A Place Called Dana

A Place Called DANA

The seventeen mile drive from the north edge of Omaha to Blair, Nebraska takes one through an unusual panorama of beauty; well wooded hills, rolling valleys, the broad Missouri river and the distant bluffs of Iowa on the horizon. This was the place chosen in 1884 by Danish pioneers as the location for an educational institution of the Church — a place called Dana.

The pioneer founders were primarily concerned with the task of training young men for the parish ministry and, as a result, the roots of Dana College are in the Church. As broader educational needs emerged, Dana was founded as a separate College of liberal arts in 1889.

For many years Dana and Trinity operated as a two-fold institution of the United Evangelical Lutheran Church sharing the same campus in Blair. In 1960, however, the UELC joined hands with two other Lutheran bodies to form the new The American Lutheran Church. Trinity Seminary moved to the campus of Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa and Dana remained in Blair as one of eleven senior colleges of the newly formed Church.

The campus itself is located on a hilltop just west of the city of Blair and covers more than 180 acres. Since 1960 the enrollment has more than doubled and five new buildings have been added to the physical campus. A continuing program of expansion and improvement is currently in progress.

Dana is fully accredited by the North Central Association and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education and credits earned here are recognized at colleges and universities throughout the United States. Students may choose from sixteen major fields of study plus a variety of pre-professional and preparatory courses leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree.

Because the need of every generation is intelligent men and women of dynamic Christian faith and character, Dana holds to the conviction that the Christian way of life is essential to the complete development of human personality and strives to develop this philosophy within her students.

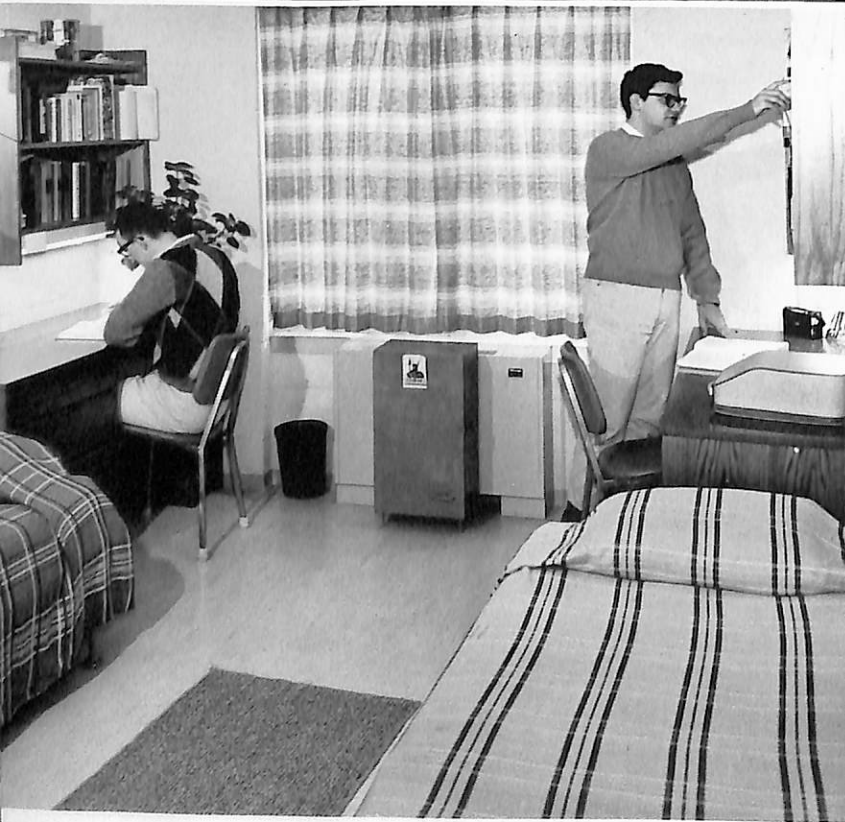

Pioneer Memorial, Library-Administration Building, was completed in 1948 and named in honor of the pioneer founders.

Two spacious library reading rooms are housed in Pioneer Memorial plus well over 30,000 volumes of reference works and innumerable periodicals. One of the largest collections of Danish literature in English translation found in the United States is also housed here.

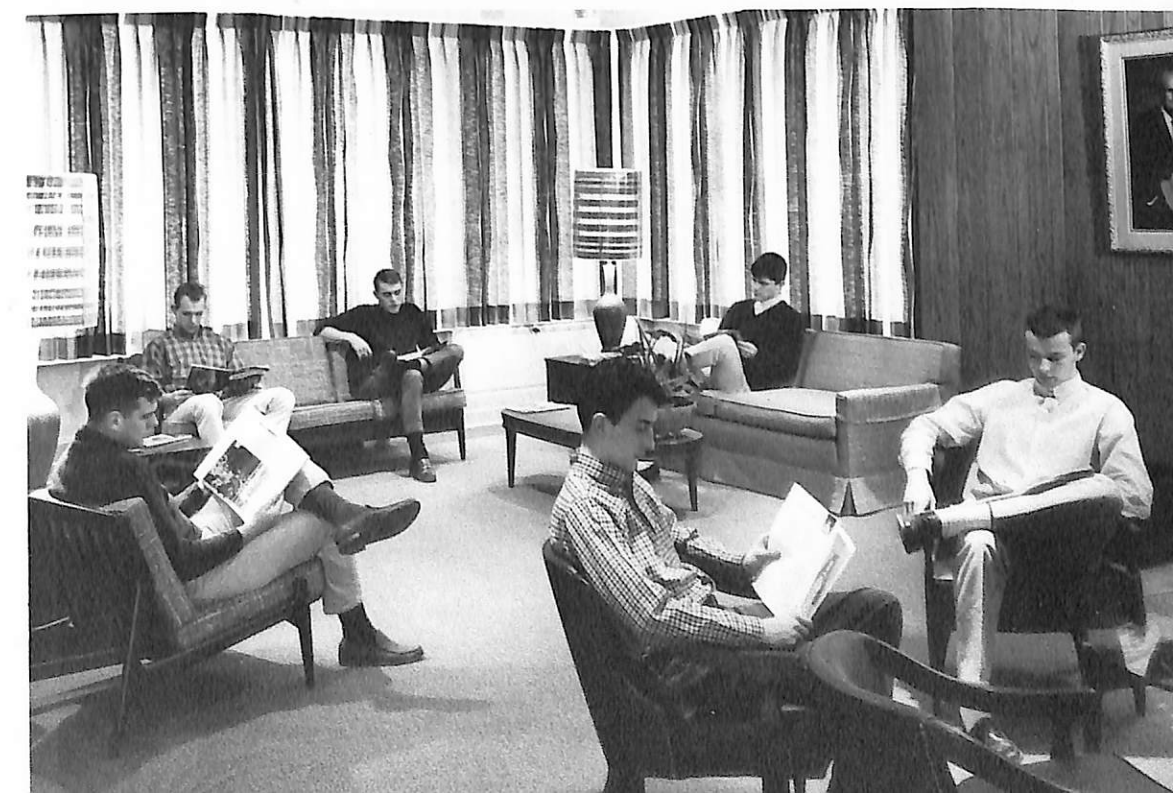

Most dormitory rooms are designed for occupancy by two students providing a maximum opportunity for study, relaxation and comfort.

Argo Hall, Elk Horn, Mickelsen, Holling, Omaha Village and the Units, all provide comfortable living quarters for campus residents. The well furnished rooms, spacious lounges, modern facilities for laundry, study rooms and recreational facilities combine to make dormitory living a most enjoyable and interesting part of college life.

The main lounge of Holling Hall, residence for men, is a popular place for recreational reading, informal conversation and entertainment of guests.

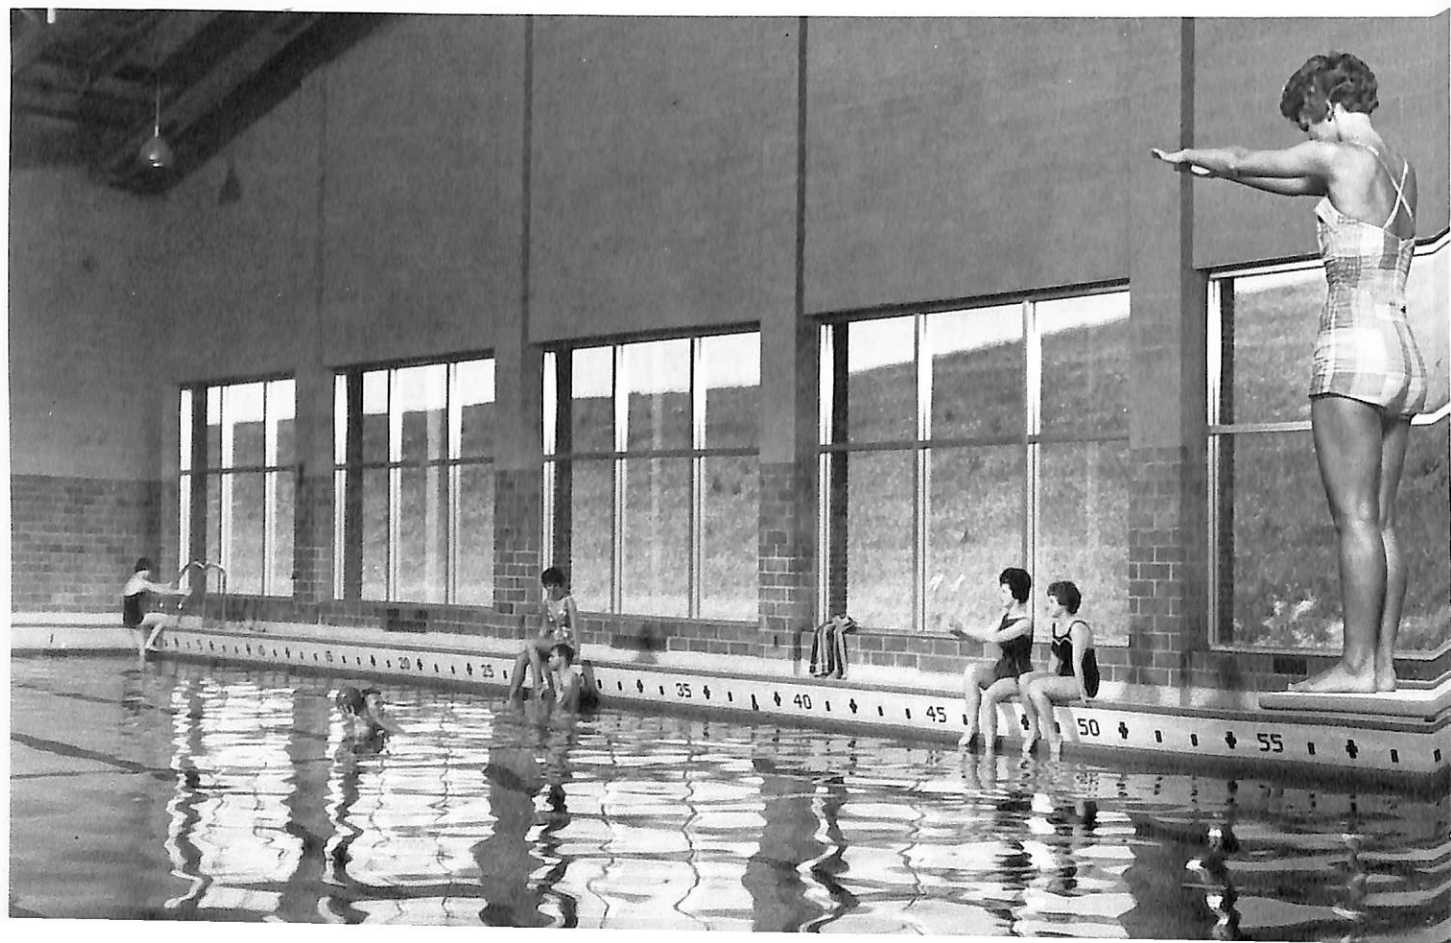

Athletics, physical education and recreation play an important part in life at Dana. The new Borup Coliseum offers a wide variety of activities ranging from inter-collegiate athletics to intramurals and physical fitness classes to recreational swimming. The regulation AAU indoor swimming pool was made possible through the efforts of Dana students who raised one-hundred thousand dollars for its construction.

