Looked at from the standpoint of numbers, the seminary group is very much like the upper classes in college—small. Yet the Church which supports the institution considers it an important branch of our educational work. The problems with which the seminary deals are among those which touch the highest reaches of all human life and thought.

While it is undoubtedly true that "the idea of God is outside the scientific universe of discourse," it does belong to the highest aspect of reality, a reality which, even in these times of scientific advance, refuses to be denied a place in human thinking. Our seminary endeavors to face the problems of these eternal verities fairly and honestly, yet ever with the deep realization of the insufficiency of the finite mind of man in dealing with that which in itself is infinite. We thus find within our field an abundance of sufficiently absorbing study to grip and hold the mind's keenest interest. It is a most satisfying realization to know that the realms of truth within which our main investigations come cover a wide range of subjects, and that these are the very realities which every human soul will ultimately desire to know and will recognize as of supreme importance as earthly existence fades and eternal life makes its appearance upon the horizon. Therefore, small in numbers as we are, we will continue to be a factor in our educational institution, as God shall give us grace and guidance.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETICS

A sound body is necessary to a keen mind and it is for this reason that a definite athletic program is included in the college curriculum.

Varsity Football

Danian 1937

While football is a major sport at Dana, its success in wins and losses is somewhat hampered by the large proportion of freshman material each year. Of the twenty-two men who were active for the entire season only five were lettermen.

The six losses and one victory tell the story in popular terms, but the season was by no means discouraging. The Spartan ideal—the right goal in all athletics—was to a large extent achieved along the lines of physical development and in the fine spirit and character of the squad as displayed on the field and in the locker rooms. Neither could the season be altogether disappointing to those who were thrilled by the powerful, spirited drives and the tenacious last-ditch stands in some of the games.

A seven-game schedule was played this year. Trinity and Doane of last year's opponents were replaced by Luther and South Dakota Southern Normal. The scores of the 1936 season follow:

Dana 0	.....	Southern Normal	19
Dana 0	.....	Western Union	34
Dana 6	.....	Concordia	13
Dana 0	.....	Hebron	25
Dana 0	.....	Nebraska Central	7
Dana 0	.....	York	27

The 1936 lettermen are: Richard Boe, Bernhardt DeLaurant, Laurice DeLaurant, Norman Dyhrberg, Earl Fries, Keith Gammel, Robert Jensen, Ivan Johansen, Stanley Larsen, Aster Neve, Clarence Paulsen, Paul Petersen, Anchor Sorensen, Victor Vig, Carl Wildrick. Numerals were awarded to: Leland Hansen, Roland Meder, Howard Mikkelsen, Earl Nielsen, Harold Qualsett. Ethan Svendsen received the manager's award.

Varsity Basketball

Danian 1937

The Viking 1936-37 basketball season established its reputation as one of the most exciting and interesting in the past several years. Ten victories out of eighteen games was the final record, but spectators will testify that some of the last-half rallies and the superior type of basketball displayed in many of the games would do much more credit to the Viking cagers than the final tally would indicate.

Probably the most outstanding games were the two with Midland, the one game with Hebron, and possibly the game with Nebraska "B" played at Lincoln. The two Midland games were well-fought and even from start to finish, but in the Hebron conflict, the Vikings came from the losing end of the score to eek out a victory by two points.

Prospects were bright and hope ran high at the beginning of the season. And there was no disappointment, for the four veterans and the capable new recruits were soon worked into a winning team. As the season progressed there were handicaps of sickness and injury, but the reserve was capable enough to make good account of itself in filling in the vacancies.

The annual banquet was held on March 18 in the college dining hall. The following were awarded letters: Monroe Bixler, Earl Fries, Robert Jensen, Edward Mann, Thomas Ninegar, Lewis Patrick, Paul Petersen, Harold Qualsett, and Adolph Vammen. Numerals were awarded to Russell Lund, Delwyn Olson, and Clarence Petersen. Ben Miller received the manager's award.

Women's Athletic Association

Danian 1937

The past year has been a very successful one for the Women's Athletic Association. Since this organization started there has been a steady growth, but its activities have been broadened more in the past year than in any other. The members have shown a whole-hearted, enthusiastic interest in all the types of athletics which were undertaken. Competition of a very good quality was seen in volleyball, tennis, basketball and kittenball.

