritual service to the student body, has maintained a place of prominence among the activities on the campus during the past season. Well varied programs have been presented through the conscientious direction of the executive officers, the various committees, and the League adviser, President J. P. Nielsen.

Outstanding among the year's programs were inspiring addresses by several of the college and seminary professors, a question box evening, a debate, and a series of Bible studies. The League also sponsored the student body Christmas party, as well as the district Luther League rally on May 6. Many neighboring Leagues attended in good numbers, and the success of the event should establish it as an annual affair.

The meetings of the League, which are held each Wednesday evening with the exception of the last in each month, on which the Foreign Mission Society meets, have been very well attended, and the willingness of the students to participate indicates that the student body of Dana College feel a deep need of things spiritual.

In attempting to carry out its dual purpose of nourishing the students' spiritual life and providing opportunity for the development of religious leadership, the League has endeavored to treat, in its programs, issues and problems of present day importance, and in this it has received the enthusiastic support of the majority of the students.

In order that the greatest number of members may be given an opportunity for active participation, the League elects new officers every two months. Those who completed this last school year and who are to begin the new school year are: Byron Langenfeld, president; Herbert Harboe, vice-president and treasurer; Eva Bach, secretary.

Hesperian Literary Society

Since 1899 the Hesperian Literary Society has been wielding a cultural influence on the Dana campus. The object of the organization is to cultivate a taste for good literature, particularly American literature, and to train its members in parliamentary laws and practices.

The programs have been, for the most part, original creations by the various members. Among the best were the Thanksgiving program; the cosmopolitan program in which customs of Canada, Denmark, France, and Japan were discussed by students with actual experience in those lands; and the program on Nebraska authors which featured sketches on Willa Cather, John G. Neihardt, and Bess Streeter Aldrich.

HERMES

In addition to its regular programs, the Hesperian sponsored the student body Hallowe'en party and also memorial chapel programs on Abraham Lincoln's and George Washington's birthdays. Its Mother's Day program closed one of the most successful years in the history of the society. The program consisted of tributes to mother in readings, talks, and music.

Truly the Hesperian Literary Society has filled an important place on the Dana campus during the past year. Always maintaining a high standard in its programs, the organization has exerted a wholesome influence in the round of student activities.

The officers who piloted the society during the 1933-34 season were: Olfert V. Magnussen, president; Milton Johnson, vice-president; Mary Jensen, secretary; Stanley Larsen, treasurer; Walden Halverson and Jack Brody, marshals.

Dannebrog Literary Society

The Dannebrog Literary Society is one of the most active organizations on the Dana campus. Its history of over thirty years indicates that there has been a constant felt need for an organization which would afford the students an opportunity for becoming familiar with, and appreciating the language, literature, and general culture of Denmark, the homeland of their fathers.

The programs have been very well attended during the past year. This fact is not only a great encouragement to the sponsors and program committees, but also a means by which we may conclude that such a society properly has a place at our college.

The programs have been designed to maintain a fair balance of humorous and serious thought. Lectures have been presented on biographies, hymns, poetry, prose, translations, and travel. Special emphasis has been placed upon the singing of Danish hymns. With the gradual waning of Danish hymn-singing in our churches, such emphasis seems necessary lest we lose contact with that part of our heritage. Outstanding programs have been devoted to the life and work of Knud Rasmussen and to Danish literary works which have been translated into English.

We feel confident that many students have been stimulated to further research in the field of Scandinavian culture through their attendance upon the programs of the Dannebrog Literary Society.

The 1933-34 officers were as follows: George Robertsen, president; John Gebuhr, vice-president; Elsie Bondo, secretary; Lily Jorgensen, treasurer.

Foreign Mission Society

"Go ye therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them into the name of the Father, Son and Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." In these, the closing words of the Gospel according to Matthew, we have Christ's Great Commission to His Church. The Church of Christ, if she is to be living and faithful to her calling, must ever be a missionary Church seeking to broaden her horizons and to reach out to the realms of spiritual darkness to draw the souls of men into the Kingdom of Light.

The Foreign Missionary Society of Trinity Seminary and Dana College was founded and is supported by our faculty, students and alumni on the basis of the Great Commission of Christ. The purpose of the Society is to keep before its members the missionary duties and opportunities that lie within the reach of every Christian. The monthly programs have been selected and arranged in view of the aim of the organization—to lay before our people the needs of our mission workers, to acquaint them with the conditions on the foreign fields and to stimulate interest and support.

To this end programs have featured, whenever possible, workers who have a first-hand experience in foreign mission activity. During the past school year it has been our privilege to have as our guest speakers some of the workers from our own mission fields, notably Miss Dagmar Miller of our Santal Mission and Rev. Ouchi of Japan who is now returning to the work in his native country after a leave of absence for theological study in America.

The Society's interest in missions is expressed in a concrete way by yearly dues and voluntary contributions whose proceeds are distributed among our various mission activities. This year one-third of our gift was sent to our Indian Mission in Oaks, Oklahoma, and two-thirds to our Japan Mission.

Professor J. P. Nielsen served as president of the Society during the past year; Clifford Madsen as vice-president; Arne Voetmann, secretary; and Adolph Petersen of Luther Seminary, St. Paul, Minnesota, treasurer. Officers for the coming year are: Professor J. P. Nielsen, president; Olfert V. Mag-nussen, vice-president; Stanley Larsen, secretary; and Wesley Andersen, treasurer.

Historical Society

To cultivate interest in history and its associated fields, and to encourage the collection and preservation of all records and documents pertaining to the history of the Danes in America whose early vision and sacrifice made possible this institution,—those were the ideals which motivated the founders of the Dana College Historical Society.