Dana is a member of the Tri-State Conference and competes in a full schedule of inter-collegiate athletics including football, basketball, track, baseball, tennis and golf.

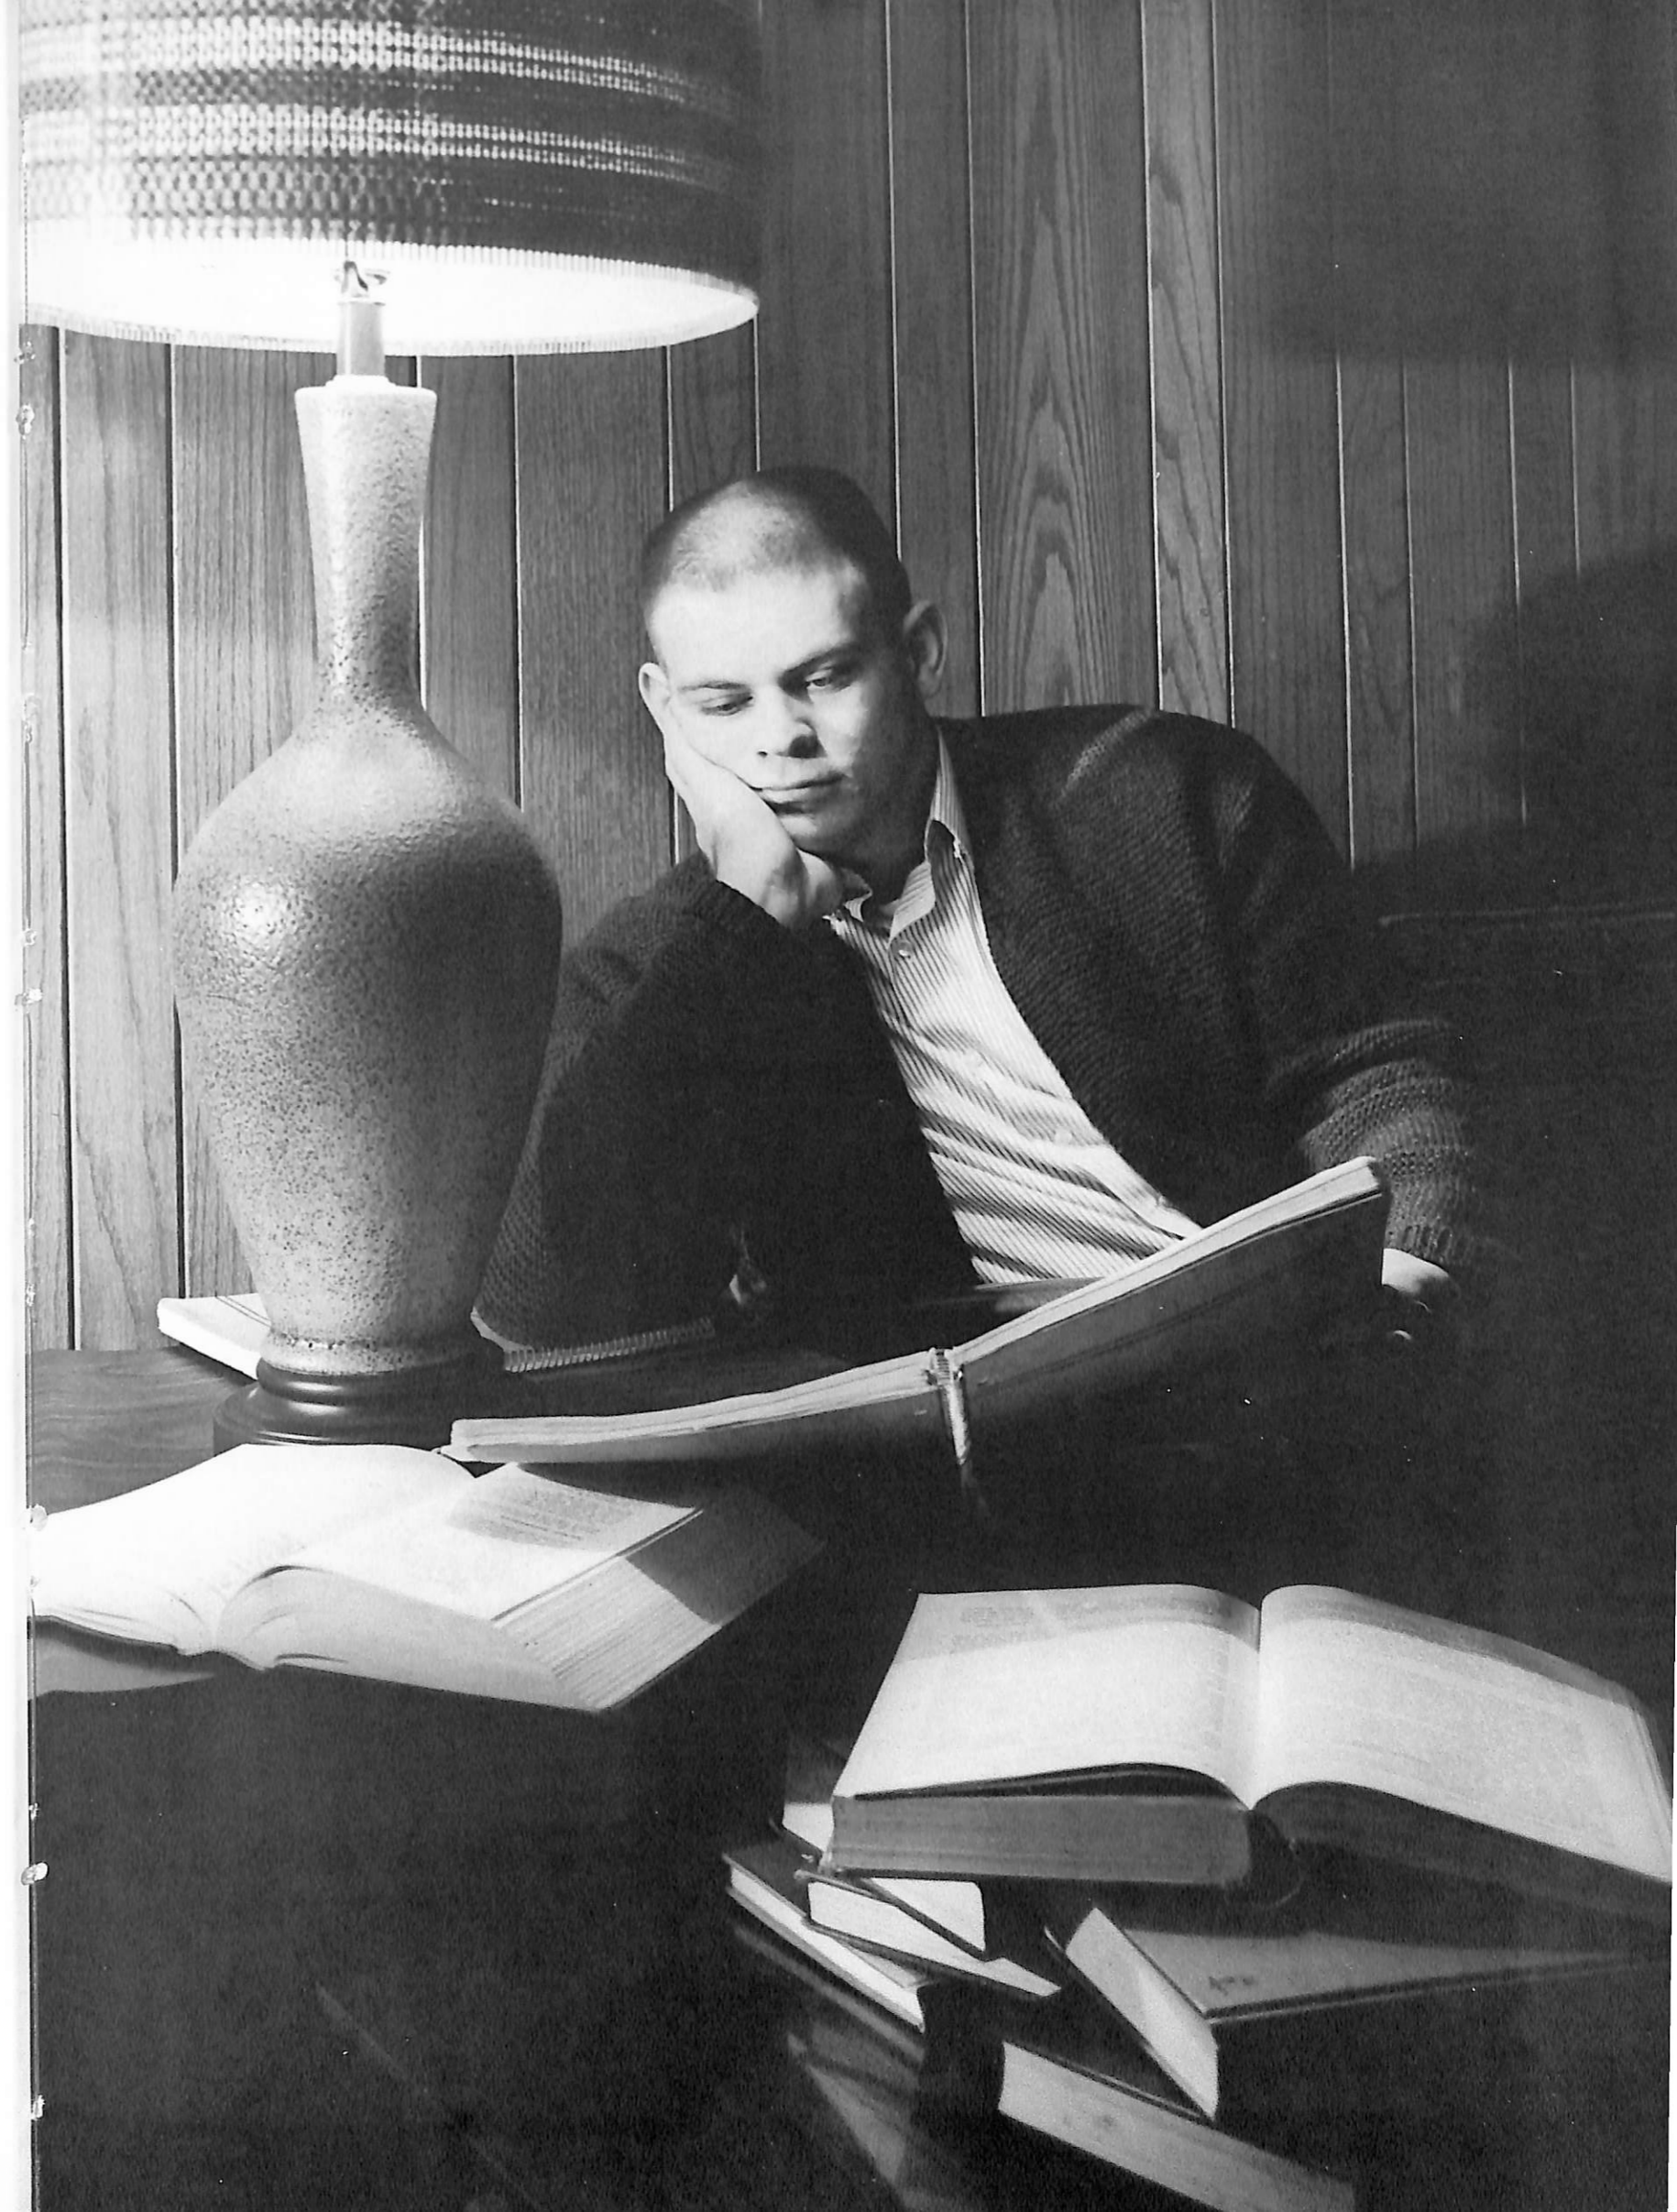