The purpose of the W.A.A. is to promote physical efficiency, good sportsmanship, fellowship, and to provide recreation through participation in athletic activities. A letter "D" is awarded to members who completed successfully the work planned for the year by earning the required number of points in athletic events. Points are earned throughout the year by participation in tennis, hiking and kittenball in the fall and spring, and basketball, volleyball, tumbling and calisthenics during the winter months. Track is a new activity which was added this spring. All work is carried on outside of the regular physical education period.

Officers of the Women's Athletic Association this year were: Clarice Jensen, president; Florence Young, vice-president; Thelma Jane Hoare, secretary; and Miss Anna Wind and Miss Doris Dahl, advisors.

Intra-Mural Athletics

Danian 1937

Because of the limited number of men who could participate in Varsity basketball, intra-mural basketball engaged in keen competition seven teams from among the many sport enthusiasts. Although all of the players were not expert in ball-handling and floor work, a high degree of interest, pep, and brawn made up for the deficiency.

This year a new plan for the organization of the teams was introduced. Groups of men were permitted to form their own teams and choose captains. The following teams reported: the Bachelors, Oliver Plows, Ramblers, Town Team, Gophers, Bow and Arrows, and Bow-Wows. The effectiveness of the plan was evident in that no team was able to complete the one-round tournament undefeated. Although victory at times was decided by wide margins, many of the games ended in a close score, and no league standings could be predicted until the final game was played. The Bachelors under the leadership of Kloth, and the Plows guided by Lyndrup finally emerged with the honors. High point men were "Doug" Christensen, Earl Nelson, Verner Carlsen, and Howard Mickelsen.

With the coming of spring, intra-mural interest shifted to kittenball, tennis, and track. Each year a number of teams have participated in interesting contests on the diamond. Also, an elimination tournament has been held to determine the singles and doubles tennis championship of the college. Considerable interest having been shown, plans have been developed for an inter-class track meet. Students welcome the revival of track which has been latent for a number of years.

ORGANIZATIONS

ORGANIZATIONS

Not all instruction is in the class-room nor must the social life be forgotten. These organizations help to maintain a balance in our college life.

A Cappella Choir

Danian 1937

Probably the most outstanding organization on the campus is the A Cappella Choir under the direction of Professor Gunnar J. Malmin. The purpose of the choir is three-fold: to bring a spiritual message to its audiences through the medium of song, to familiarize the members of the choir with the best in church music, and to acquaint the congregations of our Synod with the work of our school.

To this end the choir makes annually several concert trips: the extended spring tour and a number of week-end trips into the region surrounding Blair. This spring the choir has sung in the States of Nebraska, Iowa, and Minnesota, and a concert tour into northern Minnesota, South Dakota, and Wisconsin is planned for the summer. Last summer the choir made an extended tour into the Pacific Coast States.

Members of the choir this year were: Evelyn Coulter, Berdette Ericksen, Frances Kronberg, Fern Lantafeld, Shirley Larson, Ruth Madsen, Mrs. G. J. Malmin, Agnes Nielsen, Leona Johansen, Harriet Larsen, Inga Nielsen, Ingrid Nielsen, Marjorie Boyer, Esther Carlsen, Elizabeth Christensen, Helen M. Jacobsen, Astrid Jensen, Clarice Jensen, Inger Jensen, Anita Nielsen, Martha Rasmussen, Evelyn Sorensen, Jean Larson, Amy Petersen, Louise Thorslev, Sven Bach, Wendall Johnson, Jesse Smith, Ivan Johansen, Stanley Bach, Peter Christensen, Thorvald Hansen, Adolph Kloth, Earl Laursen, Donald Hansen, Thomas Larsen, Sherwood Laustsen, Howard Mickelsen, Arthur Norgaard, James Olsen, Richard Petersen, John Poucher, Ernest Thurber, Emiel Wahling, Edward Hansen, Leland Hansen, Lester Hartsock, Aster Neve, Clarence Petersen, George Petersen, Ethan Svendsen, Carl Wildrick.

Officers of the choir were: president, Edward Hansen; secretary, Martha Rasmussen; treasurer, Stanley Bach.

The Alpha chapter of the Alpha Sigma Phi at Dana has had a year of unusual activity. The aim of the society is to stimulate interest in debating and in other forensic activities.