Through the initiative of Mr. H. F. Swansen, professor of history, a small group of historically minded students met in late autumn of 1932 to organize a historical society among the students of Dana.

The organization being successfully effected, and the preliminary details cared for, the society unhesitatingly set to work to accomplish its two-fold mission of creating an appreciation of history among the students of today, and of supplying source materials for the historian of the future.

Its programs have been of a nature which harmonized with the central ideals of the group. Stimulating lectures by professors of the campus as well as by outsiders have been the principle features.

Personal experiences from research work in Scandinavian archives for the Carnegie Foundation was the topic of the first lecture, delivered by Professor G. J. Malmin. Mr. Malmin, who, as a young graduate of Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, had been chosen for this enviable distinction, spoke very interestingly of the rare documents which he had uncovered and made to throw light upon American-Scandinavian relations through many centuries of intercourse.

Mr. G. H. Hartwig, professor of English, who probably owes to Harvard his appreciation of the continuity of the upward struggle of the race, and who is at present working on a comprehensive catalog of Geneva Bibles, spoke to the society on the literary history of the English Bible. He pointed out the contributions of translators such as Wycliffe and Tyndale and the supreme sacrifice made by these men, and exhibited several rare copies of old Bibles.

To "Parson Bob", the last of the contract scouts, it fell, in the eleventh hour of his life, to restore before our eyes a vivid, realistic, and stark picture of the Old West, such as, without him, we should never otherwise have observed.

Professor J. L. Sellers of the University of Nebraska, in his lecture "One-third of the Twentieth Century", gave the society, from a financial point of view, an interpretation of our century.

In the last lecture sponsored by the society, Mr. R. A. Kirkpatrick of the U. P. R. R., through a series of beautiful colored slides of American mountain scenery accompanied by vivid explanations, inspired us to decide to see America first.

HERMES

The society also sponsored a radio program on the life of Jefferson.

For the purpose of facilitating the collection of historical material, the society has prepared working sheets, with instructions and lists of material wanted, to be used by student collectors during vacations. In conjunction with the Historical committee of our church, appeals for material have been made through the synodical press.

The executive committee of the society is much indebted to the administration for its support, to the Historical and Archives committee, to the college librarian for willingness to cooperate, to the members and friends who have contributed, by music and declamation, to the color of the programs, to an intelligent group of students for enthusiastic response, and, particularly, to Professor Swansen for his never tiring encouragement and advice and for the stimulating associations which it has experienced in the cultured environment of his home.

In the accompanying list of student officers, the observer will note many of those family names which represent the early builders of our church and school:

1932-33; Alvin Carlsen, president; Johan Petersen, vice-president; Dagny Skov Nielsen, secretary; Ervin Bondø, treasurer; Inga Schultz, librarian.

1933-34; Dolliver Thogerson, president; Rudolph Knudsen, vice-president; Marian Peterson, secretary; Anker Jensen, treasurer; Alfred C. Petersen, librarian.

The Norsemen

To foster school spirit and to promote campus activities is the purpose of the newly organized group known as "The Norsemen." Although the organization is yet in its infancy, it has already demonstrated activity in many ways, such as: providing cheer leaders, decorating the gymnasium for Homecoming, presenting numerous stunts at basketball games, distributing athletic advertisements, and sponsoring a pep band.

Strict qualifications for membership brings "The Norsemen" up to the same standard as the other leading campus organizations. A student may become a member only by personal application and the sanction of the student body. Furthermore, each member must, in order to retain his membership, observe the same scholastic requirements as those stipulated for participation in inter-collegiate athletics. The membership being limited to fifteen men and fifteen women assures "The Norsemen" a select group of students.

The society has made appreciable progress under John Gebuhr, president; Agnes Nielsen, vice-president; and Professor G. J. Malmin as sponsor. Because of its nature, its purpose, and its achievements, "The Norsemen" should long remain an outstanding organization on the Dana campus.

HERMES

Nordic Reading Circle

In former years this society almost exclusively consisted of students having received part of their education in Denmark, and who were able to read and discuss literature in Danish. But with the Danish speaking group on the decline every year, as the school grows, the society has undergone noticeable changes. Books available in translations are now being used, and the discussions at the meetings are conducted in the English language.

This should not, however, be looked upon as a sad sign of decline in the Danish culture and spirit of the school, but more properly as a broadening of the field, an accommodation necessary to meet the demand of the many interested in Scandinavian literature but unable to read the works in the original.

The Nordic Reading Circle is a valuable asset to the cultural life of the school. Professors, students, and interested friends from the vicinity of the school are here afforded an opportunity to meet once a month in private homes to exchange ideas and thoughts on the books read. And thus, through a thorough study and discussion, to preserve our heritage of Scandinavian culture and life.

The Nordic Reading Circle hopes, by broadening its field and taking into the society the American speaking generation of students coming from Danish homes, in many years to come, to keep the interest of this literary society among the students of Dana, thereby preserving the culture and intellect of the Scandinavian countries, the foundation upon which this school was built.

Summer

*The faint perfume of roses borne on ether wings,
The quiet murmuring of countless hidden springs,
The gentle rustling of the leaf-enshrouded trees,
The drowsy buzzing of the nectar-seeking bees.
The lilting trills of birds resound from far and near;
And in dim forest aisles walk velvet-footed deer.
The dandelions gild the ground in valley and on hill;
And hauntingly at twilight calls the sad-voiced whippoorwill.
The amethyst hues of clover brighten meadow, field, and lea;
The bubbling brooks glide onward to'rd a white and turquoise sea;
The mountains like an emerald necklace gird the azure lake;
The zephyrs whirl in playful dance through every glen and brake;
The tapers of the sun light the world with golden beams
And turn to liquid fire the surface of the streams.*

—Ida Johnson.