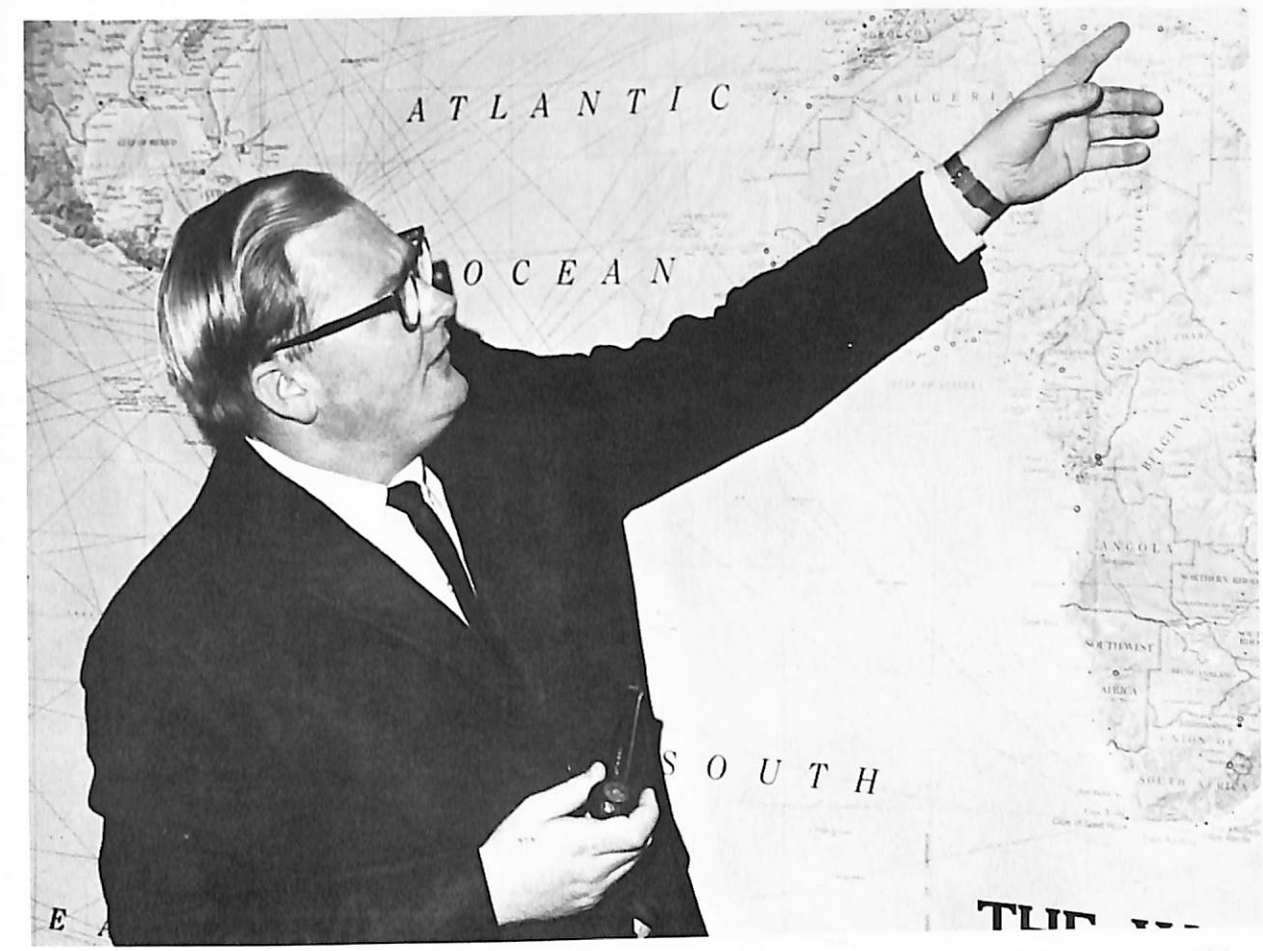

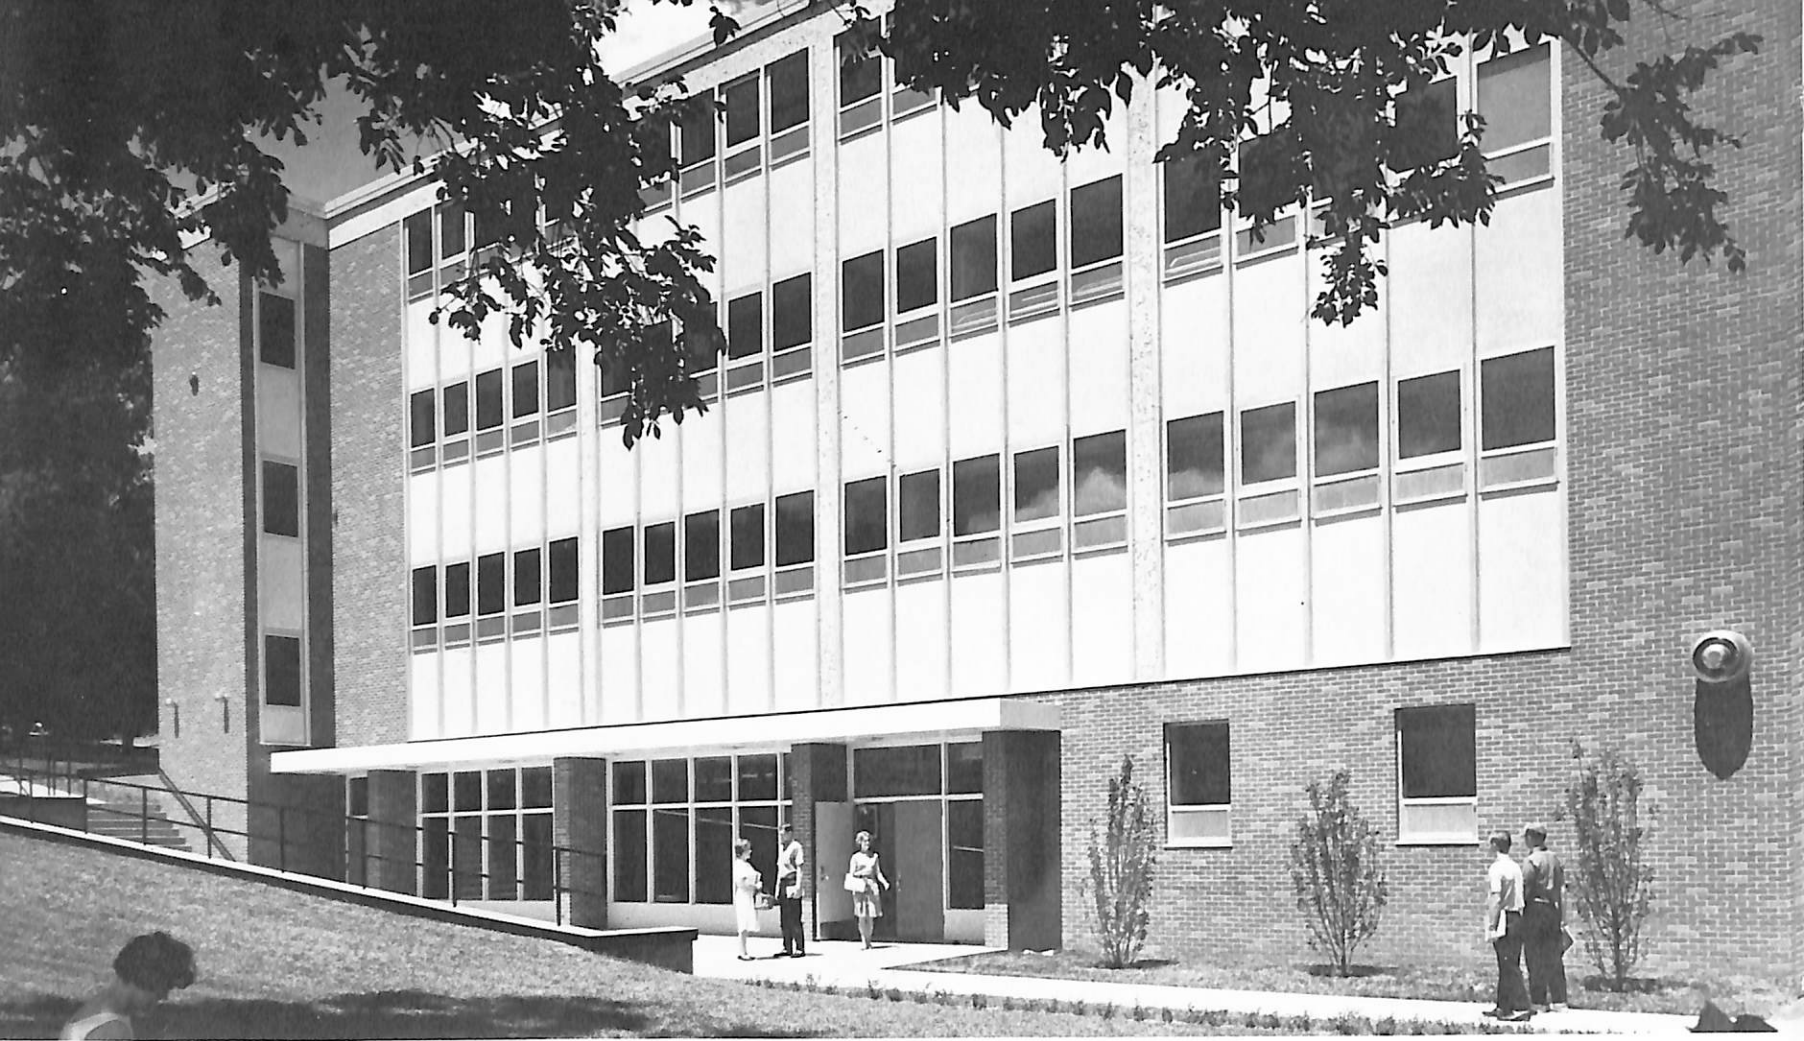

Beards for the Winter Festival, the Santa Lucia Ceremony and spontaneous fun in the snow are all part of winter on the Hill.