Four members of the argumentation class were admitted as associate members to the organization. Since the course in argumentation was not offered the first semester of this year, the Dana debaters did not participate in inter-collegiate debates.

The Alpha Sigma Phi sponsored a declamatory contest in which thirty-six students signified their intention of competing. In a preliminary contest the number was reduced to fifteen. On April 5, these winners competed for further honors and prizes of five, three and one dollars in each of the three divisions. Winners in the oratorical division were George Petersen, Ethan Svendsen and James Olsen; in the dramatic division winners were Edward Hansen, Leona Johansen and Vita Kildebeck; and in the humorous division Robert Jensen, Alice Traum and Clarence Petersen won the awards. This event was considered one of the outstanding programs of the school year. The Alpha Sigma Phi plans that such a contest be an annual feature.

A formal garden party was held on the Dana campus, May 1. Varied musical numbers and readings made up an interesting program.

In the latter part of May the members of the society journeyed to the beautiful Hummel park in Omaha and enjoyed their annual steak fry.

The officers of the society are: Carl Wildrick, president; David Simonsen, vice-president; and Dolliver Thogerson, secretary-treasurer.

The Dana College History Club was founded in 1932 for the purpose of developing an interest in that phase of American history which pertains to the contribution of the Danish-American element. Symbols of early American civilization which are revealed in old diaries, letters, maps, documents, publications and historical books are being sought by the society. Dr. H. F. Swansen, the sponsor of the organization, takes great interest in its work and directs its activities enthusiastically.

Officers elected at the annual business meeting, October 9, are: Eric Christensen, president; Marie Mikkelsen, vice-president; Lillian Larsen, secretary; Marvin Nygaard, treasurer; and Stanley Larsen, librarian.

The annual formal program was held in the Ladies' Reception Room, November 5, Miss Caroline Johnson vividly described her trip in Germany in which she followed the scenic course of the Rhine.

The customary musical and literary program was presented, December 11. This program was arranged to honor the person of Calvin Coolidge. An address on the life and work of this sturdy Vermonter was given by Byron Langenfeld. The unusual incident pertaining to Coolidge's oath of office at Plymouth, Vermont, on the night of August 2, 1923, was portrayed in a sketch, "The God of the Mountains."

The society, which sponsors an annual lecture by a contemporary American historian, was honored this spring by the presence of Dr. O. W. Qualley of Luther College, Decorah, Iowa. Dr. Qualley has spent one year with the University of Michigan archaeological expedition at Fayum, Egypt.

Pep Club

Danian 1937

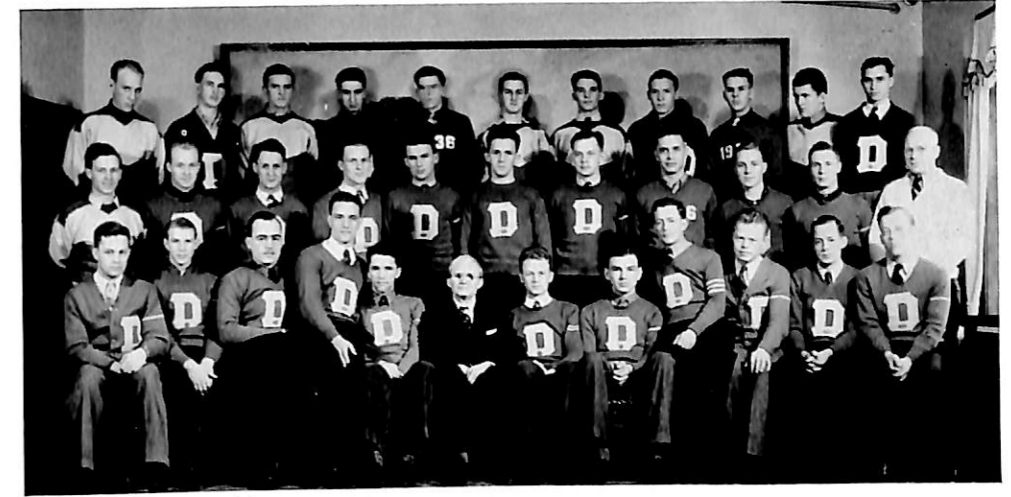

The Dana Pep Club, organized in the fall of 1936, has taken the place of the Viking Club of former years and finds its members among the girls of the campus who are interested in maintaining the Dana spirit.