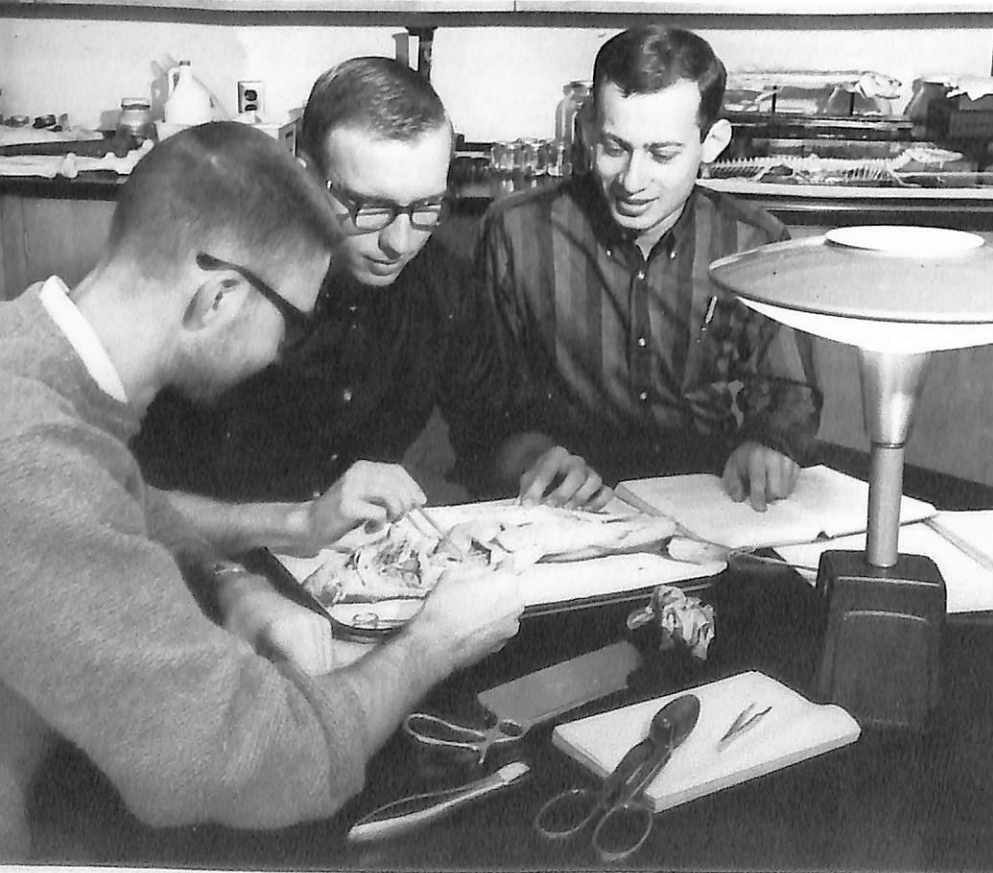

The Dana Folk Dancers, an activity of The American Scandinavian Foundation—Dana Chapter, is one of the most active organizations on campus. The group performs Danish folk dances in colorful costume and makes numerous appearances throughout the area each year. A troupe of dancers accompanied the Dana Choir on its 40th annual Concert Tour in 1965 and made a special appearance at the world famous Disneyland.

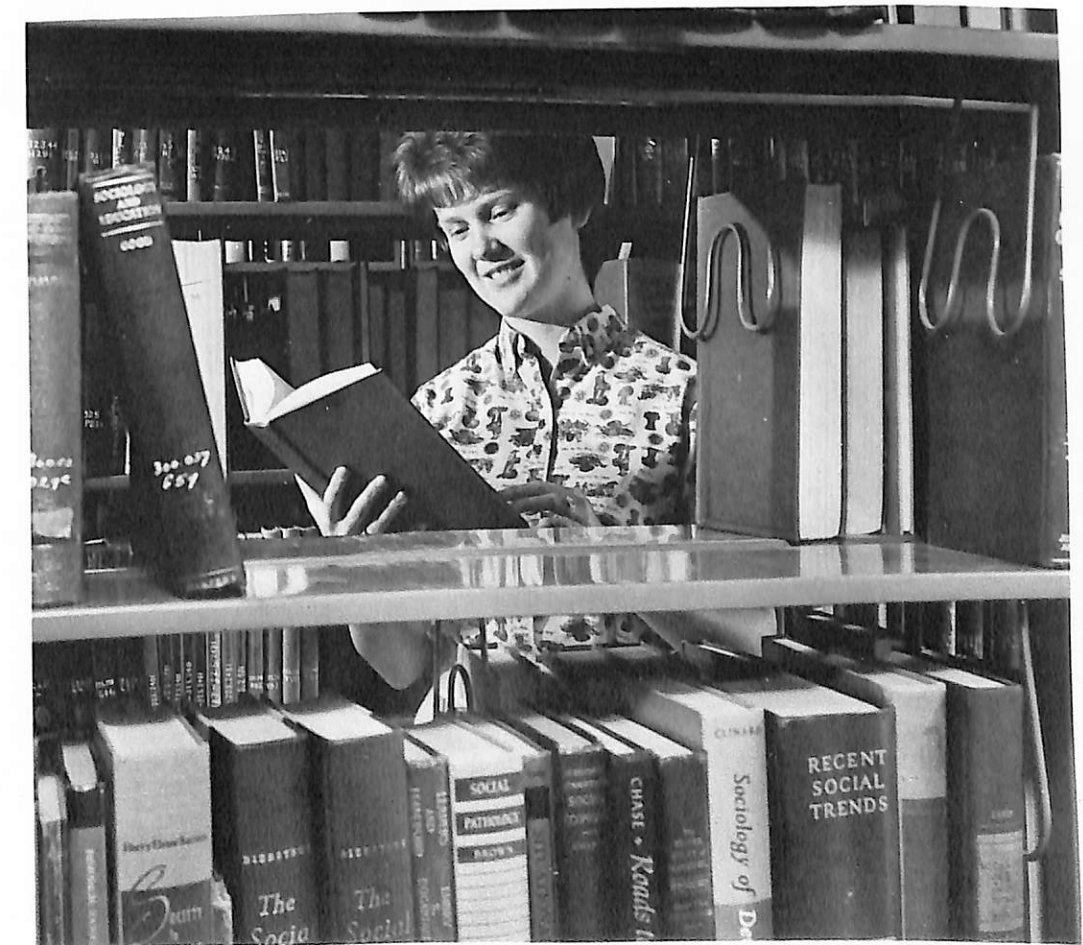

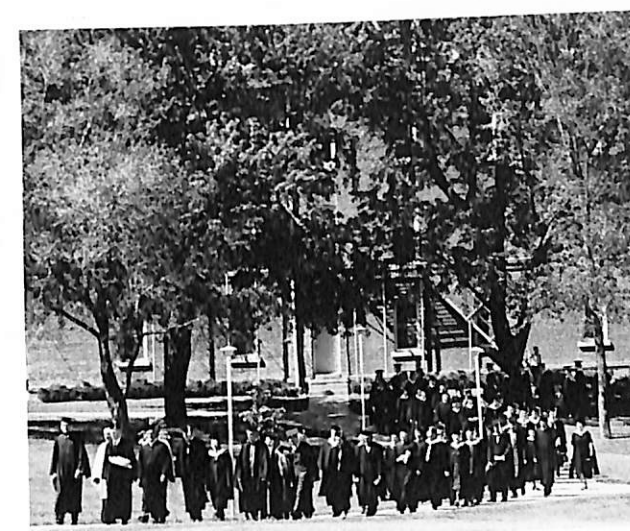

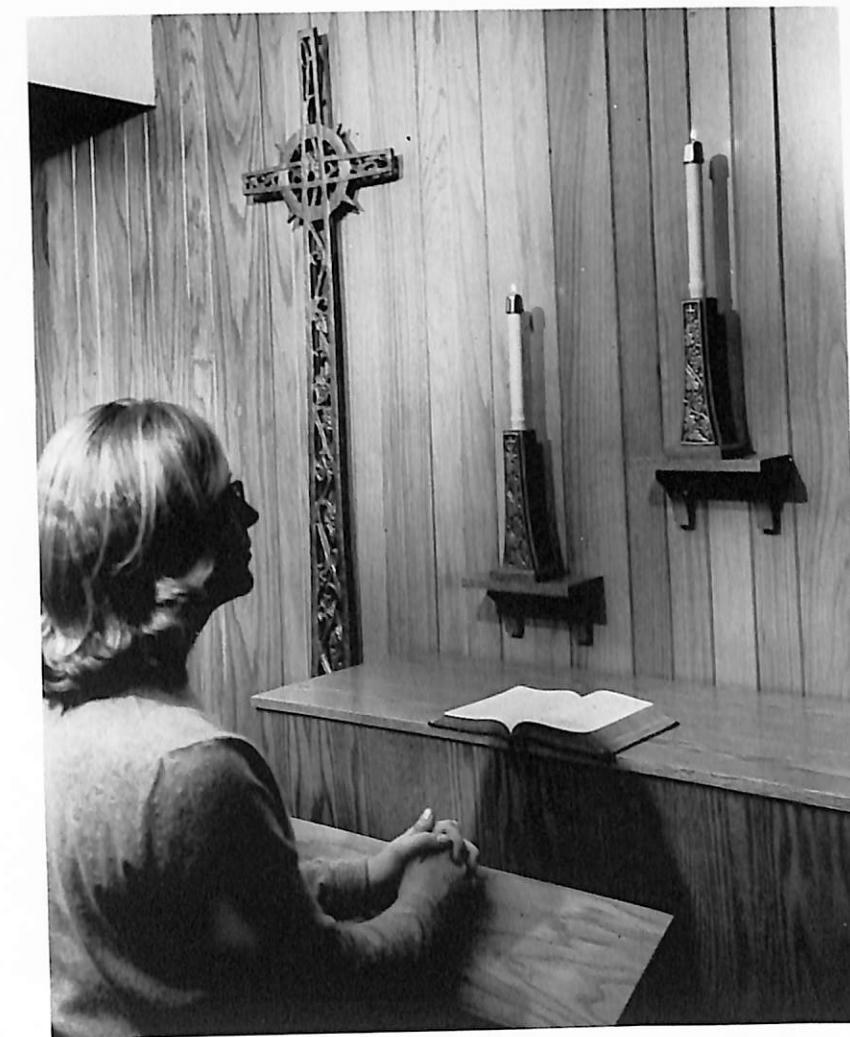

Small classes, an informal relationship between students and faculty together with the usual amount of in and out of class exchange of ideas combine to make the academic atmosphere at Dana a stimulating and rewarding one for both students and faculty.

The Dana Hall of Science was completed in 1963 and bears the name of the New York philanthropist, Charles Anderson Dana. Dr. Dana's challenge gift to the College made construction possible. This new facility has greatly broadened Dana's offerings in the field of science and provides her students with excellent opportunity for scientific study and research.