During the year the girls of the organization have sponsored a number of candy sales, the proceeds of which have been used for purchasing new equipment for the cheer leaders. Trophies were also bought and awarded to members of the basketball squad.

Officers of the organization are: Eleanor Poppe, president; Vita Kildebeck, vice-president; and Martha Rasmussen, secretary-treasurer.

"D" Club

Danian 1937

The "D" Club, which has one of the largest memberships of any organization on the campus, is a men's athletic club. All those who have earned at least one letter in any of the major sports are given membership, and this year the club decided to admit, as honorary members, those who earned numerals. Such are permitted to take part in the activities sponsored by the "D" Club, but they do not have the right to vote.

Because of the great interest and support given to the athletic department by Dr. C. X. Hansen, the "D" Club presented him with a letter and an honorary membership in their organization at the annual football banquet held last fall. During his lifetime work at the college, Dr. Hansen has always been an enthusiastic supporter of all the athletic teams.

The "D" Club has sponsored several social activities throughout the year, and its members have made equipment for the use of the students during the winter sport season.

Each year the members of the club select an athlete who has been outstanding in at least two major sports during that year and present him with a medal which distinguishes him as Honor Athlete. At the annual basketball banquet this year, the "D" Club conferred that honor upon Earl Fries.

Officers of the "D" Club are Lewis Patrick, president; Aster Neve, vice-president; and Harold Qualsett, secretary-treasurer.

A number of organizations and informal groups meet regularly on the Dana campus to foster the religious life of the students. Most of these religious activities are conducted under the supervision of Prof. Paul C. Nyholm.

Perhaps the most outstanding is the Luther League which conducts weekly meetings in the chapel with programs consisting mostly of local talent. On several occasions the League has invited visiting speakers. Presidents of the League during the past year have been: Elmer Rasmussen, Edward Hansen, Clarence Petersen, and Marvin Nygaard. Once a month the Missionary Society, whose president this year has been Andrew Staby, shares a Wednesday evening with the Luther League and presents a program in the interest of home and foreign missions. Early in the spring of each year the college invites a pastor to present a series of mission meeting addresses at our chapel services and at evening meetings. This year God blessed us richly while Rev. Mr. Ethan Mengers, pastor at Denver, Colorado, was with us.

Chapel services are conducted five mornings of the week under the direction of members of the seminary faculty and Dr. C. X. Hansen, and on Sunday mornings Dr. J. P. Nielsen teaches a Bible class on the campus during the hour before the services in the First Lutheran Church in Blair. Dr. Nielsen is also advisor to the Pre-Seminary Students' Club which was organized in the spring of 1936 to acquaint the pre-seminary students with some of the problems which lie before them. On Sunday mornings throughout the year, seminary students and some of the college students conduct church and Sunday school services in communities of the surrounding countryside.