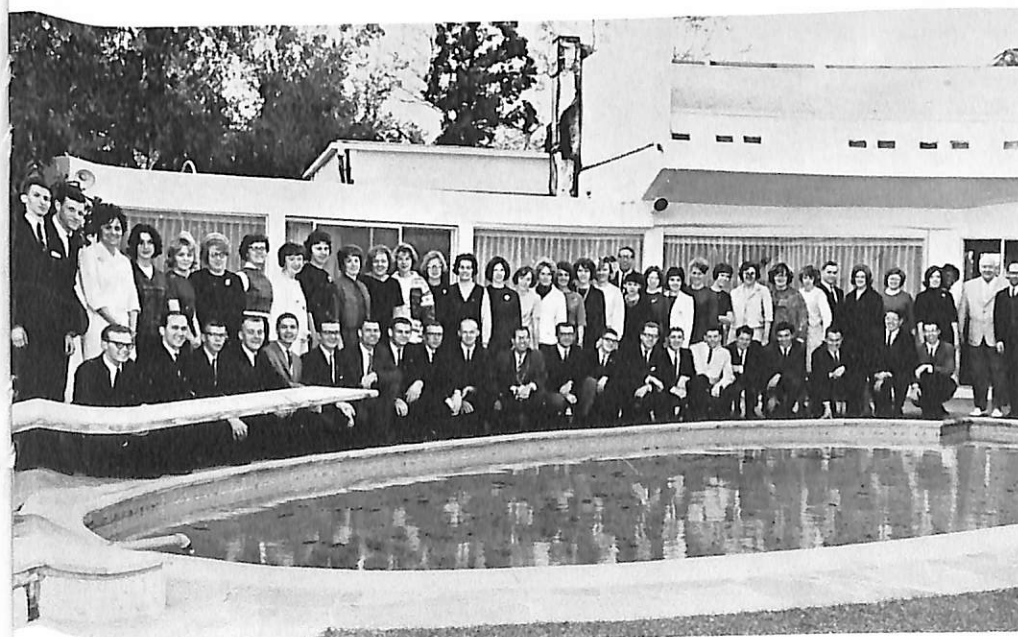

As an institution of The American Lutheran Church, Dana is keenly aware of the importance of the Christian element in education. It is the stated purpose of the College to train young men and women for places of leadership in society who have, in addition to high academic achievements, a personal conviction of Christian faith.

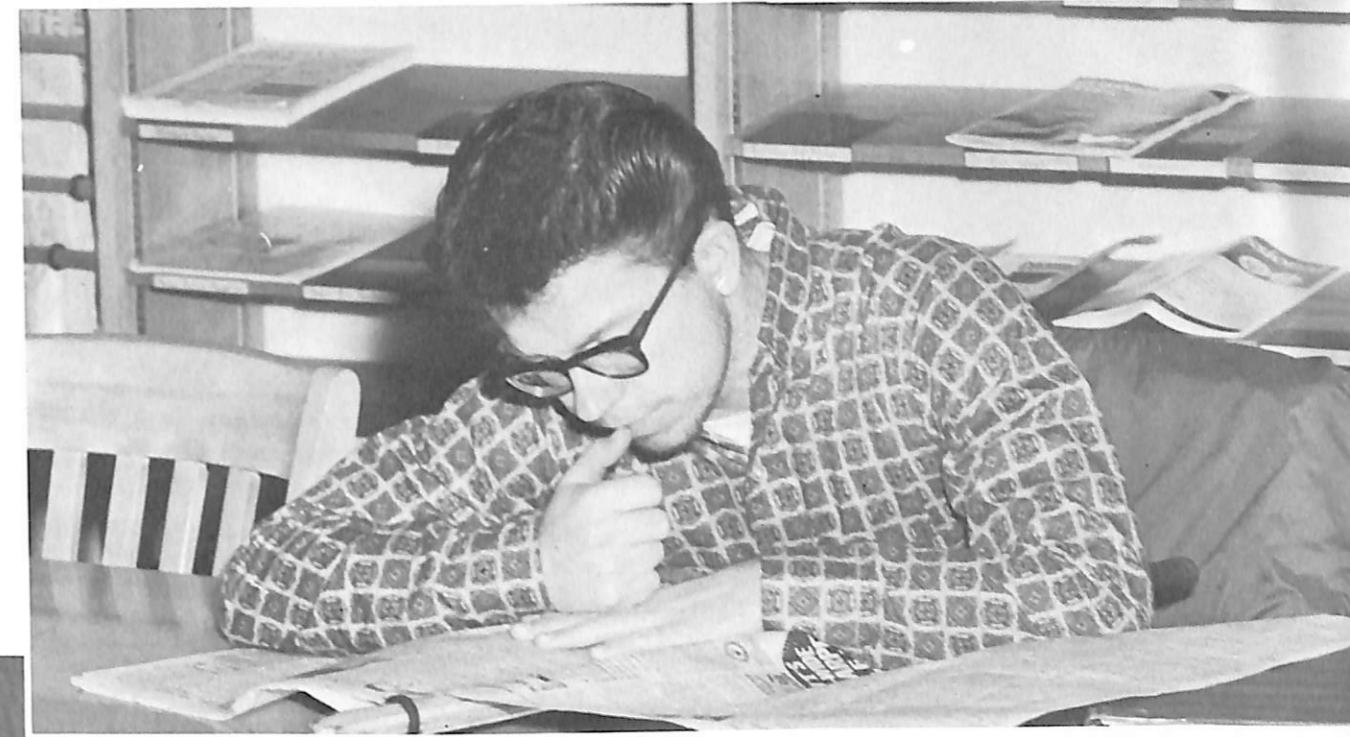

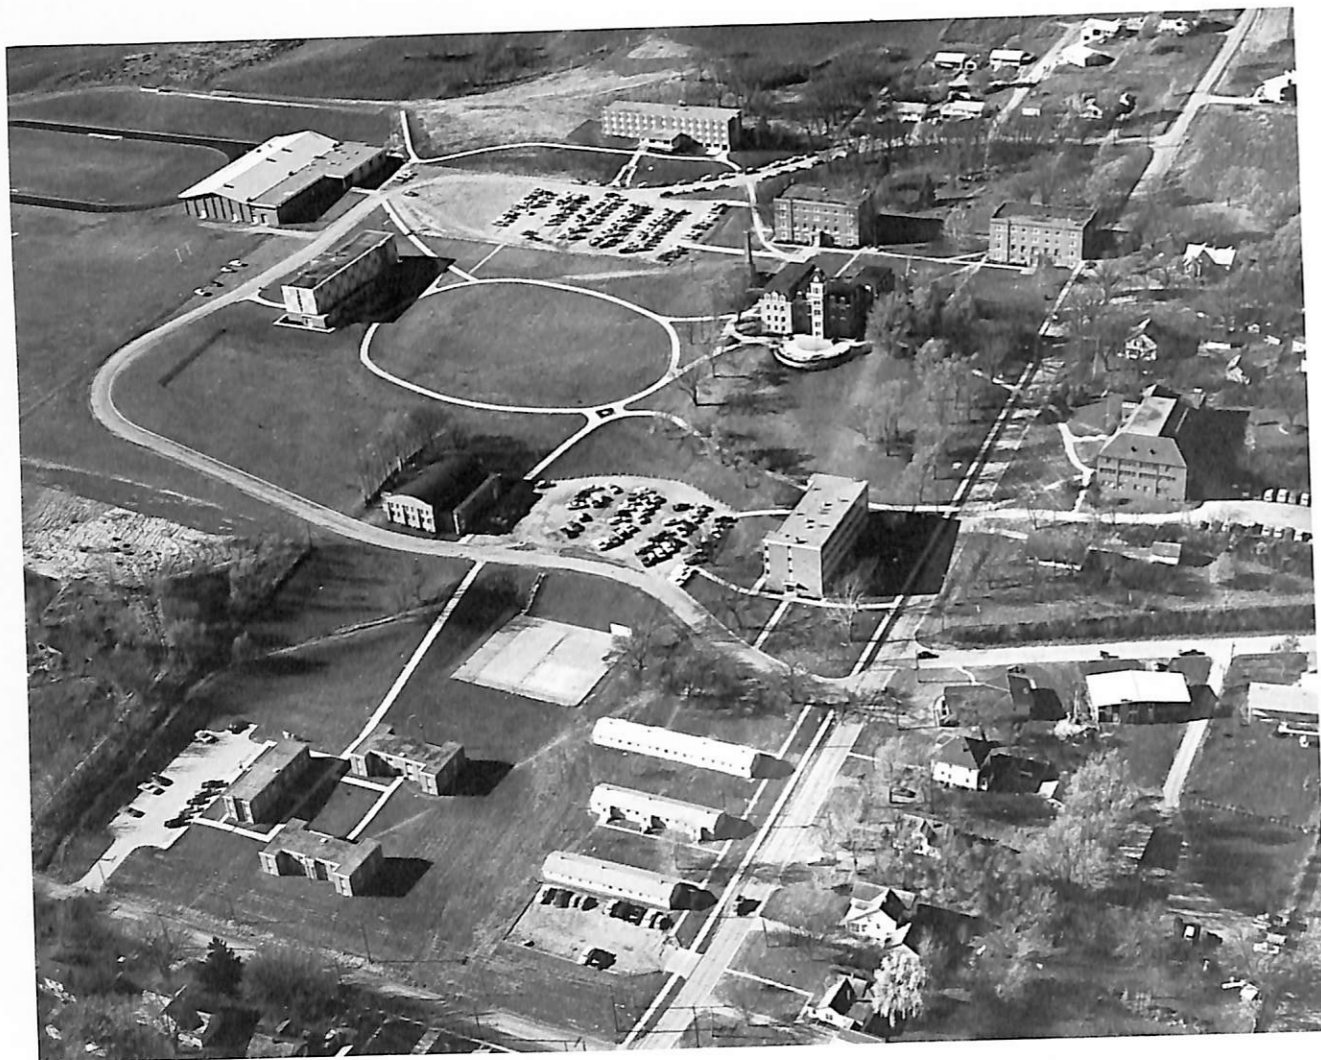

Drama, athletics and music contribute greatly to the social program at Dana. Whether it is in the make-up room, on the stage, on the basketball court or getting ready to leave on Choir tour, each individual has an opportunity to develop his talents.

The 1965 Choir tour, which carried the 56 collegiate singers to the far West, provided many opportunities for individual enrichment. Highlighting the tour was an afternoon at the Beverly Hills home of the famed Danish tenor, Lauritz Melchior, and an evening concert with Mr. Melchior appearing as guest soloist.