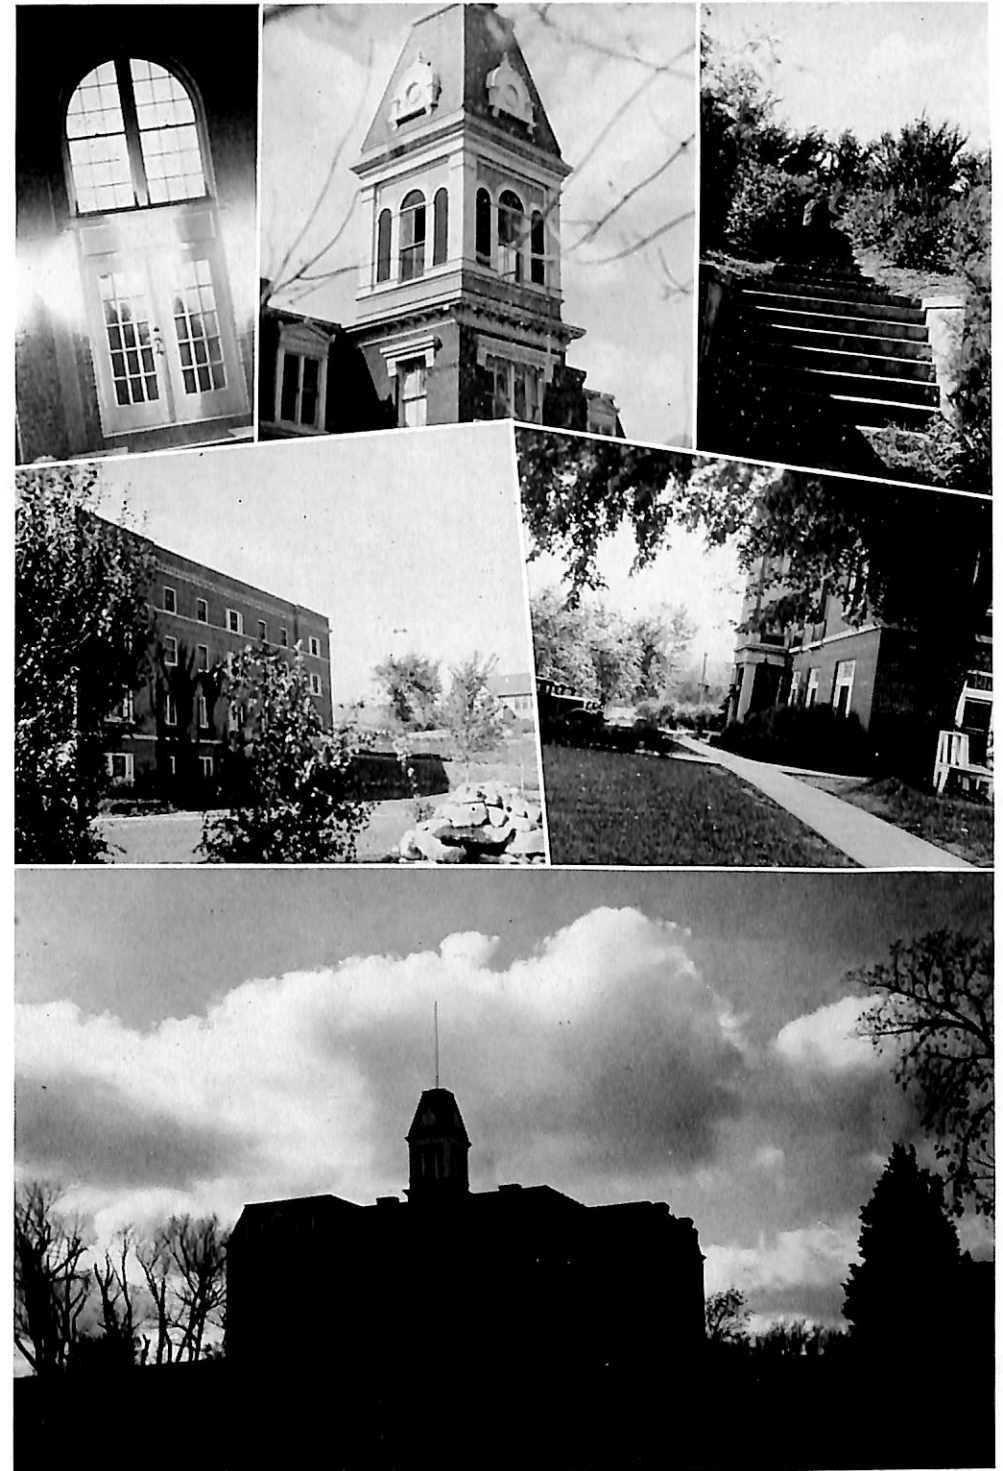

In each of the dormitories an evening half-hour or so every week is given to a devotional period. The women meet regularly as one large group in their reception room. The men also meet in their reception room once a month and on the other weeks they gather in smaller groups, each meeting on its floor. Here the students join each other in a short song service and a few moments of prayer.

Acknowledgements

It is with a feeling of relief not unmixed with regret that we come to the end of our task. It has not been an easy one with the small size of this year's Senior Class. At the beginning of the year, realizing the practical impossibility of publishing the Danian alone, the Senior Class requested the Juniors to elect two men from their groups to act as assistants to the editor and business manager. This was done, and to David Simonsen and Theodore Hansen our thanks are due for their work.

There are also many others to whom our thanks are due: to George Pallesen, for his editing of the Organizations section; to Mrs. Selby and the art class, for the drawings we have used; to Laurice DeLaurant and the Skoglund Studios, for the photography; and to all those who have written articles for publication. We also wish to thank our advertisers, for without their financial assistance the publication of this book would have been impossible.