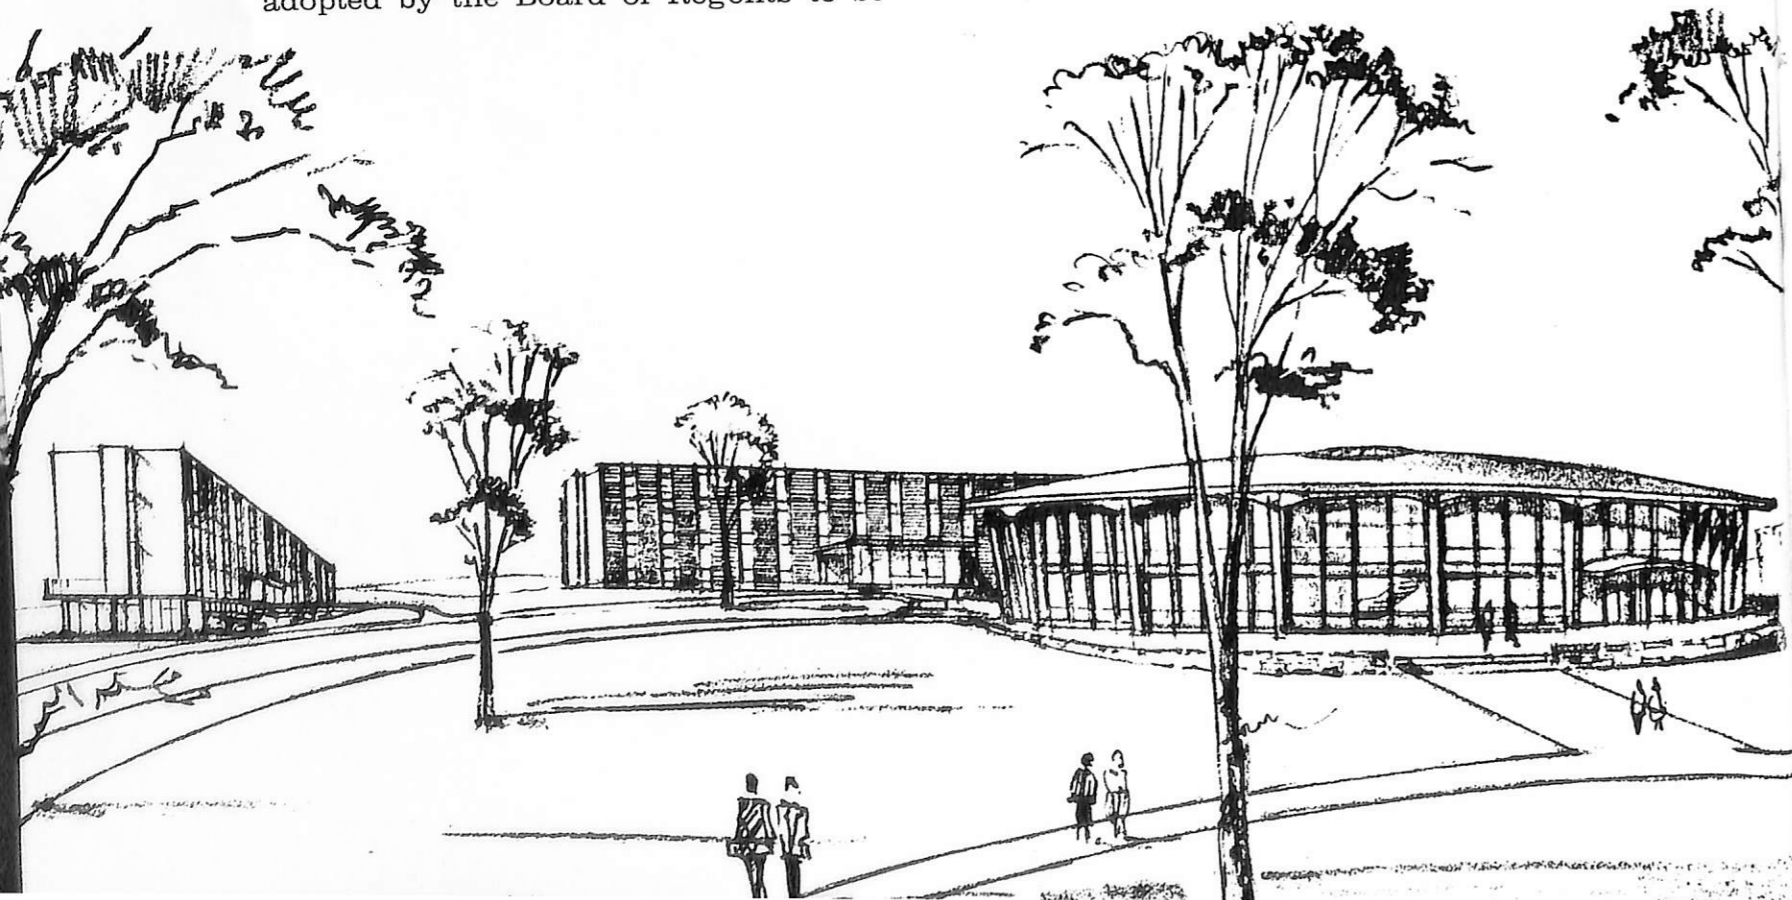

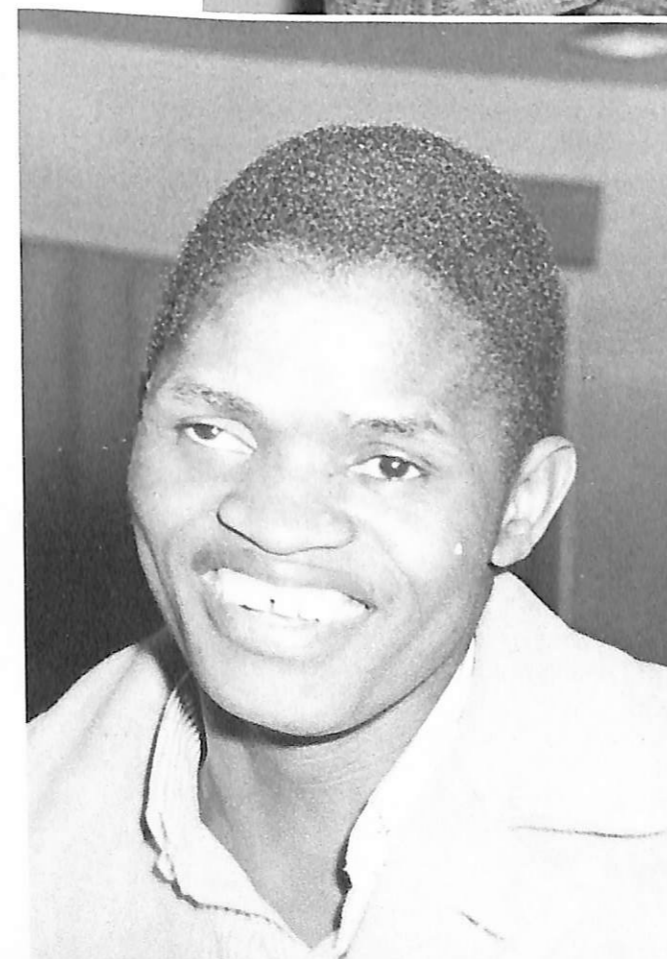

With a campus area of over 180 acres, Dana enjoys an enviable position among colleges and universities in America today—that of having ample room for expansion. Although five new buildings have been added to the physical campus since 1960, an ambitious program of expansion and improvement has been adopted by the Board of Regents to be carried out during the next five year period. Currently under construction is a new men's residence hall and a campus center.

The future is bright at this place called Dana but the challenges it brings will demand the continued dedication of her students, faculty and administration.

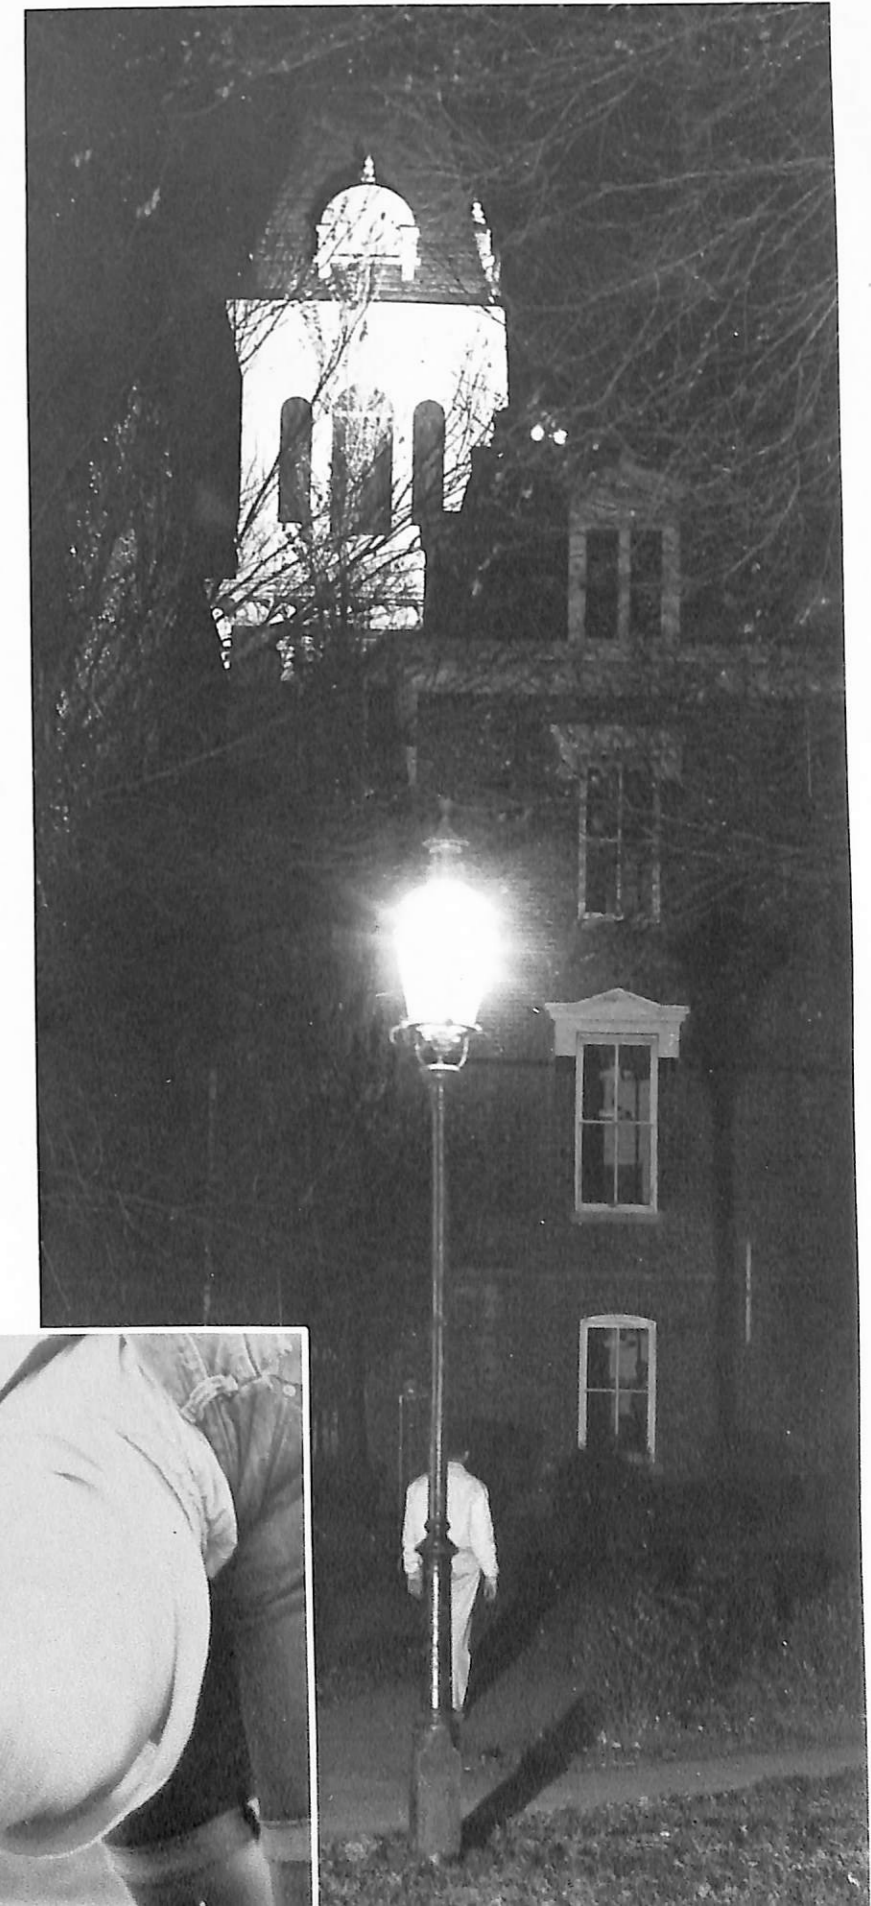

To You . . .

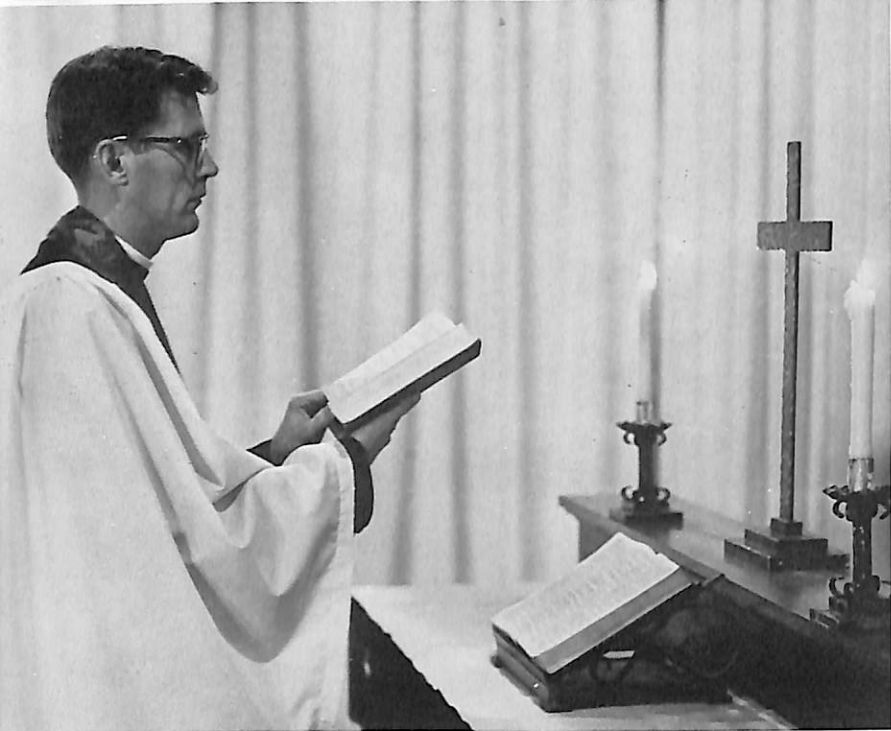

I have studied many times
The marble which was chiseled for me --
A boat with a furled sail at rest in a harbor.
In truth it pictures not my destination
But my life.
For love was offered me and I shrank from
its disillusionment;
Sorrow knocked at my door, but I was afraid;
Ambition called to me, but I dreaded the chances.

The Student . . .

Yet all the while I hungered for meaning in my life.
And now I know that we must lift
the sail
And catch the winds of destiny
Wherever they drive the boat.
To put meaning in one's life may
end in madness,
But life without meaning is the torture
Of restlessness and vague desire --
It is a boat longing for the sea and yet afraid.

Don Hanson has the authority of experience and the enjoyment of authority . . . typical of sophomores.

Meaning of Unity in Chaos

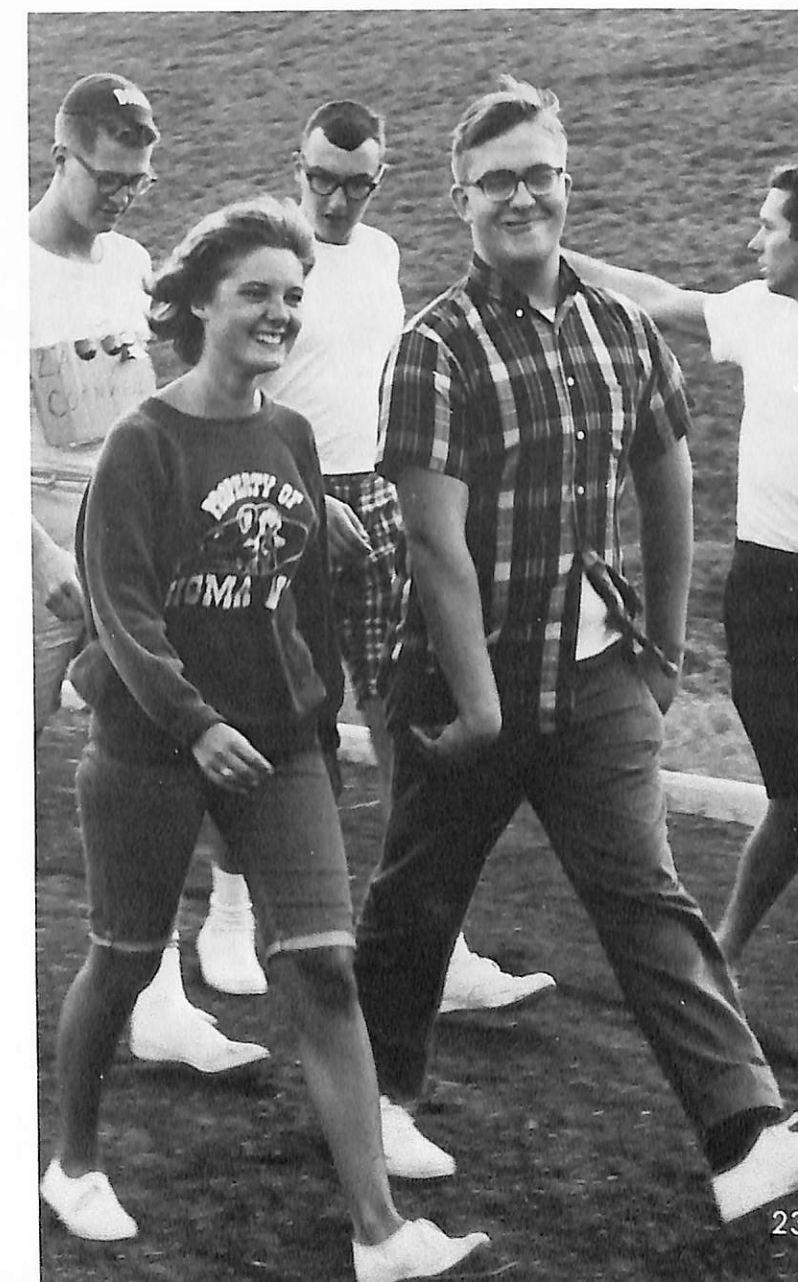

To a freshman initiation means the dubious distinction of a red beanie, the rigors of self-control, the harassment of Beanie Court, the unity of relief as the week ends.

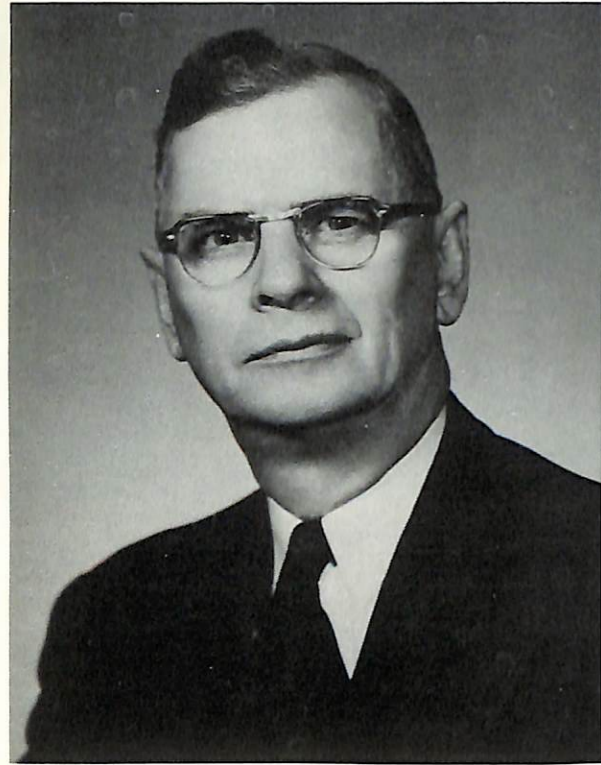

For a sophomore it means the selection of freshman trials, the fight for faculty approval, the organization of beanie distribution, "black lists," stunts, the satisfaction as that last freshman gains full student citizenship.

In an upperclassman initiation prompts aloofness of unconcern, thankfulness for immunity, hints of nostalgia, memories of laughter and forgotten plans.

Initiation . . . beginning the chaotic unity of college life.

Happiness is no beanie.

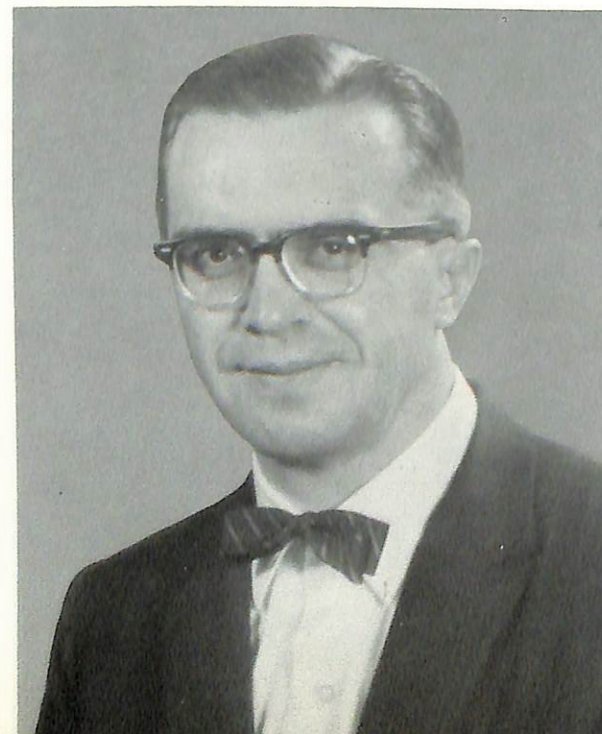

Education Unspoiled by Classes

Awareness of life's opportunities . . . Dr. T. I. Jensen, Opening Convocation speaker.

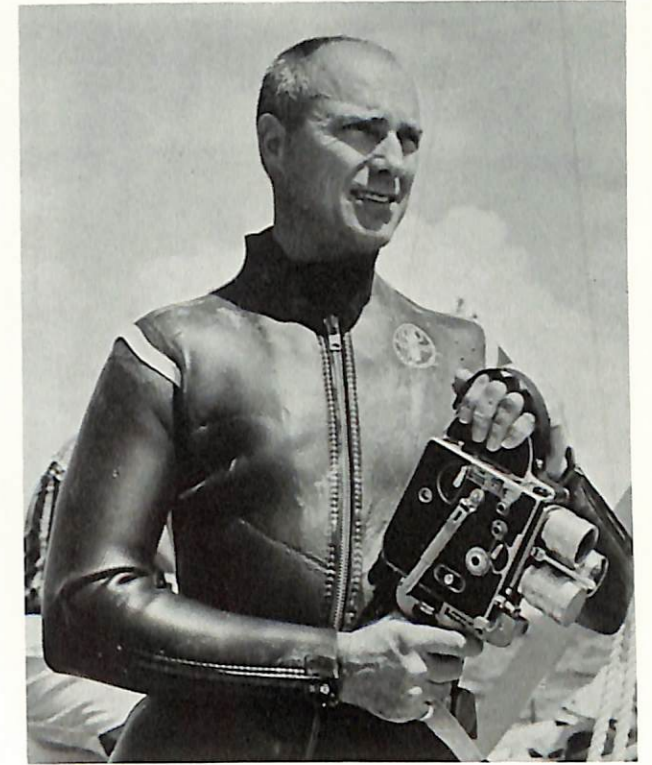

The St. Olaf Orchestra . . . music, a beauty of education.

Pastor A. C. Rueter's message for Spiritual Emphasis Days . . . life must have meaning.

A liberal arts education . . . beyond a campus, into a realization of others' existence.

A liberal arts education . . . more than books, more than classes, more than conversation, more than friends . . . all of these combine . . .

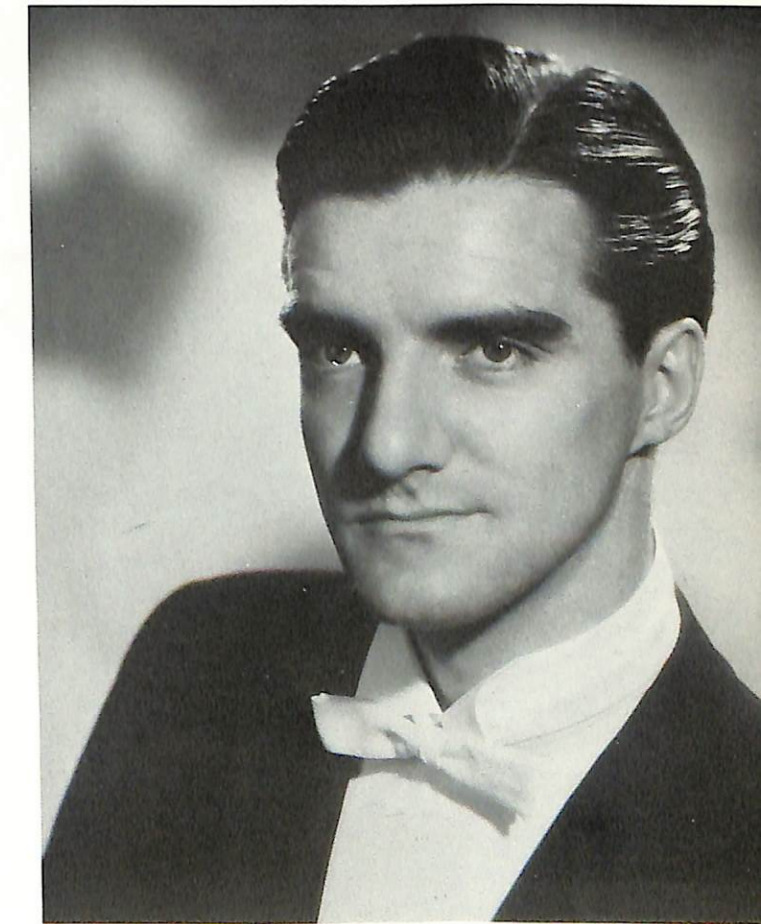

"3000 years under the Sea" . . . Stanton Waterman's Adventure in Aegean antiquity.

"And then I saw there were no empty places", John Neihardt, poet laureate of Nebraska.

"Some Enchanted Evening" with Robert Hale at Homecoming.

Through Friends: Perpetuation of Progress

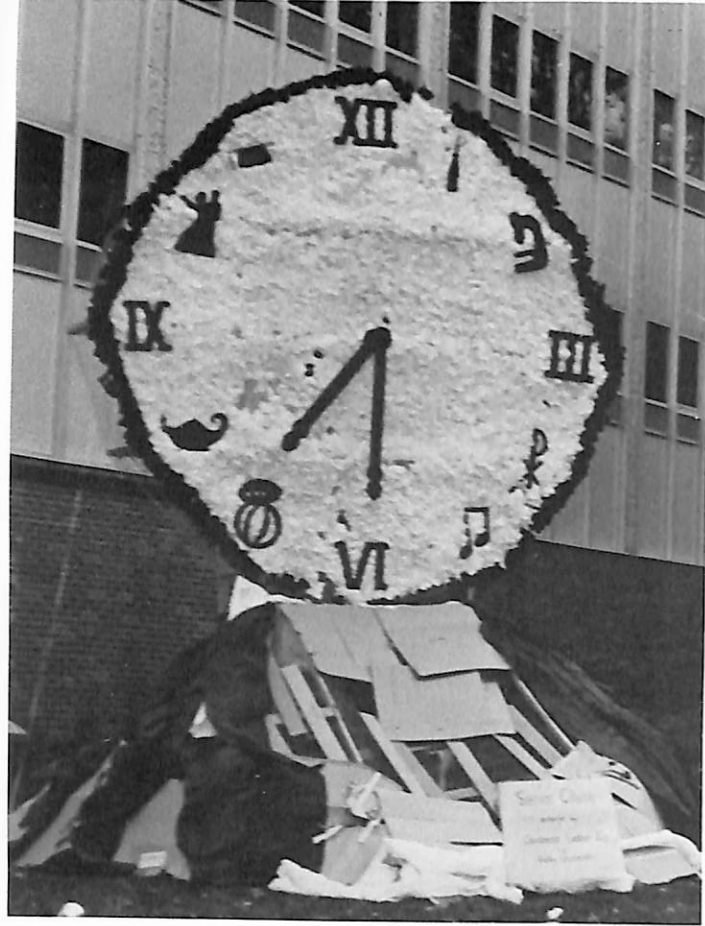

The beauty of expansion, Holling Hall in June.

Holling Hall—"home away from home" for approximately 160 Dana men. This magnificent structure, built in memory of Hans and Amalia Holling, was the gift of their son and daughter Emanuel and Marie Holling. Dedicated on October 4, 1964, Holling Hall exemplifies Dana's traditional spirit of progress.

Newness—echoes and reflections.

The excitement of Homecoming... the tempo of tumult, the bustle of activity, the everchanging whirl of fun, color, sound... 72 hours of "Moments to Remember."

Remember... a Yankton team, slashes, slurs of yellow, black, white, red... Robert Hale, a man in black, a living song, a surrey-ride... Valhalla, a viking palace, a Valkyrie's white robe, a giant feast... a dance under Ydrasil, the sacred tree of Nordic gods... displays, a sometimes running clock, a chest of souvenirs, a seal, Indian war ponies, the shadow of a carried cross.

Remember... the trumpet sound, the silver robe, the sparkling, glittering, the royal throne... Queen Linda crowned.

Homecoming 1964, Dana College... Memories to "last throughout the years."

Remembered; Four years of fleeting moments, ... the Senior's winning display.

On Dana's hill... a unity of spirit.

To Remember... to be Remembered

Mellow, misty, magic, ... the creation of an Autumn mood.

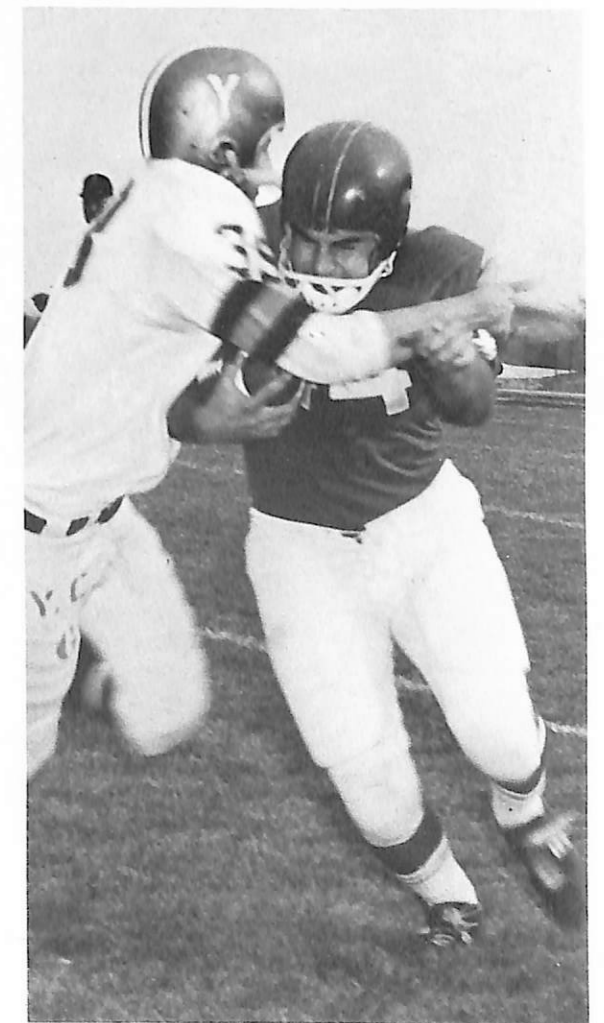

Mighty mascots... where's the mead?

Coronation... the beauty of tradition.

This year fifty-six members of the Dana A Cappella Choir gave concerts in the Los Angeles and San Francisco area; Reno, Nevada; Salt Lake City, Utah; and Denver, Colorado.

An enthusiastic choir returned to tell of a wonderful tour. Some of the most frequently mentioned highlights of the trip included a visit to Disneyland and their studios, singing with Lauritz Melchoir and visiting his home, singing at Stanford University and in the Mormon Tabernacle.

The tension and enthusiasm of student . . . the spirit of the team . . . the skill and co-ordination of the players—these are the elements combining to make a basketball game . . . the spectator and player becoming one.

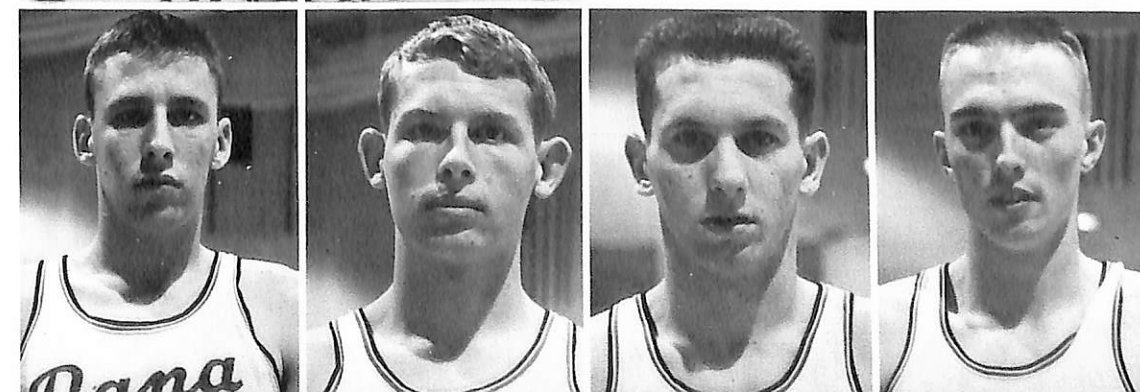

A season of both elated victories and heartbreaking defeats . . . of tension-filled overtimes . . . of spirited support—the contributions of many . . . Basketball, '64-'65.

Low cost electric heat
for anyplace
in the house!

Beautiful, New convector baseboard by Berko offers delicious heating comfort!

There's nothing quite like Berko's MW convector baseboard for the comfort and convenience of modern electric heating. . . it's clean, silent, safe. New Swept-back heating element design sends gentle, luxurious warmth throughout the room. And it's so economical right from the start. Here's why:
No wall breakthroughs, pipe or duct work is required. Installation is quick, simple and inexpensive. You save money by using only the heat you need. Built-in thermostatic controls let you adjust the heat to suit the living conditions of each room. Keep the nursery at 75 degrees, the living room at 68 or just as you like.

Pleasingly low and narrow in appearance, the MW blends well with any decor. Desert Tan finish.
